Mrs. E. J. White of East Troy visited with Mrs. George Witte on Tuesday.

At a shoot at Palmyra Sunday for the championship of Jefferson county, H. L. Colton broke 49 birds out of 50 and thereby won the championship. "Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy", is not current in Palmyra apparently.

As Spring approaches the sidewalk question becomes prominent again. The disappearance of the snow and ice has disclosed many defects which ought to be repaired immediately. President Bingham and others have set a shining example for the residents on Jericho street at their own cost and expense, which if followed down the line would greatly improve the appearance of the street and redound to the public spirit of the builders. Some are doubtless waiting for the village to take the initiative but for the present the village cannot assume the burden of expense for lack of sufficient funds. It now rests upon the public spirit of the individual property owners to carry forward the improvements so ably begun during the fall and winter, by both the village board and individuals.

Frank Falter Sr., removed to Newberg, Wis.; Tuesday, where he will make his home with his son, John, a contractor and carpenter at that place. Mr. Falter came to Eagle 42 years ago and through industry and energy acquired large real estate interests here and in the town of Ottawa which he disposed of recently to lead a more quiet life. His removal from here is sincerely regretted by Eagle people generally who always found in him a good neighbor and an honest citizen.

Ex-alderman Leigen of the Rosy city was the guest of his friend Wm. Lindworm of the Pheasant farm for a few days. He returned home Tuesday with a basket of brook trout and water-cress, the result of an afternoon's sport at the Minnehaha Springs.

On Monday evening at the Opera house will occur the annual ball of the Eagle Camp, Modern Woodmen of America. This will be one of the finest dances ever given by the society and a large number will be present from surrounding towns. Thus far nearly 100 tickets have been engaged. Supper will be furnished by the Royal Neighbors in the banquet room. The celebrated Golden Eagle orchestra of six pieces with piano accompaniment by Prof. Chas. Lurvey of the Wisconsin Conservatory of Music of Milwaukee will furnish the music.

Easter services at the M. E. church will be held at 7:30 Sunday evening. The exercises will be conducted by the children of the Sunday School with a brief address by the Rev. W. W. Wilson.

Harry Burnell Jr., is the proud possessor of a fine violin bought at Lorge's. He began taking lessons of Miss Van Sweringen Saturday.

The so-called campaign of education will soon commence. Already enough candidates have announced themselves as willing to save their country; that had their aspirations been military instead of civil, Aguinaldo would long since have made his last retreat from his last capital. Even at this early date men are beginning to lose respect for their neighbors opinions and are swallowing whole the panaceas gotten at the prescription department of their particular political party. Of course all are willing to be convinced but we are like the Scotchman who was willing to be convinced, but he'd like to see the man who could convince him. A large number of us get our politics as we do our religion by inheritance and are almost as "touchy" upon our ideas of civil polity as we are of our ideas of God. In Chicago Saturday two chocolate colored Republicans became so excited in discussing the merits of Dewey's presidential boom that in their heat pistols and razors were produced and before argument was ended one had given up "his life all for his country's sake" and the other's epidermis looked very much like pickled tripe. But the era is coming and there are signs that its advent is not far distant when brains and not booze, boodle and brass bands will be the leading factors in a campaign of education.

EASTER.

