BRUNO VALENTE DIES FROM EFFECTS OF KNIFE WOUNDS.

BRUNO PAPPA MURDERER.

Coroner Schaeffle Made an Investigation and Has Evidence Secure.

Bruno Valente, who was stabbed by Bruno Pappa on July 11, near the Okauchee gravel pit, where both were employed as laborers by Milwaukee Ry. Co., was taken to the camp by his brother and some friends and Dr. Wing was soon called and on the following day the patient was removed to Dr. Vojta's sanitarium. July 29 at 8:55 p. m. Valente died. The body was removed to Notbohm's undertaking rooms and an autopsy was made by Drs. Wing and Peters.

The autopsy showed that Valente died of internal hemorrhage caused by a stab wound made by Bruno Pappa on July 11.

Coroner Schaeffle made a thorough investigation, taking the sworn testimony of the witnesses and decided an inquest would not be held. Valente leaves a wife and two children; also a brother at Okauchee. Burial was at the La Belle cemetery. The expenses were borne by friends of the deceased.

Pappa has not been arrested up to the present time.

THE SUNFLOWER FELLOWS AND THEIR VIEWS.

(By Lester Weaver.)

During nearly a year of life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness up and down the long roads of Kansas as I went carting through a number of different counties I should have been exceedingly stupid had I not learned some of the chief characteristics of the Sunflower fellows. For their amusement I sometimes would say "you all." They would smile and remember that I was from the south. To my amusement (though they knew it not) they always said c-r-e-e-k (crick).

Knowing whereof I write, I have authority for saying a thing or two. But what I wish to speak of just here is the Kansans' loyalty to their state and to her institutions.

I remember meeting an old gentleman who was a bookworm (also a magazine and newspaper worm). He and I one day took dinner in a home where some of the young people were attending school in the University of Missouri. After we had gone away, he wondered why any person should leave Kansas to attend school in any other state.

Another man whose practice it was to read from three to five dailies told me: "Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Bryan need not come here to tell us how to vote. We keep up with the times and know how to vote without their instruction."

If one wished to provoke a Kansan to a quiet plying smile, just let him incidentally mention Missouri or Arkansas in any way comparing them with Kansas. However, that was in Missouri's obscure days just before she shone forth in resplendent glory, dazzling the world with the peerless poetry and the matchless music of her "Houn' Dawg" song.

I was often made to think of what Champ Clark was reported as having said. When he was a young man, he went from Missouri "all the way from Pike" out to Wichita. He very complacently assured himself before departing from folks at home to venture into the wilds of the West that he was going to Kansas to "grow up with the heathen." In progressive Wichita as a clientless lawyer he decided he would rather be first in old Pike county than nothing much at all among such highly educated heathen. He thereupon returned to the haunts of his boyhood days, where fond friends celebrated his homecoming by electing him County Superintendent of Schools. Thus began the career of one who had to be "shown" before he could appreciate the standing of the Sunflower state among the sisterhood of commonwealths. Nevertheless he has had the audacity recently to make goo-goo eyes at the White House.

Speaking of Wichita, it was there on a hot summer that Uncle Joe Cannon wilted. He found the Sunflower fellows without any natural affection for the lawless trusts in whose sunshine he had so long basked. So the heat of the day and the heartless coolness of his audience was too much for your Uncle Joe; and as the physicians say, "he succumbed."

THE BARREN FIG TREE AND THE DEFILED TEMPLE.

A Glimpse of Next Sunday's Lesson.

It was not much of a trip back from Jerusalem and the temple to Bethany, and thither Jesus went on the evening of the day of his public entry. The next day he returns early to the temple, because that was the place where the national life was centered. He had an interesting object-lesson to give his disciples that grew out of an incident that happened while they were walking along.

1. Why did Jesus curse that fig-tree?
2. Why was Jesus unmolested for his strong actions in the temple?
3. Name some defiling influences in public life today.
4. Why are prayer and forgiveness so closely joined in Jesus' teaching?
5. See if you can discover in the lesson: Some bad consciences. A difference of opinion. A dry speech. An admission ticket.

TOM MORRIS COMMENCES HIS SPEAKING CAMPAIGN.

Traveling Over Dane, Iowa, and Other Southern Counties of the State This Week.

Madison, August 3.—Tom Morris, progressive Republican candidate for United States senator, began an automobile and speaking tour of southern counties this week. A branch headquarters has been opened here from which the routing will be done. Mr. Morris is this week campaigning in Dane, Iowa and other counties.

"Reports received by the Morris committee from the state generally indicate Mr. Morris' nomination by a substantial majority," said Senator Otto Bosshard, chairman of the committee.

