A LETTER FROM OWEN OLIVER Vesper, Wis.

My dear Friends: I was told last week by Mr. and Mrs. Truetel, that Mr. Loibl was ill, but did not know how serious and in view of my long, very long friendship as existed between Mr. Loibl and myself, I am grieved to know of his illness and I do hope that Mr. Loibl, has passed the dangerous stage and is on the way to full recovery. While speaking with Mr. and Mrs. Truetel, we permitted ourselves to plug back to the days of long ago—reviewing the many incidences that took place during our younger days spent within the confines of the precious homes and environments, the atmosphere of which were such as to bring back memories that shall not fade this side of the glorious heaven that is spoken of as "The Place of The Blessed."

These fond recollections are well rooted in our minds and will remain so as one of God's precious and phenomenal gifts during this life's journey. Finally, I would like, of course, that Mr. Loibl, read this letter should he be well enough to do so, and I hope he will be able to, and that he will be well again to share the joy of spring and summer days of 1941 that we all love so well.

With best wishes to you and to all,

Very Sincerely,
Owen Oliver

STORY OF THE WEEK—A gangster rushed into a tavern shooting right and left yelling, "All you dirty skunks get outa here." The customers fled amid a hail of bullets except one mild little Englishman who stood at the bar finishing his drink. "Well?" snapped the gangster waving his smoking gun. "Well," remarked the Englishman, "there certainly was a lot of them, weren't there?"

The hired girl had been sent down to the brook to fetch a pail of water, but stood gazing at the flowing stream apparently lost in thought.

"What's she waiting for?" asked her mistress, who was watching.

"Dunno," wearily replied her husband. "Perhaps she hasn't seen a pailful she likes yet."

He: "I'm not a lazy man, sir. I work when I can get work, but I've been out of a job."

Judge (to officer): "Look at his hands, sergeant."

Officer (looking at prisoner's hands): "Why, sir, it must be years since the old scoundrel did any work—his hands are as soft and white as mine!"

In the railway coach the plump sailor was telling the talkative lady all about in the navy.

"What sort of ship are you on?" she asked.

"Submarine, mum," he replied.

"And what do you do?"

"Well, mum, I runs for'ard and tins her when we wants to dive."

Aviation Note: We will really believe that aviation has really arrived when we see a two-passenger airplane go by with seven or eight high school students seated in it.

A census enumerator approached a lounging negro dandy. He asked and learned the man's name, age, place of residence; then inquired, "What's your business?"

The answer came superciliously. "I owns a hand laundry, I does."

"Where is it located?"

"Dar she comes now!"

Your Dreams May Tell Secrets About Yourself

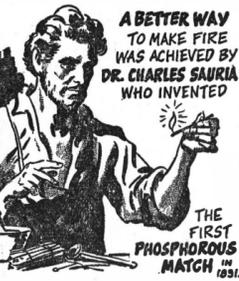

"LUCKY that was just a dream," he thinks, "or I'd lose my job."
But he's wrong. No dream is "just a dream." Often it reveals something in yourself that you never knew—and perhaps should.

Instead of lightly dismissing these dreams, use them to help solve your problems. Our 32-page booklet gives the scientific explanations for several dreams—flying, falling off a cliff, running from wild animals and other typical dream situations. Tells why some dreams are "prophetic." For your copy send your order to:

Arizona Extends Solace to Ghosts Of the Old West

Territorial Prison Which Housed Many Toughies Now a Museum.

YUMA, ARIZ.—If the ghost of Pearl Hart, first "lady" stage robber of the old West, and that of Swede Rogers, as cool a murderer as ever fired a six-gun, are unusually unhappy today, there's a reason for it.

The old Arizona Territorial prison, which served as "home" for so many years to Lady Pearl, Rogers and scores of other toughies of the old West, has been converted from a grim showplace for tourists to a respectable and staid museum to house relics of days gone by.

But as far as old-timers were concerned, the new sign reading "Arizona Territorial Museum" wasn't at all needed to remind them of the stirring days of a half-century ago, for the stories of Lady Pearl and her rip-roaring companions will live on.

