Nate Whettam and Anton Breidenbach were visiting on Round Prairie this week, where Mr. Breidenbach worked as a farm hand in the early days of his manhood.

Messrs. Fitzgerald and Cummings will hold an auction sale of cows at East Troy Saturday.

William G. Murdoch was confined to his home because of sickness this week. The Woodmen will install their officers as usual without much public ceremony. Eagle Camp bids fair to increase its membership the coming year.

Mrs. Matthew Clohisy returned last week from Holy Cross, where she attended a family reunion. This item of news was overlooked in our last issue. Miss Lizzie Murphy of East Troy, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Clohisy last week.

A man who has nothing but criticism and bitterness for his home people soon finds that he has no business. Awakening to this fact he is so blinded by his dark deeds that he becomes vicious and like a savage seeks to destroy all around him. He is confronted by his meanness, withers and fades away temporarily to commit another grievous greater wrong by absolutely denying his wicked deeds in the face of his own positive statement. A business man of this kind has a rotten purpose and deserves rigid, rotten treatment. If Eagle does not suit, move out, go away.

Mr. Hinkley came home to spend the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Hinkley.

THE COMMERCIAL IMPROVED.

The Commercial Hotel, conducted by Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Bovee, assisted by that veteran, George Woodin, is the best arranged and most comfortable hotel in this vicinity. The first floor affords an excellent office room together with pool and billiard rooms. The second floor is divided into dining room, parlor and sleeping rooms, which are as neat and comfortable as can be found. The culinary department is in charge of Mrs. Bovee, a landlady of wide experience in hotel and restaurants. Those who have registered there speak in praise of meals served and accommodations given. Mr. and Mrs. Bovee are enterprising, social and also conversant with matters of interest and always succeed in making a stay at the Commercial most agreeable. The hotel is kept free from disgruntled loungers, and no intoxicants are kept for sale. It is well for Eagle business men to make the Commercial their headquarters. Let us build up and not destroy.

HANDY FORK.

The handiest fork I have for carrying straw or hay is made by cutting off a barley fork handle, 31 inches long, and putting a "D" head on it. The long tines and wide spread enables me to get all I can carry the first time trying. I don't have to try two or three times to get a fork full and then figure a while trying to balance it, but start right off with it. One hand on the "D" will keep it from turning. THEODORE J. SPRAGUE.

BEAVERS ENTERTAIN.

All members are required to pay one assessment to Henry M. Loibl, local secretary before December 31st. This is the first call since last May, the time of organization.

A HAPPY NEW YEAR.

Eagle folks are all in a prosperous condition this year. Live stock and farm produce have moved freely. The amount paid therefor will nearly reach $100,000 the past three months. Never before in many years has so large an amount of money been paid for produce as the total this year will show. This condition applies to local trade and no one has cause for complaint. Prices are high for farm products, labor is in great demand, money is plenty.

The merchants all enjoyed an unusual large home patronage. The bank deposits increase, and all are generally contented.

The prevailing general good feeling may be attributed to this profitable business activity, industry and energy. All those who labor are under the divine injunction to earn their bread, etc., yet in the rush of business of to-day, those in need of labor have sweat on their brow before they find help. These are good signs from whatsoever cause they may originate and we have every reason to look forward for a happy New Year, which we wish to each and all.

CHRISTMAS DOINGS.

M. E. Church.

M. E. church Sunday school gave a Christmas tree Wednesday evening laden with all that was useful and ornamental. The church was handsomely decorated.

St. Theresa Church.

Christmas services were held at St. Theresa church at 4 p. m. and 10 a. m. An ornamented Christmas tree occupied a conspicuous place inside the rafting.

Lutheran Church.

At the Lutheran church divine services were held by Rev. Hitzeroth at two o'clock in the afternoon.

Christmas trees for the little ones were given by several families.

The usual gifts were presented by individuals near and dear to each other and all of our merchants had a satisfactory business.

The cold weather prevented large attendance at church, the thermometer falling below zero, under a strong north-west wind.

Sleighing was fine.

We are glad to note the happiness and good will of all and wish them a happy New Year.

KATHERINE BRADY INJURED BY A FALL. HER CONDITION IS SERIOUS.

On Monday Mrs. Katherine Brady, mother of Thomas J. Brady, fell from a chair while trying to take down bread from a shelf and sustained serious internal injuries. Her son, Peter F., was the one at home and was working round the barn at the time, on returning to the house he found his aged mother lying on the floor unconscious. Dr. Fitzgerald was called but on account of old age complete recovery is doubtful.

