SAVE A TENTH

The suggestion to have a tenth of one's income for future use may seem hard to follow, but unless a careful budget of the income has been made, it is most probable that at least this much is spent unnecessarily. Those who spend according to a budget find that their money goes further, waste is reduced to a minimum, and systematic saving becomes a pleasant, easy game. It is certainly worth a trial.

ANDERSON AND AGNEW ASK FOR MORE HELP

REGISTER OF DEEDS SCORES "TIME KILLING" IN OTHER DEPARTMENTS

Charging the tax payers of the county are getting "gypped," George T. Anderson, register of deeds, asked the county board Tuesday noon to define for him what is meant by a working day. There are certain offices in the court house, he said, which he believes are not putting in the number of working days which is prescribed by law.

Cites Hours

In his twelve years at the court house, he stated, his office hours have been from 8 until 12 o'clock and from 1 until 5 o'clock. Those hours, he charges, are not being used for work by some of the other offices.

He stated further that the work of his office is four months behind time, despite the regular hours he is keeping and asks the board to appropriate more money for his department.

His office is working on a credit system at the present time Mr. Anderson explained, but it will be changed very shortly to a cash system, he promised. The credit system has made his books show about a $300 deficit. This condition, he stated, makes him feel as though he were driving over a rough road with a load of dynamite as cargo.

Judge Agnew Talks

Judge David W. Agnew responded to a request of the board this morning to appear before the supervisors an explain to them his recommendation for additional help in probate and circuit courts. He has asked the salaries committee for $3,300 for such help.

A competent court reporter and another stenographer are absolutely necessary, Agnew stated, if the work of keeping the court records is to be kept up to date. He has had to ask night work of his present force and that, he said, should not be necessary.

Henry Lockney addressed the board following Judge Agnew's explanation and verified what the judge said and explained conditions as he sees them at the present time.

Cases, he said, which have been referred for supreme court action are delayed from a year to a year and a half because sufficient help is not at hand.

Bank Officials Speak

Permission was granted Tuesday morning by the county board to allow E. R. Estberg, president of the Waukesha National bank, and R. P. Brees, vice president of the National Exchange bank, to appear before the board this afternoon and speak on the county's deposits.

Bids for the county fund were opened some time ago and a Menominee Falls and a Hartland bank outbid the local depositories.

It was nearly 4 o'clock Monday evening when motion for adjournment was made and passed by the county board. The body is eager to finish its work in record time for the present session and hopes to make final adjournment immediately following Thanksgiving vacation. Supervisor George Haverstick, who is attempting to speed the work of the board voted "no" on adjournment Monday evening.

Fees amounting to $6,753 have been collected by County Clerk William Koehler, his dance ordinance report shows, from dance hall and bathing beach licenses and dance permits over a term of eleven months, from December to October.

1,104 Dance Permits

For that sum of money 1,104 dance permits were issued, 65 dance hall and seven bathing beach licenses. E. F. Gressing was granted the highest number of permits for the Okauchee Beach hall, totalling 94. The next highest number was granted the Waukesha Beach Amusement company to the sum of $6.

Dance hall supervisors report there was good order and no disturbance in 1,064. There was drunkenness in 12 and disturbance on account of drunkenness in 8. There was a stabbing in one hall and indecent dancing in one. Theft is reported in one and trouble and quarreling in two.

Payments for dance supervisors and other expenses totalled $6,008. The excess of receipts over expenditures is $3,541.

The board, Monday afternoon, raised the county superintendent of schools' salary $600. The new salary at the end of the fiscal year will be raised to $3,000.

A salary for the county agent's clerk was passed, upon the recommendation of the salaries committee. A sum not less than $680 or more than $1,040 was fixed by the committee.

BANK CHARTER WILL NOT PERMIT CHANGE

MADISON—A state bank chartered in a certain town, village or city in this state cannot move its bank to another village or city in this state nor can its charter be amended so that the location of the bank may be changed from one municipality to another, Attorney General Herman L. Ekern announced today in a ruling made at the request of the state banking commissioner.

In an opinion to District Attorney C. J. Strong of Burnett county the attorney general held that offices of county highway commissioner and town chairman are compatible in countless counties operating under the commission form of government.

FIRE, BLASTS DRIVES RESCUE MEN FROM MINE

WORKERS UNABLE TO REACH 10 ENTOMBED IN CANADIAN MINE

WINNIPEG, Man.—(U.P.)—Hope for the rescue of nine men still entombed in the McGillivray coal mine at Coleman, Alberta, following an explosion early Tuesday morning has been abandoned.

