SENATE ADJOURNS FOLLOWING PRAYER

MADISON. Wis. - Conservatives prevented continuation of the Progressive-Socialist filibuster on the Schmiege reciprocal inheritance tax bill in the Wisconsin senate today when they adjourned immediately after the prayer which opened the session.

This step was taken by the conservatives to insure the bill being heard by the senate corporations and taxation committee this afternoon. By adjourning they prevented the possibility of the senate being locked up under successive calls for attendance of all absentees, such as the Progressives have imposed in the last few days.

The assembly delayed consideration for one week of two important bills on today's calendar, the Hoesly four-cent gas tax proposal and the Smith agricultural department consolidation bill.

Reconsideration of its previous unfavorable action on the Keller bill to repeal the University of Wisconsin "diploma privilege" admitting graduates of its law school to the state bar without examination was refused.

WARN AGAINST

MADISON. Wis.-(UP)-Importance of preventing forest fires is just as great today as in the time when Napoleon ordered summary execution of individuals convicted of having set such fires and the replacement of the governor in whose district they occurred, the Wisconsin conservation commission declared in a statement today.

In appealing to people of Wisconsin, to be particularly careful about starting forest fires this month, the commission stated that in May last year more damage was done in this state by forest and marsh fires than in all the other eleven months combined.

'Spring forest fires are particularly dangerous because of the damage they do to young game animals and nesting game birds, as well as song birds," the commission stated. "Uncontrolled fire in a forest or marsh in the spring can undo the work of many years protection of game birds and animals."

MILL RACE IS PURCHASED BY CITY COUNCIL

WILL BE USED FOR PARKING AND TO OPEN NEW STREET EVENTUALLY

The city of Waukesha Monday purchased the mill rare property between Broadway and Barstow st. for $8,000 and exchanged a strip of land with A. C. Nickell, Jr., in order to acquire title to land along the river to permit for some future time to open a new street from Broadway which would be an extension of Corrinna bonleyard.

The terms agreed upon Monday night are the culmination of several years' attempt to acquire the land in question. When the old mill race was still open, it was considered a breeding place for discusse, and was ordered filled in.

The special nell race committee, consisting of Alderman Frank Roberts, chairman; J. A. Van Ness and Sam Dunwoody, obtained options on the land. These options expire May 10 and therefore special action was required, it was pointed out by Mayor Morgan R. Butler.

A sum of $7,000 will be paid Louise Bergeler, who owns proporty fronting on Barstow st. One thousand dollars will be paid Sam and Jake Friedman who have acquired the Schlitz Brewing Co. holdings on the Five Points. An equal trade was effected with Mr. Nickell.

For the present nothing will be done with the ground in the way of making it into a street, but the suggestion of Ald. Roberts is that it be made into a parking place and that a small fee be charged by the city for the privileges of parking there. Between 400 and 500 cars can be accommodated, it is belived.

The parking situation here is such, the alderman agreed, that a parking space, such as the land acquired affords, is very desirable since it is in the center of the downtown section.

ROOSEVELTS SHOOT PANDA

RARE CREATURE KILLED NEAR TIBET BORDER

CHICAGO, May 6—(UP)— The Roosevelts—Colonel Theodore, Jr., and Kermit—have arrived in the bandit infested region along the border between Tibet and China and shot a giant Panda or "catfooted Bear" of the Himalayas, according to word received Monday. Only do the Roosevelts thus become the first white men ever known to have killed one of those elusive creatures whose scientific name is "alluropus melaneleucus", but the specimen will be the first one complete with skeleton and skin to be brought out of China.

The animal was one of the chief hopes of the William V. Kelley-Roosevelts expedition to Eastern Asia for Field Museum, but the party had been doubtful it would be able to obtain one, Stephen C. Simms, director of the Field Museum of Natural History said.

The natives call the Panda a "Beishung", meaning "White Bear". It belongs to a distinct group, although resembling a bear and a racoon, according to Dr. Wilfred Osgood, curator of zoology at the museum. The animal is the size of a black bear, has a white head and body with black circles around its eyes, black legs and a broad black band around its shoulders.

