NOT INFREQUENT

It is not infrequent that the news papers find themselves unappreciated by those whom they have favored by their support, column after column being published in their favor, and yet such favors are unappreciated. When you find your paper taking no interest in you or your success, when you find it aggravatingly silent, when you think the editor should be tearing his linen in your behalf, do not work yourself into a fever of anxiety as to the cause, but just ask yourself wherein have you placed the paper and its editor under any obligations to use space and energy for you.—Burlington Standard Democrat.

OBITUARY

Ruth Lobdell

Ruth Bernice Lobdell was born Nov. 5, 1889, in the Lobdell farm home, east of Mukwonago; her parents were Eugene L. Lobdell and Mina Frazier Lobdell, of whom there survives but her dear mother. Ruth was a worker in school and finished the grades and the High school in Mukwonago, the latter in June, 1906. She taught in the public schools of Waukesha county for some time, then attended the University of Wisconsin and graduated from there with a B. S. degree. After graduating from the university she taught four years in the High school of Hurley one year in the High school of Asland, then in Oshkosh High school where she would soon have finished her fourth year. An attack of influenza some weeks ago left her system much weakened and the end came rapidly and with severe suffering. Her life here ended Saturday, May 5, in St. Mary's hospital, Oshkosh. Few lives are fuller of service to the world than was hers. She was quiet, gentle, serene, unselfish, devoted to her work, an example of self control to be envied.

When she was taken so severely sick, friends in Oshkosh wished to send for members of her family and she insisted no one be sent for, that no one could be spared from their homes and that her mother was not well enough, yet all her family responded at once when they knew, and she was surrounded by the love and devotion of all her dear ones to the last.

There are left to mourn her loss, her mother; two sisters, Mrs. Pearl Lobdell Goetsch, Estevan, Saskatchewan, Can., and Mrs. Imogene Lobdell Williams, Chicago; three brothers, Harvey R. and Lloyd Lobdell of Mukwonago, and Frazier Lobdell of Milwaukee. The funeral was from the home of her brother, Harvey R. Lobdell, on Monday at 2 p. m. A comforting and thoughtful sermon was given by Rev. J. M. Rasnake of the U. & U. church; interment was in Mukwonago cemetery. Flowers were many and beautiful from distant friends as well as from those here.

But Ruth, loved by old and young, is gone from among us.

BADGER FARM LABOR PROBLEM IS SERIOUS

FARMERS MUST PAY $10 TO $12 A WEEK AND ARE LUCKY IF ABLE TO PROCURE WORKMEN

BY HERBERT LITTLE

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
MADISON, Wis.—The farm labor situation in Wisconsin is becoming "more difficult" as plowing and seeding have become general in the southern two-thirds of the state. Paul Nyhus, of the Wisconsin Co-operative Crop Reporting Service, told the United Press.

"Continued difficulty is being experienced in securing farm hands that must be employed to take care of this seasonal work," he said.

"Farmers must pay from $10 to $12 a week, if they are lucky to get a man to offer it to," Nyhus said, quoting Fred Rebsdorf, Eau Claire County farmer.

No Winter Killing

Rebsdorf's statement expresses the state's situation in respect to farm labor, Nyhus said. Early reports indicate that there is no general winter-killing of cover and alfalfa, although there are scattering regions in the southern parts of the state where some winter-killing took place. The sowing of small grains, Nyhus said, was approximately ten days late as compared with last spring.

ONEIDA, Wis.—Fifteen prisoners from Green Bay state reformatory began work on the institution farm near here, after the close confinement of the winter. As a reward for good conduct, the fifteen were chosen from all the inmates, by Supt. Oscar Lee, for the farm. They will remain on the farm until next December. Several will be assigned to the seeding and planting of the 306-acre farm, while the remainder will work to clear the timber lands for cultivation.

William Holland, foreman at the reformatory, will be in charge. The boys were placed "upon their honor" by Superintendent Lee.

WM. PATERSON PASSES AWAY AT AGE OF 85

DEATH CAME EARLY SUNDAY MORNING AT RESIDENCE, 807 ARCADIAN AVENUE

William Paterson, one of Waukesha's most respected pioneer citizens, died Sunday morning at 3 a. m. at the age of 85 years, after an illness of three months.

