NOVEL SPRING CLEANING.

Ceremony of Giling Elephants for the Summer Campaign.

The annual ceremony of lubricating the elephants was pulled off yesterday at Coney island. Three husky Hindoos from Avenue A and two Coney island song-and-dance men out of a job officiated as lubricators. The pachyderms operated upon were Baby Ruth and Gypsy, and between them they absorbed nine kegs of neatsfoot oil and upward of nine tons of profanity, net. In addition to being lubricated, the elephants took a bath and otherwise prepared for the summer season.

In his native wilds the elephant is equipped with patent, self-acting lubricators, which will keep his joints in active commission the year round. When transferred to this climate the self-feeding lubricators become clogged and artificial lubrication becomes necessary. Some owners of elephants lubricate them twice a year. On Copey island they are lubrication. a year. On Coney island they are lubricated once a year, because it costs money

The preparations for yesterday's sacred rite, which occurred within the precincts of the Indian village, formerly the streets of Cairo, were simple. The three Hindoos from took three drinks apiece, the actors smoked two cigarettes apiece, and all hands fell to, armed with prooms, brushes and swabs. It is no soft job to wash an elephant, which is a preliminary operation to the lubrication.

The elephant is not a model of personal cleanliness. During his winter hibernation it is his custom to inhale the dust from the floor of his quarters, pack it in his trunk and then blow it into his skin with great force. It stays right where he puts it, and when spring comes the ele-phant has a coat about a foot deep and as hard as the lot of a volunteer soldier. This coat serves to keep the elephant warm, but it also serves to close up the pores of his skin and make his move ments stiff.

Hot water was used yesterday—barrels The water was used yesterday—barrets of it—and liberal quantities of soft soap. The elephants were scoured until they were masses of lather, and then were rubbed down with stiff brushes. A drenching with hot water followed this operation until they were as clean as it is secrible to get the leave that the later that the possible to get an elephant. Baby Ruth kicked somewhat at being washed, but it was great sport for Gypsy.

Then came the lubrication. To an unsophisticated onlooker lubricating an elephant seems to be a very simple operation. It is not. There is a cavity just forward of an elephant's hip which marks the spot of an elephant's hip which marks the spot where the self-acting lubricator was located in his native wilds, for it simply clamors for oil. All able lubricators of elephants know of the location of this cavity, and Mr. Vallett, the gentleman who superintended the oiling of the pachyderms yesterday, is an expert. He started his Hindoos from Avenue A and his song and dance men out of a job at the cavities.

Bahy Ruth, being somewhat of an acclimated elephant, readily absorbed the oil applied to the cavity aforesaid and soon glistened all over her body with a coat of neatsfoot. But Gypsy, a more seasoned elephant and one whose self-acting lubricator has been long out of coming lubricator has been long out of com-mission, was a problem. The cavity soaked up oil as West street soaks up beer when a ship comes in, and it was not until three barrels of neatsfoot had been applied to her with a whitewash brush that she consented to absorb the lubricat-ing fluid with the rest of her hide.

A Magnet for Lifting Steel.

Electro-magnetic devices have been in everyday use at the proof butts of the royal arsenal at Woolwich for over five years, and in the transport of heavy projectiles weighing as much as 1800 pounds. Formerly to move a large number of shot was most laborious work, not only on account of the great weight, but by reason of the difficulty of getting slings around the projectiles. The introduction of the electro-magnet in place of the slings has rendered the task easy and one which is quickly performed. In this case the body or core of the magnet is of inverted U shape and in one forging, and the winding is mechanically protected by stout iron flanges and is covered by thick brass strips. The magnet is exceedingly efficient, and requires about one-eighth horse-power to energize it for lifting a weight of 3600 pounds.—Cassier's Maga-

Shafter Has 16,000 Men on Thirtyseven Transports-Plans for the Landing.

On Board the Associated Press Dispatch Boat Dandy, Off Santiago de Cuha, Monday, June 20, 1 p. m., Via the Mole St. Nicholas, Hayti, Tuesday, June 21-3 a. m.—The United States army for the invasion of Cuba, about 16,000 strong, commanded by Gen. Shafter, arrived off Santiago de Cuba at noon today. The time of its disembarkation has not yet been determined upon, but it probably will be within the next three days.

