Watch Your Kidneys!

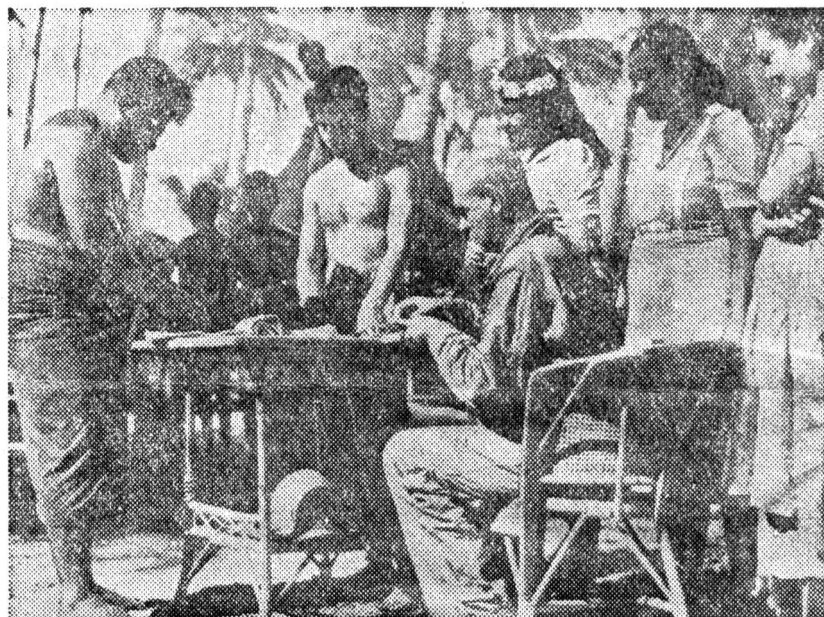

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste. Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may clog the system and upset the whole body machinery. Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, swelling up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination. There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor!

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Meeting of Allied Military Strategists Foreshadows Smashing Anti-Axis Blows; Nazi's 'Winter Line' in Italy Cracked; Fierce Fighting Continues in Pacific

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.) Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Wash Day—On a tropical Pacific island, marines pay natives $2.50 per month for laundering their clothes.

FOUR POWERS: Map New World

Meeting in the Near East, the "Big Four" of the Allied powers plotted the destruction of the Axis, with the provision that all territory overrun by the enemy must be returned to the subject people.

For Germany and her small allies, President Roosevelt, Premier Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill drew up an ultimatum demanding unconditional surrender or else leaving the enemy's destructive defeat. Administration of reoccupied territory along the pattern of joint cooperation employed in Italy also was formulated in accordance with principles of the Moscow conference.

Conferring with Chiang Kai-shek in the shadow of Egypt's pyramids, President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill agreed upon unconditional surrender for Japan, with restoration of Manchuria, Formosa and parts of China proper to Kai-shek's government, and return of all other territory occupied since Pearl Harbor.

ITALY: Crack 'Winter Line'

Striking at both ends of the Nazis' winter line in southern Italy, the Allies made deep penetrations in their drive to Rome. To avoid giving up any billeting or other facilities, the Germans dynamited towns in the Allies' path.

The smash against the Nazis' defenses began with the Eighth army's assault on the enemy's hilly posts overlooking the Sangro river.

Aided by swarms of Allied fighter-bombers and massed artillery which laid down a carpet of fire on the Germans' ground, U. S. and British troops pushed forward for gains which were measured in miles.

To offset the Allies' charge, it was reported that Nazi Rommel rushed reinforcements to the battle zone.

SOUTHWEST PACIFIC: Aussies Gain

Moving to cut off supply sources feeding embattled Japanese troops to the south, U. S. Liberator bombers flew in force to the enemy's big base of Wewak to dump tons of explosives.

To the south, Australian troops slowly picked their way through jungle up the northeastern coast of New Guinea, isolating strong Jap outposts on inland paths. Disruption of communications would cripple enemy resistance at these points while the Allied forces worked toward main points.

On Bougainville, U. S. troops were held to short gains by stubborn Japs, entrenched in strong fortifications behind jungle foliage. U. S. advances resulted from careful squirming through the dense brush.

