Shafter's troops may shut off the water at Santiago, but they will not poison the wells.

Germany can't have the Philippines. And she can't shake us off by rattling the branch.

American ingenuity, which invented barbed wire, naturally proves able to circumvent it too.

If Shafter shuts off the water supply of Santiago the Spanjards won't be able to mix their drinks.

It may be that American barbed-wire mills work day and night to supply the Spaniards with the means of keeping up their defenses.

Smokeless powder has so clearly demonstrated its value in bush fighting, that it is safe to predict that the battles of the future will be smokeless.

In the event of the capture of Morro and the keys to the mines, Rear-Admiral Sampson will have occasion to be glad that Hobson didn't shut up the harbor of Santiago.

An exchange heads a dispatch from the seat of war, "Shafter will fall on San-tiago." Then Santiago will get hurt. The General weighs upward of 300 pounds.

The balloon at Santiago rose to an occasion far superior to that of the average aeronautical performance. It demonstrated that the war balloon is a thing of strategic value.

Whenever the Spanish officials desire license to indulge in champagne while those around them are on bread and water, they simply turn a reported American victory into a victory for Spain.

The stamp on the gum isn't as necessary as the gum on the stamp, but the people who use gum will chew on, for war purposes. If there is any jawing over the tax it will be exhausted upon the gum.

Gunton's Magazine publishes an article headed, "Can We Stand Victory?" What's the good of asking that? We must stand it, the way things are going; and we might as well be reconciled to our fate first as last.

render of the Spanish.

Juragua, July 4.-[Correspondence of the Associated Press.]-The following description of the battle between the American and Spanish warships in these waters was written by the only noncombatant who witnessed the entire fire. That noucombatant was the correspondent of the Associated press, who saw the engagement from a position almost at the elbow of Commodore Schley on the United States armored cruiser Brooklyn.

An Anniversary Day.

An Anniversary Day. Sunday, July 3.—The fifth Sunday for the American squadrons before Santiago and ninth weekly anniversary of the Dewey victory at Cavite and the fifth of the discovery by Commodore Schley of the whereahouts of Admiral Cervera's squadron brought no particularly different situation from that marking the preced-ing Sundays. The monotony, the lack of picturesqueness at daybreak, the heat of the tropical sun—all were there. Over the tops of the supposedly de-stroyed earthworks appeared the muz-zles of the same old guns, quite ready, despite the Saturday bombardment, to speak their piece if called upon. On the slightly rolling sea the great gray battleships of the American fleet swung lazily at a distance of from four to five miles from the harbor entrance. The

The hig battleships had drifted to the east considerably and the Massachusetts, the New York, the New Orleans and the Newark were not in sight, the New York having taken Admiral Sampson down to Altares, eight miles east from the blockade, to make a visit to the camp of the American army; while the other missing vessels were at Guantanamo, Indiana and Oregon, battleships; the flagship of Commodode Schley, the Brooklyn, and the small yachts Glouces-ter and Vixen. The Iowa was swinging a mile further out than the rest of the squadron trying to fix her forward 12-inch turret, which was out of repair, while the Indiana was doing the same thing to her forward 13-inch turret. The absolutely available ships in the squad-ron, therefore were only the Oregon, Texas and Brooklyn, although later both Capt. Evans and Capt. Tayler fought their ships. their ships.

Lookout Sees Smoke.

