IN AND ABOUT TOWN.

Jerome H. Pitcher is sick at Jericho. Frank Kloppenburg, Sr., is getting better. He is in a Milwaukee hospital.

Charles Graydon and family of Chicago were at the Commercial Hotel last week.

Mrs. Ed. Lins is very sick. The East Troy post office was entered by burglars Tuesday morning and robbed it of change in the drawer. An effort was made to enter the safe by drilling but the burglars were evidently frightened away. They made their way to Burlington with Ed Rohleder's fast roadster. Over in Waukesha county one trial would do and we hope the burglars will be caught and punished.

Mrs. E. Mayhew and Miss Enola Burton visited Miss Ella Blwer at Jericho Wednesday.

The Pitcher-Bradley threshing machine is at Will Burton's to-day.

Mrs. Clara Brimmer, wife of Edward Ely, died Friday at her home east of Eagle. Mrs. Ely was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arrin Brimmer of Mukwonago, was of a genial disposition and much loved by all. The funeral occurred from the family residence Sunday afternoon, Rev. C. Caspar officiating. Interment was at Jericho. Wm. H. Burton, Frank B. Thomas, H. W. Bradley, M. W. Bovee, Hy Onyon and B. A. Pitcher acted as pall bearers. Deceased leaves surviving her husband and three children, Mary, Bessie and Ruth. Her untimely death is universally mourned here. We extend our sympathy.

Last Sunday a number from here went to Zion church to attend the funeral of the son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Piper of Darien, former residents of Zion.

On Monday afternoon during a very high wind an exciting race was sailed on Eagle Lake. Just before the race Stillman's boat dropped out as the wind was too strong and Perry's boat was dumped. Ellis' boat won with Dodman's a close second. As there were only two boats in the race Dodman's boat did very well in finishing second. As the Perry boat tipped over Yewdale was caught under the sail but owing to the presence of mind of Ruth Perry he was saved from a watery grave. The boat was completely wrecked and will have to be rigged anew.

A game of base ball was played last Sunday afternoon in the village of East Troy between the little Prairie nine and one from this place. At the start the game was close and up to the eighth inning it was hard to say who would win but the Little Prairie boys succeeded in getting in seven scores to our boys one, thus winning easily. The nine from this place played well all through the game but were short of good batters and hence they failed to get the required number of scores to beat their opponents.

WONDER OF 1904

Mysterious and Interesting Sights at the World's Fair.

STRANGER THAN LILIPUTIAN LAND.

Buried River, Talking Doll, Baby Railroad, Floral Clock, and Hundreds of Other Novel Features.

St. Louis, Aug. 11.—Somewhere in Africa there is a large lake of clear water into which several rivers are constantly emptying, but which never overflows, although there is no visible outlet. Those who have visited the place say that a subterranean passage probably provides an escape, and that on very still days they have heard a roar like that of a distant cataract, and they believe the sound is caused by the rush of water through this mysterious channel.

Something like this has attracted a great deal of attention at the World's Fair grounds at St. Louis, and will attract much more when visitors are arriving by the hundreds of thousands. There will be no lake in sight, but there will be a hidden river, and if the crowd only remains still long enough you will hear the roar beneath your feet; if not, you can make out the sound distinctly by pressing your ear to the ground at certain points which the guides will indicate.

If you wish to see this river, before it makes a plunge into the dark channel under the World's Fair City, go to the north side of The Pike and then, on a day after a heavy rain, you will see it tossing and foaming as it tumbles into what resemble great jaws of wood, then disappearing from view. Would you like to see it again? Then walk along that roadway, which bends like a bow, and which will take you between the main buildings, and in fifteen or twenty minutes you will reach the eastern limits of the site, where the water will be seen once more tossing and foaming as it escapes from its buried passage-way. It is now flowing into Forest Park, and will wind around the southern part of St. Louis until it reaches the Mississippi.

This river has made a mysterious underground stream by the work of man. It flowed through the grounds where the World's Fair is situated long before anyone ever thought of celebrating the Louisiana Purchase, yes long before white men ever came to Missouri. It was a very crooked stream, flowing east, north and south, and when the directors had decided upon the exposition site, the men who were engaged to erect the buildings were in despair and cried out, "Why, that river will wash away all our foundations!"

