

THE EAGLE QUILL

VOLUME XXXV

EAGLE, WAUKESHA COUNTY, WISCONSIN,

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 2 1925

NUMBER 6

IN AND ABOUT TOWN

The Ladies' Aid society of the M. E. church will meet with Mrs. L. F. Rhoads on Friday, October 9th. All invited.

St. Theresa's congregation has arranged to complete the sidewalk on the north side of Railroad street to the church. Now let the neighbors on the south side of said street build a sidewalk and thus add to the appearance of their premises as well as to the convenience of the public.

W. A. Kuehn showed us some fine ripe raspberries grown on his farm south of Eagle.

Miss Louise Breidenbach gave a farewell party at her home Monday evening in honor of Miss Clara Preiss, who will soon leave for Milwaukee. The party consisted of telephone operators of the Eagle exchange and Miss Hilda Preiss, a sister of Miss Clara. All had a most pleasant evening and all regret that the Preiss family have decided to remove from here.

Rev. J. P. Ritger, of East Troy, visited Eagle this week and from here drove over to Mayville where he formerly had charge of a parish.

Miss Maggie Muehlencamp, of Athens, Wis., has returned from a tour of Europe where she was one of a party who left Athens, April 29th. While here Miss Muehlencamp was the guest of her cousins and aunt, Mrs. Theresa Vonrueden. In Europe she visited the former home of her ancestors, also the principal cities of Europe, including Rome.

Mr. and Mrs. James F. Litzler and son, Leon, were Burlington visitors Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Mealy were business visitors in Milwaukee Monday.

Mrs. Frank Agathen was a visitor in Whitewater Wednesday.

Mrs. P. W. Beckett will entertain the Ladies' Afternoon 500 club, Wednesday, October 7th.

Miss Beulah Silvernail spent several days the past week at the home of her brother, Arthur Silvernail, in Palmyra.

Mrs. Chas. Blott, of Mukwonago, spent Tuesday afternoon with her friend, Mrs. J. Litzler.

Mrs. Paul W. Beckett entertained the R. N. A. 500 club Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Reeves, of Pewaukee, attended the funeral of Harvey Clemons, Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Engebretsen, of Whitewater spent several days last week with Mr. and Mrs. Fenton Engebretsen.

Edward Burton, Jr., is driving a fine new Studebaker.

Mrs. Elmer Miller and Ervin Kirschke, of North Prairie, were Eagle visitors Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Betts and family contemplate moving to West Allis about November 1st. Mr. Alfred Minett will move on the farm vacated by them.

Ezra Clemons, of Spokane, Wash., came to attend the funeral of his brother, Harvey Clemons. Others from away who attended were Harriett Clemons, Mrs. A. A. Silvernail, Arthur, Christie and Emma Carlin, Robert and Will Turner and wives, of Palmyra; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Pett, Mrs. McWilliams, of Chicago; Mrs. Hattie Botsford and Mrs. Mabel Reed, of Milwaukee; Mr. and Mrs. Otto Zinn and daughter, Mrs. Chas. Thompson, East Troy.

On Sunday, September 27th, the Wm. Markham family entertained twenty-eight guests at a birthday dinner in honor of Mr. Markham's 55th birthday and Mr. Lee Faulkner's birthday. Those present were the Lee Faulkner family, Alfred, Clara and Florence Zimmerman and Julia and Katherine Janske of near Calhoun; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sorenson and two sons, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Hotelling and Mr. and Mrs. Orville Ellarson and son, Floyd, and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ellarson, all of Prospect and Muskego; Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Halgerson, of Whitewater, and the Arthur Hotelling family.

Emmons Kiehl and daughter, Jean, and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Atkin, all of Waukesha, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Atkin.

Mrs. Anne Hadfield, of Jacksonville, Florida, was a recent guest in the Atkin home.

HARVEY CLEMONS

The sudden death of Harvey Clemons at his residence here last Friday evening marks a period in the history of Eagle. It means something to a community when one who has been an outstanding figure in our midst for many years passes from among us. Mr. Clemons has always been a factor in the best interests of the village since his coming here in the early sixties. Here is where he found his life companion, Noma Pittman and with him was so much a part of the best movements of the passing years and who went from us eight years ago. Many a friend here and elsewhere has cause to remember them both in their genial, generous hospitality and kindness.

He had not been in the fullness of health for a couple of years but had been out among the friends and attended to his business interests as usual, always with a cherished gratification that he did not need to give up to the helplessness that confronted him at the beginning of his illness.

Funeral services were held at the residence Wednesday afternoon and he was laid by the side of his wife in Oak Ridge cemetery. It is not amiss to refer here to this cemetery as one which was a gift to the association from himself and wife and of which he has been an officer since its organization, being president at the time of his death.

He leaves surviving an only daughter, Mrs. L. H. Wingerter and two grand children. Also two brothers, Harmon Clemons, of Los Angeles, Calif., and Ezra Clemons, of Seattle, Wash., and two sisters, Mrs. Emma Cowan, Eagle Grove, Ia. and Mrs. Frank Kinney, Long Beach, Calif.

ELECTION

In the town election Tuesday, La Follette was an easy winner as usual, but in the village his majority was only five. Bruce had eight votes in the village and two in the town, and in the town two socialist votes were cast. It was a very quiet election and only a small per cent voted. The so-called Madison ring had a strong organization all over the state while the so-called stalwarts were disorganized and out of harmony with themselves. There is only one way that we know of to bring the state back to good government and that is to vote the democratic ticket.