ANOTHER ADVERTISER DISAPPOINTED.

Samuel D. Thompson, an Eminent Member of the American Percheron Horse Society, is the Victim of Designing Attorneys.

Chicago legal and social circles have been all stirred up of late over the Pike case, in which a woman sought to prove that a young man of good family was her husband. The woman in the case failed to carry her point and the man was vindicated. The case savored much of the "adventuress and her victim" and the former was jailed.

Another case about the same in the motive which actuates the woman is the case of Mrs. Marguerite Thompson, so-called, against Samuel D. Thompson. It is a case in which the woman asks for a divorce, alimony, etc., alleging marriage, desertion, etc., with all the other customary allegations. The only difficulty with the plaintiff's side of the story is that she was never married to the defendant.

How a woman who has been married and has a husband living in France can make such allegations is not easily understood by the average layman, and in this instance the defendant, Samuel D. Thompson, is married, has a wife and family of grown up children, and has lived with them continually, happy and contented. If it were not serious it would be comical, but the serious side of it is that the attorneys for the woman in the case, think they can extort money from Mr. Thompson. In this they are mistaken.

Samuel D. Thompson is not a man who can be bulldozed or browbeaten by any combination of legal shysters. He occupies a high position as Secretary of the American Percheron Horse Society, with offices in the Tacoma Building, Chicago, and is a man of character and energy. He will fight this case to the end.

We take the above from the Mercantile and Financial Times, published in Chicago.

PARTRIDGE TRIED WINDOW.

Plump Game Bird Pays Visit to Brookfield Home.

Blodgett, Dec. 23.—A plump partridge tried an entrance to H. Bolster's house through the window. Falling at one he tried at another with like result, and then frightened by the cackle of brown leghorns he flew to quieter scenes. Herman looked on with amusement, wondering in which corner his gun was.

Henry Cuderman has provided himself with a new roadster. Henry has hinted that by a little crowding his new top carriage will hold another passenger. Evans.—A load of young people attended the music recital at Pewaukee last week Wednesday evening and returned home well pleased.—Upon the premises of nearly every farmer of this vicinity during the past few days, could be seen suspended from a scaffold a fine dressed porker or two, suggestive of sausage and and old Brookfield's general invitation, "Ye that are hungry come and eat."

Waukesha, Wis; Dec. 10, 1902
Dear Santa Claus,
I am so glad you are coming so soon.

You have so many little boys and girls to remember that perhaps you can't think of just the things I should like the most. So I thought, I better write and tell you.
I want, dear Santa Claus, a big doll, a doll buggy, a pair of skates, a doll's piano, and a Christmas tree, a play house. A pair of hair ribbon. And then I want a bob sled. And then I want a slate.

If you can bring me these things I shall be very happy but I should not want them if you thought some poor little girls needed them more.
Thank you for all you bring me.
Your little friend,
Helen Berkshire

Willie Wright and Mildred Wright also send neat letters asking for "neggertoes, peanuts, Walnuts" etc.

Christmas Day.

(For The Freeman.)
A dear wee baby lay close and warm,
In the loving clasp of his mother's arm,
Against her heart; so full of love
His little head pressed. Angels smiled above.

The mother of Christ! What a boon to be!
What other woman so blessed as she!
So blessed! Ah yes! her joy was deep,
As she watched o'er him as he lay asleep.

Her face so pure, so true, so sweet,
Held something of pain that she must meet;
Of coming anguish, she must pass through,
Ere Christ should be nailed to the cross for you.

Oh Mother of Christ, though it is not meet,
That we should bow down, and adore at thy feet.

Yet still we render thee gladly, today,
Such loving reverence as we may.
The years have come—passed swiftly away,
'Tis the birthday of Christ once more to-day.

Again we come, and our gifts we bring,
How shall we give them to Christ our King?

By taking them to the poor, we know,
For his own lips told us so long ago,
And just as we do for those in need,
Will our own Christmas be merry indeed.

"As ye do for them, ye do for me,"
Consider the poor and blessed be,
Surely all women who mothers are,
Must think of that babe "neath Bethlehem's Star";
And for his dear sake, as Christmas day comes,
Make a happy the hearts of some desolate ones.