Prison Built in 1875.
The old adobe prison was established in 1875 when Arizona was still a territory. It was built of adobe and its walls ranged between four and eight feet in thickness.

Advocates of modern scientific means of criminal rehabilitation would gasp at the solitary confinement chamber—a small dungeon whose only ventilation was provided by a narrow hole running straight through the thick ceiling. Locked up there, the more recalcitrant prisoners became meek and repentant within a day or two.

The stories of Lady Pearl Hart and Rogers are the most romantic tales connected with the old prison.

Pearl was a dance hall girl who said she turned to robbing stage coaches because she needed money to return to the home of her invalid mother in Ohio. Arrested and sentenced to five years in the prison, Pearl decided to give officials as much trouble as she could—until a handsome young musician, convicted of a mining camp slaying, came to an adjoining cell.

Prisoners Fell in Love.
The story is that Pearl and the young musician fell in love, so Pearl chose to reform, get out of prison as soon as possible and aid in obtaining the release of her sweetheart.

She was released before her five years were up, but the prison records unfortunately do not show whether she and her musician lover met outside prison walls.

Rogers, an arrogant murderer who professed to be a graduate of Oxford university, was one of the coolest figures of the old West. His dress was impeccable, but no one dared accuse the quick-shooting Rogers of being a dandy.

Little Girl Grabs Cow Catcher, Saves Her Life
NILES, OHIO.—Eight-year-old Rebecca Villio is in a hospital with a broken leg, but relatives and friends say it was only her presence of mind which saved her from instant death under a fast freight train.

The little girl was going to church with a brother, two sisters and a friend when she was hit by the train while crossing the Pennsylvania railroad tracks.

Rebecca grabbed the cow catcher of the engine and clung on. She was carried 200 feet down the track before the engineer could stop the train.

When trainmen reached her Rebecca loosened her grip and fell to the ground. Her right leg had been broken and her left leg bruised—but that was all.

'Jump Happy' Parachutist Takes Leap in His Sleep
ATLANTA.—First Lieut. Gene Padgett of the 501st Parachute Battalion, Fort Benning, Ga., thinks he must have been "jump happy."

He made a leap last week, he says, and his 'chute didn't open. He reached for the emergency rip cord, and nothing happened.

Fumbling for the rip cord, he was startled to find he did not have on his jump suit.
"Landing on your feet is the correct way to jump," he mused—"I landed square on them, but I woke up on the ground 10 feet below the window of the bachelor officers' quarters."

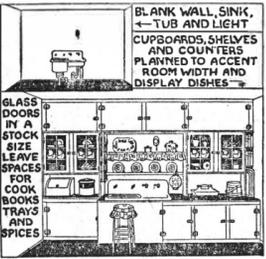

He had been parachute jumping in his sleep.

Children Calmed in Beds Of 40 Wounded Soldiers
LONDON.—Forty children patients in a Cardiff infirmary began to cry when awakened by bombs during a recent raid. They cried still more when they had to leave their beds and go to a military hospital.

They were hurried to bed, but their crying went on. Then a nurse went to the next ward where wounded soldiers from Dunkerque were being treated and asked fathers to adopt the babies for the night.

The 40 children, still crying, were put in the men's beds and in a few minutes were asleep.

NEW IDEAS for Home-makers By RUTH WYETH SPEARS boards are 1 by 12-inch boards. These rest on the lower cupboards and are placed far enough apart to accommodate the glass doors. The 1 by 12-inch board across the room makes the top of the glass cupboards and the bottom of the upper cupboards. The ruffle trimmed shelf between the glass cupboards is 6 inches wide and the plate rail below it is made of two moulding strips.

SOLID doors for the cupboards at the sides of this sink would have placed the accent on vertical lines and made the room seem narrower. But most important of all, this combination of glass doors and plywood doors gives an opportunity to display dishes and other things that lend color, and at the same time makes a place to hide away less decorative utensils.