Mr. Paterson was born in Ayre, Scotland, in 1838, and came to Wisconsin with his parents at the age of three years. The family settled in Jefferson county, and it was there that Mr. Paterson spent his boyhood and young manhood. In 1862 he was married to Louise Scott and came to Waukesha, settling on a farm, which is now the Glenwood residential district of the city. This division was named by Mr. Paterson.

Mr. Paterson was a prominent stock buyer of the county for many years and one of the early promoters of the Waukesha County fair. He retired from active business about forty years ago.

He is survived by his wife, two sisters and five grandchildren. A son, Irving, died about sixteen years ago and a daughter, Mrs. Mary Kennedy, six years ago. The sisters are Mrs. Jeanette Barnes of this city and Mrs. Jane Kent, Lake Mills, Wis. The grandchildren are: William P. Kennedy, Chippewa Falls; Mrs. Walter Callow, Mrs. Emil Gunther, Miss Mildred Kennedy and Scott Kennedy, all of Waukesha.

Funeral services will be held from the residence, 807 Arcadian ave., Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the Rev. C. E. Bovard officiating. Burial will be in Prairie Home.

Mrs. Caroline Koefler, aged 80 years, widow of Conrad Koefler, died at her home in the town of Waukesha, Wednesday evening. She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Louis Beck, Waukesha; Mrs. G. B. Bales, Duluth, and Mrs. A. F. Reimer, Waukesha, four sons, Christian, Nebraska; William, Wausau; Gottlieb and Conrad, Waukesha, and two brothers, Chris Kunz, Minneapolis, and Gottlieb Kunz, Wausau.

Funeral services were held at the German Reformed church of New Berlin, Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The legislative joint committee on finance voted 7 to 6 Friday afternoon to recommend for indefinite postponement Governor Blaine's taxation measure. The report will go to the senate next Tuesday where it is predicted various amendments will be offered the following Thursday, thus delaying final action to a later date. The subject of taxation makes legislation a hard road to travel for the solon.

TWELVE CHANGES MADE IN STATE LAWS BY BLAINE

SIGNATURE TO BILLS BY GOVERNOR AFFECTS SPOOR, OLSEN AND SMITH LAWS

MADISON, Wis.—Twelve changes in the Wisconsin law, most of them in local or state administration, became effective with the governor's signature early this week. The most important is the Olaf C. Olsen law to decrease the qualifications on which mothers can collect pensions from the counties for the maintenance of children. The law allows such pensions if the husband has been sentenced to jail for three months, or if he has abandoned the wife for a continuous period of three months. The former law required a jail sentence of at least one year, or abandonment for at least six months.

Auditors for Counties

Another law, by Assemblyman Newcomb Spoor, Berlin, allows counties of less than 30,000 population to appoint and fix the salary of a county auditor. The present law allows county auditors in counties between 30,000 and 300,000 population.

Assemblyman F. C. Smith, Ashland, is the author of a new law which allows cities of the third class to establish "utility districts" in which the expenses of roads, sewers, sidewalks, street-lighting, and water for fire protection, not chargeable to private property, shall be paid out of a fund of the district in which the money is spent. Fourth-class cities only were allowed to establish these districts under the former law.

Three changes in the state regulation of insurance corporations were made. Two were introduced by Assemblyman A. C. Johnson, at the request of Attorney General Ekern, and the other by Assemblyman F. J. Peterson, at the request of the secretary of state. Peterson's law takes from the secretary of state the burden of handling of bonds of title guaranty companies, and Johnson's bill puts the handling of insurance documents directly on the insurance commissioner and also takes this burden from the attorney general.

To Place Funds

Town and village boards have the power of designating in what banks the town or village funds shall be deposited, and the amount of security to be given by the banks, under a new law introduced by Assemblyman C. M. Grimstad, Dane county.

A law by Assemblyman F. J. Peterson will allow the Milwaukee common council to pay a salary to the board of fire and police commissioners, the members of which heretofore have served without pay. The council will fix the amount of pay to be given.