So a number of engineers were called upon to decide what was the best to do, and their verdict was that the river des peres—for that is its name, meaning the river of our fathers—must be put underground. This then was the first work done on the exposition grounds, and it cost nearly $120,000 to build the huge aqueduct and divert the stream from its natural channel. It was work that does not show, and you wouldn't have known anything about it if somebody hadn't told, but now that you do, just listen, after a heavy rain, and hear the roar of the waters or go to the place I have mentioned and see the swirling current leap in and out the wooden mouths.

Can flowers tell the time of day? To be sure they can, and they are going to do so in two years at the first great fair next year. In the first place there is to be a great floral clock on the grounds, one that is a hundred feet in diameter. The face of this clock will be of flowers that grow close to the soil; the numerals will be of flowers of a different color, that are higher, and the hands will be of creeping vines. While you stand and watch you will see the vine-clusters that represents the minute hand slowly move as it sweeps around the large dial, and if patient enough you may see the hour hand move also. What's the trick? you will ask. Well, it is very simple. Those vines which form the hands grow from long, shallow boxes which are supported on steel frames, and these frames are connected by ingenious mechanism with clock work—which is within that ivy covered tower over there. Watch now! It is eleven o'clock. See, the door in the tower swings open, and reveals shining wheels, huge weights and a swinking pendulum. Listen! What a sweet-sounding bell that is, sounding the hour in musical notes that can be heard all over the grounds. The door closes again, the tower, seemingly a mass of ivy, is silent, the great green hands continue their journey—all the machinery hidden by the leaves and petals.

But the second way in which the flowers tell the time? You have doubtless watched morning glories open soon after sunrise, and have noticed how regular they are, coming out of their sleep at the same hour every day. Naturalists have found in different parts of the world flowers that open at different hours, and specimens of these have been gathered for the World's Fair at St. Louis, where they are so arranged in little beds, opposite the numerals, that when the vines covered hands point at certain hour the flowers nearby will open. And thus they will continue to open from early morning until late at night, when a wonderful lily of the Amazon, that has lain dormant while the sun was shining, spreads her long white petals in the shadows and gives forth a delicious perfume.

Come now, children. Step this way, and we can easily imagine ourselves on the Island of Lilliput, made famous in Gulliver's Travels. But it is a Lilliput up to date, and there is a tiny railroad train—so small that one could almost pick up the locomotive—running on wee rails that look like narrow steel bands. But they stretch away and away and curve in and out. Toot! toot! toot! What a baby whistle! Let us take a seat. Yes, there's plenty of room, even for the grown-ups, because the cars have been built wide, even if they are very low. There is only one in a seat, and away we go the bell clanking and the baby locomotive snorting and puffing just like a big locomotive does. Whew! but we are moving fast! There is a good deal of power in that little engine. Along and along, around a curve, then another; there is a grating sound, and we stop by the side of a station. Why, it's like a doll's house, but it contains a ticket office and waiting rooms, and in front is a semaphore signal. "We're on a side track!" you exclaim, and then, rounding a curve, perhaps fifty feet away, you see another Lilliputian train coming toward you.

It's too bad they didn't have these trains in Gulliver's day. Then they wouldn't have had to hitch up two thousand horses in order to drag him into the city, from the place where he was thrown on the beach.

Many of you have, of course, heard a doll say "ma-ma, ma-ma," and you have all doubtless seen dolls that can open and shut their eyes. But they are making a doll for the World's Fair that will talk an entire sentence to you. Won't it seem strange to have one of those waxen-faced, fluff-haired creations open its red lips and say, "I'm pretty well, thank you. How are you?"

But more than that, they are going to show you how dolls are made. There is to be a doll factory on the grounds, and you will learn just how, by a system of bellows, the dolls are made to imitate the human voice, and how they open and close their eyes, and move their arms and legs.

It will be so with everything at this exposition. You are to be shown how things are made—your lead pencil will be made before your eyes, from strips of cedar and a piece of graphite. Your geography? Yes, men will be at work setting type to print the book, and others will be drawing and coloring the maps.

