SHERMAN-On Friday morning, March 23, after a long illness, occurred the death of Enoch Sherman at his home near the village of Eagle. Funeral services were held at the residence on Monday afternoon, Rev W. A. McKillop of the Baptist church of Waukesha delivering the funeral address. Many friends and neighbors gathered to pay their last respects to one who has always stood high in the esteem of the community, Mr. Sherman was born February 24, 1826, at Rutland, Vt. He came to Wisconsin in 1845 and was married to Miss Lurella Walton of Waukesha December 12, 1849. They moved to Eagle in 1856 and purchased a farm of one hundred and sixty acres which he improved and made to be one of the finest country homes in this town. In the early life of this town he was a potent factor in all public affairs and was repeatedly chosen to school office in his district. He was a studious and thoughtful man of considerable intellectual powers and an intimate knowledge of pioneer history of cozy little cotlage in the park, and not Eagle, Wis., and loved at home and by neighbors and friends, affable and reliable and although the early half of his life was spent in other parts the fruits of his labors here will remain fresh in the memory of all and his good example will be one of influence for years to come, In politics he was a Republican but never sought election to office. In religion the family always belonged to the Baptist church. He was a member of the Masonic fraternity. The cere-

Boers deny Roberts' charges and declare British disregard the white flag: their dumdum bullets were taken from British. While Roberts marches on Pretoria and Buller attacks Boers in Biggarsberg, a third column of 20.000 will go toward east. March may not begin for three weeks. More telegrams passed between Salisbury and Kruger; contents not made public. Kruger, returned from Kronstad, says fight in Free State will be desperate. Report that Boer republics will be consolidated with Kruger as president. Cecil Rhodes sailed for England.

Puerto Rico Bills Tied Up Between House and Senate. Republican leaders in the senate ad-doomed to defeat if it is not amended, and republican leaders in the house feel that it is doomed to defeat in the house if amended by the senate. All efforts to reach an agreement that will satisfy all republican senators have failed.

There are thirteen republican senators who will not have the house bill forced upon them, and they have given notice of this to the senate managers of the bill. Speaker Henderson will probably have to meet his house tariff bill again in an amended form, and no one can tell with what result. The Texas comes next, with 517. Califormeans committee cannot, for they do not know how many republican votes they can command in another consideration of the bill.

The Iowa legislature has created something of a sensation here, where Iowans are so conspicuous in the dlrection of legislation. Secretary WIIson in the cabinet, Senator Alllson, the republican leader of the senate, Representative Henderson, speaker of the house, and such men as Dolliver, Cousins, Hepburn and Lacey on the floor as among the popular debaters, refuse to be interviewed, but clearly show their chagrin.

TO DIVIDE PUERTO RICAN BILL Tariff and Civil Government Are to Be Made Separate Measures.

The harmony committee of republican senators has decided that it will be wise to split the pending Puerto Rican bill, separating the tariff from the civil-government feature. An agreement has been reached to press the 15 per cent tariff proposition to a vote in the senate as quickly as possible, leaving the government feature to be disposed of later.

The opinion is expressed by members of the committee that the vote may be reached next week. Whether the bill shall be passed just as it came from the house is to be determined, but the sentiment of the committee tonight was that this would be the safest plan. Forty-four votes are reported sure for the tariff, as the result of the canvass.

'TWAS INSANE INFATUATION. Girl Friend of Miss Horlocker Tells a Dramatic Story.

The testimony given by Julia Horlocker's friend and confidante. Eva Stewart, as a climax to other testimony introduced, carefully leading up to a point where these things should be presented to the jury on Friday, was sensational to a degree. It showed Julia's mad infatuation for her employer, and the latter's complicity. Miss Stewart recited the story as given her by the defendant without a falter, choosing her words with care, and uttering them with the precision of a trained elocutionist. The testimony of the witnesses for the defense was all in support of the theory of insanity.

AUTSIN BOY A PARRICIDE.

Kills His Father in Defense of His Mother. George Finch of Austin was shot and instantly killed Monday evening in his home by his 15-year-old son Edward. The lad was protecting his mother from her enraged husband when he fired the fatal shot. He frequently quarreled with his wife, and had been arrested on a number of occasions charged with assaulting her. Only recently Finch was placed under peace bonds. Last evening he went home in a quarrelsome mood.

He began upbraiding his wife, and when she remonstrated with him it is asserted that he seized a butcher knife and declared that he intended taking her life. He advanced toward her in a threatening manner, but he had only taken a step or two when a shot rang out and Finch fell to the floor. He died almost instantly.

Indians Take to Mineral Water.

Mineral waters have come to take a very prominent place in national beverages, especially in the case of those who are suffering more or less from physical derangements. Mr. Nagle contributed to whatever cause he supported an honesty of purpose, original thought, unfailing energy and disregard of self-interest. Integrity was instinctive with him and independent of every other consideration. Throughout his life he was a vigorous advocate and defender of Democratic tion. Miss Gertie Tucker of Oconomoparty principles, but in 1890 and again in 1896 he sacrificed his own interests and opposed his party openly and persistently in devotion to what he believed to be correct policies and the promotion of the public welfare. No man who knew him either personally or by reputation ever doubted his motives.

He was a patriotic, brave, high-mindeil, mødest citizen, a delightful companion, an enduring friend. In his untimely death the newspaper fraternity loses one of its best types of character and the commonwealth is deprived of an important factor in the spread of intelligence and in the improvement of civilization .fentinel.