Another law makes a slight change in the manner in which the secretary of state's office handles details of preparing for elections. It was introduced at the request of the secretary of state, Fred Zimmerman.

Eliminates Dead Letters

J. C. Hanson, Dane county assemblyman, is the author of a bill which eliminates dead-letter matter in the statutes prescribing the duties of the dairy and food commissioners. These duties giving the commissioner the power of stenciling cheese, have been taken over by the marketing department.

A law by Herman Sachtjen, Dane County assemblyman, provides that in all counties except Milwaukee, the county treasurer must get an order from the county clerk before he can spend any county money. The law requires that "if no order is required to be presented by the person spending the money, in that case the county clerk must make out an order."

A. M. Warden, Washburn, is the author of a law which gives power to purchase sites for docks, to build and maintain such docks and to improve harbors, to town boards, in municipalities along navigable rivers. Such town boards by existing law are constituted "Dock and Harbor Boards", and this new enactment merely gives them power to carry out their projects.

Sam Scarlett, agitator for the Industrial Workers of the World and just out of Leavenworth prison, bought himself a first-class passage on the Cameronia when deported overseas. He is planning strikes at Glasgow and other British ports. It takes a lot of dues paid by lumberjacks, shovel stiffs and harvest hands to pay for travel in that style.

MISS BROWN WRITES HOME OF ENGLAND

MISS ALICE BROWN SPENDS EASTER VACATION IN SURREY. IS TEACHING IN VERSAILLES

By T. W. Y.

Visiting relatives in Surrey, England, Miss Alice Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Brown of this city, had a pleasant Easter vacation from her school duties at Versailles, France.

Of the channel trip Miss Brown writes her mother, under date of March 29: "The sea was good to us last Sunday and the channel was smooth and blue. The sun shone bright and warmed the fresh sea breeze a bit. For a wonder all three of us stayed up on deck all the way over. We left Paris at 10:35 a. m., reached Dieppe at 1:30, Newhaven about 4:30 and London 5:40 p. m. "The first sight of the rugged coast of England was glorious. We watched the horizon till we could see the thin blue line turn into a strip of golden brown as we approached it and could distinguish tall, steep cliffs with soft green fields, little checkered patches of land, dark clumps of trees and brown gorse and purple heather shading away in the distance."

Lovely English Gardens

Following description of her warm welcome from her relatives, who are residents of Chertsey, Surrey, Miss Brown gives description of English gardens. "There is," she writes, "a lovely English flower garden to every home in England. There is a walk from the back door (at her cousin's) which leads out among the trees, under little rose arbors to benches where one sits and chats and has tea. Yellow daffodils and blue scyllas are blooming everywhere now and the grass is that tender, soft spring green. Pink flowering almonds are blooming and gardens are perfumed with the smell of fruit blossoms. "Our cousin has a bicycle; nearly all the women ride bikes here. The English people like to walk much more than the French."

Abbey Dating 666

Here are paragraphs descriptive of her sight-seeing: "We went round and through Chertsey by several different roads. There is a wall and part of the old abbey where monks lived in 666. There is a quaint old church, with a square tower grown with ivy up to the top on all sides. In the little churchyard I saw the grave of Matthew Arnold and that of the Earl of Lucan, who is supposed to have given the wrong order in the 'Charge of the Light Brigade.' The Thames is beautiful and swans move slowly in and out among the water plants. The swans thrive here. It is an offense punishable by heavy fine and arrest to be caught taking their eggs. They are beautiful snowy white birds with jet black eyes and bill and long gracefully curved necks. They seem to glide along like a little old Roman barge without any motion on their own part.

"We walked along a winding country road, following the banks of the Thames, till we came to the locks where boats are lowered and then walked over an arched bridge back into Surrey. There are beautiful riding lanes here and I did so long for a horse or a car. It was here in Chertsey that the story of 'The Curfew Shall Not Ring Tonight' was staged. The original bell was taken from the old tower and is hanging now in the tower of the Episcopal Memorial church.