EAGLE FLOUR MILLS

CHARLOTTE HICKOK EGGLESTON

On Friday, September 25th, at 6 a. m., occurred the death of Charlotte Hickok Eggleston, at the home of her son, Samuel, north of Eagle. Mrs. Eggleston was born in Shayzee, Vt., Sept. 30th, A. D. 1846, and was married to Albert H. Eggleston at Potsdam, N. Y., in A. D. 1871. The family moved to Huron, S. D., in 1881, and engaged in farming. Here the father died in A. D. 1920, and after three years Mrs. Eggleston came to Eagle and made her home with her son. She leaves surviving her two sons, Samuel, of Eagle, and Luman, of Redfield, S. D., and one daughter, Belle Griffith of Carson, S. D. The funeral took place Sunday afternoon, Rev. Wilcox of the M. E. church officiating, and interment was in Oak Ridge cemetery.

CARD OF THANKS

We hereby extend our sincere thanks to all for many acts of kindness shown us during the illness and burial of our beloved mother. TH EGGLESTON FAMILY.

EAGLE OPERA HOUSE SUNDAY, OCTOBER 4TH

As if the most amazing thrills ever registered by a motion picture camera were not enough, "The Air Hawk," Al Wilson's first production of dramatic appeal, has a delightfully tender love story interwoven through its thrilling action.

The famous stunt aviator steps forth as a full-fledged motion picture star in this picture, and he acts as blithely and as gracefully in closeups as he does in shots taken while he is going through his sensational tricks hundreds of feet in the air.

Virginia Brown Faire is his leading lady, and the supporting cast is excellent. Director Bruce Mitchell seems to have a genius for bringing out the latent talent in his cast, and certainly his handling of Mr. Wilson as his first bid for dramatic fame is nothing short of sensational.

While "The Air Hawk" bases its biggest appeal on the thunderous action of the production and the intrepid "airmanship" of its star, it is nevertheless a thoroughly entertaining drama. The plot is well knit, and most of the story takes place in a Mexican border town, where a mine is being rifled by unknown thieves. The girl, whose father owns the mine is saved by Wilson, a mystery aviator known as "The Phantom Flyer."

Much may be expected of Mr. Wilson in the future, if his first production can be taken as a criterion. Admission 10 and 25 cents.

EAGLE QUILL BEE NEWS

Reporter—Dorothy Schroeder

There was a meeting of the Busy Bee club Friday, September 25th. Thirty-five members answered roll call with the name of a song. The following program was given: Opening song—Daisy Bird; recitation, The Children's Hour, Harriet Sprague; piano solo, The Dandelion, Margaret Keller; story, The Monkeys and the Moon, Anthony Agathen; recitation, Little Boy Blue, Harvey Wambold; singing, A Leak in the Dike, Dorothy Schroeder; closing song, America.

The members of the fifth grade were rewarded for their good behavior during the month by being dismissed one-half hour earlier than the rest of the room Monday.

We have decorated our room in autumn colors.

Friday members of the fourth, fifth and sixth grade language classes studied the picture "Deer in the Forest Twilight," by Rosa Bonheur.

Pupils in the sixth grade physiology class have completed booklets tracing the digestion of a breakfast consisting of buttered toast, egg and a glass of milk.

Current events are given during the opening exercise period every Tuesday and Thursday mornings.

We have started a Good English campaign in which we are very much interested.

ANOTHER FIRE AT EAGLE

When the Loibl home was partially destroyed by fire, August 19th, we did not suppose that our neighboring villages would be called upon so soon to extinguish another fire. Through some work of little children last Thursday evening about six o'clock the straw stack of Harvey Clemons and Jake Blumer in the village limits was set on fire and again Palmyra and Mukwonago responded to the call for help and succeeded in saving the adjoining stack. The wind being in the east was of great help; had the wind been in the west it is likely the barn near by would have caught fire also.

EAGLE CORNET BAND DANCE

On Wednesday evening, October 7th, the Eagle Cornet band will give a dance at the Eagle Opera Hall. Music to be furnished by Van Lares' orchestra of New York, Banjo Alex, leader. Good music, and a good time is assured. Don't forget the date.

IMPORTANT MEETING OF WAUKESHA COUNTY WOMEN

The meeting in June at Oconomowoc in which three county organizations of women combined was so well liked that their officers decided to make the autumn meeting a joint affair.

This will be held on the afternoon of Saturday, Oct. 10, in the Hartland high school, opening promptly at 1:30 with a business meeting of the Parent-Teacher association. The state president of the P. T. A., Mrs. Zachow, will speak, and also Mrs. Wood McCracken, district director.

The League of Women Voters is fortunate in having their state president, Mrs. Harry E. Thomas, of Sheboygan, on the program, besides Miss Gerax of the state board of control, District Attorney Salen, who will discuss the supervision of public dances, Mr. A. C. Tews, lately elected county superintendent of schools, and other speakers on timely subjects.

Members are invited to bring friends.

GENESEEE-EAGLE ASSOCIATION

Chas. Cruver, high herd; Eavan Roberts, second high herd; Frank Kipp, high cow. Keep watch and see when the Genesee-Eagle association has their big meeting. All farmers cordially invited.

TWO COUNTY MEN ARE APPOINTED CROP OBSERVERS

ORLIN CRAIG, MUKAONAGO AND H. E. ROSENOW, OCONOMOWOC IN NEW YORK

Appointment of Orlin P. Craig, of Mukwonago and H. E. Rosenow, of Oconomowoc, as crop observer in Waukesha county for the Sears-Roebuck Agricultural Foundation Index, is announced from Chicago by P. V. Ewing, director of research for the Foundation and editor of the Index. They will form a link in the nationwide chain of county agricultural observers elected because of their firsthand knowledge of farming conditions Oconomowoc, as crop observers intelligently interpret them.

The Index, to which the observer from this county will contribute, is a compilation of the monthly reports of 3,650 observers in every section of the country, and this number is being added to steadily. All the observers are practical, thinking farm-minded men, each chosen because of the opportunities he has to observe the needs of agriculture in his own locality and for his ability to apply economic principles to current farm problems. As a group, they represent a cross-section of the thoughts that the man in the furrow is thinking, and their joint analysis of existing agricultural conditions, as expressed in the Index, is considered a forward step in helping agriculture help itself.