Bloody Action

The single bloodiest action of U. S. forces in the war thus far was the capture of the Gilberts, where the Yanks suffered 3,722 casualties.

Fiercest fighting was on Tarawa, where 1,026 marines and doughboys were killed and 2,577 wounded, charging the Japs' steel and palm-logged fortifications. Losses at the other little islets totaled 66 dead and 123 wounded.

Gilberts' casualties compared with 3,767 suffered on Guadalcanal, and the 3,497 during the struggle for the Salerno beachhead. Jap losses in the Gilberts were estimated at 5,700.

HIGHLIGHTS . . . in the week's news

FAIR: State and county will be held this coming year in many places that have had none since the war began. Delegates to the annual convention in Chicago of the Association of District and County Fairs, coming from 22 states, resolved to reopen the big shows. It was said that fairs held this year drew larger crowds and made more money than for a long time.

FOOTBALL: Attendance at college football games declined 18.4 per cent from 1942, a survey of 57 large colleges and universities disclosed. The drop was biggest in the South, with 28.4 per cent, and smallest in the East, at 6.4 per cent. A similar downturn was shown when 1942 figures were compared with 1941, the decline between the two years being 19 per cent.

WAR MATERIAL: On Sale

As the army and navy put surplus material on sale, Secretary of Commerce Jesse Jones told a congressional committee that the government's Defense Plants corporation favored disposing of its multi-billion dollar factory facilities after the war to private industry without helping companies build monopolies.

Declaring it was selling surplus materials to aid the home front's war effort, the army asked bids on mechanics' precision tools, airplane parts, lubricants, refueling funnels, etc., while the navy was selling mattresses, bedsprings, pillows, paint, etc.

Jones said the government should be careful in selling these holdings to large companies which could monopolize these fields through additional acquisitions.

Ask Better Distribution

To help meet consumers' needs, the War Production board authorized manufacture of 64,000 three-burner electric stoves in 1944, and also called conferences to plan better distribution of available goods.

Few of the 24 electric range manufacturers will turn out 64,000 stoves, only 10 per cent of the normal production. Civilians will share the output with the army, navy and hospitals.

To provide a greater flow of goods into congested war production centers and open new sources of supply to retailers whose previous wholesale channels have been cut off by the war, the WPB is expected to formulate a policy depending upon the voluntary compliance of distributors.

RUSSIA: Fight for Ukraine

Having stopped the Russian tide, German troops struggled to roll it back again in the prized Ukraine, long the apple of Hitler's eye in the east.

Its top soil rich for farming, the bowels of its earth full of essential minerals and ore, the Nazis followed their early capture of the Ukraine by vast resettlement projects. Squeezed out of the eastern portions of the province, they tried to cling to the western.

Having pulled 300,000 troops out of the Gomel bulge, the Nazis also slowed the Reds' drive in the north. All along the 1,200 mile front, inclement weather made muck of the terrain, complicating transportation problems already made difficult by the two sides' disruption of rail facilities.

LABOR: Want Wage Boosts

Spearheading a drive to smash the government's "Little Steel" formula limiting wage increases to 15 per cent over January, 1941, levels, the CIO's United Steel Workers announced they will ask 485 companies to reopen negotiations for new contracts.

Meanwhile, the senate was to act on a resolution granting 1,100,000 non-operating railroad workers a flat 8 cents an hour wage increase, after the Office of Economic Stabilization refused to allow the raise, proposing boosts ranging from 10 cents per hour for the lowest paid to 4 cents for the highest.

The Steel Workers said they would ask the companies which possess 85 per cent of the industry's capacity, for a general pay increase of 17 cents an hour over the present hiring rate of 78 cents, and a guaranteed weekly wage.

CHILD DELINQUENCY: Blame Parents

Famed founder of "Boys Town," Father E. J. Flanagan told a special senate committee investigating the present tide of juvenile delinquency that the mother should remain in the kitchen where she belongs.

"The present war is being fought primarily for future generations, and it would be a hollow victory if we were to sacrifice our children in . . . winning it," Father Flanagan said. "A mother renders more invaluable service to her country right in the home than the most skilled riveter or machinist could ever contribute."

