Notice to Milk Haulers

March 1st is moving day, and this year a large percent of the farmers are moving. This has created a problem for the Jefferson County Dairy Transportation Committee.

In order to keep existing milk truck routes as they are, the committee has passed a ruling that all milk haulers be frozen to their present farms unless individual cases secure a permit from the Committee to change. If a trucker tried to pick up an old patron who moved 4 or 6 miles away, it would necessarily result in confusion.

The Dairy Transportation Committee has been notified by the ODT office at Milwaukee that any hauler taking on a new patron without the approval of the Committee would have his gasoline allotment revoked. The Committee feels that for the duration existing routes should not be lengthened unless a good reason is given.

Urea—Protein Food

Urea, a synthetic organic compound is now being used as a partial replacement for protein in feeds for dairy cattle and other ruminants according to George Wright, Jefferson County Agent. Urea is made synthetically from ammonia and carbon dioxide and is substituted for high protein feeds, such as linseed oil meal, which are insufficient in volume to supply the protein needs of the nation's increased livestock population.

Urea should not be used in a ration where a greater protein content than 16 to 18% is desired; further, the ration should not contain over 3% of Urea. The County Agent indicated that 42% urea has 6 1/2 times that per centage in protein equivalent or 273% protein. As a further comparison in feeding value, 31 lbs. of oats, 31 lbs. of corn and 3 lbs. of urea is equivalent in protein content to 34 lbs. of linseed oil meal.

Feed dealers and farmers using urea as a protein replacement in mixing rations are urged not to mix urea with ground soybeans or soybean oil meal. There is an enzyme in these two feeds which react with the urea when the two are mixed causing a release of ammonia thus losing the real value of the urea.

SNAPPY FACTS ABOUT RUBBER

A gallon of latex is about one-third rubber and two-thirds water.

GR-S, the synthetic rubber now used in civilian tire manufacture, requires more time in being fabricated at factories. With the equipment and labor shortage, this means that the industry has a tremendous problem ahead of it to make the 30 million new tires scheduled for 1944.

Back in 1823, when rubber shoes were shipped here from Brazil, they were not made according to sizes or for left and right feet. Just thick rubber coverings that were stretched over the regular leather shoes. They were solid in winter, gooey in summer.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

American Fleet, Planes Strike Truk, Major Japanese Naval Base in Pacific; Tighten Deferment of Farm Workers; Allies, Nazis Trade Blows at Anzio

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.) Released by Western Newspaper Union.

PACIFIC: Strike Westward

Two years and two months after the Japs' assault on Pearl Harbor, U. S. air and sea forces struck back at the enemy's own big Pacific base at Truk in the Caroline islands, central hub of Jap naval operations for their extended empire reaching into the Philippines and Indies.

Preceding the attack on Truk by several hundred planes operating from carriers shielded by a strong armada of battleships, cruisers and destroyers, long-range Liberator bombers plastered the other big Jap bastion of Ponape in the Carolines.

Centrally located in Japan's Pacific empire, both Truk and Ponape serve as a radiating point for enemy naval and air forces to operate against an attacking force, while close to home stations. Loss of the Carolines to the Japs would mean loss of their advantage of operating close to defensive bases, and, vice versa, give the Allies the advantage.

As the Liberators took to their wings to plaster the Carolines, U. S. ground forces were putting the finishing touches to fighting in the Marshalls where small islet garrisons were being rooted out, and in the Solomons, where Allied landings to the north trapped 22,000 Japs holding out on Bougainville, Buka and Choiseul.

FARM WORKERS: Draft Shakeup

Only those farmers who can produce 16 war units a year will be eligible for agricultural deferment, and the 700,000 farmers now in 3-C for dependency as well as occupational reasons, also will be reclassified and put into 2-C only if their work is essential.

More than 1,000,000 farmers are in 2-C, of which 400,000 are said to be single and under 22 years of age. With the 700,000 presently in 3-C, 1,700,000 farmers considered essential will be put into 2-C and given six-month deferments, with their cases again reopened at the end of that time.

