This gentleman has first class accommodations for a large number of horses, his barn being thoroughly equipped. His stock of driving horses is a superior one and his laudable ambition is seen to advantage in the style of his vehicles, which include carriages, buggies, runabouts, All in all, the stock and turn. outs are not surpassed in the entire county. Competent * Lady Assistant.

In this important industry it is a credit to any community to have such able ex ponents as Messrs. Clohisy Bros., and we join in wishing them continued success. Their patrons are among the best known farmers of this locality. THE EAGLE CREAMERY.

A most successful and highly commendable establishment here is the above concern owned by the Wisconsin Butter and Cheese Co. It is one of those institutions which has grown strong on its own merits and has increased its territory until its trade extends all through these regions. The business is under the im mediate management of Charles E. Cruver, an expert butter-maker. The firm has been so successful both in the manufacturing and handling of the products of the dairy that its facilities have had to be increased very materially. There are many conditions necessary to the success of a creamery. They must in the first place make the best grades of butter that will sell readily and they musu have a good system of business to be able to dispose of their goods rapidly with little expense, as competition is so keen. The Wisconsin Butter and Cheese Co. place thousands of pounds of butter on the market each month. In the purchase of milk they, at all times, pay the highest prices to the farmers, who are entirely satisfied with the treatment accorded them, as is evidenced by the large numbers who dellver to the firm. Mr. Cruver is well known to all the people of this locality and to him is due much of the credit of the success of the Eagle Creamery.

THE COMMERCIAL HOTEL.

The above hostelry has through its years of meritorious service to the public gained a high reputation. It contains several nicely furnished rooms, a well arranged dining room and a large office. Everything is kept in the best of shape at all times and patrons are given home like accommodations. M. J. Bovee is the proprietor and took possession of it about eight years ago. . He is thoroughly qualified to conduct a first class hotel, and under his courteous management the Commercial has broadened its field of acquaintance and friendship. The bill of fare is under the direct management of Mrs. Bovee and the meals served are unsurpassed in much more pretentious establishments. She is entitled to much of the credit for the success of the botel. and burial of their mother, Mary Murphy. Mr. Bovee is a native of Eagle, having been born here in 1844, and although he was away for several years, and has traveled extensively, he found that there was no better place to live than his old home. He was in the war of the rebellion and served in the 24th Wis., Co. A., for three years, under Col. Arthur Mac Arthur, who is now a general. GEORGE CUMMINGS.

His years of residence in Eagle and constant business activity have made Mr. Cummings a well known figure in our town. He is engaged in various lines of business, for instance, he is an auctioneer of wide reputation, and in this capacity his services are in great demand, and he never fails to give satis faction.