How often at a matinee you have wondered if that is real lightning you have seen on the stage, and if that is real thunder that has boomed from the wings; and you have wondered if the fire dancers didn't get badly burned. At the Louisiana Purchase Exposition you will be given a view behind the curtain, and will see how stage lightning is made, how the noise of thunder is imitated, how wind is produced, and how snow is let fall from above, as it does during the first act of "The Two Orphans."

But talking of snow, how pleasing it will be to see the white flakes falling in the months of July and August, and to see them without having to take a trip near the poles. That's another treat which St. Louis has in store, and in the same building where one can see this midwinter storm there will be the largest artificial ice skating rink in the world.

Mentioning the weather, there's a man who is preparing an illusion for The Pike, where one can go through a cyclone and not be hurt.

The Pike—and this is the name for the concessions street, which in Chicago was called the Midway Plaisance—will be a most wonderful place, showing something from every country in the world, a Japanese tea garden beside an Alpine village and a Mohammedan temple near a Chinese pagoda.

Did you ever hear of "Hardscrabble"? The name is familiar, is it not? That was the farm where Ulysses S. Grant lived long before he became commander-in-chief of the Union armies. The general was not a very good farmer, and perhaps that is why he gave this name to his home, as he was trying to support his family in St. Louis county by cultivating corn and potatoes. You will be able to see "Hardscrabble" at the Fair, for the house has been moved from the spot where it was built to within the site, and the grounds around it have been arranged as were the grounds around the old homestead, even to the flower bed in front of the front door where Fred Grant—now in turn a general in the army—used to pull weeds from between the paeonies.

Think of seeing the Mount of Olives and other sights that one travels thousands of miles to view in the Holy Land! A million dollars is being expended to make a perfect reproduction of Jerusalem within the World's Fair enclosure, and it is promised that everything—buildings, streets, hills and rivers—will be faithfully presented, even persons and animals coming from the Holy City to give life to the scene.

Save the Children.

Ninety-nine of every one hundred diseases that children have are due to disorders of the stomach, and these disorders are all caused by indigestion. Kodal Dyspepsia Cure is just good for children as it is for adults. Children thrive on it. It keeps their little stomachs sweet and encourages their growth and development. Mrs. Henry Carter, 705 Central St., Nashville, Tenn., says: "My little boy is now three years old and has been suffering from indigestion ever since he was born. I have had the best doctors in Nashville, but failed to do him any good. After using one bottle of Kodal he is a well baby. I recommend it to all sufferers." Kodal digests what you eat and makes the stomach sweet. Sold by A. C. Estberg.

PROSPECT POSTOFFICE AGAIN.

New Berlin Pioneer Makes Correction in Data Lately Printed.

Alec and William McLeod of Vernon were in town Saturday on their way to the Scotch picnic in Milwaukee. The gentlemen are pioneers of the county, having come to the town of New Berlin in 1844. Mr. Alec McLeod stated to a representative of The Freeman that there were a number of errors in the obituary notice of the postoffice of Prospect, recently printed in this paper.

Mr. McLeod states that when he came to the county in 1844, there was no postoffice at Prospect, but people in the vicinity got their mail at the New Berlin office, which was on the old Monroe farm in the eastern part of the town, and P. V. Monroe was postmaster.

The next postmaster was F. M. Putney, father of Col. F. H. Putney of this city. The office was at that time a mile east of the hill, near what is now the Orth farm. Next in order as representative of Uncle Sam's mail service was N. T. Loomis and the office was located near the present Catholic church.

Then a petition was circulated to have an office located on the hill, to be known as Prospect Hill, and this petition was granted. Daniel Church was the first postmaster of the Prospect Hill office and had the office in his dwelling house. In a few years Mr. McLeod was appointed and moved the office to his tavern on the four corners. Later Mr. Church was appointed again, and moved it to his store, and after him came T. S. Winton, who held the office nearly a quarter of century.

Mr. McLeod states that there was an office called Muskego Mills, in an early day, located near Hale's pond, but that it could not be properly called a predecessor of the Prospect office.

MARRIED AT THIRTEEN.

Milwaukee Girl, Camping at Pewau, Kee, Eloped with Gypsy.

Kittie Reynolds, aged 13, and Alexander Williamson, a gypsy, were married in Milwaukee one day last week. Kittle had been camping with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Winfield Reynolds of Milwaukee, at Pewaukee lake, and Williamson was with his band in the vicinity. The couple eloped and were married by special dispensation in Milwaukee, the girl claiming she was 18 years of age.