Action on farm workers' cases followed general tightening up of draft regulations in the face of military demands, for about 1,000,000 more men by July 1, with city dads no longer deferrable for dependencies and industrial deferments subject to stricter standards.

RUSSIA: Finns Talk Peace

Russian troops made further gains along the Estonian border on the north end of the 800 mile eastern front, while reports indicated that the Finns were sounding out Moscow for peace terms.

As the Russ continued to chew into Nazi defenses below Leningrad, the Germans fell back to avoid encirclement from the rear, and each step backward found them closer to Estonia and the other Baltic states of Latvia and Lithuania.

Russo-Finnish peace reportedly hung on terms Moscow might offer, with the Finns receptive to proposals based on the 1940 border, but opposed to occupation of their military and naval strongholds by the Reds.

With the Russ again in possession of much of the mining region of the southern Ukraine, Finland remained one of the last sources of nickel for the Germans, and Hitler reportedly sought to prevent Finland's desertion of the Axis to protect these deposits.

EUROPE: Beachhead Battle

With the sea at their backs, U. S. and British troops traded heavy blows with the Germans on the Anzio beachhead below Rome, as the big battle for the Eternal City raged.

While other Allied troops crawled forward up rugged mountain slopes about Cassino, the forces at Anzio fought with tanks on level terrain, countering the full weight of the enemy's famed panzer units.

In assaulting the beachhead, the Germans concentrated on the northern sector, 10 miles above the port of Anzio, through which supplies were streaming to Allied forces. With the area under fire of enemy artillery and bombers, Allied troops fought hard to keep the port open.

Bloody fighting continued on the Cassino front, with doughboys taking one by one concrete houses, made into fortified pillboxes by the Germans, and other Yanks struggling up monastery hill to gain command over Nazi positions and the supply road leading to Rome, which lay below.

CONGRESS: Ban Subsidies

With congress voting against continuation of subsidy payments to reduce retail prices of meat, butter, milk and other food items, GOP house members served notice that if the President vetoed the bill they would attempt to make it part of the measure to extend price control after June 30, thus forcing the President to accept it or kill his whole anti-inflation program.

To assure continued existence of the Commodity Credit corporation in the event of a presidential veto of the subsidy clause, congress wrote in an emergency provision extending its life until permanent legislation could be passed.

In voting against consumer subsidies, congressional foes of such payments said they could only save the average family about 11 cents a day, during a time when national income was at an all-time level. Advocates of subsidies, however, said abolition of such payments would bring about a 7 per cent increase in the price of the foods affected, and a 3 per cent rise in the general cost of living, leading to a clamor for higher wages.

Bucks Labor Draft

While congress was voting down consumer food subsidies, AFL President William Green told a senate military committee holding hearings on the Austin-Wadsworth labor draft that wage stabilization in the face of increasing living costs was the principal cause of strikes.

While Senator Austin (Vt.) contended that a labor draft would reduce turnover in war plants and allow the War Manpower commission tighter control over job placements, Green said the act would amount to involuntary servitude, since civilian workers would have to take jobs in plants operating at private profit.

Sen. Austin said Green: "The way to prevent strikes is through upward revision of wage rates, or even more effectively, by rigid reduction and control of prices of the necessities of life."

HIGHLIGHTS . . . in the week's news

HICCUPS: A 21-year-old New York City girl, hiccupping for 44 days, appealed to the President to obtain a furlough for her physician, who is a captain in the army. She said that the doctor saved her life two years ago by a delicate operation when she was suffering from another prolonged attack of hiccups. The President granted a leave for the officer to treat her.

CENTENARIAN: George W. Camerer, a veteran of the Civil war, who now lives in Jerseyville, Ill., has just reached his 100th birthday. He said he "wouldn't mind joining the army and going to Africa if his feet would hold up." WAR COSTS: Cut by Army

Because of industry's speed in developing production efficiency, and also because of the army's insistence that savings be reflected in reduced prices, costs of military goods have been cut by 20 per cent since 1941, Brig. Gen. Albert J. Browning, director of purchases, declared.

