The G. A. R. men of Eagle, went to Palmyra Thursday to attend the funeral of Capt. Tower, many of whom were members of his company in the late war.

H. Tower, of Iowa, was a pleasant caller at this office Thursday. He is traveling dairy agent for the American Refrigerator Transit Co. Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and by his visit to Eagle made many new friends who wish him continued success.

On Jan. 29, 1900, at Kansas City, Mo. occurred the death of Capt. H. Tower, a resident of Ft. Atkinson, Iowa. He was born in Rutland, Vt., Aug. 17, 1827 and was married to Polly E. Potter, Jan. 1st, 1852, located in Palmyra where he resided until 1869, when he moved to his late home in Iowa. He was a soldier in the civil war and was at first with the so-called 100 day men at the expiration of his term as such he organized Co. E, of 45 Reg. Wis. Inf. and was made captain. He was a republican in politics and held the office of postmaster at Ft. Atkinson in Iowa continuously for twenty years. The funeral services were held at his late home after which his remains were taken to Palmyra, Wis., for interment accompanied by members of the family. Services at the grave were in charge of the masonic fraternity. He leaves a widow, one son, N. D. Tower, of the American Refrigerator Transit Co. of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, one daughter, Mrs. A. Webster, of Waukegan, Iowa, and several grand children.

The Modern Woodman of Dousman give a masquerade ball Friday evening, Feb. 9, and the same fraternity at Genesee give a mask ball on the same evening. Now, which place will we visit? Either will do and Eagle contemplates to divide and be represented at both places.

A visit once a year is what we can always bet from Peter Murphy, a true descendant from worthy sons of old Erin's Isle and we can also rest, sure that his visits mean a cash deposit for his subscription in advance without any "ifs" or "ands".

M. J. Gosa of Palmyra dealer in live stock and real estate and one of the most enterprising and successful men of the village was in town Saturday.

Street commissioner Frank Kloppenburg has lately established himself in the business of retail dealer or agent for gasoline lamps. He deals in magic, brilliant and standard lamps. He buys direct of manufacturer and can sell at a reasonable price. All insurance companies allow the use of these lamps without extra charge. A permit must however be obtained from the Ins. company.

The C. M. & St. P. R'y Co., are now selling round trip tickets Eagle to Milwaukee for $1.30. Return coupon good to return in five days from date of sale.

The percentage of farmer members of Modern Woodmen of America is said to be larger than any other society in the world. The exact ratio between the urban and suburban membership is 35 and 65 per cent, respectively.

The Modern Woodmen Society will have ready for publication in about two months, a roster containing a list of all its officers, besides a list, by counties, of nearly 8,000 prominent men of the United States who are members. The book will also contain a list, by counties, of the 6,000 Woodmen who are the owners and wearers of the "Hustler Button," a souvenir gold badge given as a reward for securing five or more members.

A debate in which Editor Fraser, of the Menomonee Falls News, Supt. Lowry and Henry Lockney, of Waukesha, and Burt Ingersoll, of New Berlin, will participate, is on the program at the Verbon Amusement hall for this month. Prof. Bigelow, of Eagle, has also received an invitation to deliver a recitation.

On Friday morning at Pewaukee occurred the death of Louis Scholl, a prominent and well known resident of Waukesha county. He was an early settler and through industry and good management accumulated a comfortable fortune. The funeral took place from the Catholic church on Tuesday, Rev. Becker officiating. He leaves a wife and five children, Wm., proprietor of the hotel at Brookfield and prominent in Waukesha county politics, Charles, Frank and Vincent and Mrs. Gepman.

There is nothing the matter now with Eagle since the new gasoline street lamps are in use. The trouble is they are lighted so promptly that night and day all look alike to us. Credit for this belongs to the village board and also to Henry Ihrig who has the contract of lighting for the coming year. The lights are not kept burning all night. Eleven thirty p. m. has been set for the closing hour for this department. Possibly later on, and will modify this rule as many here are in favor of extending the time.

If you don't care to use space in this paper for advertising what you have to sell or want to buy, then use some other paper. We are not jealous of our brother publishers or success that may come to them. But if you are a business man selling at a profit and have articles for sale to which you wish to call attention, patronize a public newspaper. Our rates are reasonable. Our list of subscribers is double as large as it was two years ago. The Quill reaches every home in Eagle. Those who are not subscribers borrow it from their neighbors. The advertising result is just the same in either case. Don't nail up slips of paper on other people's houses, or posts, it gives a poor impression on business methods. Come in, and we will extend to you the glad hand of business with a promise to reciprocate.

If you need seeds of any kind this spring, place your order with Jerry H. Campbell, who will be at his residence in the Bovee building the coming three weeks with illustrated catalogues to assist you in your selections. He deals direct with Currie Bros, the reliable Milwaukee seedmen and florists, and will be pleased to quote market price.

Misses Katie Stute and Marv Vonrueden were guests of Miss Lena Vonrueden at St. Theresa parsonage this week.

