It is Easy to be a "Nobody."

It is the easiest thing in the world to be a "nobody." All that is necessary is to do nothing, or to be like the boy who, when questioned by his father as to why he had resigned his position as clerk in a store, replied, "The work was too hard; I am looking for something easy."

Look for a "soft snap" Don't get up in the morning until you feel like it. Don't go to work until you are obliged to. Don't put yourself out to meet engagements: Never mind if you miss a train, or if you are an hour late at your work.

If you are at school, don't trouble about preparing your lessons. "Crib" whenever you can, cheat as often as possible, and get the best of your teacher whenever you see a chance, and your progress in the desired direction will be assured.

If you are in college, never mind about a scholarship; the main thing is to slide through. You can employ a tutor at the close of each term and "cram" for the examination. Have "a good time," and never bother about results; they will take care of themselves.

Do not try to do things as well as you can; any way will do. If you are sawing a board, do not exert yourself to saw it straight. If you start to make a sled or a bookcase, never mind about completing it; or, if you do, put it together anyhow. Half done, botched work is just the thing for "nobodies."—O. S. Marden, in Success.

THE THIRD VICTIM

Colgate Fire Claims Edna Manthey, Aged Three.

VILLAGE STUNNED BY CALAMITY

No Store There Now. Station Agent Moves Away. Others Likely to Follow This Example.

Edna Manthey, aged 3 years, died early Saturday morning as a result of injuries received in the disastrous fire at Colgate on the night of Dec. 7. She is the third victim to succumb. The little body was laid at rest in Milwaukee on Saturday afternoon, an inquest being deemed unnecessary.

The five surviving children and Mrs. Manthey, all of whom received injuries of a more or less serious nature, are gaining in health, as rapidly as could be expected and it is not believed that any more deaths will result. Edna Manthey is in the most critical condition. She incurred three broken ribs and a fractured collar bone while endeavoring to get out of the burning building.

The charred remains of Hadwig, the girl who was cremated in the flames while trying to open the door down stairs, the key to which was afterwards found in Mr. Manthey's pocket, were enclosed in the same coffin as bore the body of her father. A large concourse of neighbors followed the hearse to the grave in Wanderers' Rest cemetery, Milwaukee, and as the group stood around the crepe-draped casket, chilled by the raw wind which moaned through the leafless trees, the tears which rolled unrestrained down the faces of these true and steadfast friends of the deceased, were sufficient evidence of the love and respect with which he was regarded by the residents of Colgate and the vicinity.

The inquest on Mr. Manthey was held here Monday morning, but developed no new facts regarding the origin of the fire. Cora Neeb, the domestic, testified that she was the first to be awakened by the smoke and after going down stairs and finding the door locked, she went back and woke the other members of the family. Mr. Manthey started down stairs without the key, and after he had returned to his room, and secured it, it was too late and they were compelled to jump. From the number and character of the injuries on Mr. Manthey's body it is presumed that he had not jumped when the explosion occurred in the store, and he was thrown against the building by its force; he probably then fell to the ground head first, fracturing his spinal column. The verdict of the jury was that "Max Manthey was killed while trying to escape from his home, which was on fire, by jumping from the second story window, fracturing his neck and receiving other injuries by his fall, which resulted in his death."

The disaster will have a lasting effect on the little hamlet over which a veritable pall of gloom and despair has been cast by the shock of three violent deaths occurring in such a terrible manner. The village is now without a single store or business place of any character excepting the hotels, and an exodus of the residents has been foretold by some of the most pessimists. Farmers who were accustomed to trade at Mr. Manthey's store are now seeking some other place to make their purchases and it will probably be several years before any one rebuilds the store and gets a business established as firmly as was the case before the fire. Already the station agent, George Wain, has tendered his resignation to the railroad company and he and his wife will move from the town this week. Others have threatened a similar move and altogether the affair will have an effect beyond the sorrow occasioned by the loss of a dear friend and neighbor. The postoffice inspector visited the village last week and established a temporary office in the residence of John Metz, one of Postmaster Manthey's bondsmen.

IS NOT A CANDIDATE.
John S. Williams Declares he is Not Seeking State Position.

Referring to the paragraph in last week's Freeman in which it was given as a rumor that John S. Williams would ask for the position, which Superintendent Chas. O. Merica has resigned, Mr. Williams says:

"I wish to state I am not a candidate for the position of superintendent of the Industrial School, and never have been, nor, in fact, for any position that the state board of control or Governor La Follette has to confer, and do not expect to be. If any reward is to be shown for services rendered to the Republican party or Gov. La Follette, let it be that the party pledges are carried out according to the expressed wishes of the Republican convention and a great majority of the voters of this county and of the state, at the last election," viz.: A primary election law, and one for equal taxation of all private and corporate property, and that without regard to who is to be our next United States Senator."