When the fleet of thirty-seven transports, with its freight of fighting men, swept up the southern coast today and slowed up within sight of the doomed city of Santiago de Cuba, the anxiouslyawaited soldiers were greeted with ring-ing cheers which faintly echoed to the transports from the decks of the blockadtransports from the decks of the Diockading warships far in shore. They were answered by the troops most enthusiastically and in kind. The week of anxious waiting and impatient chafing was over and the army and the navy had at last joined forces and all felt that the final blow at Santiago was at hand.

It was 10 o'clock this morning when the lookout on board the armored cruiser Brooklyn reported seeing the smoke of several steumers away to the southeast, and a moment or so later he announced and a moment or so later he announced that a dozen transports were in sight. Then signals were exchanged from ship to ship, gladdening the hearts of the weary blockaders. Then the United States auxiliary cruiser Gloucester, formerly J. Pierpont Morgan's yacht Corsair, dashed away to meet and welcome the troops. About half an hour later a grim forest of masts had sprung up apparently from the sea and a most impressive scene was presented as the armada swept gracefully up from the horizon, towards the shores where the great struggle is to take place.

The transports were ranged in three

The transports were ranged in three shifting lines, with the battleship Indiana on the extreme right and the other menof-war on the outskirts of the fleet. In this order the transports and their escorts steamed slowly in towards the hills where the Morro's red walls gleamed in the sun-

It was intended to take the entire fleet to the lines of Rear-Admiral Sampson's fleet of warships, but an order from the admiral stopped the advance of the ships about fifteen miles to the southeast, and, escorted by the Glocester, Gen. Shafter went forward on the Seguranca to confer with the admiral. The transports lay on the smooth sea while the plans were dis-cussed by the leaders on hoard the flag-

The long and trying journey from Tampa has left the men in a much better condition than anticipated. There are difion than anticipated. There are teen mild cases of typhoid on the hospital ship, among them being Maj. Horton of the Twenty-fifth infantry, and several cases of measles. There are, however, no serious cases of sickness. the operations and the information of the last ten days show conclusively that bitter work is ahead for Shafter's men before the Spanish flag comes down from Morro's walls. The Spanish infantry, cavalry and guerilla forces, estimated by Admiral Sampson today number from 30,000 to 45,000 men, are stretched from Guantanamo to Cabanas, a distance of fifty miles, ready to concentrate at the point of attack. But starving and harassed by the insurgents, the situation of the Spaniards is desperate and naval officers familiar with the situation fully excers familiar with the situation fully expect terrific fighting about Santiago. Interviews with army officers on the transports show that there is some anxiety as to how the men will stand the strain, if the fighting begins immediately after the long inections. after the long inactivity at Tampa and the wearing voyage. Watch Dogs. With the United States Transport Ships Off Santiago de Cuba, Monday, June 20, Noon—(Via Mole St. Nicholas, Hayti, Tuesday, June 21, 1 a. m.)—The fleet of United States transports, having on board 16,000 men, under the command of Gen.

The army of invasion left Egmont key at noon on Tuesday, June 14, convoyed by the United States warships Indiana, Casting Halana Appareirs Bangard. Castine, Helena, Annapolis, Bancroft, Morrill and Hornet. The passage was necessarily slow, as two big water barges and the schooner Stevens, also used for water, had to be towed. At Rebecca shoals lighthouse the fleet was joined by the United States war-ships Detroit, Manning, Osceola, Wasp ships Detroit, and Ericsson.

When the transport fleet left Port Tampa it was the intention of those in authority to take the western course around Cape Antonio, but later it was decided to go via the Florida straits, that being a shorter distance.

After the fleet got into the rough waters of the straits the transports were formed into three lines about 1000 yards apart, while 600 yards separated the The transports presented a very impressive spectacle, stretching for miles over the blue waters. It was one of the largest fleets ever gathered together, the grim-looking men-of-war hovering like watch dogs on the outskirts of the human freighted ships. At night every precaution was taken to guard against any possible attack. No lights were allowed on the transports and the hospital ship Olivette.

In the rough waters of the Bahama

channel this work for the little boats was quite difficult and the hoisting of the limp forms to the rolling deck of the Olilimp forms to the rolling deck of the Olivette seemed dangerous. But it was accomplished in safety.

The weather throughout the voyage was excellent, and consequently there was little suffering from seasickness. But fourteen cases of typhoid fever and some measles developed, the former being especially on the boats which carried horses and mules. Surgeons, however, say the health of the men is unexpectedly good.

The first sight of land was obtained in the vicinity of Santiago de Cuba, and when the topmasts of the blockading fleet were seen they sent a thrill of enthusiasm through the soldiers, and they are now eagerly awaiting the landing in Cuba. THE CUBAN COUNCIL.

