HERMANN DAHLMAN

On Wednesday Herman Dahlman died at Elkhorn, a result of injuries sustained in jumping out of the window at his brother's home in La-Grange.

Mr. Dahlman was in ill health and was in a delirious condition. He was sixty years of age. The funeral took place from Mealey's undertaking establishment at Eagle Saturday afternoon and interment was in North Prairie cemetery.

He leaves two sons and two brothers, Carl Dahlman, of La Grange, and August Dahlman, of Mukwonago.

MRS. GEORGE VONRUEDEN

On Wednesday, April 7th, Mrs. George Vonrueden died at the family home west of Eagle after a brief illness. Mrs. Vonrueden was born on the Breidenbach homestead in Eagle, Nov. 9th, A. D. 1887, and was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Loibl Breidenbach. Here she attended school and grew to womanhood and here she was married to George Vonrueden on May 21st, A. D. 1921.

The young couple engaged in farming and built up a fine farm home and enjoyed every convenience to make life pleasant. Mrs. Vonrueden was a most amiable woman, devoted to her family and her home and her untimely death is mourned by all. The funeral took place from St. Theresa's church Saturday forenoon. Rev. Father Elsing, pastor, officiating, and interment was in the family lot in St. Theresa cemetery.

She leaves surviving her besides her husband, five children, Gerald, Robert, Raymond, Leona and Rita, and her father, Bernard A. Breidenbach, five brothers, Edmund and Leo, of South Dakota; Anton, of Milwaukee; Henry of Elkhorn; Bernard, of Chicago, and two sisters, Louise and Agnes, of Eagle, who have the sympathy of all in their sad bereavement. Her mother died January 14, 1926.

Senewhere in basements or closets are paint cans and perhaps paint rags which may start a fire. The winter's accumulation of the family paper is piled in the basement. Up in the attic are hat boxes with tissue paper, broken furniture, and enough other materials to make a good bonfire. The foundations of the barn and frame house may be packed with straw ready to catch the chimney spark; the yard may be full of weeds, dry grass and leaves. The old shingle roof may have a covering of moss and punk ready to ignite. You may still find shavings and chips where the last carpenter you employed left them. Down in the basement of your store are five dollars worth of boxes and banana crates to endanger your fifty thousand dollar stock. Under work benches and machines and in corners of shops may be sawdust into which oil has dripped. Oily waste may be found anywhere.

Destroy All Other Clean up, sell saleable junk to the ragman, and destroy the rest; fix up that roof; clean out the chimney and smokepipes and store the pipes in a dry place when fires are no longer needed; use whitewash and paint liberally; grow grass, flowers and vegetables instead of unsightly weeds.

These are just simple, common-sense rules to make your home and shop safer and more beautiful. Seventy-five per cent of the fires are due to carelessness. Get out of the rut of being 75 per cent careless. Every careless fire is a reflection on somebody's common-sense.

Clean up now, then keep clean. Clean up Week In many cities and villages ashes, cans, etc., are removed at public expense.

We recommend that mayors of cities designate the first week in May (May 3-8) as clean-up week, and urge that city fire and health departments and civic clubs plan and carry out a systematic clean-up movement. Such movements make for greater fire and health safety, and have accomplished wonders in past years. All will have the pleasure of clean and more beautiful surroundings.

CLEAN UP SAYS INDUSTRIAL COMMISSION

RECOMMENDS WISCONSIN CITIES NAME FIRST WEEK IN MAY FOR CLEANUP

The calendar says spring is here. The accumulated rubbish and debris is also here. Clean up before the busy summer season starts and rid you: premises of fire hazards, warns the Industrial commission.

FERNS SHOULD BE ATTRACTIVE AND ALSO HARDY

PLANTS SHOULD BE PLACED IN SUNNY CORNER. WILL LAST MANY YEARS

(Editor's note: The following article is the first of a series of ten articles, which L. H. Steil, professor of botany at Marquette University, Milwaukee, Wis., is writing for the United Press, on the care and cultivation of ferns.)

By W. N. STEIL, Professor of Botany Marquette University, Milwaukee. (Written for the United Press)

MILWAUKEE—In the selection of house ferns that can be cultivated and will adapt themselves to the confines of the modern flat or apartment, care should be taken that the plant chosen is first of all, of a hardy nature, and secondly has enough beauty to lend attractiveness to the house.

Ferns placed in sunny corners of rooms otherwise drab and colorless, give a touch of beauty, that perhaps no other plant could approach, and the right kind of a fern, with proper care will live and flourish over a long period of years.

