MRS. NELLIE WAY

ROCKTEACHER

Last Thursday morning when the milk man called at the Rockteacher home for the milk, and not finding the milk can on the stand went to the barn and not finding any one there went to the house and found Mrs. Rockteacher on the floor dead. Mrs. Rockteacher was evidently engaged in filling the tank of the oil stove before going to the barn to milk her cows, and the kerosene can lay beside her and she was soaked with oil. Heart failure was the cause of her death. Mrs. Rockteacher was the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Way. Her mother's name was Minerva Kinsley. She was married to Arthur Rockteacher and after his death she continued to live in the family home west of Eagle near the home of her parents. She was sixty-five years of age and leaves as her nearest relatives cousins of her uncle, John Way, who reside in Elgin, Ill. The funeral was held Saturday afternoon, Rev. Neff officiating. Interment was in the family lot in Oak Ridge cemetery.