Before it was known that the couple were married, the parents applied to the county authorities here for a warrant for the arrest of Williamson, on the charge of abduction, but it seemed best to have the matter handled in Milwaukee county. The warrant was issued and Williamson and the girl were found near Racine.

Many persons in this community are suffering from kidney complaint who could avoid fatal results by using Foley's Kidney Cure.

FUN FOR WOODMEN

Annual Picnic at Waukesha Beach August 27th.

MANY THOUSAND EXPECTED.

Program of Games, Music, Speeches, Etc., Will Make Jolly Day. Congressman Stafford to Speak.

The Modern Woodmen of Waukesha county will picnic at Waukesha Beach Thursday, August 27. There are 900 members of the order in the county, they will bring their wives and children, and a special invitation is extended to the farmers of the county, so that an attendance counting well up into the thousands is expected. There being no county fair this year, it is hoped the farmers will take the picnic for the holiday and will attend in large numbers.

At the first of the annual picnics, held two years ago at the Beach, a crowd of 7,000 persons was present. Last year the affair was held at Oconomowoc, but the place was not quite so accessible, so the attendance was not so large. This year there is every reason for expecting an immense turnout.

The picnic will be an all-day affair and will be continued into the evening, when there will be dancing. It will be a basket picnic, everybody being expected to bring their own dinner. There will be music, a series of games for prizes, speeches and all the other features that go to make up pleasures for the people.

Arrangements are not yet fully completed for the program, but Congressman W. H. Stafford of Milwaukee has promised to be present and give an address, and it is hoped that the Hon. H. A. Northcott, lieutenant governor of Illinois, who was formerly at the head of the national organization of Modern Woodmen, will attend and speak. There will also probably be other speakers.

Music in plenty is promised for the day. The Woodmen's band of this city, one of the Newsboys' bands from Milwaukee, and the Woodman bands at Sussex and Hartland are expected.

The committee in charge of the arrangements consists of ex-Alderman Philip Kiehl of this city, ex-Mayor Agnew of Oconomowoc, and H. M. Loibl of Eagle. Sub committees have been appointed as follows:

Music—C. Hassinger, Hartland; Weaver, Templeton; C. S. Jacques, Delafield.

Games—W. E. Stephens, Waukesha; S. Severson, North Lake; H. M. Loibl, Eagle.

Grandstand and Refreshments—J. Chisholm, Mukwonago; B. Vanderpool, Delafield; James Templeton, Sussex.

Speakers—D. W. Agnew, Oconomowoc; C. E. Armin, Waukesha.

Advertising—D. W. Agnew, Oconomowoc; Dr. C. M. Crane, C. E. Armin, Waukesha.

The Modern Woodmen is said to be the largest order of its kind in this country, having a membership of 700,000. It has been in existence about twenty years. The first lodge in this country was established some sixteen years ago. Its membership is largely in the country and until recently people living in large cities were not eligible to it. Recently however certain large cities which are said to be healthful have been admitted. Milwaukee among them.

There are now thirteen camps of Modern Woodmen in this county, one each at Mukwonago, Prospect, Brookfield, Pewaukee, Hartland, Stone Bank, Delafield, Eagle, Genesee, Oconomowoc, Sussex, Menomonee and the city of Waukesha.

The camps of Milwaukee and Jefferson counties are invited to attend the picnic.

HAY FEVER ABOLISHED
Relief for This Malady Discovered by Medical Science—Breathe Hyomei.

Among the important additions made to medical science in recent years, none is more notable than the positive announcement of a cure for hay fever.

While this disease is not regarded as fatal, it is certainly a most distressing malady, and if anything can be devised to cure it, a great boon will be conferred upon the human race.

Exhaustive experiments with Hyomei prove that this treatment will prevent all attacks of hay fever if used two or three weeks before the annual appearance of the disease and that it may be relied upon if used faithfully after the disease has begun, to relieve at once and afford a speedy cure.

Dunlap & Williams have sold hundreds of Hyomei outfits for the treatment of diseases of the respiratory organs under the agreement to refund the money if Hyomei did not afford relief.