Then with peace on earth, good will to men,
Let the bells ring out with a glad "Amen."
Jennie S. Hanks.

Gretchen's Christmas Vision.

(For The Freeman.)
In her neat but tiny cottage,
Toiled a little German maid,
Bearing daily all the burdens,
That were on her shoulders laid.

Busy were her nimble fingers,
Busy too that childish mind,
Caring for her little charges
Being ever good and kind.

Hers, a service, low yet noble,
Fraught with many an earnest prayer,
For three brothers and a sister
Were entrusted to her care.

In the tender years of childhood,
God had taken from her side,
Both her parents, bidding only
That she, in His love, abide.

Once again, the blessed Christmas
Dawned upon the waiting earth;
Filling many hearts with gladness,
Calling forth gay songs of mirth.

Many were the pretty presents
From the fathers and the mothers;
Many were the cheery greetings
From the sisters and the brothers.
But to Gretchen, little Gretchen,
Came no gift or word of cheer;
You would think the blessed Christmas
Was to her, both sad and drear.

Yet, how faithfully she labored,
In the kitchen, at the loom!
How her words and smiles of sunshine
Shed a radiance o'er the room.

Naught had she to give the children,
Nothing but her loving cheer;
Just a story, true and simple,
And the song they loved to hear.
That first cradle song so precious
Of the Saviour when a babe;
Of the Infant Jesus holy
Who was in the manger laid.

She was singing it at ev'ning
While the snow fell fast outside;
At their door a low voice sounded;
"What is that?" the children cried.

Could it be a stranger needed
Shelter from the wintry storm?
Yes, before her, at the doorway
Stood a lonely child-like form.
Thinly clad and weak and weary
Shivering in the piercing cold;
Loning for the warmth and comfort
Found in Gretchen's simple fold.

MAULE AND SHUMWAY.

Speakers for Negative Win Alpha and Beta Medals at Carroll's Prize Debate.

The annual prize debate between students of Carroll college took place at the Presbyterian church last Thursday evening. A fine musical program was also given. The question, "Resolved, That the Railroads of the United States Should be Owned and Operated by the Federal Government," was won by the negative.

Howard W. Maule won the Alpha gold medal and Claude W. Shumway the Beta gold medal. Both were negative speakers. Affirmative speakers were George Zoeckler and Judson Cory.

The judges were the Rev. E. A. Cutler and L. C. Willis of Milwaukee, and the Rev. C. H. Williamson of this city. Mr. Willis, in acting as spokesman for the judges, said that the decision reached was unanimous for the negative.

The affirmative debaters in the course of their argument brought out the fact that many evils exist in the management of railway systems of the present day. If the United States owned and operated the railroads, corrupt lobbying, stock gambling and wrecking, would they said, be done away with, and the people would be assured of a system which would be safe, efficient and inexpensive.

The negative cited the advantage this country has in her railroads over some of the foreign countries. They stated that the transportation rates were lower, greater speed was attained and fewer accidents occurred on American roads than on any other. This side also claimed that the government would meet with almost insurmountable difficulties in gaining possession of the roads in the first place, and that after it did, they would be mostly controlled by political power. The government could not set uniform rates all over the country and meet with financial success and this fact alone would cause dissatisfaction and lead to trouble. The negative recommended a substitute for government ownership, the railroad commission, composed of several men to look after the people's interests, and to see that the railroads complied with the law in all respects. These commissions, it was stated, had met with great success everywhere they had been created. Twenty minutes were allowed each speaker, with three minutes for rebuttal. After the program supper was served in the church parlors.

In Local Courts.

The case of Joseph Miller, charged with assault and battery, was taken up in the municipal court Thursday and the jury after being out about an hour brought in a verdict not guilty. The case has been up once before and the jury disagreed. The jury last Thursday was composed of M. J. Moore, E. F. Abbott, A. Dingman, H. Gallagher, Charles E. Nelson and H. J. Douglas.

The case of Peter Hammacher vs. the town of New Berlin, in which the plaintiff asked for damages for injuries received by falling into a ditch, has been dismissed by the court.

The case of Richard Hammond charged with burglarizing Ibrig's shoe store, has been continued until Dec. 24, with bail at $500.

Man and His Horse.