A Beautiful Booklet.

The Keystone Watch Case Co., of Philadelphia, whose advertisement appears elsewhere in this issue, is sending out to applicants an illustrated booklet of 34 pages which is one of the most artistic of the year. It exploits the merits of the James Boss Stiffened Gold Case—relates its history, explains its construction, tells how to identify it and warns against the substitution of a "just as good." A folder in the back of the book illustrates some of the patterns in which the case is made.

The unusual quality of the engraving and printing in this booklet, the harmony in its "color scheme" and its artistic excellence throughout, no less than the quality of its reading matter, will well repay those who send for it. It is sent free, on application to The Keystone Watch Case Co., Philadelphia.

COMING TEACHERS' MEETING.

Annual Convention in Milwaukee in December Promises to be Interesting.

A glance at the program shows that there are fewer sections this year than usual, few topics but all of them of vital interest and an unprecedented number of speakers from other states of national reputation. Among them are Dr. John Bascom, formerly president of the University of Wisconsin, who will deliver an address entitled "The Sources of Authority in Teaching;" Dr. Winship, of the New England Journal of Education, who will speak on "Educational Standards in the Nineteenth and Twentieth Centuries;" Reuben Post Halleck, author and principal of the Male High School, Louisville, Kentucky, whose subject is "Adolescence;" Henry Turner Bailey, who is in the employ of the Massachusetts state board of education, who is an artist, author and lecturer unsurpassed on the educational platform and who will give a talk on "Beauty in School Work;" Professor Wilbur Fiske Cordy, the eminent historian, who will give his experience on "The Teaching of History in the Elementary Schools;" Professor Francis G. Blair, whose articles have created such interest among school men and whose subject, "Methods in Teaching," will be of great interest to the normal school and city graded school section; Dean Wilbur S. Jackman of the school of education, University of Chicago, whose subject is "The Course of Study in Elementary Schools;" Mrs. Ida Hood Clark, vice president of the Eastern Manual Training Association and supervisor of manual training, Nashville, Tennessee, and Mrs. Marguerite Warren Springer of the "Workshop," Chicago, whose themes will be respectively "Handcraft as Elementary Manual Training" and "The New Industrialism;" and Mrs. Alice H. Putnam, president of the National Kindergarten Union, who will speak to the Kindergarten Section on "What has the School a Right to Expect From the Kindergarten?"

On Monday evening Henry Turner Bailey will deliver his lecture "A More Beautiful America" which will be illustrated at the blackboard and with a series of slides. On Tuesday evening the members of the Association will attend the annual festival performance of the "Messiah" in a body, a half rate having been made to the visiting teachers by the management of the Arion Musical club.

The railroads will make a rate of a fare and a third for the round trip from all points in Wisconsin and Northern Michigan and all the leading hotels in Milwaukee are offering a great reduction from their usual rates to guests. A pleasant and profitable time is assured all visiting teachers.

INSANE MAN AT GENESEE.

John O'Brien of Chicago, Makes Commotion in Fintel Home.

John S. O'Brien, a member of truck No. 13, of the Chicago fire department, and who had been in a sanitarium for two months in Chicago, became violently insane at Genesee last Wednesday evening. The doctors had recommended that O'Brien go into the country for his health, and accordingly he and his wife were staying at the Fintel home in Genesee. Last Wednesday night he became violently insane, choking his wife and otherwise seriously hurting her. She finally escaped from his grasp and alarmed the household. Dr. Sharpe and another man were notified and they came and found O'Brien, and strapped him to a bed. Sheriff Blair was notified immediately and took the man back to Chicago Thursday.

SOMETHING WORTH KNOWING

There is a Remedy That is Equally Good For Man, Woman, Child and Horse—It Should Be Kept in Every Household and Stable in the House.

Greene's Infallible Liniment is without a rival in the satisfactory treatment of sprains, strains, cuts, bruises, scalds, burns, sores, open wounds, inflammations, swellings, scratches, chaps, galls, colds, sore throat, sore feet, pains, neuralgia, rheumatism, lame backs, stiff necks, etc., in man or beast. It is an honest medicine made to sell on its real merits, to give such satisfaction as to make friends and keep them. Let those who use it tell its story.