PLANS UNDERWAY FOR CARROLL HOMECOMING

Extensive plans are already under way for Carroll's Home-Coming day, November 7. The big thing of the whole program of features will be the Carroll-Lawrence grid battle, the second-last game of the season and the final game to be played on the local field. A home-coming banquet is to be served Saturday at noon in the dining room of the Presbyterian church. Miss Leora Gollmar, Mrs. Alice Palmer Morris, and Mrs. R. E. Parmenter are the luncheon committee.

The State Teachers' convention held at Milwaukee falls on the same day the home-coming has been planned. This congruity of dates will enable the teaching alumni of the college to conveniently attend both the convention and the home-coming at Waukesha. A big—perhaps the biggest—gathering of recent years is expected to return to its Alma Mater on the seventh of November to renew old friendships and form new bonds with present Carroll students.

REAL ESTATE AGENTS CROWD BILOXI, MISS., SAYS GEO. W. MINOR

George W. Minor, for many years a resident and merchant of this city, who has now been living in Biloxi, Miss., for a score or more of years, made a flying trip to this city this week on a business errand, which took him also to northern Wisconsin, and started on the return trip to Biloxi last week Wednesday.

Biloxi is booming all right but Mr. Minor is not very enthusiastic about a boom town. "I am told we have sixty new real estate offices in town," he said. "I haven't counted them but they are everywhere apparent down town. The real estate agents come from California and from Florida and from many other places where they know this real estate game. Options are about the commonest thing with us. One man takes out an option on a piece of property, pays a small amount down, sells the option to another man at some profit to himself, the second option-holder wires the price of the property, hunts around for another purchaser and so on. What is going eventually to happen to the property-owner?"

Property all around the gulf is booming, according to Mr. Minor. One of the enterprises in that vicinity is the Edgewater Gulf Hotel, which is to be erected between Biloxi and Pass Christian at a cost of not less than $1,500,000. A big tract of land has been purchased and it looks as if a great enterprise with an immense hotel, gardens, golf-grounds, polo grounds, etc. will materialize.

NEW BUTLER

From the pulpits of the village's three churches, St. Agnes Catholic, Immanuel Lutheran, and Pilgrim Methodist Episcopal, it was announced Sunday morning that the week beginning Monday, September 28, and ending Sunday, October 4, inclusive, should be known as "community calling week." Each person is endeavoring to make at least three calls on people they have never visited before, thus extending the hand of good fellowship to new comers, as well as to older residents.—It has been discovered that a conflict of entertainments has occurred between the P. T. A. and the Men's club. Our little village being too small to support two socials at one and the same time, the two societies have agreed to compromise. As the Men's club has well known and interesting speakers slated for the first Friday evening of each month for the remainder of the year, the P. T. A. has agreed to postpone its social evenings to the second Friday of the month, giving the men an opportunity to attend both, an advantage of which they should avail themselves. Dr. W. A. Ganfield, president of Carroll college, Waukesha, will be the speaker at the meeting of the Men's club Friday evening. Each member is requested to bring a guest.

Members of St. Agnes church are preparing for the autumn bazaar to be held at their hall on November 14 and 15. Jensen, North Lake, spent a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Frank Young, and her son, Frank Jensen, and their families.—Mrs. William Pluckhahn and children visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Clutterbuck, Waukesha, on Sunday.—Recent guests at the Pluckhahn home were Miss Mary Kolb, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Lau, Waukesha, and Mrs. J. J. Lenken, Milwaukee.

Mrs. T. A. Marique, who has spent the past five months in Michigan, has returned to her home here.—The Thompson family will soon occupy the house vacated by Mr. and Mrs. William Hazeltine. On Tuesday evening, Sept. 23, a delightful evening was spent at the Tabernacle church, when the Father and Son banquet was held. There were present fifty-two fathers and sons: Two of the fathers, David Williams and John Howell are over 80 years old. One pleasant feature of the evening was when the sons were trying to recognize the fathers' early photos. The only one that could not be recognized was the photo of the Rev. Mr. Matthew taken in his early years. Games were played, speeches and music were given. The young ladies of the church served refreshments.

BAIL CASH OF $5,000 IS FORFEITED HERE

The cash bail of $5,000 deposited for the appearance of George Karl, who was to be tried at the September term of the Municipal court on a charge of burglary, was ordered forfeited and a fugitive warrant for the arrest of the defendant was issued. Karl's parents and friends notified authorities here that Karl had been killed but so far there has not been offered proof of death. According to District Attorney Herman Salen, the cash bond of $5,000 will be turned over to the state, the law providing that it be used in the school fund.

GREAT ARTIST OPENS SEASON IN WAUKESHA

ZIMBALIST, NATIONALLY FAMED VIOLINIST COMES OCT. 22. SHATTUCK LATER

Announcement of the Famous Artists Course of concerts, to be held in this city during the coming fall and winter, is made by the local manager of the course, Mrs. C. H. Hawley.

The announcement is received with great interest by the musical public of this city and county. The courses heretofore arranged by Mrs. Hawley have been of much musical distinction, far beyond what might have been expected in a city the size of Waukesha. The coming course is perhaps more notable than any of its predecessors, including as it does some of the world's foremost artists.

World Renowned Artists According to Mrs. Hawley's announcement, three concerts will be given, by Sophie Braslau, distinguished contralto of the Metropolitan Opera Co.; Eren Zimbalist, celebrated Russian Violinist; Arthur Shattuck, renowned American pianist and John Barclay, renowned English baritone. The two last appear together.

Concerts in Church All the concerts will be given at the First Congregational Church, and the dates are: Zimbalist, October 22; Shattuck and Barclay, February 18; Braslau, May 13.

