Sketch of Judge Sawyer.

He Has Been Democratic hander for Years-Was Mayor of Hartford and Now

County Judge. Judge Hiram W. Sawyer, the Democra tic nominee for governor, came to Wisconsin with his parents when he was 4 years of age from New Hampshire. The family settled at Burnet, Dodge county, where his mother still spends the summers with one of her daughters. Hiram Sawyer, the father, was one of the ploneers of Dodge county, and represented his county in the legislature in 1866. Judge Sawyer was brought up on the farm, receiving a common school education, which was finished off with a course at Wayland university at Beaver Dam. He began his active career as a school eacher, spending his leisure time studying law. He was admitted to the bar in 1867 and began the practice of his profession at Hartford, which has since been his home. He was elected to the legislature in 1872 as a Democrat and re-elected in 1873-4. At the session during the latter year he was recognized as the leader on the Democratic side of the assembly chamber, and was the author of the resolution under which a joint committee of five was appointed to examine into the question of railroad transportation charges. He was a member of the joint committee and its work resulted in the enactment of the famous Potter law.

Mr. Sawyer was married Sept. 28, 1870 to Miss Josephine Coxe, daughter of Judge Hopewoll Coxo of Hartford. They have four children, two sons and two daughters. He was elected the first mayor of Hartford and held the position for three years, and for upward of twenty years he has been

No sooner had the doors of the theater been closed four weeks ago than army of workmen entered the building and have been constantly at work repainting, frescoing and re-decorating the entire theater, and it now looks greater, grander, and more elaborate than ever. The whole interior has been finished in green and gold, with a beautiful terra cotta for a back ground, bordered with gold and bronze. This is all handsomely off set by the thousands of electric lights with which the dome, ceiling and walls are sumtuously studded, and when illuminated presents a magnificent spectacle indeed. Mr. O. F. Miller, m anager of the Alahambra, extends an invitation to all visitors to the city to call and inspect this handsome summer resort. The theatre is open for inspection during the day and guides will be furnished the vis itors free of charge, to show them through the theater. The performances which are given every evening with matinees on Tuesdays, Thursdays, Saturdays and Sunday, consists of high class vaudeville, farce comedies and operation attractions and include some of the best companies on the American stage; at a very moderate price of admission, being 25 and 35 cents, no higher. The reason that such excellent attractions can be witnessed at such very low prices, is that the capacity of the Alhambra is more than double that of any other theater in In the city, being able to seat over four thousand people and receives the support of the entire theater going public. When in the city do not fail to visit the Alhambra. Primrose & Docstoder's minstrels have been engaged for State Fair Week. Their company comprises over 50 people, among them being some of the best entertainers on the American stage today. This is the first time that this Company has ever shown at such very low prices and affords the public an opportunity of witnessing a $1.50 attraction at the Alhambra's popular prices.

We hear very little about the roller, but I think that it is one of the most important tools on the farm. The roller will break the lumps better than to drag the land again, and it is easier or the horses

The best time to drag and roll is to do it the day the land is plowed. The land willnever be in as good shape again, the lumps are moist and break up very easy, and another advantage is when the land is dragged and rolled it will not dry out. A man's conditon depends almost entirely upon himself. Luck is but a small factor to men in attaining wealth. Indus try, perseverance and good judgement make the foundation upon which a man builds well. The first start in life of many of our great men has been upon a farm. Hop. T. E. Ryan, of Waukesha, was our first choice for governor, and we would have been pleased to see an emphatic verdict of the democratic convention at Milwaukee in his favor. He was free from pre-slection pledges and fully abreast of his party. However, since the convention has rendered an adverse ver dict we gracefully submit to their will and will give the successful candidate our full support. Should victory crown the work of the convention on election day, we would suggest the name of Hon. T. E. Ryan for United States Senator.

What is Business?

What is it to be business-like? As the American world stands today it means, very often, to be shrewd and cunning What is the business man? He is, in many men's minds, the wide-awake fellow who has discovered a way of getting much who has discovered a way of getting much more than he carns. What is business? As very often understood among us, it is the art of juggling money out of your neighbor's pocket into your own. There is a world in which to earn your bread by honest and continuous labor is not to be business-like—is not even to be "in business." In that world, to take advantage of opportunities, to conceal what you may of opportunities, to conceal what you may have learned and to trade upon your knowledge, is business. Misleading even, knowledge, is business. Misleading even, if secrecy cannot otherwise be obtained; that is business. In short, in that world to be business-like is to be unscrupulous. A lover of fine art may continue to hope that its devotees will not too rapidly become business men in that sense.—From "A Field of Art," in Scribner's.