There are people here, and yet one would hardly believe it, yet they live in our country, who would wish nothing better and prophecy nothing more certain, than a victory of the English over the Boers. As father of the wish the fact may be observed, that such people feel only English blood in their veins and throw away all patriotism of Americans, which shows sympathy with friends of Liberty. These people, however, can give no reason for the much desired success of England. They bank on England's power and express their hope that it may be in her power to drive the Boers from one entrenchment to another until those fighting for freedom must surrender. It will be difficult to find many with sound judgment to coincide with their wishes. It may be as inhuman to wish England thousands of dead and wounded, as to the Boers, but it is for Americans really, to grant victory to the Boers in every battle. To wish it heartily as we looked to other nations for such wishes when struggling for liberty and freedom from the English yoke in 1776. A sin which has besmirched John Bull's selfish soul for centuries, demands that the policy of Albion be ended. In the hands of brave and resolute warriors, are now found the weapons which with marked impression call a halt to England. Full of desire for liberty, proud in defending a just cause for peaceable people, confident in the final outcome, the Boers have defeated the English invaders and viewing the war, the world wishes them further success until the crown of victory is theirs. The Boers all left their Fatherland at a time, as did many Americans of foreign birth leave their country, and settled in South Africa. They established Cape Colony, where they lived until about sixty years ago. It was England who drove them away and commanded them to go to Orange and then the Transvaal state. This ambitious little band of people found a rich land there which again attracted England's lust. Their experience, however, taught the Boers to exercise great foresight, when a powerful enemy moulds dangerous plans. Twenty years ago, all kinds of trouble took place and it was the Boers who forced England to concede by treaty, local self government and by which England was to be consulted only on international affairs. Several indirect attempts on the part of England to find some cause for interference, having failed, they sought other ways. England then placed might against might. This did not frighten Oom Krueger and he presented to England an ultimatum, whereby and wherein he asked for himself, his people and his country, nothing but right and protection. This England denied, for it would lose advantages and cross its own plans. Without considering that it a sister republic, warring with our only enemy, it belongs to us to extend our whole sympathy to the brave Boers for their heart is in the right place, and so great and influential their country may become in the future, they will never follow England's footsteps and indirectly encourage secession at the first opportunity as England did in 1860.

Roberts of Stormont fame has been denied a seat in congress without the privilege of taking the oath of office as is the usual custom. Many speeches of an serious an exciting character were held pro and con. Roberts was present all the time and left the House only when the final vote had concluded. He will go home, he says, with a light heart and with full confidence in his future in the state he tried to represent. He will keep all his women for he loves them better than the letter of the law. He holds this moral obligation to be the highest law and will observe it. He ought to visit the sultan and relate his experience. Possibly he would receive sympathy and an invitation to be a citizen and neighbor.

A reporter it is said once dreamt that the editor concluded that once in his life time he would send out one issue that would please everybody. Every item of news received was forwarded to the different houses and if any objection was made it was suppressed. At the usual hour the paper went to press and as the readers received it they found it all unprinted white paper except the name and date. The editor that night rested quietly and enjoyed nature's repose because he was sure that he had published nothing offensive to anyone. His paper was satisfactory throughout.

Politicians are beginning to follow the course of matters with much attention. Some believe that all will remain as at present and that if any changes are suggested at all, they will not take place until a year from now. They further hold that on account of the peace and harmony extant among all, a friendly election will take place in village and town matters next spring. This paper will support any friendly move for the interest of both districts and will be found in the harness to pull back political wagons in local affairs. All join hands and pull together.

New Music.
Flanner's Music House, Milwaukee, Wis., has favored us with two new compositions, a Two Step, "Sounds from the Regiment," by Josephine Clement, dedicated to the Third Regiment, Wisconsin Volunteers; it is a very catchy piece and full of ginger. The other is a song, "My Lad is a Sailor," by W. Francis Leon, a very pretty ballad. Ask Flanner to send you his latest monthly Bulletin (free) of Sheet Music and Music Books, at greatly reduced prices.

An appendicitis club is being organized in Cleveland, Ohio. Only those who can produce a surgeons certificate, to show that they are short of appendix, will be able to join.

The Press devotes a good deal of space this issue to local issues. It is a matter of importance. The good of Waukesha is at stake. A city of Waukesha's size cannot be killed but it can be greatly hampered. There comes a time in a city's life, when she goes forward or backward. Such a time has arrived in Waukesha's history. Beloit, Janesville, Fond du Lac and other Wisconsin cities have grown and are growing by taking advantage of such a time. This is no time for appeal to selfishness but a time to appeal to good sense. Is it good sense to invest money to go forward or to sit down and whine and go to seed. That's the question that tax payers are now settling. Forward has always been our motto and must be now.

Waukesha's need just now, in view of the proposed industries to be located here, is unanimous action in lending reasonable support and encouragement to every worthy enterprise knocking at our doors.

