WILLIAM A. LOGAN

On Wednesday, January 15th, occurred the death of William A. Logan at his home, 1005 Lincoln avenue, Waukesha, after a brief illness. Mr. Logan was a son of John A. and Margaret McDonald Logan and was born in Nova Scotia, October 11th, A. D. 1840.

The family included eight children, Mrs. Elizabeth Henry, Milwaukee, being the only one surviving. When four years of age the family moved to Bangor, Maine, and three years later came to Wisconsin locating in Eagle. He attended school here and worked on a farm until he entered the army Nov. 11, 1861, in Company K, First Wisconsin cavalry. After a time at Benton Barracks, the regiment went to Missouri and operated the following summer skirmishing with the Guerrillas, Quantrell, Marmaduke and Mosby. Mr. Logan was injured in a fall from his horse, and returned to Eagle. In the fall of 1864 he went to Washington to enlist in the Wisconsin artillery, but the command was filled and he returned and enlisted in Company E, Forty-sixth Wisconsin infantry and served until his discharge at Madison, Sept. 27, 1865.

October 11, 1866, he married Mary L. Ackley, a resident of Troy, and a daughter of Charles and Louisa Bunger Ackley. After their marriage the young couple went to Winnisheik, Iowa, and remained there about a year, returning to Eagle where he engaged in the grain and lumber business for many years.

Later he served as rural mail carrier for many years and resigned to lead a life of retirement. About five years ago they sold their home at Eagle and moved to Waukesha. Mr. Logan was a charter member of Eagle camp 1119 M. W. A., and was a member of the Franklin Bigelow post at the time of its existence here.

He was a man of good character, fair and upright and held many offices of trust.

The funeral was held at the home in Waukesha Saturday afternoon. Rev. Drake officiating, and interment was in the family lot in Oak Ridge cemetery, Eagle.

He leaves surviving him besides his widow three daughters, Mrs. Frank J. Sprague, Mrs. Jean Hare and Mrs. H. E. Hanff, who have the sympathy of all in the loss sustained by the death of their beloved husband and father.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express to our relatives and friends our most heartfelt thanks for their kindness and sympathy shown us in our late bereavement, the death of our beloved husband and father, William A. Written for the Wisconsin
TO ONE IN MOURNING.

BY K. S. BROWBRIDGE.
 You say that he is dead;
 Why do you weep, and wear the garb of mourning?
 Is not death the entrance into life?
 Aye! it is life itself, full of sweet rest and peace.
 It is the freedom which a prisoner feels.
 After the close confinement of the narrow cell.
 These sable garments but profane thy faith.
 Mourn for thyself, but not for him
 Whose life has just begun.

Dies at Wheel of Car

Superior—(By A. P.)—Dr. J. T. Trowbridge, Hayward, Wis., prominent physician of Sawyer county, was stricken with heart failure while on his way home from an a night professional call in Cable, Wis., on Thanksgiving morning and died at the wheel of his car.

Tracks in the road indicated that Dr. Trowbridge felt the attack coming on and applied his brakes, the car traveling some 60 feet and overturning. The body was found by a farmer about two hours after death.

Dr. Trowbridge was alone. Physicians who examined the body declared death resulted from heart failure and not from injuries.

Edward James, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wright of Maywood, Ill., was buried in Oak Ridge cemetery, Monday afternoon, aged 2 years and 22 days. Mrs. Wright will be remembered here as Hazel Hunt. We extend our sincere sympathy.

Edward James Wright
 Word has just reached here of the sudden death of Edward James,
 the little two year old son of Mr.
 and Mrs. Frank Wright, former residents of this city, which occurred Friday, March 16 at the family home in Maywood, Ill.
 Funeral services were held this afternoon with burial at Eagle, Wis.