England Far Ahead England, because its people have been interested in ferns and fern growing for centuries past, is far ahead of the United States in the care and cultivation of the domesticated plant, but the American housewife can achieve the same results if she uses care and judgment in the selection of her fern. On account of the experience of the English people in fern culture, they can grow many beautiful varieties, which the average American housewife cannot grow because of her inexperience.

The best known ferns and the most suitable ones for the home are the sword fern types, popularly known as the Boston or Nephrolepis ferns. The Boston fern is more successfully grown and cultivated than all other ferns combined. It is a rapid grower, hardy and produces a beautiful foliage. Many other varieties of the Boston type are successfully grown, such as the Whitmanii fern, which has a delicate lace-like foliage, appropriate to the most distinctive or most modern homes. The Boston dwarf is one of the tiniest ferns and is sometimes selected because it requires but a small amount of room for its proper growth.

Are More Hardy There are several holly ferns (Cyrtomiums) which are readily grown in the house. They are small, grow less rapidly, but are even more hardy than the Boston fern, perhaps, on account of their broad, glossy leaves. Many persons do not associate these plants with the ordinary fern family. The holly ferns, of which there are several varieties, should be more generally grown than they are today.

The brake (Pteris) type also has a number of very good varieties. The Cretica variety is very popular. The variety, albo lineata, with a white stripe running lengthwise down the center of the leaves, is a hardy fern, and one which every housewife can grow successfully. A larger brake (Pteris tremula) is a handsome fern and one which is gaining much popularity. It is a moisture loving plant, and if watered freely, will succeed under ordinary house conditions.

Employment is better due to spring weather

MORE ORDERS FOR HELP RECEIVED DURING MONTH OF MARCH THAN BEFORE

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—(U.P.)—With the approach of spring employment conditions are becoming better, according to the monthly report of the Milwaukee employment office made public here today.

More orders for help were received during the month of March than during February, the report says. This, however, was believed to have been due to the fact there were more working days in March and to the fact that spring is on the way.

The demand for men in the building trades is still small, as well as that for outside work, but with balmy weather certain to arrive this month, it is expected conditions will improve right along now.

In the metal trades requests for help were along the same lines as before, namely for skilled molders, machinists and machine hands. There was a slight increase in the number of orders received from shoe factories but mostly from those manufacturing women's and children's footwear.

Several orders were received for experienced wood working machine hands for furniture and sash and door factories.

During the winter months there was a slight surplus of farm hands, but this has already been absorbed as now more orders are received daily than can be filled, the report says.

BANK MONEY BELIEVED IN THE SHIPMENT

POLICE CLAIM ROBBERY WAS "INSIDE JOB" NEITHER BANDIT PULLED GUN

INDIANA HARBOR, Ind.—(U.P.)—The robbery and kidnaping of a mail messenger which occurred here today was characterized by police this afternoon as a "frame up" and "inside job."

The police version of the affair came after three eye-witnesses to the robbery had told their stories of the alleged robbing and kidnaping of Frank Watson, mail messenger, as he pulled into the postoffice yard with a load of mail from the early New York Central train today.

The bandits procured the entire shipment of registered mail, part of which is thought to have been a $37,500 shipment of money from the Chicago Federal Reserve bank to the Indiana Harbor bank. The exact amount of the loss in the robbery will not be determined until a complete check has been made by federal officials here.

No Gun Pulled

Police, at first believing that Watson was kidnaped after being robbed, cast aside this theory after Henry Dahn and Lloyd Frederick, eye-witnesses to the robbery, told their version of the affair.

Frederick said that neither bandit showed a gun and that Watson walked around the bandit car and got in after he had transferred the mail pouches from his car to theirs.

Watson, an employe of a private company which has the contract for hauling mail here, had been with his company only two months. Previous to that time he is said to have worked a short while in one of the steel mills.

John Anderson, who also saw the robbery, corroborated the statements of the other two.

Loss to Be Big

Federal officials are checking the mail sacks as rapidly as possible to determine the amount of the loss. It was considered quite probable that it may be exceptionally heavy.

Meantime posses and officers are searching the highways for a trace of the two bandits and Watson. The license number of the car in which they drove away has been checked and found to belong to a woman who said, "Why I don't even own an automobile."

Police were inclined to the belief that the bandits had used her name in obtaining the license to throw off any possible clues which might have developed from the automobile number.

The entire countryside was being searched for Frank Watson, the kidnaped mail clerk.

Payroll Is Safe

H. A. Fredenhagen, paymaster of the Inland Steel company, stated that the company's payroll for today had been brought in secretly and is safe.

This was a diversion from the policy of the company.

