REPORT OF WARD HOME-MAKERS

The first meeting of the Ward Home-makers for 1940 was held at the home of our President, Mrs. D. Badinger, Sept. 21.

The following new members were received into the club at that meeting: Mrs. Skidmore, Mrs. F. Reed, Mrs. Rowe, Mrs. H. Chapman. The following leaders were appointed: Clothing: Mrs. Yonash—Mrs. Reed

Home Furnishing: Mrs. Betts—Mrs. Hamann

Recreation: Mrs. E. Crawley—Margaret Jolliffe

Oct. 29, we met at the home of Mrs. Crawley. At this meeting Mrs. Yonash and Mrs. Reed taught the lessons they had learned at their leader's meeting—rug making, wood chipping, knitting and belt making.

In September we had an open meeting on "Dry Cleaning". Then on Nov. 19 at the home of Mrs. Rowe, Mrs. Reed gave us the lesson in pressing.

On Dec. 10 the club met with Mrs. Hamann for dinner, each member bringing a dish to pass. After dinner we all worked on our belts or wood chipping. Mrs. John Von Rueden, Mary and Reta Von Rueden joined club at this meeting.

We had an open meeting in December at which we could work on belts or rugs.

Our leaders have brought back very practical and interesting lessons so far this year.

The next meeting is to be with Mrs. H. Chapman Jan. 21, at 10 o'clock. At this meeting we are to have our first lesson in "Stool Making".

MILWAUKEE FEEDING

The Milwaukee casting club deserves some honorable mention among sportsmen's groups. The club bought and distributed three tons of feed for pheasants in Milwaukee county this winter without a hope of cashing in on the investment. All hunting is forever barred in Milwaukee county by a special law.

DECEMBER ARRESTS

Wisconsin conservation wardens made 65 arrests during December, 18 for the illegal possession of venison and other violations of the deer law. The 65 arrests resulted in 60 convictions. Two cases were dismissed, one case was appealed and two cases are pending. Twelve cases involved illegal fishing and seven the illegal taking of trees.

CONSERVATION NOTES

Madison, Wis.—Kenneth Van DeBogert, Delavan, in reporting that he caught 253 trout in Williams Bay creek last year, contends that sportsmen should be required to annually report their fish catches as well as their game kill to the conservation department. Such a law is being proposed to the Iowa legislature this year.

Wisconsin's law now provides that hunters report their last year's game kill by February 1 under possible penalty of being denied the right to hunt for a year. Some sportsmen's groups are urging more definite penalties for hunters who fail to file their game reports because of the slowness of the returns this year.

FIRE LOSS

The 1940 Wisconsin forest fire loss was just $23,566 greater than it should have been, the result of people deliberately or carelessly setting fires. The only unavoidable fire loss was $28, the result of lightning. Only three of the 11,534 acres that were burned over carried merchantable timber valued at $13. But 5,478 acres had young tree growth that would cost $10,477 to replace. The more than 1,600 fires that people started on the 13,500,000 acres under intense protection might have resulted in a much greater loss had conditions been less favorable for fire fighting.

NOSING THE NEWS

BY JUDGE DEVITT

And there is a meeting deep in central Europe which may make history. Once again Hitler and his partner, Mussolini, meet in an exchange of pleasantries and probably views of how to administer a quick knock-out blow to England. And the results of that meeting will be seen in the progress of the war for the next six months.

And it is our guess that Herr Hitler sees that he has to render aid to the more or less helpless Mussolini, and that he must render more than lip service to Italy in the Mediterranean to bolster the courage of a sick and disheartened people, namely the Italian nation. And yet Hitler must play his cards carefully. He must not in any event allow England to lessen for a moment the fear of an invasion. For if England can recover herself industrially Germany is lost. And so poor Adolph must keep strong invasion centers along the Atlantic coast. He must send hordes of bombers over England daily to bomb industrial centers. And he must send men, ships, and guns to Benito in the Mediterranean to combat the superior British sea power there, lest he finds himself waging war alone.

And although England must watch all invasion points carefully it seems evident that direct invasion of Britain will not be attempted in the near future. And England instead must watch her vital life lines, mainly the Suez Canal and Gibraltar. And England is prepared to meet these threats.