The lower cupboards and sink enclosure were built first. The vertical supports for the glass cup-

Watch Your Kidneys!

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste
Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.
Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength.
Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.
There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor!

PROTECT HORSES IN HOT WEATHER

Plenty of Water, Rest Help Prevent Overheating.

By J. L. EDMONDS
(Chief, Horse Husbandry at University of Illinois, College of Agriculture.)

"Be kind to and as considerate of your horses as you would want to be treated yourself," is a safe rule to follow in handling work stock during hot weather.

Essentially the same rules which apply to the human being in hot weather also apply to the farm horse. Plenty of water and the proper feed, careful driving, sufficient rest and the prevention of overheating are the principal precautions to observe in caring for the hard-working horse in summer.

When horses are doing hard field work during hot weather, a barrel of water and a pail should be taken to the field so the horses can be watered once an hour.

Since the freely perspiring work horse has a high salt requirement, he will stand the heat better when liberally supplied with salt.

In extremely hot weather it may be necessary to reduce working hours and lighten the load. The noon rest period may be lengthened or work begun very early and stopped before noon. Some farmers have successfully worked their horses at night.

Like human beings, horses that are "off feed" should not be expected to do a hard day's work in summer, since it is too risky. Instead, such horses should be kept in the barn or on pasture where there is shade.

When the sweat "dries in," and the horse starts to pant and gets "wobbly" in his gait, he has been overworked. The careful horseman will stop and rest his team before this stage is reached. An overheated horse should be put into the shade, and cold water or ice bags applied to his head, spine and legs.

Serious cases of overheating are even difficult for experienced veterinarians to handle. Prevention is therefore especially important. Once the horse is overheated, even though he recovers, he is seldom able to do hard work during high temperatures.

Veterinarians Urge 'War' Against Swine Diseases

The government's recent appeal for increased swine production as an aid to national defense has had one quick result in most rural communities—farmers are exerting new vigilance to guard against prevalent swine diseases which annually take a toll of nearly 30 per cent of the nation's hog population.

Hog cholera is being looked upon as "public enemy No. 1" in the current drive to reduce swine losses, because cholera kills more hogs than any other single disease.

Veterinarians and livestock officials are urging utmost possible vigilance against fresh epizootics this season, and prompt control measures wherever cholera may make its appearance. Symptoms of the disease include sluggishness, a tendency to pile up, partial or total prostration, fever, and scours. At the first signs of such symptoms a veterinarian should be called.

"The best insurance against this No. 1 swine killer is to have pigs vaccinated against cholera around weaning time," says the American Foundation for Animal Health report. "When pigs are young they require less serum and virus, and the immunization generally lasts until they are ready for market. Cholera generally strikes so swiftly and kills so quickly that there is little that a farmer can do, once his hogs are down with the disease. That is why immunization is the best insurance against cholera losses."

Farm Notes

A silage crop can be grown, harvested and put in the silo for about $2 a ton.

A cow must eat 100 pounds or more of grass daily to produce 20 to 25 pounds of milk.

Since the beginning of 4-H club work on a nation-wide basis, it has reached over 8,000,000 rural young people.

Hens lay about as many eggs during March, April, May and June as they do all the other eight months of the year.

Cows graze only 8 hours a day, no matter how luxuriant the pasturage, and spend 12 hours lying down, and 4 hours standing or walking around.

Bulls should be confined in pens as a safety measure, but to insure their value as herd sires, they should be fed hay and silage of as good quality as is available on the farm. The weight of the bull should be controlled by regulating the quantity of grain and roughage not by supplying feed of poor quality.

Chic Prints Feature Flowers In Colorful Wide-Spaced Motifs

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

THIS season the new look for prints is carried in big florals that dramatically splash and dash vivid color in wide-spaced motifs.

Nor is the technique and the eye-dazzling color confined to evening prints. While it is true that gorgeous prints of the type described have gone "tops" for party and for other formal evening wear, it is also true that big flowers patterned in few and far-between motifs are the newest news of all in regard to materials for smart afternoon frocks.