In selling Hyomei for the cure of hay fever they will continue this equitable plan, and want all who are subject to this distressing malady to begin its use at once, with the understanding that if it does not give satisfaction, the purchase price is to be refunded.

Stomach dosing cannot cure hay fever. A change of climate is the only treatment that has heretofore aborted an attack, and Hyomei, which is breathed through a neat pocket inhaler coming with every outfit, acts upon this principle, giving in your own home a climate like that of the White Mountains or other health resorts.

Congressman Stafford in Town.
Hon. Wm. H. Stafford was at Waukesha on Saturday for a few hours. He is taking a good deal of interest in the assets banking question just now, and it is apparent that he is prepared to adopt a conservative course with respect to the proposed plan for making the currency "elastic." He was in consultation with Mr. Frame while in town.

SUICIDE OF MRS. HENRY GLOVER.

She Was Formerly Marie Gordon, a Belle of Montgomery, Ala.

A Chicago dispatch dated last Sunday gives the particulars of the suicide of Mrs. Henry Glover, at that city. Mrs. Glover is reported to have visited Waukesha early this season. The account of her suicide is as follows:

"Attiring herself in her most fashionable clothes, arranging her blonde hair in a graceful coiffure, and attending to all details of her toilet as carefully as though she were going for a drive on the boulevard, she gave a final look in the mirror at her fading beauty, and aimed the revolver at her heart.

The bullet entered her lung, and she waited fully two minutes to note the effect. Then resolutely she aimed again, and again a bullet penetrated the lung, lower down, but still not near enough to the heart to cause instant death. She will die.

The woman came to Chicago from Waukesha Wis., June 30, registered at the Auditorium, and began playing the races in company with William Lytle of Nashville. Last Friday night they were at a resort at 2016 Dearborn street, when the man shot a negro porter, Jacob Smith, who is now in a hospital, and the two hastily called a cab and drove away.

Evidences of revenge on the part of some one now appears. A letter was received yesterday by Police Captain O'Brien of the Twenty-second street station, written in feminine characters and unsigned. The writer said that the man and woman implicated in the shooting of the negro were Lytle and a woman named Mrs. Yaeger from Tennessee, and that they were staying in room 212 of the Auditorium. Detectives went to the hotel, only to find that the woman in that room had tried to kill herself.

Investigation among Waukesha hotels makes it appear improbable that the lady came to Waukesha, as reported.

FORMER RESIDENTS HERE.

Among the number are Mrs. Earnest Perry of Iowa, who is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Conrad; Mrs. Charles Bryden of Berlin, who is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. ## Served With Captain Bennett.

Waterford Post: A former old-time resident of Waterford in the person of Mr. Chas. Willard, of London, England, greeted boyhood friends here one day last week. His father was Victor Willard, one of the pioneers of the early township and prominent in the early settlement days, and the members of the family are still well and pleasantly remembered by our older citizens. Charley Willard grew to manhood's estate in Waterford and worked his way through school. At the breaking out of the Civil war he enlisted and served as a lieutenant in Capt. Bennett's company which was recruited in Waterford and Muskego. At the close of the war he remained in the south where he married and took a prominent part during the reconstruction period and later became interested in the development and construction of railroads in the south. He has met with unqualified success and now, as vice-president of one of the big trunk lines, has headquarters in London, where he has lived the past sixteen years. Mr. Willard was accompanied on his brief visit here by his sister, Mrs. Julia Vincent.

Was Not Coroner Hill.

Last week some of the Milwaukee papers contained paragraphs indicating there had been some neglect on the part of the coroner of this county, Charles Hill, in giving notice to the sheriff of the murder of Mrs. Henry Peske. As Coroner Hill had nothing to do with the case, he naturally does not enjoy the circulation of the reports. As is well-known, justices of the peace are authorized to perform the duties of coroner in some instances and it so happened that this course was pursued in the Peske case, and this accounts for the fact that the erroneous statement was made that the coroner had neglected his duty in the case in question. Justice John Ingersoll, who did perform the duties of coroner in the Peske murder case, claims he called up the sheriff's office before the inquest was held, and was told that notice had already been received.

Experience.

Experience teaches nothing more forcibly than it teaches this: If you get tired easily, if you are upset by trifles, if your appetite is poor, your sleep broken the best thing you can do is to take Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Experience recommends this medicine in this superlative way—what better recommendation could it have? Such of our readers are not being benefited by their vacation and should not delay taking this tonic.