"That Yellow Tree's Shade" "In Hampton Court I first saw yew trees. They are blackish green with massive trunks of an old-rose color, making impressive silhouettes against the bright blue sky. There is a long arched avenue of trees where Anne Boleyn is said to have paced up and down when she was imprisoned at Hampton Court. We also saw the great wisteria vine which was planted by or before Henry VIII, and the grape vine planted in 1768."

SEHRT FILES SUIT TO RECOVER DAMAGES

Suits have been started in the county court against the St. Paul railway company by William T. Sehrt as executor of the will of Louisa Sehrt and by Mrs. Sehrt and the other occupants of the automobile which was demolished, to recover several thousand dollars damages on account of the death of Mrs. Sehrt, Sr., and for injuries sustained by the survivors of the fatal crossing accident which occurred near Menomonee Falls several months ago.

It is expected that the cases will be tried shortly; Lockney, Lowry & Baird represent the plaintiffs. Mrs. Sehrt was the widow of Conrad Sehrt, a veteran of the Civil war and one of the pioneers of the county. Both Mr. and Mrs. Sehrt will be well remembered by old residents.

TWO WITNESSES TESTIFY WATCH WAS GRASSO'S

BROTHER-IN-LAW AND NEPHEW OF GRASSO IDENTIFY PROPERTY AT THAT OF DEAD MAN

Testimony of two witnesses, in the preliminary hearing in the case of the State of Wisconsin vs. James Orlando and Paul Latta, was taken Friday, in municipal court, before Judge James E. Thomas, and a continuation was taken to Monday, May 14.

When the case was called this morning Attorney Don Malone, engaged by the defendants as counsel, and Attorney D. J. Hemlock, appointed by the court as their counsel, moved that a continuance be granted, inasmuch as the defense was not yet ready to proceed with the hearing.

Residents of Ohio

It developed, however, that two witnesses, for the state, relatives of the deceased Natalie Grasso, were anxious to return to their home in Canton, Ohio, and their testimony was taken at this time. The two witnesses, Antonio Orlando and Joseph Grasso, testified as to property taken from the defendants when arrested. Orlando was the first to take the stand, and stated that he was a brother-in-law of Natalie Grasso, the murdered man, and also a second cousin to James Orlando, one of the defendants. Orlando said that he and Natalie Grasso lived in the same city in Italy and that Grasso lived with him in Canton, Ohio, before coming to Waukesha a few weeks ago.

Two watches and a chain were offered in evidence by the state, and Orlando testified that he had seen them in Grasso's possession when the murdered man was a resident of Canton. A knife was also shown the witness, and when asked if Grasso had ever had such a knife he replied that Grasso had had one similar but could not swear that it was the same article. Objections by Attorney Malone were made during the examination by District Attorney A. D. Young, many of which were sustained by Judge Thomas.

Joseph Grasso was also called as a witness and testified, with the assistance of an interpreter. Grasso is a nephew of the murdered man and a residence of Canton, Ohio. The same exhibits were shown to the witness and his answers corroborated the testimony of Orlando, to the effect that he had seen the two watches and one of the watch chains in Grasso's vest pocket while the deceased was a resident of Ohio. The watches, chains and knife were found in the possession of the defendants at the time of their arrest.

Grasso and Orlando left this afternoon for Canton but will be subject to subpoena at the time of the trial providing the prisoners are bound over to the circuit court for trial.

HOLSTEINS WIN FIRST GAME; BEAT HARTLAND, 18 TO 2

The Waukesha County Holstein baseball team defeated Hartland on Sunday, at that place by a score of 18 to 2. Litt's pitching was a feature; he struck out twenty-three men and allowed but two hits, besides getting two three-baggers. Next Sunday, May 13, at the White Rock ball park the Holsteins will play their second league game, when they will meet the Merton team at 2:30. A large crowd is looked for and the public is invited to get out on Sunday and see a good game of baseball.

CONSTRUCTION DOUBLE TRACK IS UNDER WAY

ELECTRIC COMPANY BEGINS IMPROVEMENT WORK ON SUMMIT AND DELAFIELD AVENUES

Practically an all summer's job has been put under way when the construction of the double track on Delafield and Summit avenues last week. A gas shovel was started at the end of the single track at the point where the rails leave Summit avenue and turn northwest toward the Beach.