When but nineteen years of age, Eren Zimbalist, having already won a place in the first rank of violinists in Russia, was acclaimed the successor of Joseph Joachim in Berlin and other cities. The mantle of this illustrious predecessor was formally placed upon the shoulders of Zimbalist at the famous Gewandhaus in Leipzig, where he played in the biggest annual event—the New Year's concert, in which no other violinist than Joachim had appeared in fifty years. This significant honor was followed by similar laurels in many capitals of Europe with Richter, Nikisch and other famous conductors. Since 1911, when his American debut instantly made him a violinist star, he had made his home in this country. His marriage to Alma Gluck whose reputation as a contralto is world wide has added to Zimbalist's feeling that the United States is his home and he now intends remaining here permanently.

The width, thoroughness and versatility of Zimbalist's genius is evidenced in his accomplishments, for he is not only a violin virtuoso, but a talented pianist and a composer of note and promise.

Shattuck On Program The appearance of Arthur Shattuck, the distinguished American pianist, on this season's course will be one of special interest to the people of Waukesha as the name, Shattuck, is so well known in connection with Carroll College. Last season a number of requests came, asking that Mr. Shattuck might be included in this season's course.

Mr. Shattuck is a Wisconsin artist and is considered the greatest pianist on the concert stage that our state has produced. His appearance here will be looked forward to with a great deal of interest.

His success abroad has been equally as great as that achieved in this country where he has played in nearly every important city in the country. His numerous appearances as soloist with practically all the leading orchestras in this country have placed him in the foremost rank of his art and he is now considered one of the great pianists of our time.

Is Great Baritone

John Barclay, the eminent English baritone, that will appear with Mr. Shattuck on the second number of the course, is one of the great baritones of our day. Mr. Barclay first made his appearance in this country three seasons ago and success came to him at once as he was well equipped for his art and the public was quick to recognize his unusual qualities that go to make up a great singer. Mr. Barclay has been compared many times with Werrenrath, the great American baritone, and cities that have had them both give them the same ranking.

Is Real Artist

Many an artist comes into sudden prominence by virtue of a brilliant debut, but only an artist of unusual gifts and intelligence can live up to such an introduction to the public. Such a singer is Sophie Braslau, who virtually walked from the studio stage of the Metropolitan Opera House and immediately found herself famous. Miss Braslau has not only redeemed her artistic promise; she has won for herself a place among the greatest singers of our time, and every year sees some new revelation of her artistry.

MUKWONAGO GIRL GRANTED U. W. DEGREE

Among those who were granted degrees from the University of Wisconsin by the board of regents, following the completion of their course during the summer session, is Ruth E. Graf, Mukwonago. Miss Graf received the degree of bachelor of arts.

AGRICULTURE IN INDIA IS VERY BACKWARD

SAM HIGGINBOTTOM, OF THAT COUNTRY GIVES INTENSELY INTERESTING DISCOURSE

Thursday a union meeting of Kiwanians and Rotarians was held, at the Y. M. C. A., the latter being guests. The occasion that prompted the uniting of the two clubs, was an address by a distinguished missionary to India, Sam Higginbottom. He is a scientist, an agriculturist, as well as a missionary, a man of keen intellect, broad mind and descriptive powers that enabled him to present a mental picture that stands forth with vivid clearness.

He is the principal of a great agricultural institute and superintendent of the Naini Leper Asylum at Allahabad, N. P. India. The address was directed chiefly to the agricultural conditions and opportunities in India, and he described at length the causes that have impoverished that land while yet it is perhaps the most productive to be found. These are various, but as base are brought about because of the superstitious beliefs, strangely impractical customs and ignorance. Indians worship animal life and permit the fowls of the air the beasts of the fields, the reptiles to prey on crops of every sort and take for themselves what remains.

Mr. Higginbottom says there are 250,000,000 cattle in that country, that there are 51 cows for every 100 inhabitants, but that the average yield of milk is 2,000 lbs. a year only. And the milk is of such a nature that inhabitants scarcely know what a good, wholesome supply tastes like, because of the lack of cleanliness, the unsanitary conditions and naturally the unhealthfulness of it.

He dwelt upon the ravages of the pigeons in the grain fields, the destruction of fruit by monkeys, the ravages of wild pigs and of green parrots and all other varieties of wild life.

Mr. Higginbottom has returned to America to secure funds to aid in enlightening the minds of the natives, supplying needed working facilities in the agricultural fields and in all ways possible to redeem conditions that will serve to overcome the distressing ignorance and bring happiness and prosperity to the vast hordes of natives.

REPORT TWO ROBBERIES IN COUNTY

SOO LINE STATION AT TEMPLETON
ENTERED AND ROAD-
HOUSE NEAR LANNON

Two robberies took place in the county Thursday evening one at the Soo Line station in Templeton where $50 and a gold watch were taken, the other at the John Miller roadhouse, Willow Springs, formerly known as Whisky Corners, near Lannon. More than $100 in cash and several other things were removed from Miller's place.

At Templeton the thieves cut away a portion of the glass in the window and after unlatching the sash crawled into the station. The agent who resides above told Deputy Harry Priem, that he heard strange noises early in the morning but paid no attention to them. Thirty dollars and a gold watch were taken from the cash drawer. A screw driver and piece of iron was the only evidence found.

Waukesha Ghost Has Name, Known As Ignis Fatuus

"Will O' the Wisp," "Jack With the Lantern," or to use more scientific nomenclature, "Ignis Fatuus," are the names given to the ghost which made visits to the marshy field off Highway No. 19 in the town of Brookfield recently, according to a Freeman subscriber who believes he has found a solution to the phenomenon.

The Ghost or Ignis Fatuus, is described in the cyclopaedia as follows: Ignis Fatuus is a flickering light seen at night over the surface of marshy grounds or graveyards. Sometimes it moves quietly along resembling the light of a lantern carried in the hand and again it appears not alone but two or three together dancing merrily together up and down."

The cyclopaedia says further that Ignis Fatuus "is the evolution of inflammable gas from the marsh and that the flames existed by day as well as at night, though not then visible."