Fires are raging in the mine, making rescue work impossible below No. 1 level. Mine officials are now making preparations to flood No. 4 level to control the blaze.

Several explosions followed the initial blast Tuesday and rescue workers were forced from the pit after locating three bodies, only one of which could be brought to the surface.

WINNIPEG, Man.—(U.P.)—Explosions and fire in the McGillivray coal mine at Coleman, Alberta, has driven rescue crews from the mine. Search for 10 men entombed by an explosion early Tuesday morning has been, for the present, abandoned with only one body brought to the surface and two other bodies located.

Seven crews have been driven from the workings by recurrent explosions and an outbreak of fire.

Recover Body

The rescue crews brought the body of R. Fairfull to the surface and reported that the bodies of two other miners, Alexander Morris and D. Meek, were lying in a car in the main entry, but that heavy gas rendered their recovery impossible.

Twenty-eight men were in the mine when the explosion occurred at five o'clock Tuesday morning. Eighteen made their way to safety.

The level where the explosion occurred is about an hour's walk from the surface.

No hint that there had been a disaster in the deeper workings of the mine was given until men from No. 2, and No. 3, levels poured out of the mine entrance at 7 o'clock and reported that there had been an explosion and immediately made their way to safety. Mine inspectors were notified and a start was made toward rescuing the entombed men.

Halted By Explosion

The Blairmore rescue team went into the mine, but had proceeded but a short distance when another explosion occurred, deep in the pit, and they were ordered out. Miners who had gone to other parts of the mine to close off sections to prevent the spread of gas were also compelled to return to the surface. Three more explosions followed in quick succession with the result that rescue teams were unable to proceed into the mine throughout the afternoon.

U. S., MEXICO BREAK FREELY PREDICTED

NOTES REVEAL COMPLETE DISAGREEMENT OVER OIL AND LAND LAWS

By LUDWELL DENNY (United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON—A break in diplomatic relations between the United States and Mexico was freely predicted here today following an exchange of four notes between the two governments.

The notes revealed complete disagreement over application of the Mexican alien land and oil laws, affecting $1,000,000,000 of American property rights, but did not mention the underlying friction between the two governments over alleged Mexican radical activities in Central America.

Secretary Kellogg's concluding note of October 30 was interpreted in informed quarters as a virtual ultimatum that a rupture will result if Mexico enforces its law invalidating titles of Americans, who refuse to exchange before Jan. 1, such titles for fifty year "concessions."

Describing the situation as "extremely critical" and reminding Mexico it obtained United States recognition only on condition that confiscatory provisions of its 1917 constitution and later laws would not be applied retroactively, the Kellogg note closed with this statement:

"The issues have been plainly defined, and my government in conclusion reassures that it expects the government of Mexico, in accordance with the true intent and purpose of the (Warren-Payne) negotiations of 1923, culminating in the recognition of the government of Mexico by this government to respect in their entirety the acquired property rights of American citizens, which have been the subject of our discussion and expects the Mexican government not to take any action until the laws in question and the regulations issued, in pursuance thereto, which would operate, either directly or indirectly, to deprive American citizens of the full ownership use and enjoyment of their said property and property rights."

Mexico denied, in its notes of Oct. 7, and Nov. 17, that the United States in recognizing Mexico had attached any strings or conditions. The Mexican argument may be summarized as follows:

1—Since both agree to principles and disagree on application of the laws, the only solution is to wait concrete cases in which Americans are supposed to have suffered, then Mexico "will be disposed to repair such violations."

2—The Warren-Payne agreement has "no binding force" similar to a treaty, as claimed by the United States but was merely a declaration of policy which the Mexican government has tried to observe.

Argue Further

The Kellogg notes dispute these Mexican contentions and further argue as follows:

"1—The disputed laws attempt an unjustifiable conversion of vested interests into mere optional rights and then, by an illegitimate practice, artificial theory of positive acts, a complete destruction of such interests.

2—The United States will not recognize provisions of these laws exacting from Americans under pain of forfeiture a waiver of their rights to seek protection of property rights from their own government.

WIFE TO PAY $3,000 PROPERTY SETTLEMENT

A divorce case in which the wife is to pay $3,000 as final division of property, was heard by Judge David W. Agnew Tuesday and the divorce decree granted in the afternoon to Estella Gutsch, 37, on the grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment. The defendant Anton Gutsch, 41, did not contest the suit.