From the Judge Baker Guidance center, Dr. William Healey of Boston, Mass., declared parental duty required correction of "natural tendencies of a boy to display he-man qualities . . . and of a girl to . . . give herself to a serviceman."

WHEAT MOVED

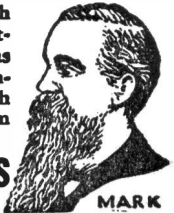

The nation's railroads have succeeded in moving practically all of this year's wheat crop from farms to elevators and terminal markets, despite the tremendous burden on rolling stock. In particular, all grain in danger of spoiling has been hauled to safe storage.

A large number of freight cars is being concentrated at Buffalo, N. Y., Toledo, Ohio, and other ports in that area to handle 40 million bushels moving on the lakes.

Uncle Sam would have used TIRE CHAINS

Whenever Uncle Sam's military vehicles run into snow, ice, mud or sand, tire chains are put on to get them through safely and on time. ● The government also recognizes the importance of tire chains for farm cars and trucks under WPB Order L-201. But military needs are so great, we urge you to repair usable old chains so long as they are safe. ● If you must have new ones, buy WEED CHAINS. MILITARY TRAINING
A PEACE-TIME ASSET

Postwar domestic and world problems are a challenge to American citizenship. Teen-age boys of today will be called upon in a few years either to help solve those problems or to enforce decisions which must soon be made.

Youth should prepare now for the most momentous days in history. An ideal combination for such preparation is military training, with its teachings of discipline and responsibility, and an educational course including the classics, sciences, mathematics, government and other essentials.

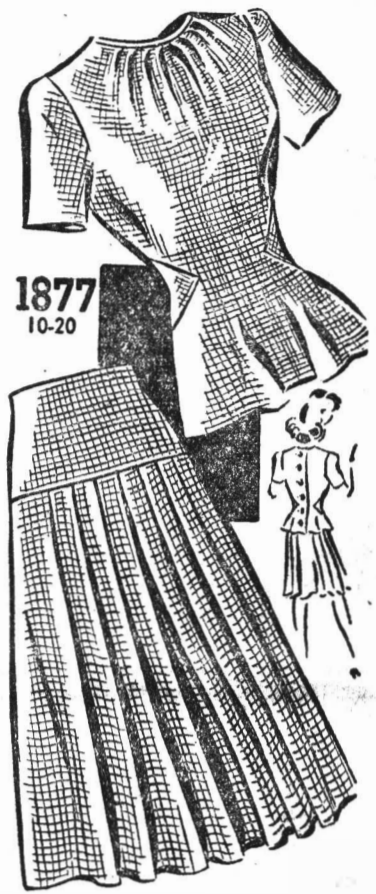

This combination is available at Northwestern Military and Naval Academy, from which many leaders in the armed forces, business and the professions have graduated.

The records of this institution prove its high standards. It enjoys an Honor School R. O. T. C. rating from the War Department. Its broad curriculum captures boyhood enthusiasm. Small classes provide individual teaching and personal attention from instructors.

Parents desirous of having their sons enter Northwestern for the winter term, starting on January 4th, are urged to contact Academy quickly because school has limited enrollment and vacancies resulting from mid-year graduation are filled quickly.

Located on beautiful Lake Geneva, the 75-acre campus is a constant delight to boys. Second semester opens Jan. 27. There is also a six weeks' Summer Naval Training Camp during July and August, with unusual recreational facilities. Write to Northwestern Military and Naval Academy, Lake Geneva, Wis., for illustrated catalogue.

Serve Regal Ham for Christmas!
(See Recipes Below)

Yule Goodies

Merry Christmas to You!
Whether you walk where there is hard-packed snow under your feet and the crackle of frost as you walk or whether you recline under lazy palm trees with the sun beating down on you in all its warmth, may this be your merriest Christmas... for this is the time of year to lay down the heaviness of spirit and to think only of goodwill toward men.

There's an elegance about Christmas dinner which you can't avoid even if you serve the simplest of food. Perhaps it is the spirit with which it's prepared and the blessing with which it is eaten. Whatever it is, make the most of it with whatever you have.