THOMAS CASEY STRUCK BY AUTO; SUCCUMBS LATER

MRS. CASEY BADLY INJURED AND MAY NOT RECOVER. COUPLE WERE ON WAY HOME

Thomas Casey, aged about 75, is dead and Mrs. Casey, about 70, was seriously injured as a result of the couple having been hit by an automobile Sunday evening at Arcadian avenue and Pleasant street, near their home. They were returning from the home of a neighbor when, on crossing Arcadian avenue, a Ford sedan, driven by Cythian Verbrick of Milwaukee, struck them. Mr. Verbrick stopped and assisted the aged couple, who were rushed to the hospital. Mr. Casey passed away shortly after midnight, having lived only two hours after the accident. Infirmities incident to old age made resistance to the shock almost negligible. According to Verbrick, the couple became confused; he managed to avoid them with the front of the car but they were struck down by the rear fender. He claims he was not going rapidly, as he was seeking to make a turn and was watching for arterial signs. Mrs. Casey is expected to recover, said Coroner F. J. Woodhead today. An investigation will be made, he added.

The funeral services for Mr. Casey were held at 8 o'clock Wednesday morning at St. Joseph's church, Rev. Monsignor W. G. Miller officiating, interment in St. Joseph's cemetery.

Mr. Casey is survived by his wife and five children: Thomas of Bethlehem, Pa., Eugene, John, Joseph, of Milwaukee, and Mrs. George Scheehan of Flint, Mich.

F. Zick was injured when struck by an automobile on Highway No. 59 and several Milwaukee people were injured when a car collided with their machine in the town of Delafield Sunday afternoon.

Fred Kurz was arrested on a charge of driving while intoxicated, as was Olrick Leslie.

Walter Vogt and four companions escaped with minor injuries when their car slid down an embankment.

SPECIAL PARCEL POST HANDLING EXPLAINED

"It seems apparent that the general public does not appreciate advantages of special handling stamps for their parcel post shipments," said Postmaster Louis Meininger today. "They perhaps do not understand that this stamp, in addition to the regular postage, gives parcel post what we call 'letter treatment,' that is, it is handled all the way through with substantially the same expedition as letters, whereas, if it does not bear this special handling stamp it goes with other parcel post by what is necessarily a much slower process. "On payment of 25 cents postage in addition to the ordinary postage, fourth class parcels indorsed 'Special Handling,' preferably in the space immediately below the postage stamps and above the address, or which bear the special 25-cent postage stamp provided for such purpose, will receive the expeditious handling, transportation, and delivery accorded to mail of the first class.

"The special handling charge does not include special delivery, therefore is special delivery is desired, it is necessary to add the special delivery fees, 10 cents for parcels not exceeding 2 pounds; 15 cents for parcels over 2 pounds but not exceeding 10 pounds; and 20 cents for parcels weighing more than 10 pounds."

"What is the usefulest kind of food for us?" queried Julius of Matilda. "Ah, specks chickens is, case you all can eat 'em 'foh dey's boined and afted dey's daid."

WASHINGTON HAS GREATEST INFIELD

WASHINGTON AND PITTSBURGH IN WORLD SERIES SHOULD PROVE RELATIVE MERITS

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Sept. 26 (United Press).—Washington and Pittsburgh in the world's series this year, if they play their customary game, should provide a lot of figures to prove the relative merits of a smashing attack against a stone-wall defense.

The champion Senators have a number of good hitters, but they are noted principally for an almost invincible barrier of defense that separates the infield from the outfield.

The Pirates, with eight regulars hitting over .300 have the heaviest attack in baseball and they have the fastest and most daring base-runners in the major leagues.

Those inclined to back their judgment with cash have the problem of deciding whether the Washington infield will be able to stand up in front of such a smashing offense.

Interest in sporting events is developed by a diversity of opinion and there has been no world's series in the last six years that has brought about so many differences in judgment among baseball men who are qualified to speak with authority.

The Washington infield, according to Billy Evans, the veteran American League umpire and sport writer, is the greatest he has seen in twenty years of intimate association with baseball.

"I have worked with the famous Athletic infield—Baker, Barry, Collins and McInnis; I have seen that renowned combination of the Cubs—Steinfeldt, Tinker, Evers and Chance, but I have never seen defense to perfection like Bluege, Peckinpough, Harris and Judge," Evans said a few days ago.

"I have heard Bucky Harris say many times to Peck—'We've got a double play here. Can we get 'em?' "And Peck always came back with—'We can double any one.' "

The Senators practically won the pennant and the world's series on the brilliance of the infield and their uncanny ability to make double plays.

Harris was fortunate in having one of baseball's greatest shortstops at his right and he, of course, had the natural ability to work with him and they made their double-play defense a study and developed it to an art.

The importance of a double-play combination was emphasized recently by a star member of the New York Giants.

"We lost the National League pennant this year," he told the writer, "because we were the champion double-play team of the league."

Pirates Renowned
Because of the ferocity of their attack and their speed on the bases, the Pirates are renowned more for their offense than their defense among casual fans.

The world's series may reveal, however, that the Pirate defense has been overlooked while bats ringing base hits and when fleet runners were turning singles into doubles.

The opinion of Arthur Nehf, star pitcher for the Giants, a college man and one of the most beloved players in baseball, may carry some weight. "I have had intimate experience with the Washington defense," he said, "and I know that it is a great infield, but the Pirates also have a great infield. It is foolish to try to get a hit between Wright and Traynor, and Wright is so good going to his left that he blocks anything that gets through the box. Moore handles the ball fast at second and all the first basemen has to do on a double play not hit at him is to catch the ball. I think that Washington is going to be surprised at the Pittsburgh defense and I think that Pittsburgh ought to win the series."

When asked why he favored Pittsburgh, Nehf said it was because of pitching and that pitching was going to be the big factor in this series.