In all, savings have amounted to about $9,000,000,000, and an additional $4,700,000,000 will be saved in the first half of 1944, General Browning said.

Because the army has worked for lower costs through price analysis in the purchasing departments, better ways have been found to produce goods more efficiently and with less material to assure profit margins, General Browning said. In cases where costs were not trimmed there was no incentive on the part of management to cut prices, the general revealed.

GOP Candidate

A 76-year-old Los Angeles, Calif., housemaid has filed formal declaration of intention to become a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination. Though she has never held political office, she said: "I want to see the President's job better done, and I can do it better."

FUEL: Gas From Coal

With government officials warning of only a 14-year U. S. oil reserve at the present rate of consumption, Rep. Jennings Randolph (W. Va.) introduced a bill which the house speedily passed, calling for an expenditure of $30,000,000 on the construction of experimental fuel plants to obtain gas from coal, oil, shale and agricultural and forest products.

The U. S. bureau of mines' laboratory at Pittsburgh, Pa., already has developed oil from coal through a chemical process utilizing hydrogen, but costs have amounted to 16 cents a gallon, compared with costs of only 5 cents for getting fuel from oil.

Whereas U. S. oil reserves have been estimated as sufficient for 14 years, the bureau of mines said U. S. coal resources could furnish material for gas for 3,000 years.

Ask Foreign Sources

America's Allies should reciprocate for our heavy drain upon domestic oil resources for providing petroleum for the Allied war machine by transferring a corresponding volume of proven reserves from their fields to the U. S. after the war, the Truman investigating committee declared.

Although the committee, headed by Senator Harry Truman (Mo.) said the development of foreign petroleum fields should be left to private interests, it recommended that U. S. diplomacy be directed toward supporting such a program.

Bombing's Big Job

Nearly 60,000 men were in on the RAF's record 2,800 ton bombing raid on smoldering Berlin, which matched the shattering aerial blow at Hamburg, September 22, 1943.

Of the 60,000 men, 7,000 were flying personnel. About 4,000 men were required to load the planes with bombs.

The 1,000 planes used 1,000,000 gallons of gas and thousands of gallons of oil. Machine guns on the planes were loaded with 750,000 rounds of ammunition.

About 43 planes were lost on the mission, the 15th heavy assault on the German capital.

ARGENTINA: Political Battleground

Having broken diplomatic relations with the Axis, President Pedro Ramirez of Argentina moved slowly before declaring war on Germany and Japan, since the country's military caste opposed such action.

Hints that Ramirez' foreign minister was considering a declaration of war against the Axis inflamed the military caste, known as the "Colonels' Lodge," and forced the president to dismiss his foreign chief and reorganize his cabinet to hold the different elements together.

As Argentina's internal situation boiled, pro-Ally General Arturo Rawson, who led the revolt against pro-Axis President Castillo last June, watched developments from Brazil, where he was reported under surveillance of Argentine agents for expressing strong pro-Ally sympathies, in opposition to Ramirez' policy of strict nationalism.

SCHOOLS

If a choice must be made, the country child should receive a better education than the city child, because his future is more vital to the national life, Dr. Floyd Reeves of the University of Chicago told delegates to the Great Lakes Conference on Rural Education.

Dr. Reeves pointed out that migration from rural areas with high birth rates to cities with low birth rates maintains the population of the big centers. Cities would dwindle and die without this migration.

Ideas for Making Up Plaids To Please the Little Folks

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

THIS is the time of year when women who do home sewing feel the urge to "get busy." The art of sewing these days has become something more than a thrifty project that dutiful housewives regard as their responsibility. It has come to be regarded as a coveted accomplishment and a very "modern" gesture to make your own clothes. Pleasurable as it is to make pretty apparel for oneself, there is that something about sewing for the youngsters in the family that is as much fun and recreation as it is work. The styles for little folks are so cunning, the materials so intriguing and the response so enthusiastic when the children don their new clothes, that the whole sewing program is turned into a fascinating pastime for doting mothers.