We can not all be in the front row. We are not all practiced promoters. Some must lend while others follow in a genuine and hearty spirit of loyalty to the city and a determination to do our full share in promoting the common good. Because Mr. Smith introduces some scheme that is full of promise, for the City's best interests, should be no reason for Mr. Brown and Mr. Jones refusing to lend their aid. The far better way would be for Mr. Brown and Mr. Jones to fall in cordially and helpfully in consummating Mr. Smith's scheme with the full assurance that Mr. Smith will, in turn, co-operate with them in maturing any worthy enterprise they may originate. Away with all petty jealousies or criticisms. We are booming Waukesha, not Smith, Brown or Jones. Anything that benefits Waukesha helps us all no matter who may be the originator.

United action on the part of all citizens, with Waukesha's prosperity as the watchword, is what we need most. Our present circumstances afford us opportunities that come only occasionally to any city. Let us see to it that we make the most of them by rallying around any one and everyone who has a promising scheme to boom Waukesha.

LET us take no backward step, but press forward. This is the conclusion of the committee making an appeal to the citizens of Waukesha to raise $15,000. The appeal itself is strong, logical and to our mind convincing. There are only two ways open to the tax payer. One is to let the car shops move and let everything go. This cannot kill, it can only hurt Waukesha. It can put the city ten or twenty years behind the other cities of southern Wisconsin. This will be a very costly experiment, for every foot of real estate in Waukesha would have to suffer. Hundreds of pieces of property would suddenly be thrown on the market and all will suffer. The other way is to tax oneself some reasonable amount and keep what we have and in fact go forward. This the committee advises as the very best for every tax payer. Why? Because this will bring as many families to our city as are bound to leave with the car shops, with the result that Waukesha will hold her own in point of population and will get lots of advertising as a manufacturing centre. Those signing remonstrance are practically saying that they prefer to lose money by having the town go backward. Those signing the petition prefer to invest $5 per $1000 of assessment, so as to have the city hold her own. Which is the reasonable thing?

The argument that the taxation of property may be illegal and that the money should be raised some other way is a mere quibble. What property holders and citizens in general care for is manufacturing plants. To get these money is necessary. To get the money some system is required. The system of taxation is fair to all concerned. What difference does it make how the money is raised? It must be raised and everyone ought to be willing to help raise it.

"BEAR" FACTS

Are things we deal in—no exaggeration—no word-trickery to get your dollars—nothing but good wholesome truth. When we advertise a thing you may stake your faith on it as "bear facts"—nothing more—nothing less. We assert without fear of challenge—that the same money will buy more sterling worth of clothing at our store than in any other place in Waukesha, no matter whether it is a $5 suit or an $18 one. This is a sweeping statement—but we will prove it at your pleasure.

OUR FALL DISPLAY OF MEN'S SUITS

Was never better, either in point of variety or style. We emphasize the fact that our goods are not bought in the ordinary way. We select the cloths from which they are made up, especially for us. You may depend upon it we get the best. There are suits that will please every man—and our guarantee goes with every garment. We have reliable all-wool suits as low as $8.00 and as high as $18.00. It would be wise to hold on to your suit money until you find out what we can do for you this fall.

Two young "swells" at Kenosha, married the ladies of his choice and forgot to pay the preacher. Six months later the preacher asked for the legal fee at least—$2. The young swells were outraged at this modest request and are going to compel the preacher to sue. No preacher has a right to take advantage of a law giving him a fee. He should consider the groom in such a case, for it is likely that the woman of his choice isn't worth the $2, otherwise the young man would not refuse to pay.

M. Spencer Saturday.—Mrs. Richard L. Bar, of Waukesha, spent Friday and Saturday with her sister, Miss Clara Barker.—John Wandschneider made a business trip to Waukesha Thursday.—A letter of recent date from E. N. Cobb, of Monmouth, Ill., states that he will be here March 9th to attend the farmer's institute. As Mr. Cobb is manager of one of the large stock farms of Illinois and a lecturer of considerable notoriety, his returning here to the home of his boyhood at this time will add to the interest of the institute and as it has been 24 years since he left here many old friends will be glad to meet him.

PEWAUKEE

PEWAUKEE, Feb. 5.—Mr. Pike's challenge published in last week's Press is causing lots of talk and will doubtless bring forth some good checker players. Pewaukee may soon be the headquarters for checker players as well as ice boats.—The ice man says he didn't like his job a few days last week. Being an ice man has its pull backs and come downs, just as well as any other business.—Owing to bad weather the social at Mrs. W. O. Lobllels was not very well attended. It will be 30x80 feet, the floor being cement and the front a large plate glass window. The second story will be 30x40, and will be occupied by the Captain as a dwelling. It will be a very substantial improvement and shows that the Captain is doing business. He is without doubt, a hustler and the growth of his business means a fine improvement for Pewaukee. Those who know "Captain Joe" know that he never does anything on halves and this will be no exception to the rule. The old building is now being moved away. It will be rebuilt by Andrew Nelson, who will occupy it as a dwelling, removing his family to Pewaukee in the spring.—The Savoyers are shipping almost any amount of ice into Chicago. Scores of cars are being loaded every day.—C. F. Balzar and C. N. Cameron were Cream city visitors last Monday.
