Glenn Davis Announces Candidacy for Reelection

Glenn R. Davis, congressman from this district, announced his candidacy for reelection last Friday, the first day that nomination papers may be placed in circulation in Wisconsin. Davis, a Republican, has served in Congress since 1947 when he was elected to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Rep. Robert K. Henry. He has been re-elected twice, by increasing majorities, and is the first congressman to serve three consecutive terms since the Second district—Columbia, Dane, Dodge, Jefferson and Waukesha counties—was created following the 1930 census.

He is the youngest Republican member of the powerful House Appropriations Committee, where he shares with Richard Wigglesworth of Massachusetts, second ranking minority member, the distinction of serving on three subcommittees. Davis is ranking minority member of one subcommittee, making him in line for that subcommittee chairmanship if the Republicans carry the House in November. In and out of committee, Davis has been one of the most active and persistent economy advocates.

In Washington Davis said: "In my three terms as their representative in Congress, I have tried to become well acquainted with my constituents and their problems. I consider it highly important that the fight against centralization of authority and excessive spending be militantly pursued. My pledge to the people of the second district is that I will continue the same kind of responsible and conscientious representation which has been my constant effort in the past five years."

Gas Dryers Lighten Wash Day Chores

Like farm meals, farm washes are usually twice as big as city family laundries. Overalls, jackets, underwear, socks and even the farmer's hat are all washable, making rural wash days frequent and large.

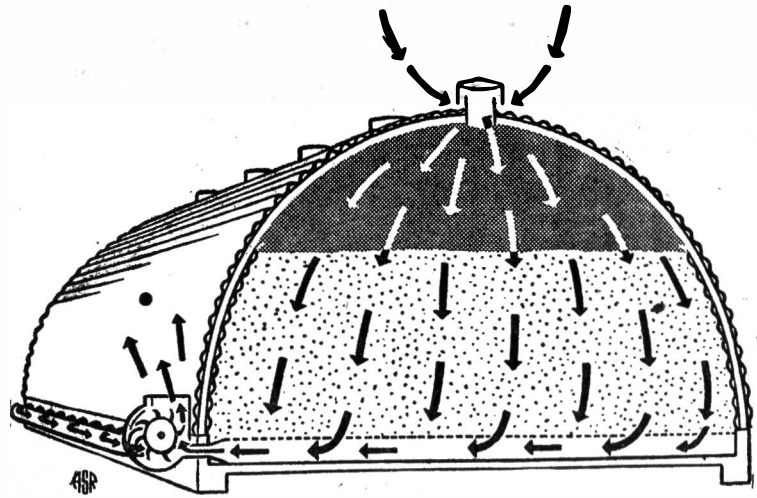

Not only a work-saver, LP-Gas clothes dryers also afford rural homemakers a time-saving shortcut. Overalls and jackets come out ready-to-wear, require no ironing. Delicate lingerie and thick bath-towels can all be dried automatically and safely in minutes, instead of hours.

Most important to modern homemakers, the back-straining chore of hanging up the heavy, wet wash is eliminated. Clothes also wear and look better because they are protected from whipping winds and the elements. Clothing fibres last longer.

Connected to LP-Gas cylinders or a bulk storage tank, the dryer delivers year-round service regardless of weather. This fuel, also known as butane and propane, is stored in liquefied form. When used, it changes to its gaseous state.

An automatic clothes dryer is a real space-saver, too. The farmyard is a good place for parking agricultural implements and the basement for

Air Downflow Conditions Grains

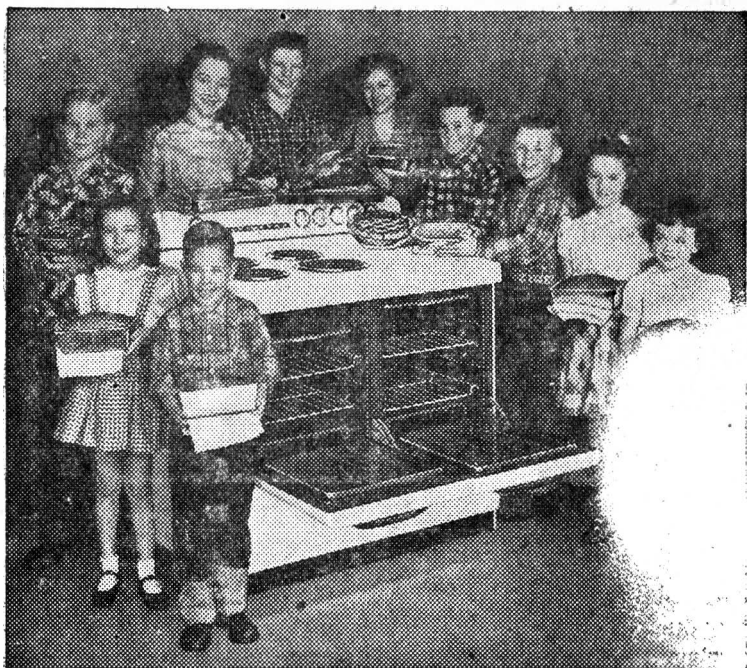

An improved, inexpensive means of drying and storing corn, wheat and other small grains on the farm or in commercial quantities is indicated by success of a Quonset adaption featuring downward flow of unheated air, as sketched above. The new method, developed and operated by the Craighead Rice Milling Co. of Jonesboro, Ark., has proven effective in handling rice — one of the most difficult crops to keep safely — cotton seed and soybeans. It takes advantage of the principle that grain in flat bulk storage can be cooled and dried by drawing outside, unheated air downward through the pile, rather than blowing it upward as is conventional practice. In the Jonesboro operation during the 1951-'52 season, the air flow was maintained continuously for an initial 45-day period, then intermittently as grain temperature required. This aeration reduced moisture content of rice from as much as 22 to 14 per cent in two months time. Germination and milling qualities of the grain thus dried and stored were better than usually experienced by customary methods.