The new plaids and checks are so smart this season for tots and teen-agers that they are positively inspirational. Piecing together a jigsaw picture or playing a game of bridge or working out a crossword puzzle does not pay near the big dividends in joy and satisfaction that a mother receives when she witnesses the delight of little daughter as she pirouettes before the mirror or dances about the room in glee over the gay little pinafore or frock or "what have you" made just for her by loving hands.

Every whit as interesting as the fabrics themselves are the ideas involved in the making of chic wearing apparel for the school, play and party wear of eagerly appreciative little daughters. Doesn't the little girl pictured above to the left in the illustration look cute in her plaid gingham suit? This smart suit is literally a case of "like mother like child" for the big news in the adult realm is that of suits made of smart cottons; especially gay ginghams which grown-ups will be wearing this summer during the active hours of the day. But if mother thinks she is going to "steal the show" in the style parade with her smart cotton plaids she will find herself out-rivaled by the "picture" little daughter will make in her gay plaid jacket and skirt. Children love the suit idea and it is indeed practical, as it affords blouse changes that offer pleasing variety. The "trick" that adds zest to the smart little suit here shown is that by laying the plaid a certain way a clever horizontal stripe effect is achieved for the all-around pleated skirt—that is, when the lively little wearer stands still. The jacket is single-breasted and patch-pocketed.

Waiting for the first bell, the little Missy to the right above leans against the school fence long enough to have her picture taken. The basque bodice of this attractive school dress of "classy" cotton has diagonal stitching worked to simulate quilting. Try out this idea of stitching plain materials with multi-colored threads. Little daughter will love the stripes and plaids that can be worked with stitching. Fancy stitch on the blouse top, for it is more effective with the skirt left plain. White collar and cuffs, as pictured, give a neat demure look and add flattery.

The ever-so-attractive "zip-cord" skirt-and-suspender dress to the left is fashioned of a cotton-woven check weave that comes in red, green, blue or brown. With it this happy little girl wears a dainty cotton dimity peasant blouse. This fashion is as practical as it is pretty, for with different blouses many pleasing changes can be had.

Ideal for dress-up wear is the tafeta plaid dress in the foreground. It has a cunning apron of red tafeta bordered with the plaid, which is detachable. The sleeves and neckline are lace trimmed. It's a darling dress to wear to a party.

Gray Chesterfield

In the coat scene for spring, the slogan "if it's a Chesterfield it's smart" holds good. This one is in gray wool because gray is the outstanding neutral shade for the coming season. It has a trim velveteen collar. Buttons are placed high near the lapels. The young lady wears a navy blue wool derby with the coat. It is also very fashionable to wear brown accessories. One of the huge over-earrings in brown suede is a very smart.

Year-Round Cottons Smart and Practical

Interest in cottons soars to a new high. More and more women recognize both the practicality and the style value of cottons. There is no occasion but what there is a smart cotton to tune to the time and the environs. Just now, at the beginning of the spring season, interest is centering about suits made of smart-looking cottons that have the appearance of finest wool fabric. Later, the fashion picture will be fairly stamped with stunning suits made of bright plaid ginghams. However, the trend that out-fashions all previous showings will be the accessories made of gingham that will be worn with simple little wool frocks, notably the new straightened fabric-ribbed black dress. Then too, the jackets of these jaunty little black suit-dresses will be lined with gingham to match.

Gay Embroidered Midriff Accents Simple Dress

A dress may be ever so simple but it does call for some one or other dashing highspot to give it distinction. In the new gaily embroidered belts, girdles and midriff sections you have just that. If you are resourceful you will buy a wide suede belt or a smart ready-made ribbon belt and embroider it with beads of gay yarn. Many of the simple little wool frocks now so beloved are made with inset belts. Women who have a knack of adding "the touch that tells" are embroidering the inset section with sequins or bead-work. Gives gorgeous accent to even the most conservative dress.

