LOCAL WRITES HOME

This item is taken from the Oconomowoc Enterprise of January 13th. Harold Thomas is a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thomas of Eagle.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest F. Thomas, who have been extremely anxious about their son, Harold E. Thomas, who is a member of the United States Marines, and stationed in Nicaragua, had their anxiety relieved this week, when they received a letter from him. They had not heard from him for two and one-half months, and because of the warlike conditions in that Latin American country they were extremely solicitous concerning his welfare.

Harold, who is in the Fifth regiment, Motor Transport, stationed at Managua, Nicaragua, is driver of the car of the commander of the land forces. With other companions, Harold was sent 96 miles into the jungles, where they were stuck in the mud for 40 days. Food was sent to them by aeroplanes.

They were finally rescued by a motor truck, 15 days being required to reach them. Harold and his companions arrived in Managua on December 26.

Harold reports that conditions in Nicaragua are worse than they have been, and that in all probability they will be there another year, unless they are given relief from Washington.

SENATE CONFIRMS ZIM APPOINTMENTS

URGE FAIRNESS IN WATERWAY PLAN

MADISON—Congress is urged to deal in a fair and liberal manner with Canada to effect the establishment of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterway, in a resolution offered by Assemblyman Thomas M. Duncan, Milwaukee socialist, and adopted in the lower house of the Wisconsin legislature.

The Duncan resolution cites that negotiations between the United States and Canada seem to be halted at the present time because Canada apparently does not feel that it should have to pay a half of the $167,000,000 estimated cost because the Wellington canal, now under construction by Canada will be a link in that system.

Recommendations that Canada be credited on its share with the cost of the Wellington canal and compensation for losses from Chicago's diversion of water from the Great Lakes, if the United States court finally upholds this diversion, are contained in Duncan's resolution.

WOULD AMEND NEW DRIVERS' LICENSE LAW

GOVERNOR ASKED TO ISSUE NEW CALL TO ACT ON LAW

By Willard R. Smith
United Press Staff Correspondent
MADISON (U.P.)—Wedges to widen the range of subjects which may be considered in the special session of the 55th Wisconsin legislature are being driven further in this, its second day, by senators and assemblymen. Senator Robert Caldwell, Lodi, was the first endeavorer to add to the list of subjects which Gov. Fred R. Zimmerman outlined for consideration when he issued a call for the special session. The senate adopted, and sent to the assembly today, Caldwell's resolution requesting the governor to issue a supplemental call to allow the legislature to amend the automobile drivers' license law passed at the regular session.

Minimum Age 16
This law sets the minimum licensing age at 16 years. Caldwell asserts that many children below that age operate cars going to and from school in rural communities and in the performance of farm duties, who are careful and competent drivers, and he would amend the law to permit licensing them.

When that resolution reached the lower house for action today, Assemblyman Henry Ellenbecker, Wausau, requested a delay to allow preparation of an amendment. Ellenbecker cryptically stated that a "very important" subject had arisen which should be treated at this session. The delay was granted so that he might attach his request for extension of the list of affairs considerable to that of Senator Caldwell.

The legislators were urged today by Assemblyman George C. Hinkley, West Allis, to seek to reopen the consideration of eliminating several of the state's nine normal schools, provided the governor will include that subject in a supplemental call. "The board of normal school regents are not coming here asking appropriations with clean hands," Hinkley asserted, declaring that Wisconsin has four or five too many such institutions and that the regents should come with a constructive program of eliminating several of these schools.

TRACE BONDS IN OIL CASE

BANKERS ASKED TO AID IN FINDING SECURITIES

WASHINGTON (U.P.) — New York bankers were called by the senate Teapot Dome committee today to trace about $1,000,000 in bonds which passed through the agencies in the name of H. M. Blackmer, missing oil trial witness. Vague political rumors have spread concerning the disposition of the securities and Senator Walsh, of Montana, who is conducting the investigation, believes he can learn the identity of every person who received or handled them.

Walsh has ascertained that $233,000 of the bonds were given by Harry F. Sinclair, the oil man, to former Secretary of Interior Fall, a short time after Fall leased the Teapot Dome naval reserve to Sinclair secretly in 1922. T. Everhart, son-in-law of Fall, told that story to the committee late yesterday, piecing together a hidden chapter that government prosecutors and investigators have been seeking to get for three years.