Every man should, for himself, his family and his horse keep on hand some antiseptic healing dressing that will quickly relieve pain, subdue local inflammation; heal scratches, chafes, chaps, cuts and open wounds; cure bruises, burns, scalds, frostbite, galls and sores; relieve strains, sprains, swellings, muscle soreness, stiff or lame back or neck, rheumatism, neuralgia, the little hurts of childhood and, the accidents and ails of every day life.

Such a remedy is Greene's Infallible Liniment, an honest medicine made to sell on its real merits and give such satisfaction as to make friends and keep them. It is equally good for man or beast. Once introduced into the home, the stable, the gymnasium or the training quarters, it becomes a standby to be used with confidence. A bottle of it is its own best advertisement and all the proof of its utility and merit required. All who use it speak well of it.

"Greene's Infallible Liniment has done me a world of good. I shall always have a supply on hand for use." W. A. Lango, ex-fighter, C. H. H. Club.

"I have found from experience that Greene's Liniment is one of the best." F. S. Gorton.

"I consider Greene's Liniment valuable for muscle soreness, sprains, bruises, wounds, galls and scratches. It is essential to have a little of it in every household." Albert H. Merrill.

Mr. Wm. R. Wylie, Supt. Catox Stock Farm, Will County, Ill., writes: "I have used nearly every liniment on the market but find yours in a class by itself. It does all you claim for it."

Mr. J. D. E. Doherty, Chicago, says: "I have kept your liniment in my house; it has in all instances proved satisfactory to my family and myself."

"I have used Greene's Liniment on my horses and find it excellent." E. A. Lord, Chicago, Ill.

"Has given far better results than any liniment I have used." W. H. Plagg, Palestine, Ill.

"I have used Greene's Liniment and like it. It will remove sores and help lame horses." Vance Nuckols, Glenview, Ohio.

"There is no better article for general use than Greene's Liniment." George E. Mason, Chicago, Ill.

"I have used Greene's Infallible Liniment on sore tendons, with perfect results. It is the very best remedy. I consider it one of the best liniments made and recommend it to all horsemen."

J. H. Miller, LaCrosse, Wis.

Druggists keep it or will get it for you if you ask them to. Accept no substitute. There is no liniment that will take its place and do its work, no other like it or "just as good."

The makers, J. W. Greene & Co., 17 Van Buren St., Chicago, Ill., to prove its worth, will send a large free sample in return for this advertisement and 10c to cover cost of mailing. The regular price is 25cts., 50cts. and $1.00 a bottle.

ROMANCE OF A MONTH-OLD BOY.

Rev. J. Wood Miller, who is working in the interest of the American Home Finding Association, has been a recent visitor in this city. He was actively prosecuting his work, which consists in looking up children who are not properly cared for by their parents and placing them in the hands of their parents. During his visit here he got track of a baby whose mother did not apparently give it the attention that babies ought to have.

Further more she did not appear as if she had any more children, of their little ones since after consultation with Mr. Wood she consented to have it placed in another home.

It was a boy one month old. Mr. Wood took the mother and child to a physician to have it examined, since the home requires a certificate of health with every baby. The mother didn't like this proposal. When she heard the infant would have to be undressed she objected strenuously.

There was good reason for this objection from her point of view, since as the rags were unwound from the dirty little body it was ascertained that the mother, instead of making necessary changes in clothing, had adopted the simpler plan each time of putting on another covering.

The baby was healthy except for the marks of neglect upon it. Mr. Wood took it to a good samaritan who saved at Grave's Brink. "I know I would long ago have been in my grave," writes Mrs. S. H. Newson, of Decatur, Ala., "if it had not been for Electric Bitters. For three years I suffered untold agony from the worst form of indigestion, Waterbrash, Stomach and bowel dyspepsia. But this excellent medicine did me a world of good. Since using it I can eat heartily and have gained 35 pounds."

For indigestion, loss of appetite, stomach, liver and kidney troubles, Electric Bitters are the only wanted cure. Only 50c at R. D. Townley's drug store.

Current Magazines. Under a handsome colored cover, the Scientific American publishes a most interesting store of information on "Transportation." The number deals with all phases of the subject, taking up first Marine Transportation, which is treated in a series of well-illustrated articles. Railroad transportation cover 9 pages of reading matter, in which much of interest will be found.

Following this section is that of Electric Traction, which contains an important article on the Berlin-Zossen test of the 10,000-volt locomotive.