H. H. Spencer, postmaster here, would hazard no prediction as to what the loss would be.

SAYS 1,700,000 STILLS ARE NOW IN OPERATION

BELIEVES MANUFACTURE OF BEVERAGE WOULD AID PROHIBITION ENFORCEMENT

WASHINGTON, D. C.—(U. P.)—L. C. Andrews, federal prohibition czar, today came out in favor of legalizing beer of low alcoholic content.

Testifying before the senate prohibition investigating committee, Andrews said he believed modification of the Volstead act to encourage mild alcoholic beverages would aid enforcement of prohibition.

Having startled the committee with his advocacy of light beer, Andrews caused a new stir when he estimated that there were about 1,700,000 stills operating in this country, now.

Estimate Quantity

Charles Williams, an associate of Andrews, who had been called to explain working of a still, displayed before the committee gave an estimate of 40 gallons a day as a still's capacity. Whereupon Senator Reed deduced that 68,800,000 gallons of liquor might be made in a single day in the United States.

Andrews in answer to a question concerning his opinion to strict government supervision of beer distribution, said:

"I think that would aid law enforcement."

The question was put by Senator Reed, Democrat, Missouri, who explained that the beer would be sold only in hotels and restaurants with meals and for home consumption.

Andrews refused to commit himself regarding wines.

"I don't think palatable wines can be manufactured which would not be intoxicating," Andrews said.

Nothing To Say

"But 12 per cent wines would not be intoxicating?" Reed asked.

"I don't know about that," Andrews said. "I would not like to say anything about wines. I do believe it would be helpful in suppressing bootleggers if the government would supervise distribution of beverages that are non-intoxicating in fact."

It would be "disastrous" if beer were permitted to be sold in saloons, he said.

Julien Codman, wet "prosecuting attorney" in leading up to the question, said ninety per cent of the alcoholic beverages consumed before prohibition were beers.

"We are a beer drinking nation," said Codman.

"Well, there was a lot of hard liquor consumed too," Andrews replied.

Victory For Wets

"But don't you think it would benefit our people to permit manufacture of beer?" Codman asked.

"Do you mean for home consumption?" Andrews returned.

"Yes, by no means do I suggest a return of the saloon."

"I think it would be well if we had close government supervision. I think many citizens now drinking hard liquor would be satisfied with beer."

Andrews' testimony was hailed by the wets as the high spot of their case, placing the chief federal law enforcement officer on record in favor of beer—"non-intoxicating in fact."

To Rest Case

The wet case will rest tomorrow upon its evidence of the billion dollar New York bootleg traffic, increased drunkenness among children and its plea of a federal district attorney for modification of the dry law. Col. Julien Codman, wet prosecuting attorney announced today.

"We have proved our case and the committee may do as it desires," Codman said.

Edward Weston, 38, who with Tony Lazaro and W. I. Gill, escaped jail in Waukesha on Thursday morning, July 28, 1921, was back in the jail again today, following his arrest at Burlington on Tuesday afternoon by Frank Slevonick, Soo Line detective, and Chief of Police Frank Beller of Burlington.

Friend of Karl's

About a year later Fluthey was captured with George Karl and charged with a like offense. Shortly before their trial both men escaped by sawing the bars in the window. Karl was captured about a year ago in San Francisco but was killed in Chicago while out on bail awaiting trial. Fluthey is still at large.

Working on a tip, Detective Slevonick and Chief Beller watched for some time for Weston's appearance in Burlington and yesterday made an investigation in the railroad yards of the St. Paul road. Opening a box car door they were confronted by a man who gave his name as Edward Johnson of Minneapolis. In one end stood Weston. Both were taken into custody and Weston was brought here last night on a charge of jail breaking. Johnson is being held in Burlington for further questioning.

Arraigned this morning, Weston's case was continued until Monday and bail fixed in the sum of $1,000. He said that he had seen Karl while in the west and had heard that he had been killed since his return here. He added that he did not know the whereabouts of Fluthey. District Attorney Herman Salen stated today that he intends to prosecute Weston on the original charge of burglary as well as on the jail breaking charge.

At the time of his escape, Weston was lodged in the tramp room with Gill and Lazaro. Gill was being held following an alleged attack upon Daniel Jorman and Lazaro, a 14-year-old Waukesha boy, had just been sentenced to the Industrial school for larceny. All three made their escape by tearing up a portion of the tile floor after which they gained their freedom through one of the cellar windows. Lazaro was captured at Vernon station, early this morning, and Gill a few hours later near Mukwonago. A posse was organized and searched the country near Beulah station for Weston but he had caught a freight shortly before and made his way to Chicago.

TWO BEGGES' ESTATE SUITS ARE DISMISSED

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Two circuit court suits in connection with the John I. Begges estate case have been dismissed on stipulation between attorneys.