HORSES, HORSES, HORSES!

A contrast in horsepower was presented at the Chrysler Corporation's "New Worlds In Engineering" show at the Kansas City Auto Show when this French thoroughbred brought his mistress, Madam Claude Valois, in to see the Chrysler K-310 experimental engine. The engine develops 310 horsepower using premium fuels without supercharging. "New Worlds In Engineering" has been seen by 3,500,000 people throughout the United States during its tour which will take it to major U. S. cities this year.

Good To The Last Morsel

A delightful variation of the famous Chiffon Cake uses semi-sweet chocolate morsels both whole and melted to achieve new flavor as well as distinctive cake decoration. The melody motifs on the cake are easy to make, despite their professional perfection.

Chocolate Orange Chiffon Cake

- 2 1/4 cups sifted cake flour
- 1 1/2 cups sugar
- 3 teaspoons double acting baking powder
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup salad oil
- 5 egg yolks, unbeaten
- 2 tablespoons grated orange rind
- 3/4 cup orange juice
- 1 cup egg whites
- 1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar
- 1 pkg. semi-sweet chocolate morsels

Sift together cake flour, sugar, baking powder and salt. Make a well in this mixture and add in order, salad oil, egg yolks, orange rind and juice. Beat with spoon 150 full strokes, counting only actual beating strokes. In a large bowl, beat egg whites and cream of tartar until whites form very stiff peaks (much stiffer than for Angel Food or meringue). If egg whites are underbeaten the chocolate morsels will sink to the bottom of the cake. Gently fold yolk mixture into egg whites with rubber bowl scraper until just blended. Turn 1/2 the batter into ungreased 10-inch tube pan, 4 inches deep; sprinkle 1/4 cup semi-sweet chocolate morsels over batter. Turn in remaining batter and sprinkle 1/4 cup semi-sweet chocolate morsels over top. Bake in a slow oven (325° F.) 65 minutes. Invert until cool. Cover sides and top of cake with frosting; decorate with chocolate musical notes. To make musical notes, press tip of semi-sweet chocolate morsels around sides and top of cake to form part of musical notes, using about 1/4 cup. Melt remaining semi-sweet chocolate over hot, not boiling, water. Remove from heat; blend with 1/2 cup confectioners sugar adding a few drops of water or milk to make a smooth consistency. Force through pastry tube to complete musical notes.

Indians Stop Undefeated Aggies

By Don Enright

A big eighth inning rally which scored five runs enabled the Mukwonago Indians to knock Rochester from the undefeated ranks and win their third straight conference game 7-2 in a light drizzle at Rochester Friday.

For seven innings it was a tight pitching duel between the Aggies lefthander Bill Hanson and Glen (no-hit) Pugh, but a barrage of four hits and a costly error by the Aggie shortstop, Jaklich helped push across more than enough runs to hand the Aggies their first conference defeat.

The win also keeps the Indians in competition for a share of the conference championship. Union Grove, who gave the Indians their only league defeat, leads the league with a 3-0 record, but they have to face the tough Aggies and two other conference games. Most of the Indians' hopes are contained in the Rochester-Union Grove game. A Union Grove defeat would very likely give all three teams a share of the conference title.

The Indians drew first blood against the Aggies when Glen Pugh led off the second inning by smashing a drive deep into left-center field for a triple. Glen remained on third as Crusan and Orgas struck out but crossed the plate when Jerry McKenzie beat out his grounder to shortstop for a hit. Johnson followed with a double and a walk to Rebholz loaded the bases but Jack Rudolph popped out to the second baseman to end the inning.

Rochester got this run back in the last of the fourth. Jaklich got the Aggies first hit and advanced to second on an error. Wally Weise, Aggie catcher, bunted to Pugh who threw him out at first but Orgas in an attempt to put out Jaklich, who rounded third on the bunt, made a wild throw enabling Jaklich to score.

The Indians regained the lead in the sixth. After two were out, McKenzie reached second on an error by the left fielder. Johnson walked and Russ Rebholz plated McKenzie on a single to right field. The rally ended when Rudolph flied out.

The game looked fairly safe going into the last of the seventh, when Rudolph made a nice play on Hanson's smash for the first out, but things started to happen as Wollmer singled and Ashauer walked. Pugh momentarily lost his control and threw two wild pitches scoring Wollmer and put the potential winning run on third with one out. Pugh buckled down and retired Henningfeld on a pop-up and Aschauer on Henkle's ground ball to Porter to send the game into extra innings. The drizzle was making play miserable so the Indians decided to finish things quickly. A walk to Orgas, singles by McKenzie and Johnson, an error by Jaklich on Rebholz's ground ball, and singles by Porter and Stemper pushed across five big runs to ruin a fine pitching performance by Hanson.

Pugh allowed the scant total of two hits and struck out eleven men to top Hanson's exhibition.

In the only other conference game played last week Wilmot trounced Waterford 8-2

Conference Standings:

Union Grove	3	0
Aggies	4	1
Mukwonago	3	1
Wilmot	2	2
East Troy	1	3
Norris	1	3
Waterford	0	4
