THE NATIONAL PRESIDENCY.

Since Dr. Anna Howard Shaw de-clines further official service, who will be commander-in-chief of the woman suffrage forces in their future campaigns for the ballot? The election will take place during the annual convention of the National American Woman Suffrage association in Washington Dec. 14-19, and its results are of far-reaching import-The president has much to do in guiding the destinies of the National, the National has much to do in guiding the "cause", and the "cause" in the opinion of many people, has a vital work to do in promoting democracy.

Dr. Shaw, the retiring president, is one of the historic women of her time and one of the most picturesque and dramatic figures of the century. powerful speaker, a doughty fighter, Dr. Shaw has for half a century traveled over every section of this country traveled over every section of this country. try, preaching political rights for women. She is a born orator. When she was a little girl living in the wilds of northern Michigan, she used to mount the stump of a big tree and address an imaginary audience in the woods. She has spoken to every kind of audience, from little groups of lumber-jacks, of squaws and papooses, to great crowds of thousands of people of the highest education and cul-ture. She is now ridding herself of the cares of office in order that she may give all her time and strength to speaking.

In connection with the future presidency of the National, the name most often heard is Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, who was born in Wisconsin and grew to womanhood in Iowa. Mrs. Catt is Dr. Shaw's peer as a speaker though of quite a different type, and is an organizer and executive of equal ability. She has already served as president of the National, her term of office antedating Dr. Shaw's. She then became president of the International Suffrage association and traveled around the world, speaking and organizing. The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it falls to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

strong faculties, with keen perceptive M. S. Griswold powers; she was a great reader, especially of all books pertaining to her religion, being versed above the average in holy scripture and proved herself a most devoted and faithful member of the Welsh church, both in Mt. Pleasant, in Racine, and in the country. In the absence of any services in her own church, she always attended the services at the M. E. church in Franksville. It is no wonder that she had such a host of friends, when it is remembered that she was one of the most generous and sympathetic of women, to the extent of giving all she had to relieve any distress or mark her deep feelings of attachment. "She was quite an exception in that she retained her faculties right up to