The plan followed in the construction of the Kearsarge and Kentucky, of putting the 8-inch guns in turrets superimposed on the turrets carrying the 18-inch guns, caused a great deal of adverse comment, the objections being based principally on the danger of baying all verse comment, the objections being based principally on the danger of having all four guns thrown out of service by one successful shot. This danger has been avoided in the Wisconsin by omitting the 8-inch gun from the armament, leaving the heavy turret unhampered, and greatly increasing the weight and efficiency of the secondary battery. Another improvement is the adding of an additional deck for the first Bree-quarters of the ship's length, giving the Wisconsin 20 feet of freeboard giving the Wisconsin 20 feet of freeboard

Wants Burdensome Armaments Reduced.

NOTE FROM THE CZAR.

The Russian Declaration Causes a Sensation Throughout Europe.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 29.-By order of Emperor Nicholas, Count Muravieff, the foreign minister, on the 24th inst., has handed to the foreign diplomats at St. Petersburg a note, declaring that the maintenance of peace and the reduction of the excessive armaments now crushing all nations is the ideal for which all governments ought to strive.

The Czar considers the present moment favorable for the inauguration of a movement looking to this end and invites the powers to take part in an international conference as a means of ensuring real and lasting peace and terminating the progressive increase of arma-

London, Aug. 29.—The Czar's proposal London, Aug. 20.—The Czar's proposal for an international conference for the purpose of securing real and lasting neace among the powers and the termination of the progressive increase in armaments, as conveyed in a note from Count Muravieff, Russian foreign minister to the foreign disputer at $t. Count Muravieff, Russian foreign minister, to the foreign diplomats at St. Petersburg, is likely to produce a sensation throughout fourone, and coming from such a quarter and with such evident sincerity of purpose, it is likely to have important effects. There is no doubt that with Russiae taking the lend in such a step, Germany, France and the other nations will be ready to follow. The text of the note follows:

The Czar's Note.

The maintenance of general peace and the possible reduction of the excessive armaments which weigh upon all nations present themselves in existing conditions to the whole world as an ideal toward which the endeavors of all governments should be directed. The humanitarian and magnanimous ideas of his majesty, the Emperor, my august master, have been won over to this view in the conviction that his lofty alm is in conformity with the most essential interests and legitimate views of all the powers; and the imperial government thinks the present moment would be very favorable to seeking the means. The Czar's Note.

would be very favorable to seeking the means.

International discussion is the most effectual means of ensuring all people's benefit—a real durable peace, above all putting an end to the progressive developments of the present armaments.

In the course of the last twenty years the longing for general appeasement has grown especially pronounced in the conscience of civilized nations; and the preservation of peace has been put forward as an object of international policy. It is in its name that the great states have concluded themselves powerful alliances.

It is the better to guarantee peace that they have developed in proportions hither to unprecedented their military forces and still continue to increase them without shrinking from any sacrifice.

still continue to Increase them without shrinking from any sacrifice.

Nevertheless, all these efforts have not yet been able to bring about the beneficent result desired—pacification.

The financial charges following the upward march strike at the very root of public prosperity. The intellectual and physical strength of the nation's labor and capital are mostly diverted from their natural application and are unproductively consumed.

Hundreds of millions are devoted to acquiring terrible engines of destruction, which though today regarded as the last work of science, are destined tomorrow to lose all their value in consequence of some fresh discovery in the same field. National culture, economic progress and the production of wealth are either paralyzed or checked in development. Moreover, in proportion as less and less of all the output in governments have set before themselves.

Crushing Burden to People.

ments have set before themselves.

Crushing Burden to People.

The economic crists, due in great part to the system of armaments l'outrance and the continual danger which lies in this massing of war martelal are transforming the armed peace of our days into a crushing burden, which the peoples have more and more difficulty in bearing.

It appears evident that if this state of things were to be prolonged it would inevitably lead to the very cataclysm it is desired to avert, and the horrors whereof make every thinking being shudder in advance.

To put an end to these incessant armaments and to seek the means of warding off the calamities which are threatening the whole world—such is the supreme duty today imposed upon all states.

I'illed with this idea, his majesty has been pleased to command me to propose to all the governments whose representatives are accredited to the imperial court the assembling of a conference which shall occupy itself with this grave problem.

