THE DESTRUCTION OF ST. PIERRE THEY WOULD KILL THE KING. scenes at St. Pierre and St. Vincent can exaggerate the heart-rending tragedy of the facts. Death and deplot against King Alfonso was discovvastation fell with instantaneous and ered and several arrests, including resistless force. St. Pierre, which a few days ago was a pleasant town an insurance company, have with twenty-five thousand people, is made. Dynamite cartridges to day nothing more than a mere heap found on the premises where Lopez and 115,000 tons of soft coal on hand tants. St. Pierre was the commercial capital of Martinique, while Fort St. France (whence reports of the disasters of the disasters are now commercial). ter are now coming) is the political and military capital. Martinique itself is an island of the Lesser Antilles, a group which is of volcanic origin; it contains about three hundred and ter the royal coach left the chamber eighty square miles; belongs to France; and is thickly populated, fourfifths of its two hundred thousand innabitants being negroes, chiefly employed in sugar-making. Mont Pelee, the principal but not the only volcano of the island, has been classed as semi-active; its last eruption was in 1851. Scientists have long known there was seismic connection of some sort between the volcanoes of this group of islands and those of Central America, and there is little doubt that recent eruptions and earthquakes in Mexico. Guatemala, and Nicaragua have some mysterious subterranean share in the gigantic convulsion which has just devastated part of the West The story of the eruption of Mont Pelee has many points of re-semblance with that of the storm of fire and lava which buried Pompeii and Herculaneum; in the extent of the life destroyed it is comparable only with the event just named, with the destruction of Lisbon by earthquake, and with the stupendous eruption of Krakatoa, near Java, in 1883, when the surviving sultans, claim to enter-one hundred and sixty-three villages were buried and about thirty-seven ted States. General Chaffee is not thousand persons were killed. Mont Pelee had been showing unusual signs of activity for some days before the tremensor.3 outburst of last week stream (Turning lava rushed down a dry torrent-bed, overwhelmed plantations, buildings, cattle and human being in a fiery flood half a mile wide, and at the coast utterly destroyed the great Guerin sugar-factory. Although two or three hundred people perished in this disaster of Monday, those in St. Pierre seem to have been only moderately alarmed, and a report from a Government commission which visited the volcano assured them of safety. But on Thursday the blow fell with the suddenness of the lightningstroke. It is asserted that a single minute sufficed for the extinction of thirty thousand lives. It is doubtful whether any of those who were in the city itself escaped; unknown numbers of men, women, and children in the neighboring country perished; and the survivors gathered in pitiful and helpless crowds in places of comparative safety waiting for succor. What took place in that awful minute is de-What scribed by an observer on a vessel in St. Pierre harbor as a tremendous cloud of smoke and cinders rushing with terrific rapidity over the town and port, in an instant completely enveloping the former in a sheet of flame and raining fire on the ships. Several vessels were instantly submerged by the tidal wave that followed; one, the Roddam, crept to St. Lucia, with ten of her crew burned to prices. death, others fatally injured, the captain barely able by dint of strength steer with his own burned hands. For a day or two efforts by the French ship Suchet and other vessels to enter St. Pierre were bailled; at last, on Sunday, a landing was made; everywhere were found ruins, heaps of dead bodies, families locked in one another's arms; in the cathedral alone were the bodies of three thousand people; instant cremation was the only way of meeting the horrible problem presented by this mass of death. One of the party of discovery reports that the evidence all goes to show that there must have been suddenly shot down from the mountain a great sheet of flame accompanied by a terrible gaseous whirlwind; flowing lava and a shower of burning ashes would not have produced such instant destruction. The duced such instant destruction. Governor of the island, the longlish and American Consuls, and, with few exceptions, all of the city's officials and people of note, perished with the multitude. Steamships from Fort de France and from other near-by islands are removing the survivors in the vicinity of St. Plerre, and are carrying provisions for the shelterless and homeless thousands. France is contributing liberally for the destitute, officially and individually; ald meney and food will also be needed from the United States, and President Roosevelt has sent a message to Congress urging that an appropulation of $500,000 be made; a naval vessel with supplies will start for Martinique at once. The island of St. Vincent, an English possession, has suffered only less severely than Martinique. A socalled sympathetic eruption from the volcano of La Soufriere destroyed some five or seven hundred peoplevery likely more, for reports are as yet quite incomplete. A dispatch from St. Lucia says of St. Vincent: 'The configuration of the mountain is entirely changed. Estates, chapels and everything in the vicinity of the

WILL SUMMER AT GRAY GABLES Former President Cleveland Secures Exclusive Fishing Privileges.

