

HARVEY CLEMONS

The sudden death of Harvey Clemons at his residence here last Friday evening marks a period in the history of Eagle. It means something to a community when one who has been an outstanding figure in our midst for many years passes from among us. Mr. Clemons has always been a factor in the best interests of the village since his coming here in the early sixties. Here is where he found his life companion, Noma Pittman and with him was so much a part of the best movements of the passing years and who went from us eight years ago. Many a friend here and elsewhere has cause to remember them both in their genial, generous hospitality and kindness.

He had not been in the fullness of health for a couple of years but had been out among the friends and attended to his business interests as usual, always with a cherished gratification that he did not need to give up to the helplessness that confronted him at the beginning of his illness.

Funeral services were held at the residence Wednesday afternoon and he was laid by the side of his wife in Oak Ridge cemetery. It is not amiss to refer here to this cemetery as one which was a gift to the association from himself and wife and of which he has been an officer since its organization, being president at the time of his death.

He leaves surviving an only daughter, Mrs. L. H. Wingerter and two grand children. Also two brothers, Harmon Clemons, of Los Angeles, Calif., and Ezra Clemons, of Seattle, Wash., and two sisters, Mrs. Emma Cowan, Eagle Grove, Ia. and Mrs. Frank Kinney, Long Beach, Calif.