And unless Hitler can establish superiority in the Mediterranean and bolster Italian morale he may as well cash in his chips now. Because by summer ever increasing aids to Britain in the form of U.S. planes, guns, and munitions will be pouring into England. And be propelled by the English right into the rather expansive lap of Herr Goering behind whom Hitler will probably be hiding.

MID-WINTER MENUS
(See Recipes Below)

You may have a mental filing system for your menus, or you may jot down your meal ideas and slip them into a recipe box. Either way, the chances are that mid-winter finds you in the market for some fresh and workable ideas for what to feed the family.

First and foremost, you will want your winter menus to be warming and heartening. The calorie content may be a little higher because more energy is needed to supply heat and because the cold stimulates us to more activity. Vitamin suppliers need to be carefully watched. With your garden adrift with snow, not so many fresh vegetables and fruits will find their way to your table without a special effort on your part.

Even if fresh peas, green beans and vine-ripened tomatoes are out of reach, almost any market boasts whole bins filled with apples, sweet potatoes, cabbage and carrots—all of them potent sources of vitamins. Plenty of grapefruit, oranges and tomato juice will help to replace the fresh tomatoes.

But now for the menus! Two are dinners—one built around a fragrant, red-brown dish of Hungarian goulash served with plenty of hot buttered noodles; the other, sausages baked under a covering of Yorkshire pudding. The third meal is a hot soup luncheon.

- Hungarian Goulash
- Buttered Noodles
- Salad Bowl
- (spinach, carrot, raw cauliflower)
- Brazil Nut Cherry Pie
- Coffee Milk

- Yorkshire Sausages
- Canned Green Beans with Mustard Butter Sauce
- Whole Carrots
- Red Cabbage Salad
- Honey Spice Cake
- Coffee Milk

- Tomato Chicken Soup
- Swiss Cheese Sandwiches
- Grapefruit and Apple Salad
- Frosted Ginger Bars
- Tea Milk
- Red Cabbage Salad.
- (Serves 5 to 6)

- 2 cups red cabbage (shredded fine)
- 3 tart, red cooking apples (unpeeled) (diced)
- 1 cup grated carrot
- 4 tablespoons brown sugar
- 3 tablespoons vinegar
- 2 tablespoons French dressing (prepared)

Buy a small, solid young head of red cabbage, one with thin, tender leaves. Remove core, and shred very fine. Place shredded cabbage in ice water for 30 minutes to crisp it. Combine cabbage, diced apple and grated carrot. Mix brown sugar, vinegar and French dressing and pour over salad. Toss lightly, until dressing is thoroughly mixed with salad.

- Hungarian Goulash (Serves 4 to 5)
- 1½ pounds beef round (cubed)
- 3 tablespoons fat
- 3 beef bouillon cubes
- 3 cups hot water
- ½ clove garlic
- ½ bay leaf
- ½ teaspoon salt
- Few grains cayenne pepper
- 2 cups cubed potatoes
- 1½ tablespoons butter
- 1½ tablespoons flour
- 1 tablespoon paprika
- 1 cup canned tomatoes (sieved)

Have beef cut in 1½-inch cubes. Brown on all sides in hot fat, then add bouillon cubes dissolved in hot water. Add garlic, bay leaf, salt and cayenne pepper and simmer the mixture for 2 hours. Remove garlic and bay leaf, and add potatoes cut in ½-inch cubes. Cook 30 minutes, then remove ¼ cup of broth from pan and cool. Combine with melted butter, flour, and paprika and blend into a smooth paste. Add to goulash, stirring constantly; cook until thick, about 5 minutes. Add sieved tomato and cook 10 more minutes.

Brazil Nut Cherry Pie.
(Makes 1 9-inch pie)
2½ cups sour, red cherries (canned)

1 cup cherry juice
3 tablespoons cornstarch
1 cup sugar
1 tablespoon butter
½ cup sliced Brazil nuts
Drain cherries, and set aside the juice. Blend cornstarch and sugar in a saucepan; add cherry juice. Place over heat and cook, stirring constantly until thickened, about 3 minutes. Remove from the heat, add drained cherries, butter and Brazil nuts. Pour the filling into a 9-inch pie plate lined with pastry. Moisten the edge of the pie with cold water; arrange lattice of pastry strips across pie. Press down rim with fork. Bake in hot oven (450 degrees Fahrenheit) 15 minutes, then in moderate oven (350 degrees Fahrenheit) for 30 minutes.