"A state-wide sentiment exists in his favor. To insure his nomination it was but necessary to make that sentiment active. This has been done, and in every section of the state the forces that have always stood for the common good of the people of Wisconsin are at work."

"His pre-eminent qualifications are known everywhere. He has never bolted the Republican party or betrayed the progressive Republican cause. He is not in sympathy with either the Aldrich-Penrose or the Perkins trust-building policy. He stands for legislation guaranteeing to laborers and to the farmers the right to organize for defense against capitalistic organizations."

"From every section of the state have come assurances that the Republican voters will attest their confidence in Mr. Morris on September 1."

The support which is being given Morris by progressive Republican leaders in all sections of the state, according to political opinion here, indicates that the progressives realize that Morris' election is necessary to support national progressive Republican principals, and are taking hold of the fight in the old progressive Republican spirit.

PROGRESSIVE.

CORN SILAGE FEEDS COWS AT LEAST COST.

Corn silage is the cheapest green feed that dairymen can use up to the time the corn crop reaches the milk stage, according to the annual report of the director of the agricultural Experiment Station, University of Wisconsin, which has just been published and will be mailed to airy resident of the state free of charge. The report is full of interesting matter on this question.

For a number of years the animal husbandry and agricultural chemistry departments have carried on tests to determine the relative value of corn silage and soiling crops as summer feeds. As regards milk and butter fat production alone, the two feeds proved of practically equal value.

"However," observes the report, "silage can be produced at less expense than soiling crops, as it requires less labor to plow, fit, and plant a field of corn than to prepare and plant at different times, an equal area of soiling crops.

"Corn silage is uniform in quality throughout the year and is well liked by the cows, proving more palatable than the early soiling crops, such as green clover or peas and oats. Owing to the different climatic conditions from season to season, it is more difficult to provide a succession of soiling crops which will furnish the Wisconsin farmer, without waste, an ample supply of green feed through the summer.

On farms where a sufficient number of cows are kept, therefore, silage is the most economical green feed for summer, up to the time when the corn crop reaches the milk or roasting stage, when, if desired, the green corn can be substituted for silage."

PICNICKING TODAY OUT AT McLEOD'S WOODS.

Today a Union picnic of the Reformed Presbyterian and German Reformed churches of the town of Vernon will take place at McLeod's woods. These woods are famous as a place for picnics and people assemble there by hundreds on such occasions. This being a "political" year and the primary campaign just getting into full swing, it is anticipated that the woods will be the rendezvous for numbers of candidates for office as well as the usual crowds of pleasure seekers.

POSTOFFICE BUILDING NOT TO BE FINISHED AUGUST 15.

Owing to changes and consequent delays caused in the construction of the government building, the same will not be completed on August 15 as originally planned. Whether it will be made ready for occupancy earlier than October is not known, but as that is the commencement of the last quarter of the calendar year it is quite likely planned to have it ready if possible.

BURGLARS STILL AT WORK IN WAUKESHA.

C. A. Gorder's Hardware Store Was Entered Last Thursday Night. Cutlery Stolen.

Last Thursday night burglars entered Chas. A. Gorder's hardware store on Main street, opposite the National hotel, and stole cutlery and other goods, of the possible value of $100.

An entrance was gained to the store through the rear window and egress was through the front door apparently.

The goods missed by the proprietor of the store consisted mainly of pocket knives, razors, etc.

An effort was made to work the money drawer where there were two or three dollars in change, but not understanding the modus operandi, this part of the "enterprise" failed.

On Friday a lad playing in the vicinity of the store found a new pocket knife near the store which was probably dropped from the booty.

Mr. Gorder is of the belief that the thieves reside in Waukesha, or in the vicinity, and to a Freeman representative volunteered the opinion that there are several tough characters sojourning in town.

Those in charge of these events desire to arrange the best program possible. The state fair track is one of the fastest ordinary courses for auto drivers in the world. Both Oldfield and Burnam have broken world's records over it.

Because of the fact that Sept. 14 will be devoted entirely to auto races, special efforts will be made to have as many automobile owners of Wisconsin and nearby sections of Illinois and Iowa in attendance as possible.

The Wisconsin Motorist is making earnest efforts to have a big showing of motorists, in addition to what is being done in this direction by the fair board itself.

There are nearly 50,000 owners of automobiles in Wisconsin, and of this number about 12,000 reside in Milwaukee county. Efforts are being made to have 15,000 automobiles on the grounds on Automobile Day. Figuring five passengers to a car as an average, 75,000 would be taken to the grounds in autos, if auto owners turn out as they are expected to on this day. If only half of this number turn out, however, a crowd of nearly 50,000 will be on the grounds on opening day.