"The Pirates murder fast ball pitching," he said, "and the most reliable pitcher on the Washington club is Walter Johnson, a fast-ball pitcher. The Pirates have lost only five games all season to left-handed pitchers and that lets Reuther and Zachary almost out. Covelskie has to resort so much to spit-balls and to put so much on every delivery that he weakens after six innings and the Pirates just begin to get their eyes on the ball about the fifth inning.

"Another thing," he continued, "the Washington club has a recognized and established weakness for curve-ball pitching and changed pace, and in Meadows, Aldridge and Morrison they will find three of the hardest pitchers they have ever faced."

Appropriate Arch

A gardener who recently was married at Edinburgh, Scotland, decided to vary the old army custom of marching out of the church under an arch of swords. His arch was formed with bees, rakes and other garden tools.

AGRAGRAMS

By W. A. Freehoff
The livestock papers are full of the accounts of boys and girls who show pigs, calves, and lambs at the various fairs. In the past 10 years these juvenile classes have become an important part of every fair. They are going to develop a great race of stockmen and women in America. There is no finer occupation on earth than the intelligent breeding and care of good livestock, and that so many of the farm boys and girls are turning to it by means of club work, is a good sign of the times.

The presumption is that the feeding of these animals being exhibited by our junior farmers is the exclusive work of the youthful owner. Certainly no prizes are awarded where proof to the contrary exists. Yet in the effort to win it has been whispered about that some of the contestants call upon father or the herdsman for a little expert help. That is the one danger of this kind of work: that it will not be honorably conducted in all cases. Let the officials emphasize the importance of honesty in every particular.

That old war-horse in the interests of better livestock farming, The Breeders' Gazette, delivers a blast against the few dishonest men in the livestock business who are a hindrance to the best development of all the breeds. It is hard enough in a county like Waukesha, where cooperative associations supervise most transactions, to tread the straight and narrow in every particular; how much harder is it not in regions where such supervision does not exist. The woods are full of examples of once prosperous livestock communities which are now in decadence merely because short sighted methods were permitted to develop.

A number of years ago the pure-bred swine business was enjoying a great boom. Commenting on this, D. C. Wing writes in connection with some comments on the secretary of a swine breed association: "Bob never approved the high handed, interlocking methods by which commissioned hog journal fieldmen during the last period of balloon ascensions inveigled, coerced, frightened or bluffed breeders into the reckless spending of money for vainglorious 'boosting' and 'advertising.' The evil described so picturesquely has nearly died out, a guarantee that the swine business as a whole is on a better foundation."

Within recent years a great interest has been shown in horse pulling contests. The invention of a dynamometer to measure the pulling power of horses promises to develop a competition between draft horses as there now is between racers; except that the drafters have all the better of the argument as far as utility is concerned. At Iowa, for instance, over 3,000 people sat in the boiling sun for three hours to see two teams break world records for light and heavy divisions. In Wisconsin the records so far being made are quite modest, but after a little experience there should be a substantial improvement.

Those in charge of the teachers' retirement fund at Madison have decided to give farmers first chance, on long terms, at the money. I believe this is a wise move. The funds have to be invested somewhere, and there is no better security than a farm loan, made after proper investigation of the property and the habits of the owner. Interest rate is five percent. Regular payments of interest and principle are required.

The agitation for higher freight rates for the railroads continues. A hearing has been set to get the railroads' side of the question, and later the shippers will be heard. It is important that the railroads get enough operating revenue, but it is also important that the great necessities of life be transported as cheaply as possible. Higher freight rates for farm products would be a mistake.

There has been a gratifying freedom from frost in this territory up to this writing, and the smaller farms have their silos pretty well filled. A few of the larger farms have several weeks more of work, and probably will have to take some frosted corn. Getting silage stowed away without a disastrous frost is worth thousands of dollars to a community, and the Waukesha dairymen are fortunate. This makes up a little for the continued high price of mill feeds.

Timely rains came to the rescue of alfalfa fields, which were in danger of drying up during August. Alfalfa and corn will continue to be the mainstay of Wisconsin dairying, just as wheat will continue to be the barometer of prosperity in Kansas and the Red River valley, and corn of Iowa and Illinois. Weather plays a larger part in rural prosperity than many people realize.

Auction sales will soon be here again for the fall season. Herds will be dispersed, others will be reduced, and general readjustments will take place. Many of these sales will be good places at which to buy foundation stock, and others should

FARM BUREAUS MADE OR MARRED BY SOCIAL MEETS

OFFICIALS PLAN TO PAY MUCH ATTENTION TO PROGRAMS
THE COMING YEAR

The social programs for meetings of the Farm Bureaus of the counties was the topic which attracted most consideration at a meeting of Farm Bureau secretaries of this part of the state, held in the directors' room of the National Exchange bank on Wednesday. Many of the men influential in Farm Bureau work throughout the state attended the meeting, among them being Orrin Fletcher of La Crosse, president of the state Farm Bureau organization, and I. M. Wright, secretary. Officers of county Farm Bureaus present included O. C. Munson of Lafayette, F. E. Coldron of Green, Hugh Hemingway of Rock, and F. E. Coyner of Jefferson.

The consensus of opinion among those present was that the social meetings of the local organization are of great importance in promoting the more serious work of the organization. Where the social meetings have been retained the interest of members, the bureaus have flourished in their more serious undertakings. Where the local meetings have been without interest the work of the bureaus has dropped down.

Belongs to the Family
"The Farm Bureau is a family organization," said O. H. Cooley, local secretary. "We must have all members of the family interested. We must have good programs at our meetings, not only local talent, boys and girls as well as grownups, but talent from outside to talk on educational, legislative, and economic topics. A great deal of this talent is right at hand; we must use it."

This was the opinion of the meeting on Wednesday and the organization will stress the programs of local meetings during the coming year. Effort will be made to attract the attention of young people away from amusements which are wholly frivolous and toward something worth while.