The couple was married Nov. 22, 1906 in the town of Lake, Milwaukee county. The three children, Edmund, 17; Hildegard, 15, and Virginia, 14 were put into the custody of the plaintiff, Mrs. Gutsch.

Mrs. Gutsch charges that on several occasions her husband assaulted her and called her vulgar names. She also charges unchastity. About three months ago her husband left their home in the Town of Lake and did not return for a number of days. Mrs. Gutsch owns a piece of property in Milwaukee county. Her husband owns no property. The couple separated last month.

PROPERTY WON BY STATE IS DESCRIBED

LAND ON MICHIGAN BOUNDARY LINE IS 235,000 ACRES IN AREA

MADISON, Wis.—(U.P.)—Describing the territory involved in the Michigan-Wisconsin boundary controversy recently decided by the United States Supreme court, Attorney General Herman L. Ekern states that it includes a strip of land about 235,000 acres in area, extending from a point about eight miles east of Hurley to Lake Brule in Forest county, Wisconsin.

Approximately 120 islands in the Menominee river are also included, according to Ekern. These range in area from less than an acre to over 300 acres, some of them being covered with second growth timber, and some are very highly developed. One of the islands has a nine-hole golf course, and an elaborate clubhouse of the Four Season club.

Awards Claim

"The decree entered sustains the position taken by Wisconsin," he said, "and awards to Wisconsin all the territory which she has claimed and has possessed. Michigan does not get any territory that was ever possessed by Wisconsin. Two so-called islands, Merryman, near White Rapids in the Menominee River, and Sugar Island, have always been taxed by Michigan and considered to be a part of the Michigan mainland, and the court's decree so finds."

"About 13 islands in Green Bay are also awarded to Wisconsin, and these include Washington island, with an area of about 36 square miles and a population of over 1,000, Chambers, Rock, Plum, Detroit, and the Strawberry and Sister groups of islands. The total assessed value of the lands so finally awarded to Wisconsin is somewhat over $16,000,000, and includes a population of between 5,000 and 6,000."

"About 60 miles of the boundary so confirmed was surveyed and marked with wooden markers in 1847," Ekern said. "The country through which this part of the boundary runs is rapidly developing and increasing in value. This development will gradually destroy the few remaining monuments of the original survey which would be of great value in re-marking the boundary line.

"Investigations made by this department also shows that several aged residents of the region could be of real assistance in this work. It is important, therefore, that a joint commission of the two states should mark this boundary with permanent monuments within the very near future. Such a step would ultimately result in real economy and would be a guaranty against future disputes."

"The decree announced by the United States supreme court in the case of State of Michigan vs. the State of Wisconsin disposes of the boundary line controversy along our northern border which has existed since 1907, and determines the issues raised by the suit started by Michigan in 1923."

CARELESSNESS CAUSE OF MOST HUNTING DEATHS

EXPECT USUAL NUMBER OF ACCIDENTS DURING DEER HUNTING SEASON

MADISON—Gross carelessness in the handling of firearms is responsible for the majority of hunting accidents in this state and repeated warnings have little or no effect in checking the fatalities and injuries occurring each season, Elmer Hall, state conservation commissioner, declared today.

The ten-day deer season opening in northern counties Dec. 1 probably will be as productive of serious accidents as usual, despite the efforts of the department and of game wardens to prevent such occurrences, he said.

Don't Hurry

"Don't hurry," is the commissioner's admonition which he believes is most effective, if observed, in prevention of hunting accidents. Hurried grabbing of a gun from its resting place in a boat or blind, carrying it over the shoulder with the muzzle to the fore and the butt to the rear, pulling it towards one while facing the muzzle—these and other careless ways of handling cause the most of the accidents, Hall asserted. Experienced hunters often figure in just such instances of carelessness, he declared.

"A number of hunters have been shot while carrying deer on their back," Hall said, explaining that a man never should attempt to carry a deer or deer head on his back while in the woods unless the head or carcass of the game trophy is covered so that another hunter will not make it his target.

Importance of observing hunting instructions, compiled by the New York game commission, was emphasized by the Wisconsin commissioner. The rules are as follows:

10 Good Rules

Be absolutely sure of your game before you shoot.

Never use a gun as an aid in climbing over fences or over boulders.

Put your gun through a fence first, muzzle away from you.

Do not drag guns after you through the brush.