Honey Spice Cake.
3 cups sifted cake flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon soda
1½ teaspoons cinnamon
½ teaspoon cloves
½ teaspoon nutmeg
¾ cup butter or other shortening
½ cup sugar
¾ cup strained honey
2 egg yolks, well beaten
½ cup chopped nut meats
1 teaspoon vanilla
¾ cup water
2 egg whites (stiffly beaten)

Sift cake flour once, add baking powder, salt, soda, and spices and sift together three times. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add honey gradually. Beat after each addition. Add egg yolks, nuts, and vanilla; beat well. Add flour, alternately with water, a small amount at a time. Beat after each addition until smooth. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Bake in a paper-lined greased loaf pan (9 by 13 by 2 inches) in moderate oven (350 degrees) for 50 minutes.

Tomato Chicken Soup.
(Serves 6)
2 tablespoons onion (finely chopped)
1 tablespoon butter

- 2 No. 1 cans condensed chicken soup
- 1 No. 1 can condensed tomato soup
- 1½ cups water
- 1½ cup light cream or milk

¼ teaspoon salt
¾ teaspoon white pepper
Saute onion in butter until yellow and transparent. Add chicken soup, tomato soup, water, milk, salt and white pepper. Stir thoroughly and heat to serving temperature.

Apricot Sweet Potatoes.
(Serves 6)

- 6 medium-sized sweet potatoes
  - ½ pound dried apricots
  - ¾ cup water
  - ¾ cup sugar
  - ½ teaspoon salt
- Peel sweet potatoes and cook in boiling salted water (1 teaspoon per quart) until tender, about 35 minutes. Mash with a potato masher. Cover apricots with water and let soak for 30 minutes. Then simmer until tender, about 25 minutes. Mash the fruit to a pulp and add sugar and salt. Whip apricot pulp with sweet potatoes until very well blended. Serve very hot. Apricot sweet potatoes are especially good with ham and broccoli.

PREPARE COWS IN DRY PERIOD

Special Care Assures Better Production.

By GEORGE E. TAYLOR
(Extension Dairyman, Rutgers University.)

Cows that are properly fitted and managed during the dry period may produce as much as 25 per cent more milk and butterfat during the following lactation period.

During the lactation period, especially during the first six months, the animal's body reserve of minerals, protein and fat becomes depleted. And the cow does not have an opportunity to build up this reserve again until the animal is given a six to eight weeks' rest period prior to the following calving.

Neglect on the part of the owner regarding proper feed, care and management of dry cows may cost the owner the value of one ton of milk. The loss in dollars and cents may be computed by using the market value of one ton of milk under any known market condition.

The amount of hay and grain which should be fed during the dry period depends upon the condition of the cow at the time she is turned dry. Animals that are in fair condition may be properly fitted on a liberal allowance of quality roughage, including pasture, hay and silage. Other cows may require some grain in addition to all the roughage they will eat. A daily grain allowance of six pounds is usually ample. Thus not more than 250 pounds to 350 pounds of grain in addition to one-quarter ton of hay, is needed to put a cow in proper condition.

Figure the cost of 250 to 350 pounds of grain and one-quarter ton of hay and compare it with the value of one ton of milk. The figure proves that a rest period of six to eight weeks along with proper feed and care during the dry period, really pays dividends.

Seed Treatment Proves

Good Crop Insurance

Seed treatment is one of the most important phases of crop insurance. Not only can the crops be disease-free, but in most cases freedom from disease results in increased yield. Therefore, the use of high quality treated seed is a big step forward toward success.

Now is the time to make preparation for treating wheat, oats, and barley for smut. There are several materials on the market that, if properly used, will give good results. The first important step is to learn exactly the method recommended. If instructions as to the proper method of treatment are not followed, it is a waste of time and material.

Copper carbonate and mercurial dusts are suitable for the control of seed-borne diseases in a wide range of seeds, because they control a large number of seed-borne diseases besides smut. For this reason they can be used with crops of wheat, oats, barley, beans, and others.

Formaldehyde is still popular with many farmers but this material must be properly applied to give good results. The placing of a teaspoonful of formaldehyde in the top of a sack of grain and then turning the sack upside down for treatment is ineffectual. Formaldehyde when exposed to the air vaporizes as a gas; this gas is heavier than air. The above procedure prevents the formaldehyde from coming in contact with the seed.