One was the suit brought by Neele B. Neelen against Mrs. Mary Begges McCulloch, St. Louis, daughter of Begges, in connection with which injunctions were obtained to prevent the payment of dividends to creditors.

The other was the suit brought by Mrs. McCulloch against John H. Leenhouts, assessor of incomes, seeking to restrain him from examining the records of the state.

NORWEGIANS HAIL POLAR TRIP SHIP

OSLO, April 14—Thousands of enthusiastic Norwegians today turned out to greet the Amundsen-Ellsworth polar dirigible Norge when she arrived from Puffinham England, at the end of an all-night cruise above the tumbling waters of the North sea.

Schools and other public buildings were closed and most shops followed the example.

The city was dressed in flags and bunting, while on Ekeberg Hill, in the suburbs, virtually the entire population gathered to shout "welcome" to the men who seek the pole.

RACINE, April 14—Louis Clark, 18, was killed and two companions, Walter Peterson and Martin Hallsick were seriously injured when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by an interurban car here today. The car was driven by Hallsick. The men were on their way to work.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., April 14—Knut Rockne, famous Notre Dame football coach, was smiling today. A 12 pound son was born to the Rockne's at St. Joseph's hospital early this morning.

Danville Parents Are Aroused over Students' Drinking

DANVILLE, Ill.—(U.P.)—Aroused by the discoveries already made, a committee of parents is determined to end drinking revels among Danville high school students.

The parents continued today the investigation that already has brought confessions from six students that they carried liquor to a spring dance at the high school building, attended by 500 boys and girls.

Expelled by school authorities, the six young men, all leaders in school activities, may win reinstatement by going before the grand jury with their stories next month.

State's Attorney Elmer Furrow has promised that the grand jury will make a thorough probe of conditions among high school students.

WAUKESHA TO LOBBY FOR HERD TESTING MONEY

FARMERS WILL ASK LEGISLATURE TO APPROPRIATE $450,000 AT "SPECIAL"

O. H. Cooley, secretary of the Waukesha County Farm Bureau, J. F. Thomas, county agricultural agent—if Mrs. Thomas' illness does not prevent—and a number of prominent dairy farmers of this city will go to Madison to be present at the special meeting of the legislature on Thursday, to consider an emergency appropriation of $450,000 for the eradication of bovine tuberculosis in this state.

Waukesha county representatives, Senator John C. Schumann and Assemblymen Wm. H. Edwards and Evan G. Davies are expected to attend.

Lack of Insight

"The State Farm Bureau had a bill before the last legislature which if passed as it was introduced—would have obviated the necessity of this special session" said Mr. Cooley. "Our bill provided an appropriation of $1,000,000 to be used to eradicate tuberculosis among cattle. The sum was cut down by the legislature to $750,000, which is not enough. The number of cattle reacting to the T. B. test has been larger than expected. Southern counties have produced more cows reacting than northern counties. This proposed emergency appropriation is necessary because of the lack of foresight of the legislature."

Mr. Cooley says the dairymen here strongly support the bill as it will be presented to the legislature at the special session, and that he is sure that both Mr. Edwards and Mr. Davies will do all they can for it.

Schumann May Oppose

However, Senator John C. Schumann, Watertown, is said to oppose the proposition. He believes that the minimum indemnity for grade cattle condemned by the test should be increased from $40 to $60. He made this suggestion at the last session. It is doubtful whether the Schumann proposal can be considered, and lawyers are already looking into the matter.

It is also said that a delegation of farmers from Brown county, numbering 200, will be present to protest against the further application of the test. Another group of farmers are coming in to demand that the appropriation be increased to $750,000.

There are possibilities that the legislature may get into a wrangle over the matter which will delay final action several days.

The Wisconsin constitution limits the subjects to be considered to the one mentioned in the call but rumor says violent effort will be made to introduce the wet-and-dry issue.

Nelson For Speaker

As the time for Thursday's session draws near, it becomes more likely that Assemblyman George A. Nelson of Milwaukee may be elected speaker. In other respects the legislature will be organized as before. C. E. Shaffer of Madison will be chosen chief clerk, and C. E. Hanson of Pierce county, will be named sergeant at arms. In the senate, Charles Leitch of New Lisbon will be again named sergeant at arm, and F. W. Schoenfeld, chief clerk.

MARINES KILLED IN PLANE CRASH

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Two Marines corps aviators were killed at Cannon, Va., today when their DH-plane crashed to earth.

First Sergeant Neal W. Abbot, pilot of the plane and master technical sergeant Clarence B. Mix, passenger, were instantly killed.