Easter, the feast of the resurrection of Christ, has probably its German name from the feast of the Goddess Ostara, which the older Saxons celebrated at the same period in which occurs the Christian Festival of Easter. With the culture accorded to this goddess of Spring prior to the introduction of Christianity hinge the names and customs of Easter celebrations, Easter waters and Easter eggs. The origin of the feast is therefore Jewish. The first Jewish Christian communities began with the yearly Pass-over 14 Nisan, also the commemoration of the last supper of Christ and on the third day following commemorated the resurrection of Jesus. The Roman and other allied communities did therefore begin the anniversary of the resurrection on a Sunday which in remembrance of the sufferings and death of Jesus they proceeded with a preparatory day of penance and fast for which day a Friday was chosen. In the middle of the second century this difference in time of celebration occasioned dispute between the churches and the council of Nice, 325 A. D. substantially decided for the Roman custom establishing Easter on the Sunday following the 14 Nisan. The followers of the Jewish Christian Easter celebration were stigmatized with "Quartodecimani." The celebration of the feast of resurrection was early preceded by a preparatory fast, the duration of which differed widely. The feast itself was considered a favorite time for baptism and the church on this day received the penitent fallen back into its fold. The significance of the feast as well as the fact that all other moveable feasts of regulating festivals, the eighth day combined the feast and the week was called Easter week. Later the following custom arose in the western churches, the Eastern festival was preceded by a forty days fast beginning Ash Wednesday. Palm Sunday the beginning of Holy Week was given to the remembrance of the last entrance of Christ into Jerusalem. On Wednesday of this great week the "Miserere" is still sung in the Sixtin Chapel in Rome. The following day Holy Thursday was instituted in memory of the Lord's supper and Good Friday in memory of the sufferings and death of Christ. Saturday the last day of the week was in the old church fixed as a general day of fast preparatory for baptism. In the evening the congregations gathered for solemn evening service which continued until Easter morning. At the present time Easter evening distinguishes itself in Rome by the baptism and confirmation of converts in Lateran and by the Solemn High Mass in the Sixtin Chapel. In the Pope's chapel the blessing of fire and the Easter candle takes place. All families here their Easter meal blessed which consists of egg soup, flat cake and roasted kid. On this day in the Roman church the lamps in houses of worship are filled with fresh oil, all candles extinguished and lighted anew, the bells are silent from Good Friday to Easter morning. This Easter Sunday was in the old church always considered the first feast of rejoicing. The Christians received each other in early morn with an Easter kiss and the cheer "Shrexite," and were greeted with the answer "Vere Surrexite." Such customs, however, exist now only in the Greek church. In the Evangelical church Easter is to day recognized as one of the three great festivals. At the present time Easter is always celebrated on the first Sunday after the first Spring moon excepting when this occurs on Sunday when it is celebrated on the following Sunday.

A Talent for Silence.

Among the few who have a perfect genius for science is a certain well known artist, whose reticence is the amusement and wonder of all who know him. A friend who had dropped into his studio one day was vainly endeavoring to draw Mr. H. into conversation when the artist's brother appeared in the doorway. "Hallo, Tom!" said the brother. "Hallo, John!" returned Tom, looking up from his easel, with a smile. John wandered about the room for fifteen minutes, turned over his brother's latest work, then, going toward the door, stopped long enough to say: "Well, good-bye, Tom." "Good-bye, John," was the hearty rejoinder. Tom painted on for some minutes, and then, in an unvoiced burst of confidence, he said, warmly, to his amused friend: "I tell you, I was glad to see John! Haven't seen him before for a month!"—Tid Bits.

ONE DOLLAR PER YEAR.

A SOLDIER'S DREAM.

I dreamed a curious dream last night
As strange as strange can be;
I thought an angel from heaven came
Down
And held sweet converse with me.
Faint mortal, awake! the angel said,
For this world is near its end;
And say if you know in this world below
A place called Shirt-tail Bend.

I know the place quite well, I said,
'Tis a beautiful place to see,
Where the men are brave and wise and good
And the maidens frank and free.

But what may you want with Shirt-tail
Bend
And the people that there do dwell
Said he, to reward them from heaven I came

For they please their maker well,
Twas there where Washington was born,
'The brave, the wise, and good,
And there our Savior first drew breath,
'The only Son of God.

And the new Jerusalem there must stand
For such is heaven's decree;
Then attention give to what I say
And answer with truth to me.

Who can I find to build that house
Pray tell me if you can;
Mr. God, said I, that I can do,
Old Marclay is your man.

But he will two assistants want
And they must not be fools,
There's A. J. Reeves and Weston too
Who handle well their tools.

Then after they have built the house
Who is to paint the same?
Said I, a painter of some note;
And Beckwith is his name.

But who among the favored few
Is fit to wear the crown?
The angel smiled and sweetly said
His name is Charley Brown.

Long Draper draws his wine for him
To make his heart feel glad,
And Silas Reeves will sing and dance
For him when he is sad.

Bill Bigelow is to keep the books,
And Lacy sweep the floor;
With "Pod" for sergeant of the guard
And Kinder keeps the door.

"Old Skid" our quartermaster is,
He suits the office well;
For if the rations do get short
He plenty more can steal.

Is no one from Palmyra town
Admitted in that place?
No sir! the angel quickly said,
They are a cursed race.