Week-Old Calves Can Be Dehorned

Horns, at one time, were a necessary part of a cow's equipment. They were necessary for protection, but under present modern methods of management, cows do not need horns. Horns may be taken off when the calf is a week old without any loss and not too much discomfort to the calf. Do the job of dehorning as soon as the horn button can be found; clip the hair around this tiny bump and place a ring of vaseline on the lower side to prevent any drainage into the eye itself. Roughen the spot gently where the horn is starting with a corn cob or by scraping it. Moisten a stick of caustic potash and rub it on until the skin is a distinct pink. Caution: Use gloves on your hands and let no liquid from the caustic stick get into your eyes or the calf's eyes—it's dangerous.

Repair Now

The "stitch in time" adage applies forcibly to machinery care, according to Ray W. Carpenter of the University of Maryland. He says that an hour at this time of year, when the machinery is in storage, spent in oiling all polished surfaces to prevent rust, repainting bared wood parts, and checking, ordering, and replacing badly worn or broken parts will avoid delays, aggravation, and hours of valuable time when the spring season rush is on.

Bloomin' Parrot Was Passing Its Lesson On

Bert had spent hours trying to teach his parrot to say "Hello, Uncle," ready for the visit of his wealthy relative.

To no purpose. Uncle came—and went—and the parrot was dumb.

Bert seized the bird by the throat. "Say 'Hello, Uncle,' or I'll wring your bloomin' neck," he roared.

And when silence continued he twisted the bird's neck and threw it into the fowl pen.

Queer squawks drew him to the fowl pen next morning. On the ground were three dead hens. The parrot had a fourth by the neck, shaking him and shouting: "Say, 'Hello, Uncle,' or I'll wring your bloomin' neck."

AROUND the HOUSE Items of Interest to the Housewife

Cookies should be cooled completely before storing in a covered jar or box.

Candied cranberries are just as effective as candied cherries for garnishing winter foods.

If your kitchen storage space is limited, make file-like shelves in a lower cupboard and use them for storing lids, pie and cake pans and other flat utensils. This will be a time-saver.

Try this candle arrangement for a youngster's birthday cake: Arrange small candles to form the numerals telling the age. Or place them on the cake to form the child's initials. If the first name is short it can be spelled out with tiny candles or small, hard candies.

To remove mustard stains from linen, soak the linen as quickly as possible in cold water to cover. This loosens the mustard so that it will come out when laundered in the usual way—in plenty of warm water and soap suds.

Be careful not to season meat gravies so much that they lose their characteristic flavors. Usually salt and pepper or paprika are enough. If you like a prepared meat sauce add only a dash. Better yet, pass the sauce and let the family use what they please.

Crowned Before Born

Shapur II of Persia was the only king who was crowned before birth, the coronation, which consisted of placing the royal circlet on the head of his waiting cradle, taking place three days before he was born in 310, says Collier's.

Inez de Castro of Portugal was the only queen who was crowned after death, the coronation, for which her body was exhumed and set on the throne, taking place two years after she was murdered in 1355.

Benefits to Our Readers

THE PUBLIC nature of advertising benefits everyone it touches. It benefits the public by describing exactly the products that are offered. It benefits employees, because the advertiser must be more fair and just than the employer who has no obligation to the public. These benefits of advertising are quite apart from the obvious benefits which advertising confers—the lower prices, the higher quality, the better service that go with advertised goods and firms.

Suede Apparel Is at New High In Both Chic and Wearableness

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

ALL over the country stores that set the fashion pace are displaying new and intriguing suede garments and accessories in tempting array. Modern science has performed miracles in leather processing until suedes nowadays are as supple and workable as any fabric, and their colors are incredibly beautiful.

Suede is comfortably wearable at any season of the year, but for mid-season and early spring it is simply ideal. Light in weight yet dependably protective, no wonder that suede has become the "darling" of fashion. Women are coming to know more and more that there is no type of garment that fits better into all year-round wear than beautiful soft suede with its persuasive colors and its caressing "feel."

There's luxury, there's chic, there's practicality in a coat with turban, gloves and bag made all of suede as worn by Dorothy Lamour (to left in the picture). One cannot do justice to the superb coloring of the new suede costumes in mere words. In this instance the coat shown is of stone blue (smartly in fashion this season). Note the interesting double belt treatment. The turban, gloves and bag are in luscious wine red. Yes indeed, leather is a fashion favorite in Hollywood.