A Marine platoon was dispatched from Quantico to the scene of the accident.

DEPARTMENT ANSWERS CHIMNEY FIRE CALLS

Two chimney fire calls were answered by the fire department this morning, one at the home of Fred Maleck, 1539 Jefferson avenue and the other at the home of William Stolte, 329 Arlington street. Damages were slight in both instances. A similar fire broke out at the Stolte home just recently.

PEACE REIGNS IN HERRIN; SIX KILLED

KLAN AND ANTI-KLAN FACTIONS IN BATTLE DURING TUESDAY'S ELECTION

By MAX BUCKINGHAM (United Press Staff Correspondent)

HERRIN, Ill., Apr. 14—Daylight and the tramp of soldiers' feet today dispelled fear of further violence in riot-ridden Herrin.

The city which has been named "bloody" for its frequent massacres and riots, where only yesterday six men were slain in a Main street gun battle brought about by an election feud, today was at peace—a peace which might not exist were it not for the company of state guards patrolling the streets.

Night found the city deserted. Herrin counted her dead, found three Klansmen and three anti-Klansmen had been killed in the fight, went home to its evening meal and quietly stole away to bed—another bloody chapter in its history recorded.

Business Goes On

Dawn found the city awake. Miners—those who have not been laid off by the recent curtailment of coal deliveries—stepped bruskiy from their homes and started off to their strips and their shafts. Business men came down and opened their stores and shops. Election officials prepared to finish counting yesterday's ballots.

But everywhere there were soldiers, tramping their posts with rifles at their shoulders. No gathering of men or of women was permitted. Anyone could go or come as he chose, but none was allowed to loiter with friends to discuss the events of yesterday.

It was nothing new to Herrin to have troops in its midst. The khaki clad sentries have patrolled these same streets many times before. Their "move on" orders have been heard again and again. But this was the first time in 14 months that Herrin had become so unruly that outside forces were sent to keep the peace. Herrin was supposed to have been "converted" through the evangelistic efforts of the Rev. Howard S. Williams, an itinerant minister of the gospel who had drawn many a hard faced miner down "the sawdust trail" to start a new life. It was difficult for many of the more orderly citizens to realize that their city again must be named "bloody."

Six Are Dead

Over in the City hospital there was evidence of the most grim natures—six bodies. The men had died there, only after they had been picked up on the streets where they fell. They had been known in Herrin as:

Alderman Mack Sizemore; his brother, Ben Sizemore; Harlan Ford, brother of a former Herrin police chief—these three Klansmen.

Carol Weaver, Charles Briggs, and A. E. Treadwell—these three deputy sheriffs and anti-Klansmen.

John Smith, a garage owner and an election official, apparently the central figure in the riot but escaped with only a slight injury.

Marked for Death

As dictator of all the Klan forces in Williamson county, Smith was understood to have been marked for death. When he became active yesterday in challenging voters, particularly a number of Italians, the trouble started. A fist fight at one of the bowling places came very nearly being the start of the gun battle.

Trouble passed over for several hours, however, until late in the afternoon when two automobiles filled with anti-Klan leaders came to a stop in front of Smith's garage and opened fire upon him. He fell to his stomach and was only scratched.

The assailants drove on and did not reappear until after a company of state guards had been sent to Herrin from Carbondale, a nearby city.

With troops within the city limits, the anti-Klansmen swooped down the main street, pulled up in front of the Masonic hall, and started firing at a group of men congregated along the curb. Their fire was returned and a running battle up and down the principal thoroughfare of Herrin proceeded.

Six Found Wounded

When the smoke of battle had cleared away, the six men were found mortally wounded. They were carried to the city hospital where they died one at a time within an hour.

No further outbreaks are anticipated as long as the troops remain, but martial law has not been ordered, nor will it be ordered unless a real danger appears.

PUBLISHER FINED $50 FOR LIBEL

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—Magnus Martinson, publisher of "Scandal," a local magazine, was sentenced to pay a fine of $50 or serve 60 days in jail for libel of Magnus Johnson, former U. S. senator.

Martinson was found guilty by a jury last night and was sentenced by Judge L. S. Nelson of Worthington today.

MEN'S CLUB AT NORTH PRAIRIE IS LIVE WIRE

FIFTY BOOSTER MEMBERS, BOUND FOR COMMUNITY IM-PROVEMENTS, FINE MEETINGS

NORTH PRAIRIE.—A fresh stimulus was given the Men's club of this village, at its meeting Tuesday evening, when Rev. Mr. Inmann of West Allis gave a highly instructive and entertaining address. He suggested various ways in which an organization of this character may be of great benefit to the community, urging each one to "think deeply and carefully," using as a basis for his remarks the words: "Where are you going?—Back up."