The Panda first was discovered by a French monk, Pere David, stationed in China as a missionary. Less than half a dozen speciments are known in civilized worlds, only one being in the United States.

The Roosevelts' lucky shot was made in the Lolo country, west of Ta-Tsien-Lux. The date was not revealed, but must have been some time ago, because it requires many days for a courier to make way back to the coast from the border region.

ADMIT FIFTEEN TO CITIZENSHIP

KIWANIS CLUB PRESENTS FLAGS TO CANDIDATES

Fifteen of the 17 foreigners who petitioned Monday to become citizens of the United States, were admitted by Judge C. M. Davison. Two did not meet the requirements and will be heard at a later date.

On behalf of the local Kiwanis club, Louis Meininger presented the newly made citizens with American flags. After repeating allegiance to the flag Mr. Meininger read the address of Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia university, given in the Umted States court in Brooklyn, Jan. 3, 1924, on a similar occasion.

"This is the most important moment in your lives," Batler's address reads. "Of your own free will you have renounced allegiance to the government under which you were born, and have become citizens of the United States

"First of all, it is your duty to master the English language.

"Second, resolve to know and obey the law. If there be unwise and unjust laws, it is in the power of the American people to change them in orderly fashion. You are not yourselves the judge of what is the law; no one is that.

"Third, seek to understand the principles and the standards which govern good citizenship in the United States.

"Fourth, while preserving in whatever ways you wish, relations with the hand from which you have come and with those of like race with yourself in this land, do not permit yourself to become a member of any hard or fast racial group which resists those influences that would make you a member in full standing of the great company of American citizens.

"Flith, remember that now you have become American citizens, you are to put the Old World animosities and Old World hatred behind you.

"Finally, there is no place in America for class hatred or religious persecution."

JOHN CASEY IS TAKEN BY DEATH

John J. Casey, 22, well-known in Y. M. C. A. circles here, died Sunday morning at the Oakes Sanitarium after an illness which began with a cold in January.

As a graduate of the Waukesha High school in 1927, the young man was prominent in social and athletic activities, although he did not participate in sporting events, due to a physical handicap, but was an enthusiastic manager and fan. Up to the time of his illness he was employed at the Waukesha Motor works.

It was announced that the Knights of Columbus will meet at the club house at 7:30 o'clock tonight and go in a body to his home at 818 Pleasant st., where a vigil will be held. The deceased was a member of that order.

Mr. Casey is survived by his mother, Mrs. L. F. Nemitz, and three brothers, Cullen, Bertrem and Paul, all of this city.

Funeral services will be held at St. Joseph's church Wednesday morning at 8 a. m. The Rev. Father Voelker will officiate. Interment will be in St. Joseph's cemetery.

CLEVELAND, O.—Johnny Risko today was back in the position he found himself after his defeat by Max Schmelling, by reason of his defeat by Emmet Rocco, young Italian heavyweight of Elwood City, Pa., last night. Rocco won the referee's decision after 12 rounds of furious fighting that found Risko exhausted and the young Italian almost as fresh as when he started.

FARMERS PLAN ORCHARD SPRAY

AGENT J. F. THOMAS OFFERS VALUABLE SUGGESTIONS

Many farmers who own small orchards are now thinking about spraying, according to J. F. Thomas, county agent, who gives advice to those who intend to keep their trees free from insects and disease.

"If farmers own spraying outfits of their own it will soon be time to spray the cherries and pears since they usually blossom a little earlier than apples," Mr. Thomas said.

"However, if he wants to do all the spraying in one operation he should start to spray the entire orchard as soon as the Dutchess. Yellow Parent, Whitney crabs and other earlier apples start to bloom and the buds separate in the cluster. In this way you will be spraying the late varieties of apples in what we call the prepink stage but which will have a direct bearing on the control of scab and to some extent worms. It is much easier to prevent scab than it is to prevent it when it gets started. Therefore, the pink spray is a very important spray to apply. It is usually recommended that one gallon of lime sulphur and one to one and onehalf pounds of lead arsenate of lead be added to 40 gallons of water for the fruit spray. The second or calyx spray should be applied when about 90 per cent of the petals have fallen off of the blossoms with the same solution, and the third spray should be applied 10 to 18 days later to cover all the small fruit with the spray material.