POWDERY CONCRETE

Question: My basement floor has a white, powdery substance which comes out of the cement. I am unable to keep this off, no matter how often I sweep it. How can I correct this?

Answer: If the dusting was not apparent at any time previous, I am inclined to think that efflorescence is forming on the surface of the concrete. This condition might be caused by excessive dampness coming through the concrete to the surface of the floor carrying with it alkaline and mineral salts (in solution). On evaporation of moisture the salts crystallize, forming a white powdery substance. The condition may disappear when the greater part of the dampness in the floor has evaporated. Of course, the powder will have to be removed from time to time. Scrubbing with a wire brush may remove most of the efflorescence. A couple of soaking coats of a zinc sulphate solution may help alleviate the condition. Try this on a small area of the floor to see what effect it will have. Dissolve three pounds of zinc sulphate in a gallon of water and apply liberally. After two or three days for drying, brush off what crystals may have formed and apply a second treatment. Puddles should be wiped up.

MARBLE WALLS

Question: How can I restore my marble vestibule wall and my tile entrance floor to their original appearance?

Answer: Neutral soaps can be used for the ordinary cleaning, or else scouring powder that is not too coarse, and the same for the floor. But, if the marble is in very bad condition, ask a marble specialist to polish the stone. You can get an excellent booklet on the care of marble by sending 15 cents to the Marble and Stone Institute, 18 East Forty-first street, New York.

Stained Asbestos Shingles

Question: What can I use to remove the stain on asbestos shingles caused by the old wood in window sills? The stain is under every window on our house.

Answer: Scrub the surfaces of the shingles with a solution of trisodium phosphate or washing soda, about 1 pound to each gallon of hot water. The use of a scouring powder might be necessary. Rinse thoroughly with clear water. Protect painted surfaces against damage by the solution. You might be able to prevent or minimize the staining by filling all spaces and crevices between the shingles and window frames with a caulking compound. All openings between the sections of the window frame should be well puttied. Rotting wood should be replaced.

Repairing Stucco

Question: I intend repairing the stucco on my house. Will you give me the percentage of sand, cement and crushed stone to make this repair? After this is completed I intend to go over the entire house with a cement wash, or paint job. I believe there is a certain kind of cement for this purpose.

Answer: One part portland cement (white or gray) and three parts of clean coarse sand is the usual mortar mixture for stucco repair. When the stucco has been repaired, coat it with a cement base-paint which comes in powder form and is mixed with water. You can get this kind of paint from your local dealer in mason materials.

Water Glass on Glass

Question: About six months ago I pasted flowered paper pictures on French doors with water glass. Now, since the pictures have fallen off, a hard crystallization has formed from the water glass on the glass panes. Nothing seems to remove the stains. What could I use to dissolve the water glass?

Answer: You will do best to replace the glass instead of trying to remove the water glass. This chemical, when dry, is insoluble with the ordinary household chemicals or cleaners.

"I started working nights and with my way of living changed around. I soon found I was taking 3 or 4 laxatives a week and feeling terrible. Then I heard about KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN through your radio program, 'The Breakfast Club.' Since taking my daily helping of ALL-BRAN, I am regular as clockwork. Thanks for what your ALL-BRAN has done for me!" Mrs. Myrtle Wood, 274 Bannanville St., Akron, Ohio.

Yes, it does seem like magic, the way KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN helps so many people. "Gets at" one common cause of constipation—lack of enough dietary "cellulosic" elements! That's because ALL-BRAN is one of Nature's most effective sources of these elements—which help the friendly colonic flora fluff up and prepare the colonic contents for easy, natural elimination! KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN is not a purgative! It's a gentle-acting, "regulating" food!