Frank F. Kipp is the president of the club, and the regular meetings occur on the second Tuesday of each month.

Since the organization of the Men's Club of North Prairie, some four months ago, the membership has steadily grown to nearly fifty enthusiastic boosters, filled with a desire and firm determination to carry out a schedule of community boosting and social improvement.

Great impetus has been given the organization by speakers from West Allis, men enthusiastic in organization work of this kind, who have addressed the club at its last two regular meetings.

At the club's regular meeting in March the club was fortunate in having R. Fisher of West Allis, a businessman, city official, organizer, preacher, and one of the best all 'round live wire speakers one may ever have the good fortune to hear.

COUNTY GIVEN DEMOCRAT PAPER OF YEAR 1854

ALSO NEWSPAPER PRINTED IN VERMONT IN 1824 IS MU-SEUM DONATION

Edward Estberg has donated a copy of the Waukesha County Democrat of October 4, 1854, to the local museum.
The paper, edited by D. Casey, sharply assails Gov. Barstow, editorially and in a long communication, proving that the then ruling party was rent by factionalism. The Republicans, organized that year, are in the field for the first time locally. The advertisements are interesting, recalling old pioneers. The Waukesha Female Seminary, with three members on its faculty, announces its educational attractions and its tuition fees.

Mrs. Franc Hunkins has presented a "Gazeteer of Vermont," of 1924, which is especially interesting because so many of our pioneers hailed from that state. This bright nonogenarian, who arrived in New Berlin in 1846, has written a paper describing her school days there eighty years ago, which will be read at the annual meeting of the Waukesha County Historical Society, a month hence.

Now that the decorations have been completed, the museum in the basement of the court house is very attractive, a credit alike to the county and the historical society. Visitors are invited. The custodian will be in attendance Saturday afternoon.

The contest for the gold medals offered by the society for the best historical essays will close April 15.
Competing papers should be delivered to J. H. A. Lacher, D. J. Hemlock, or at the Freeman office. These medals, which were donated by D. J. Hemlock and Dr. George E. Hoyt, will soon be on exhibition in Estberg's jewelry store.

SPECIAL PROBATE TERM TO BE HELD

A special term of the County Court will be held Tuesday, April 20, when twenty probate matters will be disposed of by Judge David W. Agnew.
The calendar comprises hearings on claims in the estates of Susan J. Hale, Theodore J. Hecker, J. H. Sharp,
Lewis H. Schwaab, Arthur Ernest Giles and Mary Cummings; final hearings and determination of inheritance tax in the estates of Anna C. Smith and Henry J. Lindhorst; hearings for probate of will in the estates of William P. Connell, Aldermorn H. Cleveland, Conrad A. Haertel and David E.
Jones; hearings on petition for administration in the estates of Cletus J. Umhoefer, Ruth M. Weaver, Minnie Wegner and Edoardo Franco Gentile; hearings on final account in the estates of Frederick Lindhorst and Mary Anna Merten; hearing on order to show cause in the estate of Edwin De Witt and hearing on petition for sale of real estate in the estate of Eugene L. Palmer.

STORE BURNS AT NASHOTAH; MAN OVERCOME

H. F. WHITE, PROPRIETOR, FOUND UNCONSCIOUS AND IS RESCUED

H. F. White, Nashotah, is in a serious condition at the Summit hospital, Oconomowoc, and his general store is a mass of ruins following a fire which broke out in the building last Monday. The building, a two story structure in which Mr.
White made his residence, was burned to the ground as a result of the fire which started in one corner of the basement. The cause of the blaze is not known.

Was in Hartland
Mr. White was at Hartland depositing money in the bank when the fire broke out and when he returned he found his home in flames and many of the people of the village attempting to save the personal property. The proprietor wishing to remove some belongings on the second floor crawled up a ladder and entered one of the windows. When he did not return two young men, Harold Hornburg, of Hartland, and Gordap Davy, of Nashotah, entered the second story through the same window.

They found Mr. White lying on the floor overcome by smoke and he was taken down the ladder and rushed to the hospital at Oconomowoc where his condition is said to be serious.
Most of the personal property in the portion of the building where Mr.
White resided was saved but the stock in the store was destroyed. The total loss is estimated at $10,000.

Alarm Sounded
The fire was first observed by a clerk employed in the store and the alarm was given. Meager fire fighting equipment failed to halt the flames and in a few minutes the entire structure was afire. Immediately the townspeople began taking out the household furniture and other property including the business records.

This is the second misfortune to befall Mr. White within the last month, his wife having died about two weeks ago. Last week at Muk-wonago a general store was also destroyed by fire.

