
Anna L. Faestel is Dead

On Friday at Madison occurred the death of Anna L. Faestel, daughter of the late Nicholas and Katharine Falter Faestel, after a long illness. Miss Faestel was born near Eagle, March 30, 1863, and was a bright girl. She attended the district school and later learned the dressmaking trade. In this profession she finally established herself and with her sister, Miss Theresa, conducted a parlor on Grand Ave., Milwaukee. Later she removed to Buffalo but there she sustained injuries in a bicycle accident which affected her seriously. She retired from business and spent the remaining years on the old homestead with her aged mother and her sister, Mary, until about a year ago when she was taken to the Madison hospital. The remains were brought to Eagle and the funeral took place from St. Theresa church Monday morning, Rev. Father Ritger officiating. She leaves surviving one son, Robert, an aged mother, three sisters, Mary, Theresa and Mrs. C. B. Lunenschloss, and five brothers, Joseph, George, Frank, Nicholas and Henry; one sister, Mrs. Katharine Dick, and one brother, John, and her father preceded her in death. We all extend our sympathy. Interment was in the new cemetery.