And now to the bustling and busyness that is Christmas. If your choice for the dinner is ham, and you've been saving your points for it, prepare it thus:

- *Christmas Ham.
1 smoked ham
2 cups fruit juice
1 cup brown sugar
2 dozen whole cloves

Place the ham rind side up, on an open roasting pan. Bake in a slow oven (325 degrees) for 18 minutes per pound for the average size ham, 10 to 12 pounds; 16 to 17 minutes for larger hams, 12 to 15 pounds. When ham has been baked for required length of time remove from oven and cut away the rind. Score ham with a sharp knife, rub sugar over surface and stick with cloves. Pour 1 cup fruit juice over it. Return to oven and bake at 400 degrees for 20 minutes. Baste frequently with remaining cup of juice.

If the ham is precooked, it needs only to be heated thoroughly before the glazing.

You've chosen a turkey for the Yule meal? Then, here's the stuffing for it:

- Savory Stuffing.
(For a 12-pound bird)
8 cups toasted bread crumbs
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon each of sweet marjoram, thyme, celery leaves and parsley, or
2 teaspoons poultry seasoning
1/2 teaspoon grated orange or lemon peel
2 onions, diced
2 tablespoons fat
1 egg
3/4 cup hot water, stock or milk

Toast bread and break into crumbs. Blend crumbs and seasoning together lightly. Fry onion until light brown in fat, mix with bread and seasonings. Stir in slightly beaten egg and liquid. Cool mixture and Boil potatoes and boil until soft. Mash and add remaining ingredients. Beat well and place in greased casserole. Dot with butter or margarine and bake until brown, about 1/2 hour.

- *Beet-Olive Salad.
(Serves 6)
4 cups cooked beets, cut in strips
1/4 cup sliced, stuffed olives
3 tablespoons french dressing
Toss together beets, olives and french dressing. Serve in lettuce cups.

It would no longer be practical to give an elaborate recipe for fruit cake, so here is one more simple than I've given in other years. It is delicious. Pick over fruit carefully, chop rather than grind it:

- *Wartime Fruit Cake.
1 cup dried apricots
3/4 cup sugar
3/4 cup shortening
4 eggs
1 cup seedless raisins
1/2 cup candied cherries
1/2 cup candied orange peel
1/2 cup candied citron
1/4 cup blanched almonds
1/2 teaspoon grated lemon peel
2 cups flour
1/2 teaspoon salt

Boil apricots 1 minute, drain, then slice. Cream sugar with shortening, add eggs beaten until light and thick, then combine with fruit and almonds. Slice cherries, orange peel, and citron before measuring. Add flour sifted with salt and beat thoroughly. Pour into small, greased oven glass dish, cover with glass top and bake 1 1/4 hours in a slow oven, 275 degrees.

HOUSEHOLD TINTS

When sickness visits the home and the doctor calls, write down his orders. Don't trust your memory. The "plenty of liquids" he prescribes are quite as important as the drugs you are to administer, so do not neglect them.

If your curtains look droopy a quick dip in ebru dye will remedy the situation.

Mem a 27-inch square of material and sew a small bone ring to each corner. Take the four rings together and you have a bag that will hold many pairs of socks or stockings. The bag may be hung conveniently on a hook in a closet.

If you wish to place a dish directly on the ice, first put an ordinary rubber jar gum on the cake of ice and the plate or dish on top of that. The dish will then stay on the ice and not slide off as the ice melts.

What is the most welcome gift you can send to a man in the service? Well, surveys among service men themselves show that one of the favorite packages from home are cigarettes. And first choice among men in all the services is Camel, based on the actual sales records in Post Exchanges and Canteens. Though there are now Post Office restrictions on packages to overseas Army men, you can still send Camels to soldiers in the U. S., and to Sailors, Marines, and Coast Guardsmen wherever they are.—Adv.