Can you imagine anything more appealing for town wear than a dress of wine-berry colored suede with a long suede coat in identical color? Positively brainstorming both to the observed and the observer especially when accompanied with beret, envelope bag and gloves done in a lighter tone of red, is the ensemble pictured to the right in the trio. She carries the coat over her arm, as you see.

Ardent golfers count their suede two piece suits as shown centered in the picture among favorite sport ensembles. The skirt of this most attractive outfit is in chartreuse, gored to give plenty of freedom. It is worn with a loose fitting jacket of burnt orange suede with buttons high at the neckline. To keep her curls in place this athletic young modern wears a suede flower "beanie" in the bright chartreuse.

Other fetching leather novelties include nail studded boleros and belts that show a decided trend toward the Western theme. Waist-length sleeveless jackets with bright bindings and a touch of embroidery are inspired by the South American vests. Jerkins in unlimited style variations, side-buttoned and in bright colors, are grand for wear with skirts, suits or slacks and over countless dresses. Waistcoats with suede fronts, knitted back and sleeves and casual collarless cardigans with slide closings are stressed with matching or contrasting tweed skirts.

Classic one-piece suede dresses button from neckline to waist or feature the slide fastener fly-front closing. Boxy knuckle or slightly longer coats are important as well as the mannish notched collar model with three patch pockets. Stunning two-piece suede suits with fitted jackets are extremely smart. Long coats range from the bulky belted country coat to the dress-maker type for avenue wear.

"Beanies" and drawing mittens or the new "sockem mit" in colors are suede "finds" for the college girl. Snaprim suede classics and berets are still favorites. A new Pixie cap has been designed for winter sports wear.

Clever sporty leather jewelry is new looking with tweed suits and sports clothes. Fringed and saddle-stitched collars and gauntlets reflect the cowboy influence.

Glitter Accents

Nothing glitters like a diamond! This pretty girl with vanity mirror in hand is examining her unusual diamond clips. One clip is a lotus blossom, the other the lotus leaves. Clips that take apart make interesting news. In the picture this young modern wears her clips separately, with striped jersey jacket and cap to match in keeping with the new vogue for dramatic jewels with simple dress. On her evening gown she will wear them together to form a complete jeweled flower. Her bracelet is in the new diamond "lace" design, like a band of lace with invisible closing. And she is a bride! Her ring finger wears one of the new oblong solitaires and the narrowest possible diamond band.

Gas Mask Filter Used in Footwear

A gas mask and a woman's shoes are two very different themes we admit and it has been left to science to relate them. And here's how! Since the war and the necessity for personal protection came experiments and improvements on the gas mask of 1914-1918. Inventors took old gas masks apart, put new ones together, substituting, adding and perfecting with the result a new filter has been developed.

Since then it has been discovered that when specially treated this filter was found to have the qualities which make an ideal medium for innersoles. So now you can get shoes, by making known your wants to your salesperson, with "insolated" innersoles that actually do relieve "burning feet," the ailment generally conceded to be the cause of foot fatigue and the many foot ills following it.

Something that would establish a normal foot temperature would accomplish the cure, doctors said, and onco-insolated does just that. This new comfort-giving sole which newest smartly styled shoes have also acts as a shock absorber and is molded with first wearing to the individual contours of the foot.

The fact that insulation is put to good use in a shoe as well as gas mask construction is just one more indication of American ingenuity. It gives us one more reason for being glad to be Americans in that our women are buying shoes for the protection of feet instead of gas masks for the protection of life.

DISGUISE
By R. H. WILKINSON
(Associated Newspapers.)
WNU Service.

"THE trouble," said Toby Stark, "with your modern criminal is his lack of confidence in himself. The fact that he is forever afraid of being detected, the fact that he usually works under cover of darkness—a time when burglars are expected to work—all combine to bring about his apprehension by men who can work in the open."

Toby paused and lighted a cigarette. A half dozen of us were grouped on the veranda of the Ridgeley Club and for a moment after Toby finished talking there was a silence. Toby is inclined to be loquacious and at times extremely boring. There are few subjects on which he can't talk knowingly and, much to our regret, lengthily.