The thoroughness of application is very important in controlling plant diseases. Therefore, using a machine that will develop high pressure the nearer 300 pounds the better the results. However, it is very important that the material be applied somewhere near the right stage, but whatever method is used a thorough application should be applied, because a half job is of no particular benefit.

"Spray rings seem to be the best way of handling spraying where the farmers are close enough together in order to buy a ring together."

THANKFUL FOR TWO THINGS

GANFIELD OUTLINES ADVAN-TAGES IN AMERICA

Before some 800 delegates to the thirteenth district Rotary convention at Oshkosh Thursday, Dr. W. A. Ganfield, of this city, delivered an address in which he declared that Americans have two things to thank for progress.

One is the inventive spirit of the people; the second the investor and the capitalist who have the money power to put the inventions into form.

He defended the American youth against the critics who assert that the generation is breaking down the old traditions which have for so many years been kept intact. ePrhaps, he said, the youth, with their new ideas, and their new aspects of life, are building into the lives of people to come the real truths.

There must be a wholesome respect for law, the Carroll college president asserted, stating that by that he did not refer wholly to the eighteenth amendment.

Eighteen Rotarions of this city, many of whom attended with their wives, were at the convention.

Following are those who attended: B. F. Beaty, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Callow, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Crouch, Dr. and Mrs. Edmondson, Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Evans, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey J. Frame, Dr. W. A. Ganfield, R. M. Heath, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Howard, Dr. and Mrs. M. E. Johnson, Earl Lockman, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Newell, R. E. Oakes, A. F. Botts, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Ricker, John Schmitt, Paul Strong.

The Rotary quartet of this city, well-known in many parts of the state, sang yesterday. The group consists of Mr. Callow, Mr. Oakes, Dr. Edmondson, and Mr. Lockman.

GEIGER ORDERS SEARCH WARBANTS BE SPECIFIC

MILWAUKEE—Henceforth federal agents seeking a search warrant for a saloon must so specify if the building they desire to search also houses a dwelling, it has been established in federal court here.

Federal Judge F. A. Geiger yesterday upheld a motion for suppression of evidence against Joseph Demaggio, because federal agents had failed to bring out in their affidavit for a search warrant that the Demaggios lived in rooms above his cafe.

RIESENECKER IS GIVEN 3 YEAR SENTENCE

CHICAGO MAN CHARGED WITH SETTING FIRE TO BARN IN WAUKESHA COUNTY

Judge Newton Evans Friday sentenced Peter Riesenecker, 65, Waukesha county farmer and Chicago realtor, to from three to three and one-half years in Waupun prison for arson, later suspending sentence and placing him under parole to the state board of control at Madison.

Hugo Trost and Charles Ashley, Milwaukee, attorneys for the defendant, indicated, following the sentence, that they would appeal the case to the state supreme court.

It was last summer that a barn on the Riesenecker farm was destroyed by fire. Upon investigation by a state fire marshall the fire was found to be of incendiary origin and the finger of suspicion pointed to the owner.

A trial was held and the state offered in evidence a candle which vas found in the hay of another 'arn. The defendant has staunchly denied his guilt and has supported a lengthy legal battle to obtain his freedom.

His age, the court declared, makes it possible for him to be placed upon probation.

Judge T. W. Parkinson today dismissed the reckless driving charge against George S. Hunter, Milwaukee, upon the grounds that there is not evidence to prove beyond a reasonable doubt that the defendant is quilty. A trial was held today and at the conclusion the court gave its decision.

Juan Torris, 26, was discharged from a charge of burglary today and fined $5 and costs for being drunk. Dist. Atty. Herman R. Salen said there was not enough evidence to prove that Torris, in a drunken condition, entered the home of Anton Vogt and stole a mantel clock. Torris, however, agreed to pay for the damage done to the time piece.