Tire Shortage

There are those in Palmyra who seem to believe that the tire shortage is about to end, have even spoken of how many new tires are available and insist the scare is over. Then why is it that rubber authorities, manufacturers of tires and rubber goods, government officials, tire dealers, warn you now that there is a tire shortage? With the synthetic rubber plants at work day and night, with such a huge scale of production, you still wonder why worry about tires? The shortage is NOT in rubber, for the synthetic process has wonderfully solved this problem, but it is because this rubber is not coming to the civilian in tires, which is the reason for us to continue to take care of those we now have, to see they will continue to serve us for a long time. There is such a large tonnage of rubber being turned out that you can't understand why no tires. Millions of tires are already worn out, inventories of prewar tires are all gone now, the needs of the army have accelerated. Don't forget that rubber goes into gas masks, life rafts, besides tires for airplanes, tanks, jeeps supply trucks. There is a man-power shortage and rubber companies haven't escaped from it. Consider that the nation's bus tires, its transportation truck tires, are wearing out and that these will be taken care of before we get ours. We should not feel confident the tire shortage is at an end. We must abide by the suggestions to make ours last longer as they become older and more threadbare.

Need Our Help

Newspapers have undoubtedly done a magnificent job of backing and sponsoring drives, selling war bonds, aided each war campaign, given much free space for projects enacted for the general welfare. Now the newspapers, who need newsprint so badly, have such a paper shortage that they can't fully put across their call to the public. Even though there has been a decided reduction in newsprint already, there is soon to be a further one which will be felt by the daily newspapers. Publishers have cut and condensed and are pretty anxious now for outside help in order to keep going. Right now we are collecting only 35 per cent of the waste paper while the machinery that works to salvage it is working at only 51 per cent of its full capacity. Only two million tons of waste paper are collected and sold for paper board where normally there was six million. Consider alone the amount of cardboard used for shipping purposes by the army and you have one of the principle reasons for a shortage. Let us here in Palmyra come to the aid of the nation's press.

Until Later

Many an evergreen tree fashioned along Christmas lines will be untouched this year as thousands of men work and fight in other lines than hauling and cutting Christmas trees for the market. Transportation is needed for necessities, so the attention to decoration and the spirit of the tree-minded will have to choose another effect. Of course there are trees to be had, many folks getting their own, but still families who have always had a Christmas tree won't have one crowding their living room this year. As much as we regret losing a part of our holiday symbols, this is not a usual year. We are happy to keep the season's spirit alive, our Yule prayers echoing, even without the tinsel and colored balls to encourage it. We have gone to war and we will cheerfully await our Christmas trees until that time when Palmyra youths can join us in decorating them.

POWATOMIE COUNCIL BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA TO MEET

The annual meeting of the Powatomie Council of Boy Scouts of America will be held at the Spa, Waukesha on Thursday evening, December 16. A banquet dinner will be served at 6.30 p. m.

Legion School

Broadening of its functions to restore to a normal civilian life the men who are being discharged from the armed forces will be the major topic of consideration at the annual mid-winter conference of The American Legion to be held at Madison January 15 and 16, according to James R. Durfee, Department Commander.

The gathering will be a training school for the officers of the 423 Legion Posts in Wisconsin and is expected to attract an attendance of approximately 1,000. Already under promotion by the Legion, Durfee says, is a bill to be introduced at the legislature session at Madison, January 12, to consolidate all agencies dealing with veterans affairs. The Madison conference will consider rehabilitation, employment, extension of hospital facilities and the handling of compensation claims for the disabled. James R. Durfee of Antigo, Department Commander, will preside and he will be assisted by G. H. Stordock of Milwaukee, and James F. Burns of Milwaukee, Department Service Officer. The latter is also a member of the state veterans' recognition board.

It Can Wait

Periodically come the editorials concerning the soap operas and nifty, nonsensical serials that clutter many hours of daytime radio entertainment. We are not going into the subject as to whether they are wholesome, interesting to the majority, sell their products and are worth the money. That can be answered best by polls conducted to ascertain what the listening audience choose. They know best what they want and let them voice their sentiments. If the majority support programs distasteful to you, there is still the simple turn of the switch that puts a stop to the dialogue. Anyone can deftly turn the dial to another station without embarrassing the entertainers!