BUZZARD'S BAY, Mass., May 19.

Ex-President Grover Cleveland has lecided to spend the entire summer with his family at his home here. He has become by proxy the owner of a vast tract of oyster beds and has through the same means obtained exclusive fishing privileges over the wa-ers surrounding his home. For years oyster diggers have work ed Monument Boach and Manomet River, which border Mr. Cleveland's estate, and they have littered the shores with shells and other debris. The township of Bourne sells the fishing and oyster diggers rights, but they can only be held by residents of the town. Mr. Cleveland being a resident of Princeton, N. J., was ineligible, but easily got around this by having his superIntendent, Bradford Wright, a lifelong resident of the town, buy up miles of shore, which gives Mr. Cleveland the exclusive privilege.

THEDFORD'S BLACKDRAUGHT THE GREAT FAMILY MEDICINE

Thedford's Black-Draught has saved doctors' bills for more than sixty years. For the common family ailments, such as constipation, ndigestion, hard colds, bowel complaints, chills and fever, biliousness, headaches and other like complaints no other medicine is necessary. It invigorates and reg-ulates the liver, assists digestion, stimulates action of the kidneys, purifies the blood, and purges the bowels of foul accumulations. It cures liver complaint, indigestion, sour stomach, dizziness, chills, rheumatic pains, sideache, back-ache, kidney troubles, constipation, diarrhœa, biliousness, piles, hard colds and headache. Every drug-gist has Thedford's Black-Draught in 25 cent packages and in mam-moth size for $1.00. Never accept a substitute. Insist on having the original made by the Chattanooga Medicine Company.

I believe Thedford's Black-Draught is the best medicine on earth. It is good for any and everything. I have family of twelve children, and for four years I have kept them on foot and healthy with no doctor but Black-Draught. A. J. GREEN, Illewara, La

Spirit of the Press.

The Milwaukee Free Press points out the way that plans some times

"The attitude of the meat packers and the meat consuming public is something like that of strikers and employers during times of labor troubles. When the price of meat began to go up the consumption was reduced in expectation that this would glut the market, with the result that prices would be reduced. People everywhere ate less meat than formerly, and the sales dropped off to such an extent that small dealers were comelled in some cases to close their shops. Instead of the price being maderially reduced, however, the packers refused to buy cattle and commission men instructed western shippers to hold their stock, as there was no demand for it. The result has been the daily receipts at present are little more than half what they were a month ago. Meanwhile such wheaty preparations as are known to the disgusted people who have attempted to feed on them as "sand" and "excelsior," are being used to prolong life."

Will Make Run For Congress in Fifth District.

HE WON EASILY ON TUESDAY.

Great Popularity With Young Men and Ability as a Campaigner Gave Him The Victory

Wm. H. Stafford of Milwaukee, secured 48 1-2 of the 76 votes cast at the Fifth Congressional district convention last Tuesday at Milwaukee, on the informal ballot, and the instant the call was completed for the formal ballot, a motion presented to make the vote unanimous, by T. W. Parkinson, was carried with a hurrah.

from the start.
Mr. Frame was loyally supported by his home delegation and received his defeat gracefully, as did the others H. Ellas. who had supporters in the convention, David Messrs. Estabrook and Rogers.

He will undoubtedly make an effective campaigner, and will quite likely retain a strong hold on the district for many years to come if elected.

The defeated candidates spoke briefly after the nomination and Frame gained the only real enthusiastic applause by all the convention during the proceedings, by a reference to Senator John C. Spooner.

Candidates for County Clerk.

There are two young men one from the north side of the county, and one from the south who are seeking the county clerk. The nomination for county clerk. former is Edw. Randall of Merton, a school principal, who is recognized by his acquaintances as a very worthy gentieman. He is likely to receive good backing at the convention. The other is Stanton Clark of Mukwonago, a well known and popular teacher of the county, and the son of a very worthy union veteran. Mr. Clark lost an arm some two years ago through an accidental gun shot and is at a disadvantage in his life race with many others. But all who know him say he would make an ideal county clerk We have been asked to present their portraits and hope to do so soon.