"As superintendent of the Fort Dearborn Gymnasium, I have on an average thirty men rubbed down daily. Greene's Liniment is endorsed by myself and attendants as the best we have ever used." Louis Zimmerman.

"I am satisfied that Directly, 2:30 p. m., would never have been able to start in '99 if I hadn't used Greene's Liniment. It kept his legs sound and clean all season. I also used it on Tommy Britton, 2:08; Giles Noyes, 2:05; Sherman (Clay), 2:05; Lord Roseberry, 2:10; I am certain a great deal of the success of these horses was due to Greene's Liniment." Geo. West.

"I have used Greene's Liniment for some time on my driving horses and saddle horses at home, of which I have eight, and I have also used it with great success on running horses owned by me, particularly, however, on Judge Donny, and I have found it of great service. I have a high opinion of your goods and shall never be without same in my stable." Wm. A. Pinkerton.

Greene's Infallible Liniment is equally good for human flesh and for horse flesh. It is useful for the horseman, bicyclist, pugilist, athlete, trainer, farmer, mechanic and housewife. As a household remedy for aches, pains and injuries incidental to every day life in the home it is invaluable. As an emergency remedy for the hurts of childhood it is unequalled and thousands of prudent mothers keep it handy. Once introduced into the home, the stable, the gymnasium or the training quarters, it is ever after kept on hand. A bottle of it is its own best advertisement and all the proof of its utility and merits required.

Druggists keep it or will get it for you if you ask them to. Accept no substitute. There is no liniment that will take its place and do its work, no other like it or "just as good." The makers, J. W. Greene & Co., 17 Van Buren St., Chicago, Ill., to prove its worth will send a large free sample return for this advertisement and 10c. to cover cost of mailing. The regular price is 25cts. 50cts. and $1.00 a bottle.

IN MEMORY OF MRS. CHARLES K. ADAMS.

Mrs. Adams, wife of the late Charles Kendall Adams, president of the University of Wisconsin, died at her home in Redlands, Cal., the latter part of last week. She was buried at Redlands, beside her husband who died only a few weeks ago.

In 1887 Mrs. Adams visited Waukesha and gave an address before the women's clubs of the city. Her topic was Shakespeare's Women and though few of her hearers were Shakespearean students, all thoroughly enjoyed the address, which was not only scholarly but very interesting and delightful.

Mrs. Adams was not at all well at the time and it was at much self-sacrifice that she kept her engagement with the club. I think she has never been really well since. As the then president of the club, the writer had the honor of entertaining Mrs. Adams, who was a most appreciative and considerate guest. A few days after her return home there came to me a copy of her book of poems, The Choir Visible, then just from the press. She wrote in it a graceful and kindly allusion to her brief stay under my roof, and I have always treasured the book as the work of a woman who was possessed of fine gifts and the highest social position but whose simple friendliness and thoughtful consideration were even more noticeable when one came closely into contact with her.

Mrs. Adams' poems are inspired by a high standard of thought and living, they are graceful, they are thoroughly poetic. Some of them show vigor and force of unusual quality. Copied below are a few of her verses. The longer and more pretentious poems cannot be given on account of lack of space:

Salutamus.

Soldiers brave in days of old, Facing dangers manifold, Looked unto their king to cry, "Thee we do salute and die."

Service for an earthly king, Other ending cannot bring; What's o'er thy record be, Death is all it gives to thee. Christian brave, where'er thy way,

Report from the Reform School. J. G. Gluck, Superintendent, Prunytown, W. Va., writes: "After trying all other advertised cough medicines we have decided to use Poley's Honey and Fat exclusively in the West Virginia Reform school. I find it the most effective and absolutely harmless. Dunlap & Williams.

BUILT IN THIRTY SEVEN.

Log Cabin at Mukwonago, Still Occupied, Has Interesting History.

Mukwonago, Dec. 15.—Probably few people in this section are aware that a log house built in 1837 on what is now the E. L. Lobdell farm is still occupied as a residence. In that year before the first land sale, James Orendorf erected a log house on section 24, about a mile and a half from this village on the west bank of the Fox river, sixty rods south of the Wisconsin Central railroad bridge. This house was 20x40 feet and rather more than a story and a half high; high enough for all practical purposes for Joseph Bond, who was six feet four, danced the money musk upstairs at the opening.

Mr. Orendorf kept hotel until about 1845 and a postoffice was established in his house, the first one in the town. It was called Springfield, and James Orendorf was postmaster. A year or two after the postoffice was removed to the present site of Mukwonago.