CONTRACT FOR SCHOOL AWARDED FOR $114,880

MINNEAPOLIS CONCERN WINS JOB IN COMPETITION WITH TEN OTHERS

Excavation for the new Waukesha Junior High school is to begin within a few days following the awarding of the contract by the board of education on Saturday afternoon to Pehrson Brothers of Minneapolis for the sum of $114,880.00. The Minneapolis contractors submitted a general bid which includes everything with the exception of the heating, plumbing and heat regulation system.

Ten other bidders offered general bids but the Minneapolis company was $6,000 lower than any other offer.
Pehrson Brothers completed a school in the city of Lancaster last year which is a duplicate of the one to be erected here and this was an advantage to them in figuring on the local work.

Several contractors presented bids on the heating work and it was awarded to the Paul Miller company of Milwaukee which was low with a figure of $18,670. The plumbing contract was awarded to J. E. Robertson of Wauwatosa for the sum of $9,578-00. The heat regulating system will be installed by the National Regulator company of Chicago for $3,857.00.

The general bid of Pehrson Bros., includes the installation of the telephone system, electrical wiring painting and all other necessities.
The amount of the general bid was lower than had been expected and the total of $176,000 provided for in the bond issue will pay for the erection of the school, repairs at Blair school, purchase of the land for the new school and the architects bill.

The contractors will begin work on the new building soon and it is to be completed within eight months.

DEMOCRATS OF THIS COUNTRY HONOR FOUNDER

AND ATTEND THE JEFFERSON
BIRTHDAY BANQUET
AT MILWAUKEE

A number of prominent members of the Waukesha county democracy were in attendance at the Jefferson birthday celebration of the founder of that party at the Wisconsin hotel in Milwaukee Monday evening, among them City Attorney G. Holmes Daubner and Mrs. Daubner, County Chairman George L. Dwinell and Mrs. Dwinell, Don B. Malone, all of this city, and W. H. Tuohy of Eagle.

The address of the evening was by Congressman Cordell Hull of Tennessee, who was introduced by Frank T. Boesel, president of the Milwaukee Bar association. Mr. Hull's talk was mainly an argument against the protective tariff, saying the rates now in force represent the "most rank discrimination."

The big Badger room at the hotel was filled with the banquetters, about half the company being women. Leaders of the party from many parts of the state were present, among them Judge Martin L. Lueck of Beaver Dam, formerly circuit judge in this circuit, who has for some years been regarded as the leader of his party in the state and the most available candidate for high office.

Plenty of practical politics "on the side" was no doubt discussed at this get-together meeting. But nothing definite as to procedure in the coming campaign was considered.

However from another source comes this suggested slate of Democratic candidates for national and state office:

U. S. senator, Martin L. Lueck, of Beaver Dam; governor, Charles E.
Broughton, of Sheboygan; lieutenant-governor, John A. Kuyper, of De Pere; secretary of state, John R.
Wolfe, of Milwaukee; state treasurer, Louis H. Zimmermann, of Burlington; attorney general, Thomas M.
Kearney, of Racine.

TWO HERDS TIED FOR MONTH'S RECORD

During the month of March 149 cows in the Waukesha Cow Testing association produced over 40 pounds of butterfat. There were 614 cows tested during the month. Broad ripple farm and the Industrial school seem to have the corner on high cows, as the seven high cows for the month are owned by these two farms. Broad-ripple came in with first, second, third and fourth, with records of 115.4 pounds, 101.5 pounds, 87 pounds and 83.9 pounds fat. The first cow milking 71.6 pounds per day and the second 65.5 pounds. The Industrial school came in for fifth place with a pure bred Holstein producing 2,387 pounds of milk containing 83.1 pounds of fat. All the above cows were milked three times a day and were all pure bred Holsteins. The Industrial school had two other cows that showed exceptionally good records, one milked 75 pounds of milk a day for twice a day milking, making 2,449 pounds of milk for the month testing 3.2 per cent, or a total of 78.4 pounds of fat. The other cow was milking 80 pounds per day or 2,480 pounds for the month, testing 3.2 per cent making 79.4 pounds of fat.

The herd of John T. Raht was high herd for the month, and his grade Holstein herd of twelve cows averaged 1,395 pounds of milk making 45 pounds of butterfat. The Broadripple herd of 38 cows was second with an average of 1,182 pounds of milk containing 44.2 pounds of fat.

A retest was made on the two high cows from the Broadripple farm, and cow No. 1 produced 79 pounds of milk the second day and the second cow 68 pounds of milk. The test was somewhat lower but the daily average was not a great deal different.