Charles Oldenberg and son, Harry, waived preliminary hearing today and were bound over for trial to the next regular term of court upon charges of fishing with a gill net. Bail was set at $500 each.

BOYS ENJOY CAMP REUNION SESSION

Thirty-one boys and six leaders from this city went to the Phanton Lake Y. M. C. A. camp at Mukwonago Thursday evening and although cold winds that blew over Phantom Lake chilled them to the marrow, a warm ifre in the kettle hole, after haseball and other games had been played warmed them and permitted them to enjoy a hearty supper of weiners, buns and cocoa. Following the supper camp songs were sung, led by Vic Perrin and Robert Branch.

The group left from the Y. M. C. A. at 5 o'clock in six cars driven by S. Faul Jones, Edward Hoffman, Leonard Larson, L. D. Blott, O. B. Lindholm and Earl Lockman.

Mr. Jones told the group about plans for Phantom Lake camp this summer.

EXPECT BITTER BATTLE OVER TARIFF BILL

DEMOCRATS SEEK ALLIANCES SIMILAR TO SENATE DE-BENTURE OPPOSITION

WASHINGTON - (PU) - Rumblings of an intensely bitter battle to change or kill the administration's tariff hill were discernible in the house today,

The bill either is a "great step which will materially help the farmer," or a "bunk bill," according to whether it is the republican or democratic viewpoint.

The opposition has not been organized, but Democrats are seeking alliances with malcontent midwestern factions in hopes of creating a coalition similar to the one existing in the senate on the de-benture plan of the farm relief

Minnesota delegation, in which democrats have no representation, already has decired to seek an increase of rates provided for agricultural commodities. Rates Not Raised

In view of the widespread agitation for general upward revision of the tariff, the new bill is considered moderate by the administration republicans. Many schedules received some increases and the extent of the increases were hidden by changes in phraseology although the basic rates were not

Considerable attention centered in the new form of tariff commission which the bill would create. It would allow President Hoover to name any seven men without respect to party affiliations, although the nominations would have to be confirmed by the senate. The president's extensive power is similar to that the house offered him in appointment of the proposed federal farm board under provisions of the farm bill it passed last week. commission is composed members three of whom must be republicans and three democrats. The seventh member was added to prevent deadlocks.

Representative Cole, Iowa republican, summed up the administration viewpoint when he said, "This is a great bill that will help materially the farmers of the country.

"It's a bunk bill," was the reply of Representative Rainey, Illinois democrat. "It fails absolutely to do anything for the farmer. the Fordney bill there was a $300,-1900,000 net loss to agriculture annually and this measure will raise the loss to $400,000,000 because it makes the farmer pay more for goods he must purchase which far offsets his gain by increased duties on produce.

Little Protection Representative Dickinson, Iowa

republican, said:

"On the whole some phases of the bill do not give farmers the protection they expected. I'm going to make further comment later.'

Chairman Haugen of the agricultural committee said "it treats the farmer pretty well. I'm disappointed that eccoanut oils were not given a heavy duty, and shingles and cedar should be on the free list. What is the sense of spending millions of dollars to rebuild forests and then shutting out stuff so we are forced to cut our Representative Hull, republican, Illinois, said agriculture didn't get all it wanted but it got most of what is was promised.

3 CENT GAS TAX PROBABLE

OCATES CONFER WITH KOHLER ON INCREASE ADVOCATES

MADISON, Wis.—(UP)—Possibility of a three cent gasoline tax in Wisconsin was revealed today after a conference between Gov. Walter J. Kohler and approximately 50 legislators.

The delegation of increased gas tax advocates called upon the governor yesterday, urging that the present two cent tax he raised at least one cent.

No promise was given the legislators by the governor, but in view of the fact that Wisconsin is now surrounded by states having a three-cent tax they believe that he would not veto a similar proposal.