For the first time since the fair has been in existence, an auto can be driven from the center of Milwaukee all the way to the fair gates on asphalt pavement by the time the fair opens. The Blue Mound road has been paved to the Hawley road, and the Hawley road is being paved from the Blue Mound road to National avenue at the present time. This gives a roadway without a rut all the way to the fair.

A special attraction to all auto owners also will be the automobile display this year, bigger and better than ever. The superintendent of the department announces that he will have on exhibition the 1915 models of cars used principally in Wisconsin, thus beating all automobile shows in this line of exhibits by at least four months. There will be many more exhibits than ever before in the automobile department, and the exhibits will be more varied.

—It's August! How time does fly.

—Be on your guard against burglars.

—Have you attended the Chautauqua? Only three days remaining.

HANDSOMEST ELKS' HOME IN WISCONSIN

REMODELLED CLUBHOUSE NOW OCCUPIED BY WAUKESHA LODGE 400, B. P. O. E

The brotherhood of Elks in Waukesha and Waukesha county manifest a just pride in the appearance and appointments of the new clubhouse at Wisconsin avenue and Clinton streets, facing Cutler Park, and almost in the center of the city.

The club building was remodelled from the former Stare residence at a cost of more than $5,000—the spacious porch alone costing about half that sum. From the exterior the building is graceful and ornate in appearance, and the veranda is one of the finest pieces of decorative construction for that purpose in the city.

Interior improvements include the construction of a grill below stairs which exceeds in tasteful design, arrangement and materials, anything of its kind in Wisconsin, of either public or private nature. The floor of this room is constructed of a monolithic marble composition and the paneling and cases are finished in silver gray.

Other portions of the building have been redecorated and refurnished in excellent taste, making without question the finest clubhouse in interior Wisconsin.

The club was opened a fortnight ago, but will not be formally dedicated for some time.

The plans for the improvements of verandah and grill room were made by H. C. Hengels, Milwaukee, architect, who superintended the construction. Dwinell & Laughlin did the construction work.

CAR-LOAD OF HOGS FOR SUFFRAGE

EXTRAORDINARY ACHIEVEMENT OF MRS. STOCKMAN, VISITOR HERE.

HAPPENED IN MASON CITY.

Was Contribution to Great Suffrage Fair Held in New York Some Years Ago.

Mrs. George Stockman, Mason City, Iowa, who is the guest of her sister, Mrs. E. A. Owen, Arcadian Ave., is an ardent devotee of the cause of woman suffrage, and some years ago achieved one of the most remarkable undertakings in the history of the suffrage movement.

Almost alone and unaided she solicited a car-load of hogs for the suffrage cause, which netted nearly $400.

"It was at the time of the first great suffrage fair in New York city," said Mrs. Stockman. "Mrs. Catt had been speaking in our state and of course trying to devise a scheme by which Iowa could do something distinctive for the fair. Someone suggested that Iowa was more noted for hogs than for aesthetics, and that set me to thinking."

Farmers Were Prosperous.

"It was a prosperous year in our state. The farmers were extremely well-to-do. I talked with my husband and a number of other people about the project. An old gentleman who buys and ships stock said he would give me a hog. My market-man said he would give another. I was encouraged to start out.

"I met with the most encouraging success from the first. The farmers gave most generously. When they didn't give hogs, they gave corn, or money, or they offered to bring to town the loads which other men gave.

Held Field Discussions.

"I kept on the road three weeks, employing a driver who was used to taking traveling men about. We always drove out into the field, if the farmer was at work there. Once we drove up between two loads of hay, driven by a farmer and his son. I talked to both at once as well as I could, and when I had finished my plea the elder man put his hand down into his trouser's pocket and brought out a ten-dollar bill. He reached down as far as he could from the top of the load, and I reached up as far as I could, and the ten was mine.

Auction Sale Too.

"One farmer said he had no hogs suitable for market but he would give me a small Duroc-Jersey, for private sale, and he would send it to town crated. A day or two later the same thing happened again and pretty soon for the third time. So I had three little Duroc-Jersey on my hands, without much idea of what to do with them. I decided to sell them at auction. We picked out a prominent corner, down town, an auctioneer gave his services, a bank president served as clerk, and my three little brown pigs, with yellow ribbons round their necks, awakened a great deal of attention. They brought in $45.

"After the live stock had been delivered to the stock yards in Mason City, my husband telephoned one day that the hogs were escaping. So I had to hurry down and round them up. The stock dealers were using my corn to feed with too, but I made them pay for it.

Made Big Sensation.