The President Says He Wants Autonomy for All the Inhabitants.

Havana, June 21.-Senor Galvez, presi dent of the colonial council, has closed the debates in the chamber with a message to the deputies in which he repeated that he did not wish to see autonomy established for Cubans or for Spaniards, but for all the inhabitants of the island of Cuba.

Continuing, the president paid a tribute to the efforts of Capt.-Gen. Blanco under the existing circumstances and pointed American Supply Ship Zafiro Not Permitted to Stav-Due to Spain's Protests.

New York, June 21.-A special cable to the Evening Journal from Hong Kong says: The American supply ship Zafiro, which was sent here from Manila by Admiral Dewey to procure provisions and other necessaries for the fleet, and which anchored a few miles from here in Chinese waters, has been compelled to leave nesc waters, has been compelled to leave by the Chinese authorities.

The Chinese notified United States Consul Wildman at Hong Kong to take the Zafiro out of the jurisdiction of the Emperor at once, and refused to allow her even the customary twenty-four hours' stay, or a pound of coal or provisions.

She has accordingly been moved and now is in British waters at Hong Kong. The Chinese order is believed to be due to the representations of Spain.

The Spanish Ministry Again In the Throes of Dissolution.

Madrid, June 21 .- 2 p. m .- There are rumors current here today that the Cortes may suspend its sessions during the com-ing week, when Senor Puigcerver, the minister of finance, will resign, in which event it is thought the premier, Senor Se-gasta, will be compelled to submit to the Queen a question of confidence in the ministry. It is possible, therefore, that Senor Sagasta will resign, in which case, it is said, a national government, pledged to the most energetic course, will succeed his ministry.

Frank James' Son Enlists. Among the new members of the Second

United States cavalry, enlisted at St. Louis, is Robert F. James, son of Erank James, former bandit and guerilla. Up to the time of his enlistment in the regular army young James was a clerk in the auditor's office of the Wabash railway. A romantic feature of his enrollment is the fact that his desk mate, William Ellis, joined the Second cavalry the same day. Ellis is the son of a Federal officer who distinguished himself during the Civil war by a daring attack upon Chantrell's band at a time when Frank James was with them. Now the sons of the men who were once bitter foes will share the glories, perils and privations of a soldier's life together.

Frank James, quiet, unassuming, and with no trace of the dashing fire and deviltry which once characterized him, is now employed as doortender at the Standard theater in St. Louis.

THE ILLS OF WOMEN

And How Mrs. Pinkham Helps Overcome Them.

Mrs. Mary Boilinger, 1101 Marianna St., Chicago, Ill., to Mrs. Pinkham: "I have been troubled for the past two years with falling of the womb, leucorrhœa, pains over my body, sick headaches, backache, nervousness and weakness. I tried doctors and various remedies without relief. After taking two bottles of your Vegetable Compound, the relief I obtained was truly wonderful. I have now taken several more bottles of your famous medicine, and can say that I am entirely cured.' Mrs. HENRY DORR, No. 806 Findley St., Cincinnati, Ohio, to Mrs. Pinkham:

"For a long time I suffered with chronic inflammation of the womb, pain in abdomen and bearing-down feeling. Was very nerwous at times, and so weak I was hardly able to do anything. Was subject to headaches, also troubled with leucorrhoea. After doctoring for many months with different physicians, and getting no relief, I had given up all hope of being well again when I read of the great good Lydia. E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was doing. I decided immediately to give it a trial. The result was simply past belief. After taking four bottles of Vegetable Compound and using three packages of Sanative Wash I can say I feel like a new woman. I deem it my duty to announce the fact to my fellow sufferers that Lydia E. Pinkham's Wegetable remedies have entirely cured me of all my pains and suffering. I have her alone to thank for my recovery, for which I am grateful. May heaven bless her for the good work she is doing for our sex."

AN ARTISTIC PORCH.

Paint the Chairs a Pretty Scarlet and Arrange a Divan with Cushions. The days have come when the porch i worth ten of the parlor, and piazza fitclowdy veranda if she can call upon a few dollars and a bit of ingenuity.

In the beginning of the beginning get rid of that old idea of set-looking, cush-ionless furniture. Make your porch a cool, informal summer room.

Curtains or a curtain of India matting are well worth investing a little money in. Fitted out with double cords they can be drawn up or down as the sun changes.

Then have a generous supply of cushions in cool colors. Denin, gingham—the chennest of materials will serve if shade and pattern be pretty.