Engineers have staked out the street from this point to the corner of Delafield avenue and Madison street and their work will be completed when Madison street has been surveyed from this corner to the company's waiting station where the single track ends.

The shovel has already cleared out several hundred years of dirt at the end of Summit avenue and is working now toward the city. About seventy-five men are being employed in the work and this number will be increased as the work progresses.

George C. Dunn, this city, roadmaster of the company, has charge of the work and predicted that the construction would be completed within three or four months, depending entirely upon the weather and labor conditions.

"The work is progressing rapidly at present," said Mr. Dunn, "and we hope to have the work completed within a reasonable length of time. It is going to be a fine improvement for Waukesha and Highway No. 41. The dirt is being hauled away by trucks and sold to whoever asks for it, taking into consideration the length of the haul.

"I have as far as possible employed local men although it was necessary to bring in outsiders for some of the work. I made an effort to engage local trucks and truck men but was unable to secure them. The truck men are paid $3 an hour for ten hours' work a day."

A feature of the whole work is the camp laid out for the employes of the company. Erected on the old right-of-way which comes over the hill from St. Paul avenue are five well-built buildings. They are constructed after the style of the army cantonments with all modern conveniences.

The "bunk" houses are equipped with electric lights and steel double deckers. Mattresses, pillows and blankets are furnished by the company. A bath house has been built, including showers, and sinks to be used in washing clothes. A heater furnishes hot running water.

The mess hall is a duplicate of those in which "feasted" the Boys of '18. A large cooking range stands in the rear and two cooks were busy cooking doughnuts when a representative from the Freeman entered on Wednesday. Along the path that leads from the road to the quarters, electric lights have been installed and over the door of each building a fixture has been placed.

A sewer pipe is now being laid from the quarters toward St. Paul avenue where it will be connected with the city system. Mr. Dunn stated that he believes that the quarters were built to remain there for some time and to be used for construction gangs of the company.

"The company has provided everything for the convenience of its employes," said Mr. Dunn. "And everything is being done to make labor contented. It is a great contrast to the quarters of several years back when one had to enter through a box car door. The company believes, however, that its efforts will be repaid. The quarters cost the company close to $4,000."

PETER LERCH'S LEG IS BROKEN IN RUNAWAY

Peter Lerch, 203 N. East avenue, sustained a broken leg this morning when a horse, which he was driving became frightened when the carriage ran off the road while going down a steep hill, broke loose and ran away.

Mr. Lerch jumped from the carriage and as a result received a broken limb. The right leg was fractured just below the knee. The horse ran about a mile but was brought to a stop in the village of Big Bend. Mr. Lerch was riding alone. He was taken to his residence here where he will be forced to remain for several weeks.

Following adjournment at noon luncheon was served in the church dining room, out-of-town members being guests of members who reside in the city.

AFTERNOON'S SESSION

The history of the Waukesha schools, as presented by Supt. G. O. Banting at the afternoon session of the annual meeting of the Waukesha County Historical society, on Saturday, covered nearly ninety years of schools in Prairieville and Waukesha.

The first school established was in the middle thirties, only a short time after the first settlement here, in 1834. There are no records existing, so far as known, of the earliest schools, but the official records of the school districts as they were kept from year to year, and as they were recently extracted from the dust of long ago, date back nearly seventy years.

Mr. Banting gave the names of all principals of the local schools up to the present time, and the salaries of all the earlier ones beginning with $3.50 per week. He also gave data concerning the erection of all the school buildings and much other pertinent data. It will be printed in full in a future issue of the Freeman.

Another paper of exceptional value presented at the meeting was entitled, "Brookfield Center in the Days of the Civil War," by George E. Robinson of Oconomowoc. Mr. Robinson came to Brookfield as a lad of six years of age, in 1861. He gave a list of the families of the vicinity as he remembered them and the location of their farms. He recalled the young men of the neighborhood who went into the army and named several who gave their lives for their country. He recalled a great battle between two sets of boys, at Brookfield Heights, and related interesting incidents of the stirring days of the sixties, in Brookfield, then and later a Democratic stronghold. Mr. Robinson's paper will also be printed in a future number of The Freeman.