We write of the Chairman of the Federal Communications Commission urging Congress to enact laws to put a stop to the sickening sweet melodramas that clutter the daylight radio air waves, to call a halt to soap operas. This sort of law may put a stop to that type of entertainment, might effect a change of policy that would improve the radio tastes of many, but what about those evening programs where comedians aren't comical, where intelligent, high-minded souls become stooges as guest artists, where music becomes blatant blasts, and spoken lines carry implications that approach the censorship line? Surely Congress hasn't time right now to work itself into a debate over the merits and delinquencies of radio programs. Let Congress spend itself with more weighty problems of today and let us do our own dialing.

The first meeting will deal with the management of the laying flock and will include feeds and feeding methods, housing, lights, and equipment. The meeting will be opened by showing a sound colored movie entitled Vitamins on Parade.

A Meat Shortage?

Bq George Peck
Frankly, this columnist is puzzled. He has heard so many conflicting opinions regarding the meat shortage or as some claim, the alleged shortage. In the News Letter of the Arizona Cattle Growers' Association, I bran across a letter written by Frank C. Brophy, owner of Babacomar Ranch, located near Elgin, Arizona. This rancher has arrived at certain conclusions which we pass along to our readers. His letter read in part: "For the last six months, I have made what I thought was an intelligent effort to find out what is happening to the cow business. I have talked to a number of Arizona leaders in the livestock industry. No two have given me the same answer and no one answer has been complete or wholly convincing. Therefore, I am today as much in the dark about why America has a surplus of cattle on hand and a meat famine among the consumers as I was on the day that I began to ask why."

"Of course, I realize that there is such a thing as rationing, and that there are not enough points for people to buy the meat they want. I also realize that large quantities of beef are needed for the armed forces and some of our allies. However, the questions which keep popping up and are never clearly answered are these: Why do we have a surplus of beef cattle? Why cannot breeders, like myself, find buyers for our calves? Why has the price of feed become exorbitant while the price of the animal to which it is fed continues to decline? Why do the American people have to go without meat if there is a surplus available."

"Now, you might be interested in knowing my own conclusions, based upon the results of the inquiries I have been making."

(1) The livestock is being purposefully thrown into a state of confusion by officials in certain branches of the government in Washington.
(2) The officials responsible for this probably hold relatively obscure positions and are probably either practicing Socialists or Communists, or affiliated in some way with these movements.

(3) It is a standard policy of Communist attack to first disorganize and create confusion in order to clear the way for the intrusion of their plan at some later date.

(4) The livestock industry, being made up of a relatively large number of small operators who are extremely individualistic in thought and action, must be liquidated if the Communist plans are to get anywhere in the agricultural sphere.

"If this diagnosis is even approximately correct, then it has come when the livestock industry had better stop being politic and go after these fellows in Washington with bare hands. Inasmuch as the Communist effort is made under cover and through subterfuge, the one thing that hurts most is to turn the light on it. I believe the cattlemen have the right, to demand, and insist upon getting, an answer from the Honorable James Byrnes and the Honorable Fred Vinson, to these several questions. The matter should be pressed until we know definitely who is responsible for throwing the industry into the present chaotic condition and why they have been permitted to do so."

"This is essentially the Moscow system of economics. I am of the opinion that if the agricultural people and the livestock people will cut out the pussy footing and go to work on these gentlemen, who have got into key positions in the Government, and who are trying to put into effect their foreign ideas, we will be doing the nation a patriotic service. It will take a certain amount of courage and fortitude to do this, but at that, it is a lot easier job than the fellows have to face every day who go out on bombing missions. It seems to me that it would be cowardly if we fail at home, while we let these fellows go out and get killed for something they believe they are fighting to preserve on the fighting front and which we are supposed to be safeguarding at home."

Is Mr. Brophy correct in his conclusions? If you know of any answers to his observations, this columnist will welcome your sending them along to him in care of this newspaper. We not only are puzzled but considerably worried about this meat business.

Don't Worry

Someone in Palmyra suggests that life back home is going to be mighty dull for the boys who have been seeing many parts of the world at war. In fact, letters from fighters mention how much free travel they receive and how they are seeing sights that they would never get to view any other way. Some lads go so far as to figure the hazards of war are worth the sight-seeing! But as far as our welcoming that home-coming, not appreciating small town main streets and corner drug stores, you might study letters of boys who definitely state why they fight as they do. Home is the victory, the end of war, the symbol of peace. To return to family, friends, comforts and advantages, out-weighs the tiring and sight-seeing. These lads will have their fill of strange sights and faces.