The logs in the old hotel were oak and maple, was finished inside with black walnut, and was the best building in what is now Waukesha county.

William M. Frasier, who is 80 years old, and still living here, bought the building after it ceased to be used for hotel purposes and moved it to the present Milwaukee road, where H. R. Adams' barn now stands. It was then used for a blacksmith shop. Twenty years ago he sold it to August Hardwick, who moved one-half of it to section 18, Vernon, just east of the river, from where it stood originally, and is living in it today.

There are only three persons left who moved in here prior to 1840, namely Andrew E. Elmore of Green Bay, Mrs. H. H. Camp and William M. Frasier.

Thin it is with joy to sav. "King, to whom my heart I give, Thee I do salute and live!"

Service for the Heavenly King, Love and life eternal bring; He alone true life can give, Him we may salute and live.

Emperor and Martyr.

In purple and fine linen, Caesar stands; Imperial power in gesture, word and tone, In beauty like a God upon a throne,

Though nothing God-like breathes in his commands.

Before him one in prison garb, whose sands

Are nearly run, now doomed to go alone

To fearful death; and though he makes no moan,

His moaning followers weep in many lanes.

The first knew all that earthly power can give,

The other suffered all that life befalls:

To whom belongs the truest right to live?

Which name with greater influence o'er flows?

Each called of God—how did each meet his call,

The emperor Nero and the martyr Paul?

New Year.

One more my hands a jewel bear; No mark is on its surface fair. But deep within its heart I see A single word—Eternity.

Earth's Requit.

A weary woman heard a people's praise:

All she had longed for freely now they gave.

Alas, they knew not that her saddened gaze

Saw roses falling only in a grave.

My Best Poem.

You ask of mine the poem I love best, And promise it shall have the larger light;

Alas, alas, far, far, beyond the rest I love the poem that I mean to write.

Current Magazines.

Current History for December gives its usual comprehensive and exact survey of mankind "from China to Peru." No great nation is overlooked, and all important on-goings, even in comparatively obscure corners, get chronicled in this busy man's record of the world's events. The Canadian Premier sits for the frontispiece portrait this month, and the illustrations throughout are numerous, clear and true to the purpose of this magazine, which, in a unique way, combines entertainment with instruction. The number starts out with a group of "the world's leaders" at the present day. Articles on Newfoundland and the Maories of New Zealand follow. Sample copy free on application. PROFIT

The matter of feed is of tremendous importance to the farmer. Wrong feeding is loss. Right feeding is profit.

The up-to-date farmer knows what to feed his cows to get the most milk, his pigs to get the most pork, his hens to get the most eggs. Science.

But how about the children? Are they fed according to science, a bone food if bones are soft and undeveloped, a flesh and muscle food if they are thin and weak and a blood food if there is anemia?

Scott's Emulsion is a mixed food; the Cod Liver Oil in it makes flesh, blood and muscle, the Lime and Soda make bone and brain. It is the standard scientific food for delicate children.

LONG CHAPTER OF ACCIDENTS.

A Wales Man Suffers From Serious Accidental Gun Shot Wound. Another Suffers From the Fall Upon Him of a Heavy Timber.

Wales, Dec. 15.—David Jenkins met with a very serious accident the latter part of last week while hunting in the woods near his home. He was carrying the gun under his arm, with the barrel pointing downward. The snow was rather deep, which made it difficult to walk steady, thus when he was endeavoring to balance himself his coat sleeve accidentally came in contact with the trigger and discharged the contents of the gun into his right foot which made a frightful wound. The numerous shots which entered his foot made the flesh have a jelly appearance. It was some time after the accident occurred that Mr. Jenkins made his appearance at his home where he lives with his parents, as the shock and pain made it almost unbearable. Immediately after his parents were aware of their son's condition they sent for medical aid. Two doctors responded and after working with difficulty with the wounded member they concluded that it was necessary to amputate the great toe. All feel grateful that the accident didn't turn out more seriously, although to the present date the doctors fear that blood poison may set in since the patient is in great pain continually.

John T. Rees, of the firm of Felix & Rees, was quite unfortunate last week. While he and Mr. Felix were engaged in making preparations for shipping a carload of stock they were handling a heavy timber which fell upon Mr. Rees and which has disabled him for a week. His right hand was injured to the greatest extent, and upon which two operations have been performed. He is at present improving slowly although unable to attend to any of his duties.