Emery said the modified resolution still proposes an investigation of operating companies engaged in intrastate business only, which are therefore outside the jurisdiction of the federal government. Walsh contends any company is subject to federal inquiry if its stock is sold outside the states in which it operates.

DETROIT, Mich. — Henry Ford can sell "flivver" planes, like the one in which Harry Brooks attempted a non-stop flight to Florida today, for $2,300, the United Press learned today.

The new type planes can do 75 miles an hour, though the normal cruising speed is 60 miles an hour. Mileage, it was said, is approximately 30 miles to the gallon of gasoline.

The plane is equipped with an engine which produces between 35 and 40 horsepower. The engine costs about $800 and the rest of the plane, with gasoline tanks in the wings, about $1,500.

Armour Estate May Recover $30,000,000

CHICAGO (U.P.)—The rapid ebb of the once great Armour fortune has been stopped, it was reported in financial circles here, today. By another turn of the "Armour luck" which was a powerful force in business in the nineties and the first two decades of the twentieth century.

Mrs. J. Ogden Armour, the reports said, owns a block of Universal Oil Products Co. stock which was considered almost worthless a few years ago, but which today is said to be valued at $30,000,000. When J. Ogden Armour died, last year, his once great fortune was understood to have dwindled to but a few millions—less than $1,000,000, some reports said.

Armour had invested heavily in the oil company when it was organized, counting on its ownership of oil cracking patents to produce ultimate returns. A movement by holders of $7,000,000 worth of Armour bonds, to levy on the oil stock, for bond interest due soon, was reported today. Silas H. Strawn, attorney for the bondholders, said it was too early to consider any definite plans. He said he could say nothing of the value of the oil stock.

ATTY. GENERAL RULES N MANY NEW QUESTIONS

SAYS CEMETERY BOARD IS COMPELLED TO FENCE GROUNDS

MADISON, Wis. (U.P.)—The state board of health has no power to fix prices to be charged for work done on the public in a school of cosmetic art, the attorney general's office today ruled to the state board of health.

Another ruling made today to William M. Gleiss, district attorney at Sparta, held that a cemetery board, in subsection (1) of the Wisconsin statutes to inclose the grounds of a cemetery with a suitable fence without aid from adjoining land owners.

Cannot Assist
Except where the value of the estate of a minor in guardianship proceedings do not exceed $500, the judge is prohibited by statute from assisting a guardian in making or drafting his annual accounts, the department ruled in an opinion to District Attorney John A. Lonsdorf, Outagamie county.

A wholesale grocery concern that incidentally sell at wholesale salted fish in barrels does not require a license to operate a wholesale fish market. This ruling was made to the conservation commission.

Where a concern has as its primary business the selling of fish market and requires a license. It does not matter whether the sales are wholly made in the state or outside.

Affects Committee
The license goes to the person operating the wholesale fish market, and more than one market may be operated under one license, states the attorney general's department.

As held in opinions to Douglas and Washburn counties last week, the attorney general decides in a similar opinion to Harold C. Smith, district attorney of Jefferson county at Fort Atkinson, that a county board cannot legally appropriate a sum of money to an agricultural committee composed of three members of the county board with instructions to use the appropriation as the committee deems necessary for the promotion of agricultural interests. Such funds can only be administered and expended by a special board created for the purpose.

MILWAUKEE LAWYER SUED FOR DIVORCE

Ivan J. Levenhagen, Milwaukee lawyer, is being sued by his wife for divorce upon the grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment and failure to support. His wife, Marion, 22, is represented by Atty. Harold M. Baum.

Allegations are that Mr. Levenhagen repeatedly told his wife that she did not nearly measure up to him in ability and that "Go to Hell" was one of the expressions he used when she told him to get out of bed and attend to his duties as an attorney.

The couple were married in December 1926 and in June, 1927, Marion separated from the defendant and went to a sanatorium for treatment of nervous exhaustion. She asks that her maiden name, Marion Auston, be restored.