This conference will be by the help of God, the happy presage for the century which is about to open. It would converge into one powerful focus the efforts of all states, sincerely seeking to make the great conception of universal peace triumph over the elements of trouble and discord, and it would at the same time cement their agreement by a corporate consecration of the principles of equity and right whereon rest the security of states and the welfare of peoples.

General Impression Regarding Czar's Proposition.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 29.-The ex-Washington, D. C., Aug. 29.—The extraordinary circular note directed by the Russian foreign minister to the members of the diplomatic body at St. Petersburg has attracted the earnest attention of the officials here. It is supposed from the terms of the note as published, that a copy was directed to Mr. Hitchcock, the United States ambassador at the Russian capital, but so far nothing has been heard by cable from him to that effect. It is believed here that the victory achieved by the United States in the late war was a contributing factor in the prepwar was a contributing factor in the preparation of the note. It is surmised that that victory made it clear at once to the European statesman that to maintain the balance of power they would be obliged to redouble their expenditures on account of the army and navy, else they might be outstripped by the United States. The official mind here looks upon the Russian project for a general disarmament as Uto-pian at this time, and while any statement as to the attitude of the United States towards such a conference as that proposed is purely conjectural in advance of the receipt of the invitation, the impression prevails that our government would not care to take any active part in its deliberations.

WRECKED A BANK.

Minnesota Cashier Confesses and Says He Sent the Money to La Crosse

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 29 .- A Preston (Minn.) special says: M. R. Todd, the cashier who wrecked the Fillmore County bank, has confessed the theft of all the bank's deposit funds, to M. T. Grattan, one of his bondsmen. Grattan told Todd that a lynching was imminent unless he made a full statement. Overcome by fear, he confessed that just prior to the bank's assignment he had taken all the money on deposit and delivered it to a former partner who is now in La Crosse, Wis. The La Crosse authorities have been asked to arrest him and fur-ther developments are expected. It develops that Todd is a forger, a spurious note having turned up in the bank's papers. A note given by the Presbyteriau church, of which Todd was treasurer, was paid, and Todd said he had destroyed it. The note now turns up as collateral in a La Crosse bank. Todd seems to have completely looted the bank and his mother-in-law's large estate. The feeling against him is bitter, almost to the point of violence.

DUESTROW BRAIN NORMAL.

Expert Rohlfing Delares the Murderer was Not Insane.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 29.—Dr. Henry A. L. Rohlfing, the Missouri Medical college pathologist, has completed the microscopic analysis of the brain of Dr. Arthur Duestrow, and his report is that the brain is normal and that there were no evidences whatever of insanity.

Although Duestrow was hanged nearly two years ago, it has required this intervening time to harden the brain, saving parts of it for inspection and then treating these parts chemically in order to arrive at a correct knowledge of the brain

Although always having a strong prediction for politics, Mr. Matthews rarely sought office. He served a term in the Legislature in 1876. In 1890 he was nominated and elected secretary of state and in 1892 he was chosen governor.

Gov. Matthews was related through his mother to some of the best families of Virginia and Kentucky. He was the son of Thomas A. Matthews and Eliza A Fletcher. His maternal great-grandfather, Gen. Thomas Jefferson Fletcher was an officer in the United States army of 1812. After his term as governor expired Mr. Matthews retired to his home in Vermillion county.

One Wisconsin Regiment Ready to Leave Porto Rico.

First Ordered Back from Jacksonville -Third will Remain in Porto Rico.

iams' Pink Pills for Pale Peo-New York, Aug. 29 .- A dispatch to the Herald from Poace says: Details of the homeward movement have been practicalple having cured a ly completed. Gen. Miles and his staff and eight companies of the Second Wisconsin volunteers leave on Tuesday night. The Fourth Pennsylvania volunteers are to start home on Wednesday.

All of the cavalry horses, guus, carriages of batteries, etc., of Pennsylvania will leave on the Mississippi on Thursday, while the men of the three Pennsylvania batteries and the Third battalion of the Second Wisconsin sail the same day on Second Wisconsin sail the same day on the Concho.

It has been arranged that the whole detachment of ahout 5000 men will land in Brooklyn. After resting there a few days they will parade across the bridge to Wall street, to Broadway, to Fifth avenue and thence to Central park. The men in line will be commanded by Gen. Wilson, and Gen. Miles will review them. Coamo. Porto, Rico., Aug. 18.—18pecial.]—Whether or not the Third Wisconsin regiment is to be kept on the island of Porto Rico when the remainder of Gen. Ernst's brigade goes home is creating much discussion among 1300 men just now. The "rumor" is that the Third Wisconsin has been selected as the regiment to remain here. It is pretty certain that some of the volunteer forces will be kept on the island until next spring in any event. On account of the well drilled men, their hardiness and the showing they have made on marches and against sickness it is stated that this geing they have made on marches and against sickness it is stated that this as-signment will fall to Col. Moore's com-mand. The men who would just as soon go home have not much to say in favor of the proposition, but if it comes they will take it as any other order.

will take it as any other order.