It is a custom on ships, regulated by the rules, that there shall be a general musther at least once each three months and that the articles of war shall be read. First call had been sounded at 9:15 a. m. and the men were assembling on the decks. The lookout in the masthead of the Brooklyn had some time before re-ported smoke in the harbor, but as the same thing had been noticed several times no special attention was paid to it. The Brooklyn and the Vixen were the only blockade that there are any reconcentra-dos left. Is it possible that the Spaniards have been feeding the poor Cubans? came is due to the manner in which Dew-ey is administering affairs at Manila. The rebel leader is satisfied that there can be only one boss in the Philippines, outside of the Spanish lines, while Dewey is in charge. When the paymaster's boat reaches Brooklyn and the Vixen were the only ships to the westof the entrance, the other ships to the westof the due and the ships to the bridge. At 10:54 the Vizcaya was raked fore and aft clean along her gun deck by an 8-inch from the Brooklyn. Another one a minute latter exploded in her superstructure with terrific force, kill-ing eighty people. She was afire and at 10:55 she headed for the beach at Assera-dores, where she went ashore. We were badly hurt and could not get away." While Capt. Cook's boat was coming alongside, the Spanish captives shouted "Bravo Americanos," and the crew responded "Bravo Spaniardo." While Capt. "On the 28th of Sept., 1896, while in the bloom of health, Beatrice was suddenly and severely afflicted with spinal meningitis. Strong and vigorous before, in five weeks she became feeble and suffered from a paralytic stroke which twisted her head back to the side and made it impos-sible for her to move a limb. Her speech, however, was not affected. We called in our family doctor, one of the most experi-enced and successful practitioners in the enced and successful practitioners in the city. He considered the case a very grave one. Before long little Beatrice was com-pelled to wear a plaster paris jacket. Prominent physicians were consulted, electric batteries were applied, but no hen-efit was noticed until we tried Dr. Will-iams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

"Busy in my kitchen one afternoon I was startled by the cry of 'Mamma' from little Beatrice, who was creeping toward me. I had placed her on an im-provised bed in the parlor comfortably close to the fireside and given her some books and playthings. She became tired of waiting for me to come back and made up her mind to go to me, so her story 'My Pink Pills made me walk,' which she tells everyone who comes to our house, was then for the first time verified. She has walked ever since. She has now taken about nine boxes of the pills and her pale and pinched face has been growing rosy, and her limhs gained strength each day."

-A. T. Quiller-Couch, the Cornish hov-elist and essayist, has great difficulty in persuading people that his name is pro-nonneed "Cooch," and says that, though he never invented the pronunciation, he can only prevail on a few friends (out-side of Cornwall), to believe in it. The poet Cowper, who called hinself Cooper, had a smilar difficulty. "Couch" (Cooch), by the way, has nothing to do with re-pose. It is a Celtic name and signifies "red."

Grumblers about army fare are referred to the fact that Gomez and his men have been eating their horses. This is the fare to which United States regulars were compelled to resort during some of their Indian campaigns. All that is required to make it "go" is a patient soldier's hunger.

Those who are chattering about a possible court-martial for the officers of the Rough Riders would be holding their peace if they had been with the Riders and witnessed the noble manner in which they "took their medicine." If a mistake was made, the officers and troopers atoned for it by the gallant manuer in which they scattered the ambuscading Spaniards.

A remarkable escape from death by lightning is reported from a shooting park on Long Island, where a contest was in progress. A young Italian had just raised his rifle when a bolt of lightning struck the end of the barrel, ran along the barrel and then struck the marksman ou the right temple. The victim was rendered unconscious instantly, but within an honr, after having medical attendance, had fully recovered.

The idea of the Spanish prisoners taken t Santiago that they were to be butchered by the Americans may be accepted as a confession that they deserved such treatment. Soldiers who shoot surgeons while the latter are attending to the wounded, and who deliberately fire on the Red. Cross relief parties, are not worthy of recognition as prisoners of war. They are guerrillas.

It is reported from Standish, Mich., that the cedar industry will soon be a thing of the past, so far as Michigan is concerned. When lumbermen first began to cut the pine of the state on a really large scale, no attention was paid to cedar, as there was not then a market for that kind of lumber. Within the last fifteen years, however, this condition has changed and cedar is now much sought. The result has been that thousands of acres of cedar lands have been denuded of their trees, while none is growing in their place. The matter has aroused the attention of Western lumbermeu, but it does not seem likely that anything to conserve the forests will be done by them.