Coldren Is President
Election of officers resulted in the selection of F. E. Coldren of Brodhead, president of the Farm Bureau of Green county, as president, and O. H. Cooley, secretary of the Farm Bureau of Waukesha county, as secretary. The next meeting will be held in Monroe. These get-together meetings are held every two or three months.

AUTO BUS LINE TO OPEN 'SHOPS' IN WAUKESHA

RIDGEWAY GARAGE PURCHASED BY BADGER AUTO COMPANY.
WILL ADD TO BUILDING

People owning property in the southern section of the city will be gratified to learn of an extensive business deal that was announced today. The Badger Auto Service company of Milwaukee is investing several thousands of dollars for the establishment of their automobile bus maintenance station, a project that involves bringing to Waukesha about 40 more families.

Negotiations have been completed with E. R. Holloway, proprietor of the Ridgeway garage at the corner of Grand and Harrison avenues for the leasing of the present garage property, and the building on the lot adjoining of a corresponding unit, the entire space to be used by the Badger Auto Service company for keeping in condition the buses operating between Milwaukee and Waukesha, and also between Waukesha, Oconomowoc and Watertown. This service station will require the employment of about 40 automobile mechanics and laborers.

Although there has been an extensive building campaign in the southern section of the city during the past two years, there are elaborate plans contemplated. Several lots have been held in readiness for expansion of this sort and building operations will be undertaken, some of them at once and others next spring.

largely be patronized by the shippers. Poor cattle sales are not an advertisement to a community.

What about Wisconsin forests? asks the Wisconsin Magazine. With a constitutional amendment adopted permitting the state to engage in forestry the time is ripe for a constructive policy. Nobody wants to be an extremist in this matter, but everybody does want some sort of action taken. A good forestry policy consistently carried out for an hundred years will mean millions of dollars to the citizens of the state. Let's get busy.

TOWN FAIR COMES ON OCTOBER 2-3

Boys and girls of the township of Waukesha will have their innings as agriculturists at the Fourth Annual Community Fair held at the Stock Pavilion, October 2 and 3.

All sorts of prizes for all sorts of products are offered and the boy and girl who have been having this fair in mind for some weeks and have been taking the best kind of care of the various products which they expect to exhibit, may expect a nice purse of pocket-money as a result of the prizes which they may gather in.

The list of prize vegetables is a long one—corn potatoes, stock vegetables, onions, beans, cabbages, melons, celery, dill, salsify and many others. Poultry of variety, rabbits, pigeons, pigs are on the prize list. Cut flowers will be there too, of one variety and of assorted varieties.

Also there will be samples of sewing of many kinds, useful and decorative, baking and canning, and there will also be an educational exhibit of unique character and great interest.

J. W. Baird is president of the Waukesha Township Community Fair, with A. C. Schumacher as vice-president; Mrs. Clyde E. Fruit as secretary, Mrs. William Steinke as assistant secretary, and F. E. Fox as treasurer.

Many committees have charge of details of the Fair.

WAUKESHA TOLD HOW TO BETTER POSTAL SERVICE

POSTMASTER MEININGER GIVES POINTERS TO BUSINESS MEN WHO USE MAILS

In its first bulletin of the current year the Association of Commerce is transmitting some information from Postmaster L. A. Meininger on how to improve the postal service through cooperation of the business men. Mr. Meininger says:

"To be productive of the results expected, the preparation and posting of mail must be done in accordance with postal service requirements and processes. Many mailers fail to understand the possibilities and limitations of pre-cancelled stamps, permit matter, value of mailing early and often throughout the day, advantage of bringing your mail properly faced-up and tied to the office, separation in states and cities, etc. The importance of having your post office address on all stationery, and very essential of having it on all envelopes and shipping labels. If you get your mail through a post office box, have the box number printed in your return address, and not the street address. Such addresses are confusing to mail distributors. This post office handles mail for over 21,000 patrons, and it is very difficult to remember each individual's address.

Mail Letters Early
There is nothing that would improve the efficiency of the Postal Service more than if every business man mail his letters earlier in the day. The business man signs his mail at the end of the day. It is thrown with the mail of every other business man who does the same thing and there is an avalanche of mail. By signing your mail at least twice a day, a great many of those letters would be advanced 24 hours in time of delivery. An hour's difference in posting a letter may mean 24 hours difference in delivery at the other end of the line.

There is another thing, the business man signs his mail himself; it is turned over to the lowest paid employee to be sealed, stamped and deposited in the mails. It may surprise some of the business men to tell them, frequently, their mail is not mailed until the next morning, or mailed in a street letter box, which is not collected in time to reach the office for the early evening outgoing mail trains, and again some mailed too late for dispatch for even the early morning trains.

BOY SLIGHTLY BURNED WHEN TANK EXPLODES

Two boys narrowly escaped serious injury late Wednesday afternoon when a gasoline tank exploded in the rear yard of Conrad Tardiff, 713 Hamilton avenue. The fire department was called and made an investigation but no fire resulted from the explosion.

According to Chief Peter Wild he believes that one of the boys, Jack Fridle, who lives next door threw a match into the tank. The top of the container was blown several feet and the young lad was slightly burned.

Mr. Tardiff is out of the city, said Chief Wild. There were two tanks in the yard one of which held about a quart of gasoline. The other is believed to have held about the same amount. The law provides that gasoline tanks must either be underground or 25 feet distant from any other building and in a fire proof building.

WAUKESHA HAS COMPETITION IN BID FOR PLANT

MEN INTERESTED LEARN THAT EAU CLAIRE AND CHIPPEWA FALLS ARE CONSIDERED

Whether or not the storage plant of the Wisconsin Co-operative Creamery company will be located in Waukesha is a matter of speculation, stated the secretary of the Waukesha Association of Commerce upon his return from Sparta where he appeared before the entire board on Monday evening.

"It was rather significant," said the secretary, "that Waukesha alone was invited to present reasons why the plant should be located here but the decision has been postponed from time to time for several months now that it would not be surprising if a further delay ensued. We were informed by indirect sources that two and possibly only three of the entire board of some forty members are opposed to locating the plant in Waukesha. This minority favors Eau Claire or Chippewa Falls.