Never carry a deer or deer head on your back unless completely covered.

Never point a gun toward any member of your party.

Don't be in too much of a hurry. Take your time.

Never draw a gun toward you by the muzzle.

Always unload your gun while coming into camp.

In deer hunting, wear conspicuous clothing, not easily mistaken for game, red preferred.

A HISTORIC CHURCH HAS CHANGED HANDS

The Freeman is indebted to Mrs. Lester F. Tans, Lake View farm, for the following interesting story touching on the recent transfer of the Prospect Freewill Baptist church:

An item which may be of interest to the people of Waukesha county and elsewhere in this state is the transferring of the Prospect Freewill Baptist church property to the Prospect Aid society. The church has been known as the Prospect Baptist church for over fifty years. There were services held in this church regularly until about five years ago, when the few members that were left did not feel that they were able to support a pastor. During that time the annual church business meetings were held according to the rules of the church. Realizing they could not continue holding services due to the passing away of the members either by death or removal, it was voted to deed the property to the only active society, which was the Prospect Aid society.

The property was deeded to the Prospect Aid society for its use as long as it is a society which does work for social improvement, community betterment, and charitable purposes.

The officers consist of a president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer and an executive committee consisting of five members.

Zimmerman testified before Court Commissioner George Kranke.

"I know the state of Wisconsin didn't stand the expense," Zimmerman declared.

Zimmerman, governor-elect, was called before the commissioner for adverse examination arising from his mandamus suit to force John Meeks, state superintendent of public property to approve the purchase of $42,000 worth of addressograph machines by the secretary of state.

LEGION PLANS CHANGE IN BAND ORGANIZATION

TO TAKE OVER MANAGEMENT AND INCREASE MEMBERSHIP IN ORGANIZATION

Leading the projects presented and discussed at the recent regular meeting of the D. J. Martin post of the American Legion, was the reorganization of the Legion band. The post has decided to take over the band which last year was separate from the veterans' association.

The present membership of thirty-five band men is hoped to be raised to sixty and recruits to fill the quota are now being enrolled. It is the plan of the local post to engage a competent instructor and throw the membership of the band open to any in the city interested in band work. The persons wishing to enroll need not be experienced in playing an instrument. The instructor will give such persons expert instruction.

Name Chairman

Dr. Earl Doyle was chosen chairman of the band committee and with the co-operation of the legionnaires and the interested persons outside the post, the Legion expects to organize over the winter one of the finest Legion bands possible.

Another project acted upon was the organization of a Legion Glee club. Thirty members have signed and hope to make the new club a very distinguished institution. A large number of good voices found in the Legion membership will help materially toward forming a group of leading singers. The work of harmonizing the voices will be up to an instructor not yet chosen.

It is the aim of American Legion posts throughout the country to get behind some civic project each year and back it to the limit and make it a growing and successful organization. At this time the local post is deciding which civic organization here needs its support. The Boy Scout movement has been freely discussed and although nothing official has been done, it is expected the Scouts will be backed.

Plan Campaign

The Scout movement is not well organized in the city and it is thought by Legion officials that the Boy Scouts should have the help of some fostering club.

A membership drive under the chairmanship of Byron Butchart which is thought will give the local Legion post enough new members to raise the enrollment to 300 has been started. The present membership is 190.

F. W. HARDING DIRECTOR OF LIVESTOCK SHOW

The International Livestock Exposition at Chicago, Nov. 27 to Dec. 4, will have as one of its directors F. W. Harding, Waukesha, well-known Shorthorn breeder and exhibitor. Mr. Harding's Anoka farm will be strongly represented in the Shorthorn and Cotswold classes at the coming show. J. W. Martin, another prominent Wisconsin breeder is vice-president of the exposition.

Waukesha county will also have George McKerron & Sons Co., Pewaukee, and A. M. Montgomery, Hartland, at the exhibition. The McKerron company has 11 Shorthorns and 9 Oxfords registered, and Mr. Montgomery will send two Clydesdales to the show.

In recognition of its educational value to the stockmen and farmers along their lines, all railroads in Wisconsin have granted an open round-trip rate of a fare and one-third to the stock show. This offers an excellent opportunity to enjoy a visit to the world's greatest agricultural show.

WASHINGTON—Capt. Albert Holmes Conner, Boise, Idaho, was named superintendent of all federal prisons by Attorney General Sargent today. Captain Conner succeeds the late Luther B. White.