"At home everybody had known everybody else in society from the cradle, and we did not have much but each other to talk about, but as I get to know peo-ple here, and go to entertainments outside of the official round of duties, I begin to understand why so many come to Washington for residence who have no business, official or domestic ties in the place. Almost Incalculable Value of Some of Her Realty.

things in the city of London are set forth in an article in a paper published there. Mansion house, which cost $3,500,000 to build, is now valued at fully ten times that figure. The Royal Exchange, as a building of bricks and mortar, is worth $1,000,000, but land in that neighborhood has recently sold at the rate of $10,000,000 an acre. Eight bridges over the Thames cost $25,000,000 to build, but are now worth much more than that but are now worth much more than that, while the tunnels underneath are worth other millions, and the embankment is worth probably double the $10,000,000 it cost to make. If St. Paul's were private property you might induce the owner to sell it for $50,000,000, but the likelihood is very remote. Those tattered banners which you have seen so often would arouse pretty keen bidding at the sales. Westminster abbey is difficult to value. But the sales give us some idea of what historic treasures are worth in the market, and I should not be sur-prised if the abbey, put up in lots, real-ized $2,500,000,0000.

prised if the aboey, put up in lots, realized $2,500,000,0000.

The British museum empty would be worth $7,500,000, and it is full of priceless treasures. The National gallery is worth millions. It cost, with the new Tate gallery section, $1,750,000 to build, and has one picture which cost $70 an inch. The Nelson column, close by, is worth $250,000, and the statue of King George III., a little way down Pall Mall, cost $20,000. The Albert hall and Royal aquarium are both worth about $1,250,000, but the Crystal palace cost more than three times the value of both of these. Earl's court, the great show rivaling the palace, has millions' worth of trensures, and even when it is empty the twenty-five acres of gardens and buildings are worth $1,500,000. Imagine buying the tower, the Holborn viaduct, the miles of sewers, walks and pavenous the various markets of which the miles of sewers, walks and pavements; the various markets, of which four—which are for cattle—cost $50,000,-•00 between them; think of the hospitals and schools and churches, and fancy the market value of the parks cut into city lots. The entrances alone at Hyde park are said to have cost nearly $7,500.000.

Sailors and Their Grievances The grievances of sailors examined by the authorities in ports of entry are often greatly exaggerated. Violence is always objectionable, and pointedly so, when exerted upon an unfortunate liver, stomach or bowels by dosing with purgatives which weaken the intestines. Use Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.

A Unique Manual.

The most remarkable company of soldiers ever drilled in this country fought under Extra Billy Smith, twice governor of Virginia. He acquired the nickname through connection with extensive mail contracts which he held before the war, his charge to the government for "Extra work" on his star routes being so frequent and large as to keep the postoffice department in a state of constant fer-ment. He was a grand old man of the rough, honest type of Blue Jeans Williams, Lincoln, Thurman, Jerry Rusk, Crawford and Jenkins. His education had been sadly neglected, but he owned brains to spare and horse sense enough for three ordinary governors. He drilled his men according to "Extra Billy's Tactics," an unpublished manual of arms.
A drill lesson: Col. Extra Bill: "Now, A drill lesson: Col. Extra Bill: "Now, boys, git yourselves in persition. Are you seedy." Toto erms! Deliver arms Rest yo' muskets! One day he led his men into a blind lane about a mile long, and arriving at the end could not see his way out except by tearing down fences and going through end could not see his way out except by tearing down fences and going through a wheat field guarded by an angry farmer with a dangerous-looking gun. COMPANY IS LAID

Beloit Boys Prostrated by Eating Values of real estate and some other Canned Beans.

UNWHOLESOME RATION

Only One Person was Dangerously Itl -Company was Excused from Duty.

Jacksonville, Fla., Jone 21.-[Special.] -A whole company of the First Wisconsin is incapacitated today as the result of a mysterious illness that is baffling the physicians. It is Co. E, composed of men from Beloit and neighboring towns, and this morning it did not have half a dozen men out of a usual strength of eighty fit for service. The company was excused from duty. The men are re-viving, and only one, Walton Welton, is still suffering much pain. He has been taken to the hospital, but his condition is not regarded as serious. The sickness which prostrated almost every man in the company came on suddenly and was violent. All were attacked alike. It was something like cholera morbus, but because of the large numbers afflicted, the physicians incline to the opinion that it was a case of poisoning from unwholesome food.

Were Short on Rations.