A number of fine musical numbers gave additional charm to the meeting. Harvey Boortz gave an organ solo, Mrs. Hawley led in singing "America" and played accompaniments, Mrs. Evangeline Olson sang several numbers and Mrs. T. Arthur Dungan gave a violin solo and an obligato for one of Mrs. Olson's. Each of these numbers was artistically rendered and greatly enjoyed by the large audience present.

J. H. A. Lacher offered to donate a gold medal as a prize for the best essay of some local historical topic, by a high school student of Waukesha county, the conditions of the contest to be worked out in conjunction with school officials. A resolution of greetings to Mrs. Helen A. Whitney was unanimously adopted, Mrs. Whitney not being able to be present. A number of new members were received into the society. A letter from Peter G. Reynolds of Portland, Ore., giving reminiscences of the old Stockman school house in Mukwonago township had been received by the president and was read by Mr. Lacher. It appears below.

An invitation to hold the September meeting of the society, at Oconomowoc, was received and will probably be accepted.

Mr. Reynolds' Paper

The following interesting document was sent to the editor of The Freeman and was not prepared for the Waukesha County Historical society, however, as it seemed to be so timely as a contribution at the meeting Saturday, it was reserved for that purpose.

The game was played by placing Half the children on each side, Rolling the ball over the roof, As all "Keely Over" cried;

And if by chance one caught it They sneaked around and threw And soaked you on the coco, Thus eliminating you.

Some scholars had a nickname, And it gave all keen delight To call it,—from a distance; Such as Cathead or Big Knight.

There was Blucher and Buckshot And Fathead, John C., But it was a boy named Gunnie That hung a name on me.

Three score years have passed since I first attended the old log school built at a crossroads in Mukwonago township. I often think over those early days and wonder how many of the boys and girls that walked miles through all kinds of weather to obtain the rudiments of an education, are still surviving.

My first teacher was Mary Ann Carney, and although there were others, such as the first impressions of youth that she has lingered longest and tenderest in my memory.

The first winter term I attended was the last for many of the older scholars, as they had reached an age when they could help on the farms (for all were farmers' boys and girls); healthy and strong, and capable of giving needed assistance.

Herewith is a list of those who attended the Log School my first winter, as my memory serves me: Blackburn, William and Henry; Curnahan, William, James, Thomas and Susan; Finnegan, Charles, Alice and Kate; Flannigan, Valentine, Mary and Alice; Hardy, Dinah, Cynthia, William and Henry; Hasler, Mary Jane and Henry; Howard, Charles, Benjamin and Mary Jane; Knight, Wilson, Henry and Henrietta; Mockett, Henry, John and Eliza; Parsons, Avis and Elbridge; Wachendorf, Henry and Mary Jane.

Mary Ann Carney was a sister of P. H. Carney, at one time judge of the probate court, also editor of the Waukesha County Democrat. The children all loved her and would obey her slightest wish. She was not only a highly educated woman, but also cultured. The Carneys lived on the Point road, about 2 miles east of our farm, and when, in the morning, I saw my teacher coming over Scanlon hill, I knew it was time to wash my hands and get my hair combed and meet her at our gate. I understand she has since passed away.

May the souls of my old schoolmates who have since departed this life, forever rest in peace.

Accompanying the above was a penciled outline map of the Stockman school district as it was 60 years ago, and upon this was indicated the locations of the pioneer log cabins.

Mr. Reynolds promises some future reminiscences of his boyhood, in which he will indicate the location of Indian trails along which he hunted as a lad.

GEO. BOTELER'S CAR STOLEN ON SATURDAY

The five-passenger Buick touring car of George Boteler was stolen Saturday evening about 7:45 o'clock while it was parked in front of his residence corner of Maple avenue and Carroll street. Mr. Boteler had but recently arrived at his home and contemplating using the machine before he retired, he did not put it in the garage.