PIONEER WOMEN DIE AT OCONOMOWOC

OCONOMOWOC.—Two pioneer women of this city have passed away.

Mrs. John Bender died at her home in Oconomowoc, Sunday, on her eighty-ninth birthday. She lived here more than sixty years.

Mrs. Bender was a native of Vermont and came to Whitefish Bay when sixteen years old to teach school. Mr. and Mrs. Bender celebrated their seventieth wedding anniversary August 7.

Mrs. Bender is survived by her husband, eight children, twenty-one grandchildren and eighteen great-grandchildren.

The funeral of Mrs. William Fleming, 74, was held Monday. She was a pioneer resident of Oconomowoc.
She is survived by her husband, two daughters, Mrs. Walter Hegburg, Detroit, and Miss Margaret Fleming,

RURAL CHURCH SCHOOL OPENS ON JUNE 10TH

CAMP TO BE OPERATED ON SHORES OF LAKE MENDOTA, MADISON

MADISON—The rural church summer school will open its doors at the Wisconsin College of Agriculture for the fifth time, June 28 to July 10.
Rural clergymen and their wives from the various denominations and from all sections of the country are expected to attend again this year.

Pursuant to the plans of former years, a camp will be operated on the shores of Lake Mendota within walking distance, of the summer school sessions. Consequently, those in attendance will have the opportunity to enjoy the pleasure of camp life in alteration with their studies of rural sociology. No registration fee will be charged, and expenses will be limited to room and board.

Plans are now in progress to extend the rural church course of study for the coming year by the addition of a third year course. First and second year courses will be repeated, however, for the benefit of those who are attending for the first or second time. J. H. Kolb, director, is making an effort to maintain the high quality of those courses by enlisting the services of instructors formerly in charge.

CHICAGO VOTES TO LEGALIZE BOXING

CHICAGO—Chicago today loomed as the scene of some of the leading fights of the year as the votes on the referendum to legalize boxing in the city continued to pour in, literally landsliding in favor of boxing.

The majority in favor of the ratification immediately gave rise to hopes among local boxing enthusiasts that the Dempsey-Wills fight will be the first important one held here.

Floyd Fitzsimmons, the only man who claims to have both Wills and Dempsey's signatures on the same piece of paper has repeatedly said that Chicago would be favored as the scene of the match if boxing were legalized.

Fight fans were predicting that Chicago will have organized commission controlled boxing within the next month.

According to the new law Governor Len Small must now appoint a boxing commission. This probably will be done as soon as the Governor is notified officially that the referendum has carried.

Practically all classes seem to be rejoicing over the passing of the new law. The clergy seemed to harbor a touch of fear that the licensing of boxing is a gesture towards too great personal freedom but on the whole it approved mildly.

SAVINGS OF LIFE TIME ARE MISSING

AUTHORITIES INVESTIGATING FACTS WHICH POINT TO TRICKERY GAME

Waukesha county authorities were on Monday making an investigation in hopes of learning definitely how John and Agnes Andricks, 1526 Jefferson ave., came to lose $1,500, a life time savings, through the trickery or robbery of two "slickers" thought to be residents of Milwaukee.

Andricks who talks in broken English tells an incoherent story of being tricked or drugged in his home on Jefferson avenue, and when he awoke he found that $1,500 which he had drawn out of the bank was missing and his two guests disappeared.

Is Peculiar Case

The two men called on the aged couple last Wednesday and the report was made to the sheriff on Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Andricks arrived at the sheriff's office Monday to tell their story to Clerk Paul Kimball for the purpose of signing a warrant for the arrest of the alleged swindlers. It was first gathered from Andricks' story that the men had sold the couple a money "making" machine for the sum of $1,500, but closer questioning Monday by Clerk Kimball failed to substantiate this theory, unless Andricks does not wish to make known the fact that he was seeking to purchase such a device.

The victim related to the authorities about drinking some concoction which made him sick and as he said "I just didn't know what I was doing." The money, he said, had been drawn from the bank, and was to have been used in closing the mysterious money making deal. When he had regained his senses, Andricks said the two gentlemen were gone as well as $1,500. Little information could be obtained from Mrs. Andricks who became hysterical the minute the authorities began questioning her or her husband. Andricks said that the money represented their total life savings.

Warrant Is Issued

Later in the morning Clerk Kimball learned from Andricks that the couple have a daughter living in the city and the authorities will confer with her in the hopes of finding out the true facts in the case.

Andricks stated that one of the men had called on them last fall at which time he presented a similar money making proposition. The authorities feel now that there was no machine used to carry out their purpose but that some trickery was employed as Andricks spoke of the men handling the money. A John Doe warrant charging larceny has been issued.