Schley's Clever Maneuver

Then Commodore Schley saw that the first ship was coming out from the slore, headed directly for the Brooklyn, with the evident intention of ramming her. the evident intention of ramming her. A clever maneuver was here accomplished. "Hard aport with your helm," shouted Schley, and the cruiser began to go around, the smoke coming from her fun-nels in huge volumes. Quickly she turned and quickly her hig steel ram was point-ing at the first ship. The Infanta Maria Teresa had to work in shore to avoid being rammed. The shells of the Texas and Oregon, with the terrible storms of shell from the Brooklyn, had done their work and the smoke began to appear work and the smoke began to appear pouring from her decks.

In the meantime the converted yacht Gloucester could be seen with the help of the Iowa destroying the two torpedo-boat destroyers that had followed the last ratio act. At 10 of the destroyers that had followed the last boat destroyers that had followed the last ship out. At 10 o'clock the entire Cape Verde squadron was outside of the har-bor and going rapidly westward. The Iowa and the Indiana could not keep up the pace, but the Gregon was coming across to the assistance of the Brooklyn, which at 10:05 was engaging the first three ships, the Infanta Maria Teresa, the Cristobal Colon and the Vizcaya. At 10:11 the Spanish ships had all con-centrated their shots on the Brooklyn and she was in a perfect rain of shells. and she was in a perfect rain of shells most of which went over her Necessity for Thus Guarding Our Harbors Has Disappeared-Will be Blown Up.

Washington, D. C., July 12.-The sceteet the harbors of the United States against the entry of hostile ships. This action was decided upon at today's cabinet meeting. For weeks past, in fact almost since the beginning of hostilities, the war depart-ment has been deluged with protests from the commercial centers of the country against the continuance of these mines. which operated to the great detriment of commerce. In certain cases influences were brought that secured an abatement of the rules, but this only increased the dissatisfaction in localities where they were rigidly applied. Practically it has been impossible for shipping to enter or leave any of the harbors of the United States during the last two months be-tween the hours of sunset and sunsise.

The direction of the cabinet to remove the mines now is one of the most signal manifestations of supreme contidence of the government in the future and of the exemption of United States ports from attack at the hands of any hostile power. After thoroughly considering the subject it has been decided by the engineers that he safest and quickest way of removing the mines is by exploding them, and orders to this effect have been given to all of the United States engineer offices in charge of harbor defenses throughout the country.

While the military party urges war, a large proportion of the civil population is desirous of peace.

It is pointed out, however, that if the United States insists upon the cession of Porto Rico and the Philippine islands the general feeling will be in favor of a con-tinuation of the hostilities, many Spin-iards believing that the situation in Cuba will enable Spain to prolong the struggle

Jennie E. Green and Mrs. Harry Hardy.

JENNIE E. GREEN, Denmark. Iowa, writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I had been sick at my monthly periods for seven years, and tried almost everything I ever heard of, but without any benefit. Was troubled with backache, headache, pains in the shoulders and dizziness. Through my mother I was induced to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it has done me so much good. I am now sound and well."

Mrs. HARRY HARDY, Riverside, Iowa, writes to Mrs. Pinkham the story of her struggle with serious ovarian trouble, and the benefit she received from the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. This is her letter:

"How thankful I am that I took your medicine. I was troubled for two years with inflammation of the womb and ovaries, womb was also very low. I was in constant misery. I had heart trouble, was short of breath and could not walk five blocks to save my life. Suffered very much with my back, had headache all the time, was nervous, menstruations were irregular and painful, had a bad discharge and was troubled with bloating. I was a perfect wreck. Had doctored and taken local treatments, but still was no better. I was advised by one of my neighbors to write to you. I have now finished the second bottle of Mrs. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and am better in every way. I am able to do all my own work and can walk nearly a mile without fatigue; something I had not been able to do for over two years. Your medicine has done me more good than all the doctors."