Having been short on rations, the boys were given canned beans for their meals yesterday and it began late in the evening and by midnight the company line had been converted into a long hospital. Physicians from other regiments were summoned to assist Maj. Evans, and all of the men except Private Welton were made comfortable before morning. They will be all right toworrow.

made comfortable before morning. They will be all right tomorrow.

Col. Schadel has entered a vigorous protest against the kind of food being furnished and the way it is furnished, or rather not furnished. A close examination this morning of the coffee furnished to the regiment showed that it was not what it ought to be. The colonel intends to see that better food is obtained and that it is supplied more regularly.

Owing to a lot of red tape and the stubbornness of a commissary officer the First regiment went short vesterday and

A supply of rations was obtained before noon and Col. Schadel thinks there will be no further trouble.

Schadel thinks there will built, will cut and ship the same to their mill at Wausau.

Gen. Bancroft reviewed his brigade in a violent rain last evening. Col. Schadel had charge of his brigade and Lieut. Bracken was the general's aide. Supplies are still being disributed; blouses will be given out today. Paymaster Doyon is waiting for money to pay the First. He expects to begin this afternoon.

There is nothing like baseball to enthuse the true American, even in the army. Three weeks ago Col. Schadel of the First did not know the first base from the left field, but now he is an enthusiast. He witnessed the Wisconsin-Illinois game and that settled it. Before the game with the Lowas came off, Corsen and Roby, Wisconsin's great battery, were detailed on the division hospital corps and there was some question as to whether or not they could get away to play. A newspaper man called Col. Schadel's attention to the circumstance. "Great Scott!" he exclaimed, "They have got to get off. We must win that game. If they try to hold them let me know and I'll send an order to get them." And the colonel looked seriously alarmed.

Co. I is going to luxuriate in a new kitchen, with a table at which the boys can eat if they so desire. The kitchen is to be built with the $13 saved to the company by Commissary Bracken. A There is nothing like baseball to enthuse

Co. I is going to luxuriate in a new kitchen, with a table at which the boys can eat if they so desire. The kitchen is to be built with the $13 saved to the company by Commissary Bracken. A wote was taken as to what should be done with the money and the majority decided in favor of the purchase of beer. As that could not be done under the As that could not be done under the army rules, a compromise was finally effected on a proposition to build a kitchen. The Third battalion, to which Co. I belongs, is to have a bathhouse similar to that erected by the Second battalion. It will be built this week. Camp Thomas, Chickamauga Park, Ga., June 21.—[Special.]—While reweille was calling 1000 Second Wisconsin soldiers to awaken for the military duties of another day, George S. Wright of Oconto closed his eyes in the sleep from which there is no awakening. He was 22 years old, and death was caused by cerebral spinal meningitis. The young man was taken to the division hospital yesterday, but he had not been in very good health for a week, the indisposition being brought about by exhaustion. Wright joined recently and was exceedingly popular with his fellow comrades. He was engaged to marry a young lady of Peshtigo. The remains will probably be sent home with a brief military funeral tomorrow, preceding their shipment.

Central depots where milk is received and filtered before being taken to the consumer are now a feature of several European cities. Large cylindrical vessels are divided horizontally near their center by compartments containing sand of thre successive degrees of fineness, the coarse-est being the lowest, and as the milk ar-riving from the country is poured through a pipe into the bottom of these vessels it rises through the sand filter and is run off by an overflow pipe into a cool cistern, from which it is drawn directly into locked cans for distribution. The sand is renewed each time the filter is used.

was attended by about two hundred peo- considerable. ple. At 6 o'clock the orchestra began to play and all responded promptly to the call of the floor manager for voluneers to join the festive round. Everybody was happy and thus aided the management in making it an occasion of pleasure as well as to render assistance to those who have gone forth to support the nation in its efforts to extend universal liberty. The presence of so large a number of people from this and neighboring town is positive evidence of their approval of course taken by this county and also shows that while the boys are gone far away from home they are by no means forgotten by the friends and neighbors. The ice cream was served on the stage by the young ladies and the patronage given by the taxgatherer. the older people whose dancing days are over but were willing to contribute their share toward the fund for the boys in blue isworthy of mention. "For three years we have never been without Chamberlin's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy in the house," says high school exercises at Whitewater A. H. Hatter, with E. C. Atkins & Co., Indianapolis Ind., and my wife would as soon think of being, without flour as a bottle of this Remedy in the summer season. We have used it with all three of our children and it has never failed to cure--not simply stop pain but to cure absolutely. It is all right, and anyone who tries it will find it so." For sale by J.