2,204 DEFECTIVE CHILDREN IN COUNTY SCHOOLS

81 PER CENT OF CASES SHOW POOR TEETH. LUNGS ARE LEAST AFFECTED

Defective teeth, County Nurse Barbara Fletcher has found during the past year, is the most prevalently affected part of the body in county school children. Her report, read to the county board, Friday, disclosed that affected thyroid ranks next and following is a list of 902 cases of flat feet.

The report which she presented states that of the 3,072 children inspected from high school, graded, rural and parochial schools, 2,204 were found with defects. Of the 71 per cent imperfect children, 81 per cent, or 1,811, had imperfect teeth. Tonsils bothered 413 and nasal breathing in 130 was not good. Poor eyes were credited against 486 and 41 had some kind of skin disease.

The lungs and the heart, the statement shows, are least affected in children. Only five were found to have poor lungs and thirteen weak hearts.

Mrs. Fletcher who succeeded the deceased county nurse, Minnie Mae Matts has done encouraging work during the year beginning Jan. 1 and ending Nov. 1 over which time her first annual report was made.

Following the county nurse report Mrs. Harvey J. Frame, member of the county health commission, spoke of the work directed by the committee through the county nurse and presented resolution number eleven as the budget recommendation of the committee. The budget, asking for an appropriation of $3,160, an amount equal to that asked last year, for the work of the county nurse, was granted by a unanimous vote of the board. The stipulated salary of the nurse is $1,920.

ACIDOPHILUS LICENSE GOES TO BROOKHILL

LOCAL DAIRYMEN SECURE MANUFACTURING RIGHT TO LENGTHENING MILK

Waukesha county needs to add nothing to its reputation as a producer of the most desirable and best dairy products, and not so long ago most Waukesha county folk would doubtless have said there was nothing essentially new in dairying products which Waukesha county could not offer.

However, this is an age of discoveries and novelties and many simple things which the world either overlooked or failed to recognize the virtue of for centuries are being discovered now and their valuable qualities exploited. And Waukesha county seems to be given the opportunity of the advantages of one of the most important of these—a simple discovery of how to add many years to the average span of life in this section.

The Brookhill Laboratories, Inc., are the only middle west manufacturers of Acidophilus milk and local distribution has been arranged by Killian Weber of the Waukesha Dairy company.

To many this may mean little until they get hold of some underlying facts which have been supplied to the Freeman by the manufacturers.

For a number of years chemists have been endeavoring to find just why a certain group of people in the Balkans, leading lives of physical hardships and strenuous, gruelling experiences, were able to keep their health and live far beyond the average age of folk of other communities. Scientists and bacteriologists, just recently have proven that the consumption of milk in which was found a prevalence of certain tiny plants was responsible. The next move was to get reliable licensees in various sections of the United States who would handle the product and who would maintain the very high quality necessary in a medical product.

The Acidophilus is described as being friendly and beneficial to mankind and as having the power to eliminate intestinal poisoning. It is further explained that intestinal poisoning is perhaps the greatest factor in causing digestive illnesses, lowered resistance to disease and consequently a shortened life. This poisoning is brought about by the presence of injurious, disease-producing germs in the intestinal tract. The friendly Acidophilus, it is stated, drives out the harmful types and in this way re-establishes a healthful condition. The most efficient method of administering the Acidophilus has been found to be in the form of milk cultures—called Acidophilus milk.

CLINTONVILLE—The Clintonville Lions Club has purchased a tract of frontage on Long Lake in the town of Belle Plaine which will be developed into a recreation center for club members. A club house will be erected.

PROBATION OFFICER PLAN IS DISCUSSED

WOMEN MEET WITH COUNTY BOARD COMMITTEE TO PRESENT ARGUMENTS

A committee chosen recently by Chairman Roy Henderson of the county board to investigate the advisability of a probation officer for Waukesha county has been busily at work since its organization.

A group of women, representative of three Waukesha county women's organizations, and a number of men acquainted with the problems of probation work, discussed the matter with 20 members of the board Monday morning.

Roll was called by the county clerk and the minutes read. The board then adjourned and Supervisor Judson Hall, chairman of the probation investigation committee, asked as many of the board members who cared to listen to remain for the discussion. The meeting lasted until past noon.