E. O. Neff, our blacksmith, was another of the unfortunate ones of recent date. While he was engaged about the duties of his shop, a large piece of steel fell upon his left hand, cutting off the greater part of the thumb. However this accident does not make any delay with his shop work as he has two competent workmen employed daily, who are kept very busy.

Wm. Hugh was badly kicked about the head by a horse at the home of David Evans last week. He is able to be about although he is quite badly disfigured.

Otto C. Heimerl, who has been manager of the creamery at this place for the past three years and who has been the secretary for the Heimerl Creamery Co., which owns three creameries in this state and one skimming station at Merrimac, resigned his office and management on Monday of this week. Mr. Heimerl will be greatly missed by all the farmers in this locality as he is possessed of fine business abilities, and was careful in all his dealings, constantly looking out for the interests of his customers. Hereafter he will be engaged in the operating business which business he was obliged to discontinue as a result of ill health three years ago. Now he has regained his health and realizing that his children need better school accommodation he has concluded to leave. His brother, Louis Heimerl, of Helenville, will take up the management of the local creamery in the future. He assures all those concerned that the work shall be carried on with vigilance and carefulness as in the past, and is certain everything will be satisfactory. He began his new duties on Monday of this week and in the course of a few days will have his wife and three children move down here from Watertown to make this place their future home.—Thomas Paul of North Prairie, has been employed by Thos. J. Jones for the past week.

Miss Mary J. Jones left for Milwaukee last Friday, where she will remain the guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. Roberts for an indefinite time.—Fred Woodhead, who is attending the Milwaukee Medical Institution, made his parents a pleasant visit recently.—Chas. Williams was a guest at Waukesha the past week.—Miss Nettie Morris, who had a serious attack of typhoid fever, is regaining her health, and is able to be about the house once more.—Filmore Thomas was able to be about town last Saturday after being confined to his home for the past two months.—Thos. J. Hughes, of the firm of Cooper and Hughes, was in a critical condition the past week, but is now on the way to recovery.—Ellis Mills and family were confined to their home with sickness last week.—Mrs. Margaret Weller was the guest of her brother, Clarence, at Bay View, recently.

Rice at Waukesha, recently.—Howell James spent a few days at Hartland last week, he returned the latter part of the week.—Mr. and Mrs. Wm. C. James were pleasantly entertained by friends at Milwaukee the past week.—Miss Margaret Jones returned home Saturday evening after a long and enjoyable visit with friends at Chicago and Racine. What surprised Miss Jones greatly was the condition of the sleighing at this place as she stated, it was like coming from summer into winter in the course of a few hours.—Miss Annie Hughes recently returned from a pleasant visit with relatives at Ixonia.—Mrs. Robert Williams, who has been the guest of T. M. Jones and family for some time past, returned to her home in Ixonia the fore part of the week.—Edward Williams of Delafield, is seen quite frequently on our streets this winter.—Joseph Hermann enjoyed himself at Dousman the latter part of the week.

RUN OVER BY CAR.

Baldwin Pape Seriously Injured at Springdale Thursday.

Springdale, Dec. 16.—Last Thursday evening Baldwin Pape, Jr., met with a serious accident that may yet prove fatal. He is employed as a section man on the Northwestern R. R. and goes back and forth to and from his work by the way of the electric line. He boarded the car which arrives at Waukesha at five-thirty, at Calhoun and left the car at Springdale crossing, calling goodnight to the conductor and waving his dinner pail in his usual jolly way. A gravel car backing toward Milwaukee and without any signal at the rear, passed the regular passenger car at this point, and, though no other passenger got off of the car here, and there was no eye witness, the indications are that Baldwin was struck by this car and hurled across the cattle guard onto the other track where the work car passed over him shortly after, almost severing his feet just above the ankles. His right eye was out on his cheek, and his head badly lacerated on that side. Baldwin himself remembers nothing that happened after he left the car and crossed the track until he awoke in the Emergency Hospital at Milwaukee. The work car picked him up, brought him on to Waukesha, secured the services of Dr. Noble, for temporary relief, and carried him back to Milwaukee. The doctors in attendance state that owing to his perfect physical and robust health his injury is the second son in the family of four sons and one daughter, all at home with their parents on a farm in this community. He is nineteen years of age. A suit against the company will doubtless result from the accident.—George Periner, who met with a painful accident two weeks ago is not improving. He almost severed one of his fingers at the knuckle joint in a feed cutter.—A third in this series of accidents befell the man employed by Mr. Periner. The victim is known by the name of Gus. While stooping under a horse to adjust some foot gear the horse gently raised a foot and tapped Gus in the mouth, knocking out his front teeth.