At the time it was stolen he was sitting close to the front window reading a paper, but he stated Monday, that he neither heard nor saw the car being driven away. The license number is 83022, and the car was insured. It was purchased last November.

TWENTY-THREE CITIZENS IN GROUP LET IN

APPLICANTS RECEIVED MONDAY IN CIRCUIT COURT. ONE DENIED ADMISSION

With simple and impressive ceremony twenty-three applicants were admitted to full citizenship in the United States at a session of the circuit court at which Judge C. M. Davison presided and which was attended by many interested visitors.

Beside the ceremony conducted by the judge, a brief program had been arranged by the citizenship committee of the Municipal league of which Mrs. J. K. Lowry is chairman and the other members of which are the Meses. A. L. Blackstone, J. B. Noble, A. L. Lathrop, Frank Bostwick and Ross Wilbur.

After the ceremony Judge Davison addressed the new citizens as follows:

Judge Makes Address

"You have now received the most precious gift that any nation may bestow. You have been clothed with the citizenship of a free nation, you are now Americans. You have taken a solemn oath to cast aside all former allegiances and to become loyal citizens of America. Let the full significance of that oath sink deep into your hearts.

"Here today highly resolve that you will ever stand steadfast in the cause of good government, that never will you take the law into your own hands, but that at all times, and even with your lives, if need be, you will uphold the dignity and the majesty of the law. Resolve that you will educate yourselves and that you will educate your children in the way of this government, and that you will become useful, noble citizens of a Christian nation.

Cherish the Flag

"On this day you have been presented with an American flag; it is a symbol of power, justice, equality and mercy. It has never been unfurled in an unrighteous cause. It has never been furled in defeat. It stands before the world, honored and respected. Take this flag to your home, not to fear it, but to love it. Place it in some sacred spot where as you gaze upon it, as the years go by, your devotion to your country may be strengthened and renewed. Preserve it as long as you live as a remembrance of this solemn day, and pass it on to your children, the most precious heirloom you possess, a blessing and a benediction.

Twenty-three Admitted

"And now that your new found citizenship may be blessed with sacred and solemn dignity, we will all sing together our national hymn, America."

Of the twenty-four who appeared in the courtroom as petitioners for citizenship, all but one were admitted. That one, Carl Oscar Olson, was denied because his witness had known him but four years while it is necessary for the witness to swear that he has known the one for whom he vouches at least five years. The list of those admitted follows:

Anton Wagner, Evan Roberts, Joseph Anthony Hasler, Louis Vagalman, Alex Chatos, Joseph Juettner, Jacob Schmidt, Josef Santary, Antonio Cattarozzo, Frank Joseph Olbricht, Herman Julius Born, Ferdinand Thlenfeld, Marie Hockstra, William Smith, Paul Edward Postsch, Reinhold Frederick Krueger, William Hughes, Peter Nissen, Fred Mierow, Bernard Klug, Carlo Bruni, Otto Bell, Antonio Guiseppi.

One of the applicants was a woman native of Holland.

The nationalities of applicants included Welsh, Canadian, German, Russian, Austrian, Dutch and Italian, the German predominating.

Forgot Child's Name

Some amusing incidents occurred during the examination by the federal officer. One of the applicants could not recall the name of the youngest member of the family, a child a few months old.

At least three of four of those admitted were advised by Judge Davison to attend the night school, to subscribe to a newspaper printed in the English language and to read it. He also urged them to make use of every opportunity to learn more about this government and its institutions.

Women Attended

Perhaps a score of women representing most of the women's organizations in the city, attended and were keenly interested in the proceedings and in the very impressive program which followed. About thirty pupils from Grade 9A, Waukesha High school, under the direction of Miss Marie Wittwer, took part in this program which consisted of a most fitting address by Judge Davison, the reading of an essay in answer to the question, "What is a citizen?" by Richard Hunter, and the recitation in concert of the American creed by the class. Each newly admitted citizen was presented with an American flag. These were distributed by Malcolm Brewer and Sidney Shepherd. The program closed with the singing of America in which the pupils led.