REID, JADWIN IN FLOOD CONTROL CONTROVERSY

ROW STARTS WHEN CHARGE OF SUPPRESSING INFOR-MATION IS MADE

WASHINGTON — (U.P.) — A heated exchange took place at the house flood control committee session today between Major General Edgar Jadwin, chief of army engineers, and Chairman Reid of the committee, over what Reid regarded as an intimation by Jadwin that the committee had suppressed information about flood control projects.

The controversy was precipitated when Jadwin declared a brief by Governor F. D. Sampson of Kentucky, criticizing the army engineer plan, was "full of fallacies" and that he would answer it in a detailed letter.

Must Get Busy

"We must get busy here and get out a plan or we'll wake up and find 1,500 people drowned," Jadwin said.

Reid then asked the army engineer chief if he thought the committee had suppressed information about flood control proposals.

"I'd like to think over what you say before I answer," Jadwin replied.

"Have you got to confer with your delegation to get the information?" Reid asked sarcastically, referring to the engineers who attended the hearings with Jadwin.

When Reid declared at another point that Jadwin did not "see the logic of anything," the engineer shot back:

"I see the logic of many things—some of which you don't see."

Observers interpreted Reid's final remark to Jadwin, made in a general confusion, as amounting to an order for the army engineer chief to leave the stand.

"If you can't answer the question, we'll have to call another witness and go ahead with our hearing," Reid said, and Jadwin abruptly left the room.

Is Outrage

Representative Kopp, Republican, Iowa, shouted that Reid's treatment of Jadwin was an "outrage".

Several members interceded and calmed the tempest.

Meanwhile the senate commerce committee was being told that maintenance of Mississippi river flood protection and transportation is vital to the nation in time of war. Governor Parker of Louisiana told the committee that in 1918 much war material destined for Europe could never have left this country were it not for the Mississippi river and New Orleans.

Atlantic ports were congested, he said.

Parker paid tribute to federal relief work and particularly praised Secretary of Commerce Hoover.

ELLSWORTH, Wis. — Resignation of Clarence Whittaker, 23-year-old teacher at a district school near here resulted in the dismissal today of the investigation of the partial wrecking of the school building by a blast last week.

COUNTY PAYS HUGE SUM TO THE STATE

MORE THAN A QUARTER MIL-LION DOLLARS PAID IN DURING 1927

During the year 1927 more than a quarter million dollars was paid to the state by Waukesha county, a report released Thursday by D. J. Pierner, county treasurer, states. This amount represents an increase over previous years, the treasurer stated in commenting upon the report. The total paid to the state is $226,462.15.

The biggest item listed is income tax of which the state receives 40 per cent. The total paid by Waukesha county residents is $365,136.95. The state's share is $146,054.78; the county's part is $36,513.69. Ten per cent of the income tax remaining in the county goes direct to the county, the treasurer explained. The 50 per cent remaining is divided according to where the payee lives.

Find Tax Decreases

A decrease is found in inheritance tax. Of the total 92 per cent goes to the state. The total paid in 1927, $31,284.16. Although aid to dependent children and to the blind has increased somewhat, the treasurer said, the two amounts are comparatively low as compared to other large counties of Wisconsin. Aid to children is $10,125 here, while in some counties it runs as high as $25,000.

Following are the various amounts paid to the state in 1927:

Income tax	$146,054.78
Inheritance tax	28,215.74
Special charges	37,222.53
State penal fines	14,935.00
Suit tax	271.00

Total to state .....$226,462.15

Not For State

Other amounts listed by the treasurer in the reports but not going to the state:

Dependent aid	$10,125.00
Blind aid	4,114.60
Administrators fees	719.13
County penal fines	2,995.00

The penal fines collected in Waukesha county during 1927 represent the largest total ever paid the various courts. Ninety per cent are said to be for violations of traffic ordinances.

WAITE CASE IN INDIANA DISMISSED

The girl, who had charged Waite attacked her, admitted her story was false. She had told authorities Waite attacked her when he called at her home, to sell magazines.

P. T. A. PLANS OBSERVANCE OF FOUNDERS' DAY

CELEBRATE THIRTY-FIRST BIRTHDAY IN MEETING AT HIGH SCHOOL

The first observance of Founders' Day by the Waukesha County Council of P.-T. A.'s will be held at the Waukesha High school Friday, Feb. 17, at 2 o'clock. All P.-T. A.'s in membership are asked to send delegates, and an invitation is also extended to everyone interested in P.-T. A. work. The date, February 17, is the thirty-first birthday anniversary of the national congress of P.-T. A.'s.