Many in Conference
Representatives from the League of Women Voters, the county Parent-Teachers' association, and a number of Farm Bureau members were at the conference. J. W. Rodewald, superintendent of Oconomowoc public schools, and Rev. J. W. Ralph, of Hartland, were present. Mrs. Barbara Fletcher, county nurse; Mrs. Earl Parsons, Menomonee Falls; Mrs. Charles Schule, Oconomowoc; Mrs. H. G. Nixon, Hartland, in charge of the representatives; Mrs. G. B. Rhodes, Waukesha, and Miss Minnie Sands, former social worker in Chicago and Boston, were heard on the question.

The popular notes of the discussion were in favor of a county probation official. In speaking of the advisability of such an officer Mr. Rodewald stated that through a probation department is the modern way of handling delinquents of any kind. Years ago, he said, the law was enforced for property, but now it is enforced for personality, and a social worker and probation officer are closely allied in purpose for creating personality.

Question Advisability
Supervisors Haverstick and Delaney questioned the advisability of an officer of the kind for Waukesha county, Haverstick stating that very satisfactory work is being accomplished along those lines without a probation officer.

Chairman Hall stated the discussion of Monday morning would be officially reported to the board and action would be taken at that time.

TEACHER CAN CLAIM MONEY ON CONTRACT

MADISON—Where a contract is entered into between a school board and a teacher and the latter's certificate expires during the life of the contract, the teacher can recover for his services during that portion of the time when his certificate authorized him to teach. Attorney General Herman L. Ekern announced in an opinion today.

The attorney general's opinion was directed to Herman R. Salen, district attorney of Waukesha. The teacher concerned was described as "one C. K." who was hired to teach for a period of nine months commencing on Sept. 8, 1925. On March 1, 1925, the said C. K. had been granted a special license to teach for one year. When this was not extended the school board refused to comply with contract given C. K., because he did not have the necessary qualifications to teach the full term.

At the time the contract was entered into, the teacher was a "qualified teacher" within the meaning of the law and the contract in its inception was legal, the attorney general stated. The teacher ceased to be a qualified teacher within the meaning of the law on March 1, 1926, he added, explaining that the teacher is entitled to recover under the contract from Sept. 8, 1925, to March 1, 1926.

OPERATOR OF
BOUND OVER

STATE OFFICERS UNCOVERED
LARGE STILL IN NEW BER-LIN. HOLD EVIDENCE

Dan Coman, New Berlin, who was found operating one of the very big liquor distilling plants of the county in April, was brought before Judge T. W. Parkinson Friday for a preliminary hearing. After testimony by the state agent who instigated the raid, the judge declared there was probable cause to believe Coman guilty of the charge and his trial was set for the next regular term of the court in March.

Headed by Carl Huenning, state deputy prohibition commissioner, a group of agents visited the premises of Coman April 16. It is alleged that after denying having any liquor in his possession the state agents searched the house and in the basement found a mammoth distilling system.

Two large 100-gallon stills and a 500-gallon cooling tank with all the trappings and connections were found. The still was in operation at the time, it is said.

Besides the machinery a large quantity of mash in barrels and a number of sacks of brown sugar were discovered and confiscated. A quancity of liquor was taken and destroyed.

The distilling plant was moved to the county jail barn where it has remained and will take a part in the coming trial. Coman was released on $500 bail.

that it will be a big thing for Waukesha and that it will be a big educational factor in bringing to the people of Waukesha information on the products distributed in Waukesha.

Know-Your-Own-Town Show

It is interesting to note that practically all space reserved has been by Waukesha concerns for products produced in Waukesha. Many visitors will get their first real information about many of the important local concerns through this show.

A few days ago a well informed woman confessed she knew of only one nationally advertised product in Waukesha—yet there are several. Here's the opportunity to get information to the home town folk.

The Food and Household exposition is an institution in most cities of the country. The business organizations like them because they make a direct contact with the consuming public. The people like them because of their educational side, and the fact that they give an idea of the scope of the activities of their home communities.

Special programs will be provided. Announcements will be made early next week of the complete program for the event.

This much is certain—the exposition is going to be a huge success. It is certain now that every booth will be reserved within a few days and that everything will be ready for the actual building of the booth space a week from Monday.

NEW HOUSEHOLD IDEAS

More than half the space for the Food and Household exposition, which will be held in the Waukesha Stock pavilion Dec. 1, 2, 3 and 4, under the auspices of The Waukesha Freeman and the Waukesha County Parent-Teacher associations, has been contracted for, and other spaces have been reserved.

This means that the success of the exposition is assured, and that the show is destined to be a success.

Waukesha business institutions are responding enthusiastically to the proposed exposition. They realize