To even mention such a thing
It would our King offend,
No mortal man can enter there,
But people from the Bend.

Oh Lord get me some post I said
Although the same be mean;
Just then I did awake
And found it was only a dream.

WHEEL AT PUBLIC EXPENSE.

Inmate of County House Asks Chairman Johnston to Buy Him One.

[From 'The Chief']

MUKWONAGO—An old man by the name of McDonald, who is an inmate of the county house, walked into the village Monday to see if Chairman Johnston would provide him with a wheel at the expense of the town. As the bicycle fund was exhausted some four years ago his request had to be denied. The charming operetta "Snow White," at the opera house last Tuesday night, was a delightful entertainment, most successfully carried out in every detail and reflects credit on all who took part, from the beautiful princess "Snow White" down to the little fairy dressed in blue. A reading by Miss Edna Terry was particularly pleasing and the young lady deserved a recall. The audience was a fair sized one, but certainly not what it should have been. In the opinion of The Chief the production of "Snow White" has been of great benefit to the young people who took part in it under the able instruction of Mrs. Terry, and a better patronage should have rewarded her efforts. The following resolution was adopted at the last town meeting: Resolved, That bicycle and tricycle riders be and are hereby prohibited from riding on the sidewalks of Mukwonago. In case of violation said riders will be liable to damages according to existing law. - Mr. Klett is making some extra large shipments this week to Chicago. They weighed 12,000 pounds. - The Central has some of the largest steam shovels in the world and will set them to work this week on long contemplated changes in grades near the village. - Chas. H. Job is making extensive and handsome improvements on his residence on Rochester street, which is to be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Hillier. Harry W. Grootemaat is doing the work. - Mrs. A. A. Crocker returned to Chicago Monday morning with her son, Dr. Crocker, who had spent the previous day here. She will remain a month. - Milton Stewart and Albert Green leave to-day for Fargo, N. D., where they have employment the coming summer. - Will. Vick and John Gudger are building a fine cottage for Mr. Kretschmar Sr. on the shores of Beulah lake. - There is still an unusual amount of sickness in the community. - The U. & U. parsonage is ready for the plasterers. Comunions Plate in Battle.

The soldiers from New South Wales now in South Africa, carry with them a set of communion plate, which is as historic as it is valuable. When New South Wales furnished its volunteers for Egypt in the '80's, the force was presented with a set of communion plate, which went with them to the front. On their return the plate was presented to Christ church, Alexander Bay, Sydney, on condition that, if at any future time New South Wales soldiers went on active service, the communion plate was to be given up. Rev. E. C. Beck, the chaplain attached to the New South Wales contingent, has now these sacred vessels in his possession at the front.

Decorations to Be Restored.

The old question of restoring the traceries to the windows in the palace of the doges at Venice is again agitating artistic Italy. The exterior of the palace as it stands today was begun in the early part of the thirteenth century, and required 100 years for its completion. In 1577 fire destroyed all but the walls. Up to that time the windows were enriched with beautiful tracery.

Mothers! Beware of those secret robbers of your baby's quiet and health. Those sleepless nights and long hours of tiresome vigil are caused by those terrible enemies of childhood—worms. Destroy and remove them with WHITE'S CREAM VERMIFUGE. Price 25 cts. Lorge's Pharmacy.

There has been a wonderful improvement in the cleanliness of the streets of several Cuban cities since the war. In Havana the streets are cleaned regularly for the first time in the history of the city. When the street cleaners recently removed the dirt which had been accumulating in one street for years they uncovered a stone pavement which had been unseen so long that its presence had been forgotten. People living in the street were astonished to see the stones, which had been buried out of sight by the accumulation of filth for years. Keeping the streets clean may have the effect of making the native Cubans cleaner in time. At present the streets are clean and the natives dirty. In Mexico the streets are dirty, like the people. American influence in Cuba is shown at present more by the streets than by the people.

Sun Gods of the Egyptians

The Egyptians had many names for their sun god, among these one for the rising sun, one for the midday sun and one for the sun when it set in the west. The very biggest idol they ever made was to represent this sun god. It is what we call the "Great Sphinx of Gizeh." No one knows who made this sphinx or when it was made, but in all likelihood it was already there in the desert more than 6,000 years ago, when the first king of Egypt whom we know anything about ruled over the country.