The barracks at Ponce formerly occupied by the Spanish are being renovated for occupation by United States troops. The entire place is being fumigated and whitewashed and when some changes are made in the arrangement of the interior it will be a very comfortable place, especially through the rainy season.

A Permanent Camp.
Preparations are certainly being made for a permanent camp here. The wall tents for officers and men have been brought from Ponce and erected. When Gen. Wilson gave orders to bring along every wall tent to Porto Rico there were some demurrers heard, and when he or dered the big tents brought in the wag ons to the exclusion of the men's knap-sacks there was a protest resulting in the knapsacks coming and the tents stay ing. So another trip of the wagon train was made.

The rainy season has apparently begun.

From light showers Tuesday, to heavy rainfull yesterday, the downfall has been continued and the men in the small shelter tents suffered. Their temporary tents are now replaced by the large wall tents. Gen. Wilson probably foresaw a camp here in the rainy season when he ordered the tents brought. Somehow the regiment is about twenty tents short of its full quota and companies will be cut down accordingly. The decrease in the regiment through sickness, however, will about equalize the matter and the tents will not be more crowded than they were back at Camp Thomas.

Short on Officers.

The Third Wisconsin is somewhat short on commissioned officers. Lieut. Komereau of Co. I) and a lieutenant of Co. B were left in the United States. Capt. Newton of Co. I and Lieut. Swift Capt. Newton of Co. I and Lieut. Swift of the same company were left at Charleston with typhoid fever. Capt. Newton is convalescent. but Vieut. Swift died July 22. Lieut. John Barron of Co. E has returned to his home in Eau Claire on account of fever. Capt. John Turner of Co. D is laid up with a sprained knee and there are a cuple more officers threatened with the "Porto Rican fever."

The Wisconsin regiments today got an issue of American-made chewing tobacco. There is no scarcity of tobacco here and it is as good as any in the world, but the American soldier can't chew it. The natives make it up in a shape that looks the American soldier can't chew it. The natives make it up in a shape that looks like a farred rope and about as long. It is entirely unsweetened and the men can't use it. Smoking tobacco is plentiful at 1 cent per eigar, and the cigars contain tobacco as good as the best 15-cent article in America.

A regular mail service has been established between here and the port of Ponce. The regimental mail carrier makes a trip every two days with mail in and out. The last steamer in brought six and one-half tons of mail matter for the soldiers half tons of mail matter for the soldiers now on the island.

that his several dispatches of inquiry regarding the mustering out of the First Wisconsin regiment and the transporting of its sick members to their homes be answered.

During the past week the governor has sent several dispatches asking for this information for the benefit of the parents and relatives of the men of the regiment, who are seriously alarmed at the sickness in the regiment.

Petitions have been poured on the gov-

Since receiving that notice he has no been able to secure any information from the department as to the date of the mustering out or the disposition of the

The situation was made worse last night by a telegram from Col. Schadel of the regiment, saying the condition of the men is growing worse.

The Luminous Sea Crab.

One of the marine coriosities recently fished from the bottom of the Indian ocean by a dredging vessel in the employ of the Calcutta Society of Natural History was Calcutta Society of Natural History was a mammoth sea crab which continually emitted a bright white light similar to that seen in the spasmodic flashes of phosphorescent luminosity kindled by our common fireflies. The oddity was captured by daytime and placed in a large tank, nothing peculiar except its immense size being noticeable in the broad glare of the tropical sun. At night, however, when all was in pitchy darkness, the crab surprised the naturalists by lighting up the tank so that all the other sea creatures, great and small, occupying the same tank could be plainly seen. When the luminous crustacean was prodded with a pole, he emitted flashes of light which enabled the experimenters to read small print, even though otherwise they were in total darkness.—St. Louis Republic.

How to Hang a Hammock.

The general idea that the head end of a hammock should be higher than the footend is an error, says the New York Herald. The occupant should rest in a state of equilibrium, that is, in such a position that there will be no tendency to shift toward head or foot. To effect this the hips must rest at the lowest point at whatever degree of dip the hammock may be hung.