"I did not secure a full carload by any means, but I did secure between thirty and forty hogs. A kindly stock-dealer filled up the car, it was decorated with huge yellow banners, and it made a sensation when it reached its destination in Chicago. The banners were taken off and sent to the Fair in New York and I am told they made a sensation there too.

"The corn, which was then worth $10 a load, I sold at Mason City."

Mrs. Stockman is greatly interested in education and is member of the school board in her city, the first woman to be elected to that position. She is sister of Eugene W. Chafin, who is also an avowed believer in the need of women taking part in government.

in welcome had not dispersed, however, a brief meeting was held, an organization effected, a delicious supper served and eaten, and a street meeting addressed by Miss Curtis, all inside of two hours.

The Mukwonago organization has the following officers:

President, Mrs. Helen E. Miller; Vice-president, Mrs. Henry Adams; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. L. D. Stark; Chairman press committee, Mrs. E. E. Schultz; Chairman finance committee, Miss Ida Weir; Chairman membership committee, Mrs. Charles Rust; Chairman literature and lecture committee, Mrs. J. W. Klemme.

The quick and cordial response of the Mukwonago ladies was much appreciated by the local delegation. A large crowd gathered for the street meeting and the new bandstand made an ideal place for the speaker. Miss Curtis made a rapid-fire speech, which was received enthusiastically, but which was cut short by the necessity of reaching the eight o'clock train. The delegation from here numbered ten.

SPLENDID FAIR PROSPECTS.

An extraordinary amount of interest is developing in the first Woman Suffrage Fair, which will be held in this city August 15.

We shall have a great many things, of a great many kinds, to sell. Of course we want more and we shall appreciate any donations, of any kind, from any source. We want to make this fair notable as our first undertaking in this direction, and of course we want to raise as much money as possible. Local suffrage work is hampered constantly because there is no money to pay the necessary little expenses.

Mukwonago ladies have promised to help in our fair. Ladies in other parts of the county are interested. Visitors here are offering assistance. The Illinois Suffrage association will send us a donation.

Members and friends of the society are sewing day and night to stock the booths, and they promise an unusually choice collection of embroidered towels and pillow slips and night-gowns and aprons and dress protectors and laundry bags and other articles. Some of the best cooks in town will send home baking to be sold for the cause.

Madame Takusan, straight from Tokio, will preside over the tea booth. Madame will wear the kimono, obi, tabi and geta, worn by Japanese ladies, and her hair will be dressed with Japanese ornaments. She is a gifted maker of tea.

POISON BRAN MASH TO KILL ARMY WORMS.

Have the army worms invaded your fields? Providing they have, here is an effective method of control recommended by J. G. Sanders of the College of Agriculture, University of Wisconsin:

This mash is made as follows: bran, 25 pounds; Paris green, 1 pound; cheap molasses, 1 quart; with water as needed to moisten it.

Another method of keeping out "worms" is to plow a furrow across their line of march, turning it toward them.

THE MELTING POT.

Of course we shall have a Melting Pot at the Woman Suffrage fair, which will be held in this city August 15. It will be a large strong Melting Pot, and we hope it will be filled to the brim.

The Melting Pot is designed to give aid to the campaign states, in which an election will be held on woman suffrage in November. Women are asked to give articles of gold and silver, which may be melted up, turned into money and sent to these states to help win the cause for women.

Waukesha women, will you not have a part in this great undertaking? You have old jewelry, napkin rings, cups, thimbles, all sorts of things, which you are not using, and which you never expect to use.

Will you not give some of these, to help improve the lot of other women? Will you not give something you do treasure for the same sacred purpose?

Our Melting Pot will be one of the special features of our great Suffrage Fair.

MUKWONAGO INTERESTED.

Woman suffragists worked on double quick time at Mukwonago Wednesday. A train on the Soo line two hours late delayed the delegation from this city, which did not reach Mukwonago until six o'clock. The party of Mukwonago ladies gathered

PROGRAM OF STATE FAIR DAYS; STATE DAY WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 16

Gov. McGovern, All Living Ex-Governors and Best Known Politicians Expected to be in the Crowd -- Governor Probably Will Deliver Speech.