Assemblyman Charles L. Lacy marshalled the delegation which represented in great part northern Wisconsin, Governor Kohler listened to their pleas for more money for road building in their territory and suggested further conferences between a committee and the executive office relative to the need of more funds.

An administration highway bill, containing no provision for additional gasoline taxes, is not the "last word" in highway legislation sponsored by his administration but is merely a suggested program, the governor explained today, adding that he still retains an open mind toward proposals to raise more highway funds by higher

ARGUE POWER OF OFFICIALS

QUESTION RIGHT TO SPEAK ON UTILITY BILL

MADISON, Wis. —(UP)— Members of the Wisconsin League of Municipalities appearing before the assembly judiciary committee as representatives of their cities in favor of pending water power legislation are charged by William Ryan. Madison, as usurping authority which never has been granted

'Although they may have been officials of the city, they were not voted authority by the people to represent the city on questions such as the one under discussion,, said Ryan, former city attorney and member of the League here, at a sesesion of the committee considering the Loomis bill yesterday. Ryan questioned constitutionality of the Loomis bill permitting cities to compete with private utility plants.

W. A. Jackson, vice president of the Milwaukee Electric Railway & Light company, made the power district bill his special target at yesterday's nearing in which the utilities are now presenting their side following arguments of the bill's proponents.

"This bill will take away from every village board, city council and county board every authority to grant franchises, permits or privileges to public utilities and will vest that authority in a board of five men elected at large in each district," Jackson charged. He pointed out that such business "involving hundreds of millions of dollars" would be operated by commissioners receiving $10 per day with a maximum allowance for 100 days work each year. Politicians would be elected as directors, Jackson predicted, and rate and service conditions would not

JURY CONDEMNS CITY OFFICIALS

MILWAUKEE-A county grand jury had completed an investigation of Milwaukee's city government today without returning a single indictment.

After considering evidence of allegedly "questionable" procedure in the city's government for more than 30 days the jury delivered a 15-page report late yesterday which condemned certain civic practices but in which no city officials were named.

Within a few hours after the jury nad reported, members of the city council had expressed their intention of conducting a public investigation of the practices condemned by the jury. These included:

1. Criticism of the land comenission members for their interest in real estate transactions with the school board and recommendation that the commission members be placed on a salary basis.

2. Condemnation of the practice of allowing a public utility to employ the head of the city real estate office; also of employment of a member of the city's legal department by a public carrier.

3. Recommendation that council institute legal proceedings to determine ownership of a $10,-000 fund which Mayor D. W. Hoan has held since 1921.

This country is blessed with all that the vacationist can wish for,' the commissioner said, adding that "hardly any state combines to the same degree beauty and variety as does Wisconsin."

Duffy described how every hotel and resort is maintained clean and sanitary by state regulation and how the state spends $1,000,000 annually to eradicate bovine tuber-culosis and maintain the standard of its dairy products

HISTORICAL PAPERS ARE PRESENTED

The afternoon session of the Waukesha County Historical society held last Saturday drew forth a good attendance at the Congregational church. The program was an excellent one and the papers read will prove desirable contributions to be added to many more that have preceded. These were supplied by Geo. E. Robinson of Oconomowoc, who wrote of various pioneers of the Community and closed with a poem written by himself some years ago; by Mrs. Jane Hendley, who told of her girlhood memories of Waukesha and numbers of its pioneer residents; by Mis Mary Stewart, which described vividly a romantic journey of many years ago from Texas to California in a covered wagon; by J. H. A. Lacher, whose excellent contribution dealth with spiritualistic movements of the days of the Fox sister together with the records as pertaining to Waukesha county, where several very excellent citizens took part therein. He read letters written at the time by persons attending seances.

The Freeman hopes, as it has done for nearly a quarter of a century past to present all these very interesting papers.

Mrs. Franc Scagle Hunkins, who is now in her 93rd year, and who has for a number of years attended the meetings of the society, was present and spoke briefly of the pleasure found at the meetings and said she would be with the members whenever she could.

Interesting musical numbers were rendered by Mrs. R. J. Schram and Mrs. Bernice Dart, of this city.