The program includes a roll call of associations in membership, which is to be responded to by giving the number of delegates in attendance. There will be a question box. The address of the afternoon will be made by Dr. E. J. Elton of Milwaukee. Mrs. W. A. Freehoff will lead the singing, and Miss Dorothy Bucke will accompany her at the piano. Solos are to be rendered by Mrs. John Berg and Mrs. Mary Schoen. An offering for child welfare work will be taken. Heretofore, this fund was used only by the National council of P.-T. A.'s, but now one half will remain in the state.

As every effort has been put forth to make this a worth while program, as large an attendance as possible is desired.

Instead of having a concert this year, as has been given before, the spring entertainment committee has another plan. This is for the schools having P.-T. A.'s affiliated with the state and national organizations to present one-act plays. This work is to be in charge of Miss Rockwell of the Wisconsin extension. The three plays, previously presented and considered best by Miss Rockwell, are to be given at the spring entertainment. The schools interested are asked to inform Mrs. Scheele of Oconomowoc before February 10 of their desire to enter this contest. Further information may be secured from her.

LEGION PLANS TO BEAUTIFY THE HIGHWAYS

LOCAL POST HEARS OF PRO-JECTS PLANNED FOR COM-ING YEAR

The several projects the American Legion posts throughout the country will sponsor during the coming year were explained at a meeting of the Legion last night by N. Jack Christoph, local commander, who attended the mid-meeting of the Legion Monday night Saturday at Monroe, Wis., at which these projects were discussed by the 350 post officers of Wisconsin and the national commander.

Once a Legionnaire, always a Legionnaire is one of the ideas which the national organization is attempting to effect, according to Commander Christoph. The yearly duty of re-enrolling into the Legion ranks will be ended if the plan of making membership permanent is adopted.

Stress The Auxiliary

Emphasize the Legion Auxiliary more, is another slogan which will be put into practice. In Wisconsin the Auxiliary is only half as large as the Legion while in some other states, especially Minnesota, the Auxiliary is twice as large as the Legion. Commander Christoph asked that more importance in Waukesha be given to the Auxiliary to build up its membership and activities, since that organization is a vital one.

One of the most extensive programs is to beautify state highways. More memorial highways are asked and tree planting projects are being considered by many posts. At intersections of roads triangular beds of flowers have been suggested. The state highway commission is being conferred with and in a few weeks such plans will move nearer completion. In connection with this, American Legion signs, made of pressed steel are to be placed at the entrance of each city, giving the population and name of the city, similar to the white signs now placed by the state.

Ask More Junior Bands

More Junior bands are asked to be organized. Waukesha, the post commander said, is far ahead of other posts in this respect and the activities along that line here are being copied by other chapters.

Initiation rituals are also stressed and in this too the Waukesha posts rank high. At the state conference last week Waukesha conducted the ritual with Superior and much comment resulted from the way the D. J. Martin post handled it.

LUDVIGSEN MAY RUN FOR SHERIFF'S JOB

"I have no definite announcement to make," Alfred R. Ludvigsen, Hartland supervisor stated Friday when asked by the Freeman whether he intends to run for the office of sheriff of Waukesha county. Rumors have been prevalent here that Mr. Ludvigsen will run.

"I am feeling out the sentiment of the people of the county," the town chairman said, "and if it's in my favor, well I may consider running." Mr. Ludvigsen was in Waukesha yesterday and made inquiries relative to his running for the sheriff's office.

The Hartland official will be remembered as being strongly in favor of the retention of Mrs. Florence George as county humane officer when this fall she was displaced by Mrs. Alice George. Mr. Ludvigsen is strongly opposed to having state officials dictate as to who shall act as a county humane officer and motioned to refuse a salary to the new appointee until the county board had some voice in her choosing or rejection.

RICHMOND, Va. (U.P.)—Shirley Wingham, Negro, from Isle of Wight county, was executed in the Virginia penitentiary, today, for assaulting and murdering a 15-year-old white girl.