RUSSIAN CONSUL MURDERED.

Macedonia Witnesses Second Murder of a Russian Representative Within a Year. Great Insurance Expected.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 10.—The assassination of the Russian consul at Monastir, M. Rostkovski, the second murder of a Russian consular official in Macedonia within a few months, has created intense indignation here. The Russian ambassador at Constantinople telegraphed: "The Russian consul at Monastir has fallen the victim of an atrocious crime. The grand vizier and the Turkish foreign minister have come to me with expressions of regret in the name of the sultan. Ferid Pasha, the grand vizier, informed me that the assassin was a gendarme, named Halim, and that he will be subjected to the severest punishment and the veil of Monastir will be removed from his post.

In reply Count Lamsdorff telegraphed to the ambassador as follows: "When I submitted your telegram to the emperor his majesty gave orders that you should not confine yourself to receiving explanations from the grand vizier but should make the most energetic demands on the Turkish government for full satisfaction and immediate and exemplary punishment both of the murderer and of all the military and civil officials on whom responsibility for the atrocious crime may fall."

Constantinople, Aug. 10.—The murder of the Russian consul M. Rostkovski has caused intense excitement here, and is the sole topic of conversation in the streets, cafes and public places. The incident is bound to considerably aggravate the already serious situation in Macedonia.

Practically the whole country north of Monastir is in revolt. The Turkish official reports state that fresh bands of revolutionaries in considerable numbers have crossed the frontier from Bulgaria during the last few days. The local Bulgarian officials, however, deny this, and declare that the strictest watch is being kept along the frontier.

Belgrade, Aug. 10.—According to the latest reports received here regarding the murder of the Russian consul at Monastir M. Rostkovski abused the Turkish gendarme who was doing sentry duty for not saluting him and called him a "pig of a Turk."

Then he struck the sentry with his whip, saying, "Next time, perhaps, you will know me." The gendarme, thereupon, fired on the consul.

BRIEF NEWS PARAGRAPHS.

Nine persons have died and seven others are fatally injured, and fully 150 seriously hurt Saturday by the fall of a walk overhanging the left field bleachers at the Philadelphia National League baseball park.

Wisconsin merchants and others to the number of several hundred have been called to meet in Milwaukee Sept. 8 for the discussion of plans for the organization of the new body to be known as the Merchants and Manufacturers' Association of Wisconsin. The meeting will be held in the rooms of the University building. The visitors will come during state fair week and an effort will be made to entertain them in a manner commensurate with the cordial reception they gave the merchants of Milwaukee on the annual tour.

There retired from official service in the navy Monday one of the most heroic and unique characters that has ever been connected with the service. For sixteen years Admiral Melville has held the office of engineer in chief of the navy. He has done more to break up the medieval traditions and customs of the sailing age that dominated the navy than any dozen individuals within or without the service. His career has been a strenuous one from the day he entered the naval service, but particularly from the time he became chief of the bureau of steam engineering has his forceful and resourceful nature asserted itself.

The action of the stock market Monday seems to indicate the return of confidence and that at an early date. The men who have been sinking their millions into stocks and have watched prices go down and down, making new records weekly, seemed determined to stop this disastrous raid. It was feared by some that failures would follow another decline, but the sheets all passed the clearing house and there was great relief. Money quotations stood well and there seemed plenty at rates within reach of all.

Dragging Pains

2325 Keeley St., CHICAGO, ILL., Oct., 2, 1902.

I suffered with falling and congestion of the womb, with severe pains through the groins. I suffered terribly at the time of menstruation, had blinding headaches and rushing of blood to the brain. What to try I knew not, for it seemed that I had tried all and failed, but I had never tried Wine of Cardui, that blessed remedy for sick women. I found it pleasant to take and soon knew that I had the right medicine. New blood seemed to course through my veins and after using eleven bottles I was a well woman.

Mrs. Bush is now in perfect health because she took Wine of Cardui for menstrual disorders, bearing down pains and blinding headaches when all other remedies failed to bring her relief. Any sufferer may secure health by taking Wine of Cardui in her home. The first bottle convinces the patient she is on the road to health.