MICROBES DO NOT EXIST. That is Where the Cold Reaches the Arctic Degree. It is highly probable that microbes do not exist in polar regions and at great elevations. Most probably all of them are killed by intense cold. It is for this reason that frozen meat can be preserved fresh for an indefinite time, says Pear-son's Weekly. The fossil mammoths which have been discovered in the banks of Siberian rivers, imbedded in ice, are often quite undecom-posed, and their flesh is eaten by dogs. Prof. Tyndall experimented on the vital-ity of microbes by exposing solutions of sugar to the air on the higher summits of the Alps, where he found that fermen-tation did not take place, whereas at low-er levels, where the temperature was higher, the liquids quickly became turbid owing to the presence of microbes.

owing to the presence of microbes. Dr. Nansen furnishes an amusing con-firmation of the truth of the above state-ments. He informed the writer that as soon as his companions returned to Nor-way after their sojourn in the extreme north they all caught cold, but had been entirely free from this ailment during their prolonged absence. The inference is that the catarrh microbe had been unable o exist in the severe cold of the polar region.

Life and the Liver.

"Success in life depends upon the liver" is the way Chas. Lamb, the poet and punster, put it. FALLEN FROM GRACE.

A Formerly Wealthy Man is Sent to the Oshkosh Workhouse.

Oshkosh, Wis., July 12.—Pat O'Connell, at one time worth $50,000, now a wreek beyond redemption, was sent to the work-house by Judge Goss yesterday. For twelve days the old man, whose head is white with the frost of time, must is while with the frost of time, must pound stone. He claims, and it is corroborated by those who knew him in days forever gone, that at one time he was very wealthy. The story goes that he was ruined by a man he trusted, an attorney who was once O'Connell's clerk but today well to do.

EVEN BECOME PETS.

Deer Near Iron Belt Very Plentiful and Exceedingly Tanic.

Iron Belt, Wis., July 12.—[Special.]— Deer seem to be exceedingly ploutiful through the northern part of the state this summer, as groups of them can be seen coming out of the woods during mornings and evenings and metuider through clearings and gardens. They seek the openings to escape the mosquitoes and flics in the woods. They are very tame and are unmindful of people or domestic animals. A number of young ones have been caught by people of this and ad-jacent towns and are being tamed. The mild winter and little sonw of last winter tended to their increase as they could es-cape the rayages of the wolves, which are usually roving around plentifally in packs south of here.

Lac Court for the Ex-Policemen.

Lac Conrt for the Ex-Policemen. Fond du Lac, Wis., July 12.—[Special.] —By a clever little piece of work on the part of Gen. Bragg, who is attorney for the ex-police officers fighting for their sal-ary for six months from the time the new police and tire law went into effect, the city received its first knockout blow. The general went into court and moved that the demurrer to the complaint which had heen filed by ex-City Attorney Phelps, be dismissed. Present City Attorney Scha-chardt, a former occupant of the general'r ollice, made no great effort to buck the office, made no great effort to back the wily attorney on the opposite side, and the demurrer was dismissed. Now the city is forced to go to the Supreace court, where otherwise, with arguments, the mat-tus might have been first tried in the cir-cuit court of Fond du Lac.

REVIVE CRICKET GAMES.

Sheboygan Boys Return to the Old English Sport.

English Sport. Sheboygan, Wis., July 12.--[Special.]--The English game of cricket promises to become very popular in Sheboygan, games being played daily at Lake View. Forty young men of the city are playing the game, and have formed several teams. Officers have been elected with James Matthewson as captain and Henry Dough-erty as first vice-captain. Games are be-ing played daily before large crowds.

No two of us seem to have the same aim in life. Some of us work in the shop, some in the field, some on water and some in the mines. Now although we work in so many different positions when you think it all over I think you will all agree with me that we all have just one aim in life and that is every thing is done to promote our own individual happiness. I think that every ones motives if they could be analyzed game and bicycle race at Heart Prairie would amount to just this and nothing Saturday afternoon. more and the sooner we realize it the better. I know that many will claim that they are working not for their own happiness but for the happiness of others, But don't you know that the happiness they cause other people is the cause of their own happiness. They are happy when they make others happy. Some people seem to spend their whole lives in hoarding money. They are constituted so that the act of hoarding give them their greatest pleasure.