Milwaukee, July 28.—The Wisconsin State Board of Agriculture has made a slight change in its program of days for the 1914 fair. Milwaukee day, instead of coming on Thursday, will be Tuesday, Sept. 15, this year. The board made this change in order that Milwaukee might have more than one opportunity to turn out in event of bad weather. The days selected by the board are as follows:

- Monday, Sept. 14, Automobile day.....Automobile races.
- Tuesday, Sept. 15, Milwaukee day.....Lincoln Beachey in aviation exhibitions three times, harness and running races.
- Wednesday, Sept. 16, State and Governors' day.....Lincoln Beachey in three exhibition flights, harness and running races; Gov. McGovern, ex-governors and candidates in attendance.
- Thursday, Sept. 17, National day.....President Wilson or another well known national figure expected to attend; Lincoln Beachey in three flights; harness and running races.
- Friday, Sept. 18, Children's day.....Lincoln Beachey in three flights, probably in race with Oldfield; school children invited, harness and running races.

Efforts are being made by the board to induce President Wilson to be present on Thursday, National day. If the President makes a western trip at that time, he will attend the fair. In the event that President Wilson does not come west, an effort will be made to have as a special guest Roosevelt, Taft or some one equally well known nationally.

On State day, when politicians attend the fair, the Governor and all living ex-governors will be invited guests. Gov. McGovern probably will speak, with others.

ONE CENT LETTER POSTAGE CAMPAIGN ON IN EARNEST.

One cent letter postage is becoming an acute governmental issue at Washington, according to information received by Mr. W. H. Sleep of National Exchange Bank.

Mr. Sleep is interesting his friends and acquaintances in the movement for lower postage rates, and urging them to join in the campaign which is being conducted throughout the United States.

"The fight for one cent letter postage," he says, "is on in earnest in Washington. Through the instrumentality of the National One Cent Letter Postage Association, which has its headquarters at Cleveland, an active campaign is being urged throughout the entire country for the securing of this very necessary reform."

"Businessmen and others are responding to the requests of the association for support. Never before have the politicians of Washington been faced with such acute postal problems as exist at the present time. With the post office department rolling up a profit on letter postage of some $70,000,000, the situation has reached a point where some adjustment should be made.

"An investigation as to actual conditions is being made by the house committee on post offices and post roads and upon a report to be presented shortly will hinge the question of adjusting the rates on other classes of mail.

"Just as soon as this is accomplished, it is believed the officers in charge of the post office department will actively recommend one cent letter postage.

"The attitude of the post office officials at Washington is friendly toward one cent letter postage, but they declare that the cutting off of a revenue of $70,000,000 a year must be adjusted by a corresponding increase in other classes of mail. They expect some revenue from the parcel post department and if sufficient pressure can be brought to bear to cause a substantial increase on other matter, the outlook for one cent letter postage will be exceedingly bright.

"I wish business men would write to the National One Cent Letter Postage Association at its headquarters in Cleveland, requesting full data regarding the movement. Cutting the postage account in half will mean a big saving to many firms. Incidentally it will save the business men of this country many millions of dollars each year.

"Anyone interested will be furnished free stamps to be used on his correspondence, indicating that the campaign is being conducted. Over sixty million of these stamps have been distributed free during the past year by the National One Cent Letter Postage Association in the educational campaign which is being conducted for a one cent letter rate. These stamps are of about the same color and size as the ordinary two cent postage stamp, and are being used by hundreds of business houses upon their stationery, drawing attention to the fact that a one cent letter rate is being sought. "Half your letter postage is a tax" is the slogan which the stamp bears at the top."

The very choicest, seasoned pop-corn, popped just right and the excess moisture dried out, then buttered with pure creamery butter—it makes a treat fit for a king.

LARGEST ANIMAL ON EARTH.

Sparks' World Famous Shows are billed to exhibit at Oconomowoc, Monday, August 10, and from the newspaper reports preceding them their exhibition will be worth going many miles to witness.

Among the many features the show carries it what is claimed to be the largest land animal on earth. It is an elephant said to be three inches taller than Jumbo and a half ton heavier.

Some idea of her immense size can be obtained when you consider that she is 11 feet, 7 inches tall and weighs over 5 tons. In other words she weighs as much as ten ordinary horses.

Another extraordinary feature with the show is Capt. Wesley's troupe of educated seals and sea lions. These interesting sea animals perform the most seemingly impossible feats; balancing chairs, umbrellas and whirling brands of fire while climbing ladders, walking tight ropes and riding the backs of galloping horses. This feature baffles description and must be seen to be appreciated.

Many other wonderful things are to be seen with this mammoth show, and the main performance beneath the big tents will present a number of the most marvelous foreign acts of the century.

The menagerie of wild animals carried with the show is complete in every detail, and contains rare and curious specimens of the earth's most interesting and curious animals.

A mile long street parade of dazzling splendor, beautiful women and handsome horses, interspersed with three brass bands and a steam calliope will traverse the streets shortly before noon, and this feature alone will be worth going many miles to see.

Don't forget the date and the place of exhibition, Oconomowoc, Monday, August 10.