If your constipation is this kind, eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN regularly, with milk and fruit, or mixed with other cereals. Drink plenty of water. See if you don't find real help! Insist on genuine ALL-BRAN, made only by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

Typical Window of Eighteenth Century

WE KNOW that the Eighteenth Century is often called the golden age of the cabinet makers. We know that the English cabinet makers, Chippendale, Hepplewhite, Sheraton and the Adam brothers, flourished then and that their work was copied by our own cabinet makers of the late Colonial period. The furniture types of their day have become standard with us but we seldom stop to think about the kind of curtains and draperies that were originally used with this furniture.

Visitors to the reconstructed village of Williamsburg, Va., are often surprised to find that Venetian blinds were the fashion long before the Revolution, and the well tailored canvas lined valance used with floor length chintz draperies also seem modern to them. Yet these were the curtain styles when ladies and gentlemen wore powdered wigs. Valances were made just as we make them today and were tacked to a valance board in pretty much the same manner as is shown here.

NOTE—This is the second of a series on modern adaptations of period curtain fashions. Another version of the shaped type of valance is given in BOOK 5 of the series of ten booklets on sewing for the home. To get copy of Book 5 send 15 cents direct to:

'Laughing Jackass' Brays; Is One of Meanest Birds

A sassy-looking, colorful bird which makes its home in Australia, frequently puzzles foreign visitors. The kookaburra, as the natives know it, has rightly been called the "laughing jackass," for it makes a sound like the braying of a jackass and it is one of the meanest birds living.

It eats small mammals, killing them by flying high with its victim in its beak and dropping it to destruction.

One farmer writes that he spent 75c to inoculate half of 30 acres of red clover with NITRAGIN and got $390.00 worth of seed extra from the 15 acres he inoculated.

Inoculate all legumes with NITRAGIN

With clover seed at 25¢ and alfalfa 50¢ or more per pound, you can't afford not to inoculate every pound of seed you plant with NITRAGIN. For a few cents an acre, NITRAGIN makes up to 50% bigger yields of richer feed and helps build fertility. Tests show it pays to inoculate all legumes regardless of previous cropping. NITRAGIN is the oldest, most widely used inoculation. It costs only a few cents an acre... produced in the most modern laboratory of its kind. OF THE MAKING OF BUREAUS

BY GEORGE PECK
'Of making many books there is no end, and much study is a weariness of the flesh.' Ecclesiastes XII.12. We paraphrase this quotation from the Scriptures to describe a present day condition in America: 'Of making many Federal Bureaus there is no end, and much bureaucracy is a weariness of the American people.'

E.M. Biggers of Houston, Texas, alarmed at the growth of bureaucracy made an attempt to catalogue the Alphabetical Agencies that have been created under the Roosevelt New Deal Party. According to the Federal Register and the most reliable information he could obtain from various other sources, he found there were 2,241 of these Agencies, Bureaus and Commissions on June 11, 1943.

At his own expense and actuated only by a desire to do something to help put our government back into the hands of the people, Printer Biggers published a limited number of folders listing only the Parent Bureaus. These he distributed to friends and to names taken at random from his local mailing list. He was overwhelmed with requests for extra copies which he supplied free until the demands became greater than he, a small business man, could finance. In August of last year, he was compelled to make a nominal charge of $1 per 100 copies for these folders to cover postage and printing - but the orders continued to pour in.

One of these folders, although not sent directly by Mr. Biggers, came to the attention of Representative H. P. Fullmer (Democrat, South Carolina), Chairman of the Committee on Agriculture. He wrote to Mr. Biggers in part as follows: 'I would like to know just what line of business you are engaged in. In the next place, I would like to know whether or not you would prefer going back to the conditions which existed in every line of business in 1930-33 when Mr. Roosevelt took charge as President of the United States.'

Mr. Biggers' reply to this letter should be read by every American who loves his country and is concerned about its future. Space does not permit reproducing it in full but here are parts of it

'I am the head of a small but very modern printing company. Do not own dime of stock in any other corporation; draw modest salary; am able to get along comfortably and hope to retire in a few years - unless the New Deal Party gets us all in reverse . . . .