"You talk like an experienced hand at the game," said Lloyd Barnard presently, and grinned. Toby laughed. "I'd like to wager I could pull off a crime and get away with it. Employing my own methods, too."

Lloyd puffed at his pipe. "Why not? I'll take your wager."

Toby slapped his knee. "Done! I have twenty-five dollars that says I can break into a house in broad daylight, fill a traveling bag with silver, and get away with it."

Watching Lloyd closely I distinctly saw a twinkle come into his eyes and immediately disappear again. He said, "Twenty-five suits me, Toby. But suppose you get caught?"

"I won't. But in case there's a slip-up, you boys will have to fix it up with the police. I'll tell you what. Leo Chapman is up in the mountains this week and with his family. His place on the drive is empty. That's the house I can break into."

Again Lloyd's eyes twinkled, and I knew a feeling of excitement. Unless the signs lied, Lloyd had in mind some sort of plan whereby Toby was to get a jolt.

Toby was in jail, getting his jolt, and none of us were very sorry.

A moment later my excitement subsided. Toby had also seen the twinkle in Lloyd's eyes. "O. K.," he grinned. "I know you live out that way Lloyd, and you can fix it up with the cop on the beat if you like. Only in that case, I'll collect the twenty-five."

"There'll be no fixing," said Lloyd. And Toby nodded.

One or two of the group who had listened in on the conversation were a little doubtful. In the first place, they didn't think Leo Chapman would like the idea, and, in the second place, they thought we'd have a pretty hard time explaining the situation to the police in case Toby were caught.

But Toby was adamant. In fact, he was so cocksure of being able to commit his crime and getting away with it, that we all agreed to let him try, hoping secretly that he'd get caught and taught a lesson. The day set for Toby's attempt at crime was Sunday. We all agreed to stay away from the Chapman place, giving him a clear field to work in. When the Chapmans got home we would accompany Toby to their house, make sure he had actually stolen some of their property and witness the payment of the wager.

At seven o'clock that Sunday night Lloyd Barnard dropped into the club and found four of the half dozen of us who were in on the plan taking together. Barnard was grinning.

"Well, I win the bet. Toby didn't get away with it."

"Didn't get away with it? What happened? Where is he now?"

"Rivers, the cop on the beat, met him as he came out of Leo's front door. Toby's down at headquarters."

Earl Colby leaped to his feet. "Good heavens! We'd better go down and get him out. This thing has gone far enough!"

Lloyd sat down and pulled out his pipe. "Go ahead if you want to, but it won't do any good. Toby, I'm afraid is in for a good long stay. And I'm inclined to think this will take some of the conceit out of him."

Early, who had had little taste for this business in the first place, displayed no little alarm. "But look here, Lloyd, that isn't playing the game quite fairly. You agreed to fix it up with the police, you know."

Lloyd seemed not at all put out. "Sure, I agreed to fix it up, and I did. I just came from there, but they wouldn't believe me. There's another factor entered the case." "Another factor! Good heavens, Lloyd, tell us what's happened!" Lloyd lighted his pipe and smiled pleasantly. "Well, to begin with, Toby did a pretty good job, according to his own telling and according to Rivers, the cop. About three o'clock this afternoon Toby drove up in front of Leo's place as smart as you please, took a traveling bag from the rumble seat of his car and strode up the walk. Acting quite as if he owned the place he removed a bunch of keys from his pocket—skeletons, of course—unlocked the front door and stepped inside.

"Rivers saw him do this and didn't get the least bit suspicious. Rivers told me about it himself. What happened after Toby got inside the house was told me by the culprit through the bars of his cell."

Lloyd paused and chuckled. "After Toby got inside the house," he went on, "he put a pair of gloves on, and fitted a mask to his face. The mask was just a precaution in case Leo had left any servants in the house, and because he liked the idea of wearing one."

"However, the mask proved unnecessary. The house was empty. Toby filled his traveling bag unmolested. And a half hour later he stepped through the front door, first wiping off the knob and removing his gloves and swung jauntily down the walk again, whistling merrily."

"At this very moment Rivers rounded a corner on his return trip, espied Toby coming down the walk and waited for him at the gate."

Lloyd paused again. "Well?" Earl asked.

"Well," Lloyd echoed. "Rivers arrested Toby for breaking and entering. And upon looking into the traveling bag, the charge was substantiated."