A special feature of this number is a comparison of the railroad statistics in the United States, in which the tremendous proportions of our railroad system are portrayed by a comparison with various familiar standards, such as the Pyramid, the Brooklyn Bridge, etc. The immense amount of food required to provision one of our Atlantic liners is shown in a similar manner. In this way figures and dimensions are graphically presented and permanently fixed on the mind. On account of the broad field covered by this number, it will readily be found that matter of interest will be found to suit all readers.

Miss Violet Oakley, who designed the covers in color for the Christmas numbers of The Century and St. Nicholas, well known for her work in stained glass and decorative painting. Her principal work of this sort is in the church of All Angels on West End Avenue and 81st Street, New York City. She has, however, done much other ecclesiastical decoration in color. She recently received a commission to decorate a room in the new Capitol at Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, for which building Mr. Edwin A. Abbey also is to make decorations.

The Living Age has rendered a service to American readers by reproducing complete in two installments, the Edinburgh Review's recent elaborate article in review of the first century of its history.

The article is of wide interest as a reflection of the social, literary and political conditions of the nineteenth century of England, of which the Edinburgh Review has been an interested observer and a pungent critic.

Let me say I have used Ely's Cream Balm for catarrh and can thoroughly recommend it for what it claims. Very truly, (Rev.) H. W. Hathaway, Elizabeth, N. J.

I have tried Ely's Cream Balm and to all appearances am cured of catarrh. The terrible headaches from which I long suffer are gone.—W. J. Hitchcock, late Major U. S. Vol. and A. G. Buffalo, N. Y.

The Balm does not irritate or cause sneezing. Sold by druggists at 50c or mailed by Ely Brothers, 56 Warren St., New York.

The North Prairie league has also made similar arrangements and should receive like support. Their first number will be given Jan. 1st. Further announcement will be made in each issue during the term. All are invited.

Office Calendars. A very serviceable calendar has been issued by the Chicago & North-Western Ry. for the year 1903. The figures are large and easily distinguished, the days of the month and the consecutive day of the year are both shown; and the publication is of that solid and creditable sort which makes it desirable for business men and manufacturers. Send four cents in postage to W. B. Kniskern, Passenger Traffic Manager, 22 Fifth Ave., Chicago. 51w2 bathed and clothed it as well as she could. Minister and baby then took themselves to the home where the former had been staying, and both were made welcome, though a month-old baby without nurse or mother or wardrobe is a rather unusual guest. However neighbors had clothing that fitted as well as could be expected under the circumstances, and when the small boy was dressed in a manner becoming his age and condition he was a nice bright-looking child.

Master Baby started on his travels the next morning under the chaperonage of Mr. Wood. They went first to the Portage home for children and then to Horicon, but people seemed to have plenty of babies of their own in that city. However the next city which they visited was not so well supplied. The writer is not permitted to give the name of this town and it isn't necessary. It is enough to know that the little traveler found a haven there, a good comfortable home in the bosom of a kind family.

Waukesha people will be glad to know that the mother was not a resident of this city and it is thought she left town as soon as the baby did. She had a little three-year old girl, concerning whose fate the baby's friends are somewhat concerned. They wonder if she looks after the little girl any better than she did her baby brother.

Monument for Silas Reeves. On Wednesday a monument reached here for the late Silas Reeves of Co. A, 1st Heavy Artillery, who died at the Soldiers' Home two years ago last April. His sister, Mrs. Lucinda Marley, deserves credit for the above. She was very active in the movement to make the request for same from the government and is much pleased over her success. The monument will be placed in the family lot in Oak Ridge cemetery next spring and will serve as a constant reminder of both patriotism and sisterly remembrance.

MAD DOG BITES TWO.

Little Daughters of David Southard of Wales in Dangerous Situation.

Wales, Dec. 23.—Great excitement prevails about town and the vicinity since David Southard brought the news that his two little daughters were attacked by his dog, which, after an investigation, was found to be suffering with hydrophobia. The children were not bitten very badly, but the doctor who is attending them fears that symptoms of hydrophobia are to be discovered now. The greatest care is being taken of them. Another of the unfortunate ones bitten was Geo. A. Lane of Chicago, who was a guest of Evan G. Davis and wife. At the time Mr. Lane was attacked, it was not known that the dog was mad, but when this was discovered word was directly sent to Mr. Lane that he might take necessary precautions. Mr. Southard remembers well that on Oct. 18, last, a mad dog visited his place and bit his dog but he did not suspect there would be any serious results. Mr. Southard shot the dog on Monday.