ORDNANCE FLASHES

Special abrasive blasting machines make it possible to clean millions of metal belt links for Army Ordnance cal. 30 and cal. 50 machine gun cartridges quickly and cheaply. In a few minutes, 20,000 cal. 30 or 5,000 cal. 50 links can be cleaned at cost of 1 cent.

A mammoth Army Ordnance 16-inch coast artillery gun mount costs approximately $750,000, takes 47 days to make, and requires 13 freight cars to move.

Coils of heavy square are wrapped around Army Ordnance fragmentation bombs that are used by low-flying airplanes against enemy infantry. When the bomb strikes, the explosion rips the wrapping into bits and sends them zinging out in all directions like so many bullets.

Senator Wiley's Letter JOBS FOR OUR VETERANS

What's going to happen to your sons and daughters when they are demobilized? Undoubtedly the foremost thought in your mind has also been the first concern of your Congress during the past week. First there was conscription, and now there is the question of what we are to do with these young people when they are discharged from the armed services.

There are bills pending providing for demobilization pay of from $100 to $300, which is all very well. These boys and girls should have money in their pockets, whether they have jobs or not. The insurance and social security sections of this legislation proposed by the administration are also important. But it seems to me the most important is that of assuring these young men and women that we are ready to place them in jobs when they return to civilian life.

I have already expressed my views on this matter before the Senate, urging the establishment under the Veterans' Administration of an employment division with single authority to relocate all returning servicemen in suitable jobs based on their previous service and employment records. By the time you hear from me next week, a bill will have been introduced by your Senator, based upon the full advice of those organizations and departments available. Both the National American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars have written enthusiastic endorsements of the plan I have proposed regarding employment of our returning servicemen.

WAR'S END

While military men insist that only military defeat will bring German surrender, the armies of the Third Reich are still strong. Collective figures show that only 98,000 of an "army in full retreat" were captured by the Russians in the five months drive from June to date not all of them Germans. Representatives of the occupied countries are less optimistic about German surrender than are Americans untouched by the actual ravages of war. Representatives of Poland, Czechoslovakia, Norway, France, Belgium and the Netherlands assert positively that Germany will fight to the bitter end, knowing that surrender will mean retaliation for her numerous cruelties perpetrated on all these occupied countries.

Allied observers representing the occupied countries do not believe that Germany places much faith in promises of no retaliation made by allied leaders. Within the occupied countries themselves, they point out, restraint of men who have lost their entire families and all their possessions, will be difficult. There will, they say, be personal, is not national retaliation.

HOLD THE LINE WAGES

Average weekly wage earnings for all factory workers have risen by over 50% since January, 1941. This clearly demonstrates that the "hold the line" program resting solely on basic wage returns is no "hold the line" program at all. Workers' incomes and purchasing power can rise sharply through longer hours with overtime pay, even with relatively stable wage returns. We should be told much juggling can be done with an hourly rate, a weekly rate and a monthly rate.

BOWLED OVER BY TAXES

There are inconsistencies in the Revenue Bill passed by the House of Representatives which, it seems to me, take advantage of Mr. Average Citizen whose limited earning capacity does not provide him with the wherewithal for expensive sports. For instance horse racing, "The sport of Kings", is taxed at 5% on paramutual betting, while numerous other "higher bracket" sports such as golf are given only a light once-over. But bowling really gets it in the neck. These 16 million enthusiastic sportsmen are to pay an addition 20%, and they are not in the class who can do it. They mostly the working classes who have not found any additional amount in their pay envelopes to adjust to the increased cost of living.

I wonder whether proprietors of the bowling lanes, if this bill becomes law, will be able to afford to continue providing alleys for servicemen at half or no cost. A more equitable tax is placed on billiard tables, here an increase is made from ten to twenty dollars a table. Why not a similar provision to double the tax on bowling alleys?
