OUR NEIGHBORS

Waterford

Post:-A subscriber complains that farmers in the vicinity of Raymond and Norway are victims of meat On going to their smoke houses one morning they found them empty of hams, bacon and sausage.

seemed like turning the dial of time backward to be without electric lights and power in Waterford a couple of days and nights last week. This unpleasant situation was due to the breaking of the flume at the Waterford Milling & Light Co.'s plant. Teaming freight from Milwaukee, a distance of over twenty-five miles, and in such mud as now, is what makes Waterford merchants say very strong things about the officials of T. M. E. R. & L. Co., who promised many moons ago to haul freight as well as passengers.

It was a great many years ago when the late Adam Apple said to the writer: "Ed, all there is to being in public life and fighting political battles is the joy of licking and being licked." The "old man" has had a recent taste of how both feels but is most embarrassing when they get so badly mixed.

What has been called Racine county's white elephant will soon be put to work. The county supervisors appropriated an additional $1,000 for the gravel pit at Burlington, to be used for operation of same. The work thus far done in Racine county is not a very shining example of state highways and unless some practical demonstration is given this year we doubt if the farmers will be falling over each other in voting highway taxes the same as they have been doing.

Failure to carry freight on the Waterford-Burlington electric line has lost for Rochester a promising in-dustry. J. A. Kilpatrick, who built up a large business for the Rochester ping facilities. He goes to Clinton, Concrete Stone Co., was obliged to locate elsewhere on account of ship-Wis. The officials of T. M. E. R. & L. Co. have repeatedly promised to haul freight on this line and we are still waiting though patience has long since ceased to be a virtue.

The farmer boys and girls of Racine are offered an unusual incentive to raise corn and win valuable prizes. Those entering a contest conducted by the county agricultural school for producing the most and best from an acre of corn, stand a chance of winning $25 prizes offered by the Horlick Malted Milk Co. of Racine, The Wisconsia Agriculturalist, W. C. Palmer, Racine, and the Wisconsin Condensed Milk Co. The attractive prize is a free five-days' trip to Washington, offered by Congressman Cooper, which we presume means the pleasure of shaking hands with President Wilson. It is worth while. Why don't some-body offer something to the country

State Road is Faulty

Menomonee Falls News:---The expected happened this week, when on the breaking up of the frost and excessive rains, the "model' stretch of state roads in Menomonee developed a complete collapse in many places, and especially on Martin's hill, where the road commissioner failed to provide adequate filling. It will be re-membered last fall that while the road was being constructed, there were old time residents here who cautioned the construction crew as to the shallow distribution of crushed stone, as well as the first course not being of the largest screen, as it is of the utmost importance to provide heavy crushed rock where the roadbed is entirely of red clay. The county commissioner may not be entirely at fault in this, as it ought to be the offer business of the state to prescribe a proper depth where a road bed is cut down and the foundation red clay. If any degree of permanency is to be sought our state road commission had better revise their code of construction. They never need expect any degree of permanency until the foundation is the maximum in heavy cours-

A LARGE AUTOMOBILE TRADE.

This will Assuredly be the Greatest Year for Distributing.

For weeks past it has been apparent that the automobile trade for 1913 would distance that of any former year, and the following sizing up of the situation by Jesse A. Smith, of Milwaukee, who has hosts of friends Waukesha county, will be read with itenrest. He is president of the Smith-Hoppe Automobile Co., 213 Wisconsin St.

His company received one of the largest shipments that ever arrived in Milwaukee in one week. There came by freight fifteen carloads of R. C. H. cars, three carloads of Chalmers and one carload of Detroit electrics. These cars are all sold, and delivered to purchasers.

"The open winter is accountable for such a large business so early in the season, and is something of an indication of what can be expected a little later in the season," says Mr. Smith.

"Seventy-five per cent. of the 1913 production of the Chalmers factory is sold. Orders for 16,000 R. C. H. cars are in the hands of the R. C. Hupp corporation, and the Detroit Electric company is from four to six weeks behind with its orders. This, however, is nearly always the case with this company

Mr. Smith repeated his prediction of a busy year for all Wisconsin dealers, and expressed the belief that the growing demand here is but an indication of the conditions all over the country. Many of his fellow representatives of automobile manufacturers are of similar mind.

And This Week Mrs. G. W. Robbins Gets the Plum in the Missing

How they did pour in upon us—those solutions of the Missing Word Contest for April 3. By mail and by messenger they came; some were de-livered in person and sometimes the very littlest girl in the family came shyly in with "mama's answer".

We spent a busy hour or two checking over the solutions and the coveted $1.00 goes to Mrs. G. W. Robbins, R. 1, Waukesha, to the same house-hold which had second place last week. Mrs. Robbins' list of the eight missing words was absolutely correct, giving her clear title to the award. Eleven other persons also found the eight words but submitted additional words as well. The eleven are Marie Grape, Kuhtz Bros., Jacob J. Lang, Mrs. F. E. Fox, Mabel C. Blodgett, Mrs. George Winslow, Leona Werning, John Ewing, Albert Schafer, Mrs. Harriet Elliott. Of these Miss Grape, Kuhtz Bros., Mrs. Fox and Mr. Ewing had each one word too many, and the others more.

The correct solution is:
S. Schlossmann—"Just the sort that are made (to) stand hard wear.' Perkins Hardware Co.—"it protects the valuable lumber (in) it."

The Home Bakery—"It (is) sanitary and we make (a) specialty," etc. Swallow & Topping—"When (in)

J. W. Prager—"We make a specialty of doing (all) kinds of repair work."

New National Bakery—"sanitary and sells (the) best goods."
Dixon & Mills—"Kentucky Grain
Drill has (more) good points," etc.

In getting up your answers for this week's contest please comply with our request that answers (especially those sent by mail) be addressed to "Missing Word Editor". We have had a number addressed simply "Waukesha Freeman" and these of course are opened up with other business and editorial mail and have to be reenclosed before being put into the contest box.

Winners of awards up to the pres-

March 27—Mrs. F. E. Fox, R. 6.
April 3—Mrs. G. W. Robbins, R. 1.

WALLS OF LIMESTONE

The contract for the government building, to be erected at Waukesha, calls for limestone as the material of which to construct the walls, while the "trimmings" will be of polished granite. It is not known whether the limestone will be taken from local quarries, but quite likely it will. The time for completing the structure has been extended to August 15, 1914, owing to a delay in awarding the contract. The date first fixed upon was August 1, instead of 15th.

The quil is blue and white, and each white piece has one or more names writter on it. A check book for $64.50 ac companied the quilt, and the write hardly knows how to express his thanks to the many friends who helped with this gift.

During my long illness I have had much to be thankful for. Old friends have been faithful and many new ones have been made. The old and the new, both old and young, have tried to find ways to make life happy for me, and I thank them one and all.

On reading the names I find sever states represented, and the ages range from less than a year to pas; the 80th milestone. Some of the people I have never seen, and a very few I had never heard of. When I an once more free and out among you this quilt will be one of the pleasan; memories of the time when I saw and lived in the world through newspa pers and magazines, and I hope that then my life will show that I have been worthy of this great gift of friendship.