'Yes! I would prefer what we had Mr. Roosevelt took charge to what we have now, and I am not referring to the war part. Then we had distress, but we had our rights, we had our liberties, we had our self-respect, we had our incentives, we had our self-confidence. We had faith in our government, and faith in our ability to come out of the depression. The 'gimme' era had not blossomed. We did not have 'verbotten' signs at every turn; we had not been fingerprinted, numbered and regimented. We had not been told where we could work, and when we could work, and for what salary we could work. We had not been told what we could plant, how much of the crop we could harvest, where we could sell it, and for what price we could sell it. We had not been told what we could buy, where we could buy it, and the number of points we had to pay for it.

'Had the people been warned of the ultimate costs of the hypocritical generosity of these experiments in Washington, such a foolish program would never have been allowed. But like old age, it crept upon us slowly and was fed to us so adroitly that we were enmeshed in its coils before we realized what was happening.

'Yes! I would prefer a system that allowed me to buy that for which I didn't have the money to pay than a system that forbids me to buy that for which I do have the money to pay. I object to regimentation; object to being ruled by a bunch of fan-tailed theorists who are attacking everything that has made America great - even the geography, the calendar, the clock, the unchangeable law of supply and demand.

'It is easy to rebuild our lost fortunes but liberties and human rights once taken away are not easily recaptured . . . . I love my country, love its past. I love what its future can be. The same methods that made America great can make it greater. I have fear of what is in store unless those of you in charge at Washington take back to Congress the control you have surrendered to the President and to these selfish Bureaus and Agencies. I pray that you will be given the courage to do so.'

Pleasant Valley School

The fifth and sixth grade have finished Science and Social studies. Every Friday we have a quiz in which the whole school has a chance to answer questions about the weekly readers. There are some questions that have 10 and some with 20 points. The side which has the most points wins. We had a Washington party and it was enjoyed by everybody. Lila Northey, Mary Mill and Ronald Riech have the chicken pox. The Seventh grade are going to start Australia.

Conservation Notes

National Wildlife Week will be observed this year from March 19 to March 25, headquarters of the National Wildlife Federation. Washington, D. C., announces. A new sheet of wildlife poster stamps will be sold this year, the sale starting during the special week.

'How the conservation of wildlife ties in with pure water, standing forests, less erosion, with more productive lands and fewer dust bowls. will be the theme that presents the drama of American life,' the federation says.

SMELT GONE

The U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service says that the disaster which wiped out uncounted millions of Great Lakes smelt last year is believed to have been so complete that it is doubtful if any of these fish will be taken during the coming spring. In past springs commercial fishermen caught about 5,000,000 pounds of these fish and it is estimated that amateur fishermen took from two to three times as much during the spring runs. The cause of the fish die-off has not yet been determined. The disappearance of smelt brings to an end the colorful smelt festivals that were an early spring event in former years.

FISHING

State fishing law pamphlets will become available in the near future as evidence of the approach of spring. Bullhead fishing becomes legal in the Mississippi river and the southern zone on April 1. A season on other kinds of fish, excepting black bass, starts on April 15 on Lake Winnebago, Wolf, Rock and Koshong county's Fox river waters. As usual there will be a May opening of the trout season in Ashland, Bayfield, Douglas and Iron counties. The general state fishing season starts on May 15. On most waters black bass become legal on June 20 and the muskellunge season starts on May 25.

PARK VISITORS

In spite of war-time restrictions on travel, Wisconsin's state parks had an attendance record of 765,781 last year while in the same time three state forests attracted 62,297 people. Devil's Lake State Park continued to have the highest visitor record 234,481. This park is normally visited by a half million people annually being particularly popular with people from Illinois.

BUFFALO STOCKING

Georgia is visualizing a future buffalo hunting. Five of the animals have been released in a protected coastal area to see if they can become acclimated.