"But how," I asked, "did Rivers know?"

"How? Why, Toby had forgotten to remove his mask! Except for that, the crime would undoubtedly have been successful."

For a moment there was silence. Then Earl said, "But the new factor? You said something about another factor in the case?"

Lloyd nodded. "That happened later. Toby explained to the police all about the joke and the bet he'd made with me. They called me on the phone and I came down and confirmed his story. However, in order to make sure everything was as Toby had said, the police called Leo Chapman at his place up in the mountains—and learned he wasn't there at all. He'd gone on an extended motor trip to Canada and wouldn't be back for a week."

"The police were willing to believe our stories, but they weren't willing to let Toby go until Leo returned. There was too much evidence against him. Furthermore, they advised me that unless I made myself scarce around the vicinity of the station house, they'd be inclined to lock me up with him as an accomplice."

Lloyd ended his tale, and there was again that twinkle in his eye. I wanted to ask him if he hadn't known that Leo was going to take that Canada trip. And I wanted to ask him also why he hadn't offered to go bail for Toby, or if, instead, he had bought the sergeant a box of cigars and told him to keep Toby in storage for a week.

But I didn't. Toby was in jail, getting his jolt, and none of us were very sorry.

Eyes Are Vital Controls Of Many Body Activities

More than 70 per cent of the muscular activity of the human body results from impulses received from the eyes, according to the Better Vision Institute. At work and at play the eyes play a dominant role, and our muscular actions are influenced strongly by the impressions received by the eyes.

A survey of 20 common industrial and office occupations has shown that the eyes are in serious work three-quarters of the time. Improper lighting conditions or uncorrected visual defects tend to impair the efficiency of workers by fatiguing the eyes. Experiments have demonstrated that visual fatigue slows up body activity and is conducive to errors.

"If an office or a factory worker gets 'three o'clock' fatigue it would be a good idea to check up on his eyes," says the Institute. "There are millions of adult persons in the United States having relatively minor visual defects that are uncorrected. Such eyes may not cause headaches but they frequently cause 'three o'clock fatigue.' During the last hour or two of the working day the body of a worker may be tired because his eyes unassisted cannot work an eight-hour day."

Jumping Beans Stimulate Crickets

When thousands of crickets got sulky and refused to perform before the camera in a cricket plague scene, a sack of energetic jumping beans, with a lot of pituitary, was rushed by plane from Mexico City. Actual pictures of crickets were painted on the beans which then were mixed with the live crickets—which thought that it was just simply cricket and caught on right quickly. Anyway, the jumping proclivities of the oomph beans kept the crickets on the move, which kept the movie people happy.

But, as might be expected, the crickets finally carried the whole thing to extreme. They invaded the movie camp in such hordes they literally chased the players off location, spattered up the camera lens, and got into the sound equipment.

Accenting the Width Of a Narrow Room

By RUTH WYETH SPEARS

ON A Thursday afternoon the south end of a certain dining room was as shown here in the upper sketch. The following Monday it appeared as shown below. Cupboards had been added to display china and give storage space, yet the room actually seemed wider and more spacious than before. The transformation was made by the handy man with no tools with a hammer, saw and screw driver plus the aid of his willing helper with needle, thread and paint brush. The new curtain treatment, shown in the sketch, made the window seem wider and the strong horizontal lines of the cupboards also helped to create an illusion of width. The cupboards were eight inches deep and made of one-inch lumber with doors of plywood for the lower part.

NOTE: Mrs. Spears' Books 1 and 3 are full of other practical ideas for making and hanging curtains. Each book has 32 pages of pictures showing you how to modernize and beautify your home. Send order to:

Explosive Dusts

Among the various household dusts that have been known to explode when coming in contact with a flame or a spark are those of face powder, chocolate, dried milk, sugar and flour, says Collier's.

Not so long ago in England a woman threw a bag of old flour down the incinerator shaft of an apartment house and the resultant explosion killed her and three other tenants, and wrecked the building.

Watch Your Kidneys!

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste
Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.
Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength.
Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.
There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor!

Definitely surprised were radio fans this week when glamorous Maxine, whose deep haunting voice ruled the airways in popularity for "Hour of Charm" listeners, suddenly announced her intention to retire from stage and radio! Most surprised was Phil Spitalny, director of the program's all-girl band, who didn't know she was married until she announced her retirement.