"But we are confident that the great majority of the board sees the impracticability of a plant so far north as it would mean butter made south of those points would need to be shipped north, graded and labelled, and then shipped south again, much of it passing through Waukesha. We emphasized the fact that Waukesha has freight rates as low as those of the lake shore cities, that the cost of living is comparatively low, that our banking resources are far greater than those of any city our size, that we have numerous factories with a minimum of labor turnover and that our railway facilities are superior to those even of Milwaukee, with our reciprocal switching arrangement between the three leading railways that tap practically every shipping point in Wisconsin.

"Waukesha forms the neck of the shipping bottle in Wisconsin and freight can move to eastern and southern shipping points much more rapidly than from Milwaukee or any other point in southern Wisconsin."

ERADICATION OF BOVINE T. B. SUCCESSFUL

AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT TESTED 1,440,177 CATTLE IN AREA WORK

MADISON, Wis. — The Wisconsin department of agriculture in a preliminary report setting forth the extent of tuberculosis eradication issued today, indicates that under the area test plan 1,440,177 cattle, located in 30 counties, have been tested for tuberculosis.

The 30 counties comprise 48.6 per cent of the geographical area of the state, and the percentage of infection ranged from three-tenths of 1 per cent to 2½ per cent, with an average of approximately 1½ per cent. In other words, on the average from a 1,000 cattle tested 15 reactors were discovered and condemned.

Reactors Number 17,812
The total number of reactors removed from 30 counties was 17,812, and the average indemnity paid on grade animals was $27 and on purebreds, $69.92. Up to July 1, 1923, the average cost per head of testing was 33 cents. For the two-year period ending June 30, 1925, the average cost per head was 18½ cents.

Original tests are now being applied to all of the cattle in Forest and Shawano counties. General retests have been completed in Ashland and Bayfield counties, with a percentage of infection in each case less than five-tenths of 1 per cent, which entitles the last named counties to be declared officially as "modified accredited areas." Nine counties containing approximately 480,000 cattle have filed petitions and await the application of a county-wide test.

Test 110,379 in July
During the month of July, there were tested in the state of Wisconsin, by state, federal and approved veterinarians 110,379 cattle, a number nearly twice as large as were tested in any other state of the union during the same period.

Two full-time area forces are now continuously engaged in this work, and it is understood that by December 1, a third area force will be operating in the field.
A complete report for the two-year period, ending June 30, 1925, will be available in bulletin form in the near future.

$2,500 THANK OFFERING FOR HARTLAND HALL

CLARENCE DILLON, NEW YORK FINANCIER, SENDS CHECK TO DR. H. G. B. NIXON

HARTLAND. — A gift of $2,500 for the community building fund, received this week from Clarence Dillon, New York financier, fairly took the breath away from the community fund promoters in this village.

Eighteen years ago an extraordinary accident happened in this village. The west coast train on the C. M. & St. P. tracks came rushing through Hartland without stopping. A huge St. Bernard dog wandered onto the track as the train dashed through, and was struck full force by the train.

The big body of the dog was catapulted into the little crowd standing on the depot platform and struck with full force Clarence Dillon, a well-known figure in the New York financial world, then visiting here.

Mr. Dillon's neck was broken. It seemed certain that he would die. But he did not quite die. Dr. H. G. B. Nixon somehow kept him alive. He was unconscious for a long time. Dr. Nixon fused away with him, constructing a contrivance to rest the broken vertebrae, thus keeping the bones from slipping, and in due time the young man completely recovered.

Only a few weeks ago Mr. Dillon put across one of the largest financial deals ever recorded in the New York financial world.

As a token of his gratitude to Dr. Nixon and to Hartland, Mr. Dillon has sent to Dr. Nixon a check for $2,500 for the community hall.

The check came like manna from Heaven. It will give a great impulse to the movement here to raise funds for the community hall.

No Argument at All
The attorney was setting up illiteracy as a defense for his client, accused of forgery. "Why, your honor," he argued, "this man could not have been guilty of this crime; he cannot write his own name." "Your argument is worthless," said the judge. "The prisoner is not charged with writing his own name, but that of someone else."

SLAIN WOMAN'S HUSBAND HELD; CHARGE PERJURY

C. B. COOK CHANGES STORY. WAS WITH PRETTY DIVORCEE DAY BEFORE MURDER

VINTON, Ia. — Clifford B. Cook, husband of Benton country's slain Temperance worker, Mrs. Myrtle Underwood Cook, was at liberty today on $10,000 bond, following his arrest last night on a charge of perjury contained in an information sign by Sheriff Whitefield Ruhl. The information charged Cook with perjury in connection with testimony given two weeks ago before the coroner's jury hearing evidence in the case of his murdered wife.

Cook is alleged to have said that on Sunday, September 6, the day before his wife was shot to death in her home, he was at Sioux City, Ia., that he attended church in the morning and spent the remainder of the day alone in his room.

Later he told state and county officials that this testimony was false. He had been with Mrs. Hester Seiling, pretty divorcée, part of the day. Mrs. Seiling is held here on a grand jury subpoena for questioning in the Cook murder mystery.

The pair occupied quarters in the same rooming house at Sioux City, it was revealed. They met frequently and were "very friendly." Whether or not this friendly relationship had anything to do with the murder of Mrs. Cook is the problem authorities are endeavoring to answer.

Decision to arrest Cook was reached after he had informed state and county agents working on the case that he would not submit to further questioning.

Solution of the murder mystery is improbable, it is believed. Had the state any evidence to warrant Cook's arrest on a charge of murder, he would not have been arrested for perjury, it was pointed out.

Mrs. Cook, widely known Temperance worker, was shot to death in her home on the night of September 7. The original theory that bootleggers, "with a grudge," committed the crime apparently has been abandoned.