What's more the craze for huge, wide-spaced flower prints is also reflected in sportswear fashions. Even if the material itself is not printed the latest gesture of fashion is to make pajama ensembles that have long semi-fitted jackets (some with a tunic flare) of quality-kind white crepe, spotting them here and there with applique of huge florals cut out of madly colorful silk print. As yet these flower-applique outfits are shown only in exclusive collections but the fashion is one that will gain in momentum with a rush. You can get stunning prints with huge Hawaiian designs that yield cutout motifs for applique that are both beautiful and unique.

For the most part the new big-flower prints run to hand-blocked types of exclusive and individual type. Flower-printed sharkskin is the "last word" in chic. It is especially good style in white with a background of enormous clumps of flowers spaced widely apart and fairly vibrating with hectic color. Lovely little afternoon dresses made of this new sharkskin print are being shown in the shops.

Necessarily these strikingly beflowered prints have to be made up very simple, whether for day or evening, but it is with a sophisticated simplicity that is purposefully planned in order to give accent to the beauty of the fabric. The dresses to the right and left in the picture illustrate this idea. The stately figure standing to the right is gowned in an evening creation styled of a splashy tulip print on a white background. The maximum of dramatic effect is reached in the clever use of applique cutouts from this splashy tulip print placed at the upper left side of the bodice. Again tulip applique repeats at the shirred waistline. Note the chic long sleeves that are tightly fitted below the elbow.

Bright days ahead are promised by the perfectly charming flowered print dress centered in the picture. This multi-colored floral print is a pure silk crepe which makes it outstanding because best dressed women are insisting upon genuine quality-kind silk. Another important message in this gown is the trimming formed of quilted flowers (cut from the print itself) that edges the sleeves and neckline and goes meandering down the front of the simulated jacket top of this one-piece dress that looks like a two-piece. It also delineates the jacket edge around the neckline. This is one of the gay flower types that is very good style for day frocks and seen in the original it is strikingly colorful. As to the hat worn with this winsome frock it is one of the very wide brims such as fashion decrees for summer.

Chinese prints with legendary design and in authentic colors present a fascinating new trend of thought. Some designers are even going so far as to create dresses in the straight, slim Chinese lines thus emphasizing the native source of inspiration. (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Button-On Yoke

One of the most successful and flattering fashions of the present season is the basic dress made to look important and lovely with crisp snowy neckwear and other refreshing lingerie touches. There is no greater favorite on the list of neckwear types than the youthful looking yoke collar. These yoke collars "do something" for you. They come in exquisite lace-trimmed and embroidered sheers, also in pique if a tailored type is your choice. A wide lace-trimmed flounce edges the enchanting yoke-collar pictured. It is made of eyelet embroidered permanent finish organdy with matching lace insertion following the squared line of the yoke. The fact that this dainty yoke buttons on adds practicality to chic and charm.

Irish Crochet Lace Trims

Dresses, Handbags, Gloves
The pendulum of fashion swings around to Irish crochet lace this summer. Just arrived are a collection of summertime dresses made of cotton boucle trimmed with that old-time favorite lace—Irish crochet. Then too pique collar sets and yokes are being edged with Irish crochet and pique party frocks trimmed in this lace are the "last word."

You can find also little jackets, handbags and gloves to ensemble with Irish crochet-trimmed frocks. Milliners are trimming some of their choicest hats with this same lace.

White Jewelry Accents Summer Prints, Pastels

White hats call for white jewelry. The two are playing a duet this summer. The new white plastic jewelry, especially the lacy type, is very flattering, giving a fresh accent to dark dresses. Take a look at the new glass bead jewelry, too, next time you visit the jewelry section. You'll love it, for it so colorfully accents summer prints and pastels.

Gay Peasant Blouses

The peasant theme persists in the minds of schoolgirls and debutantes. Of course their fashion hobby at present is the full peasant skirt topped with a gaudy foreign looking blouse. However, if you are older and still feel the urge for a blouse of native Hawaiian, South American or Mexican, it will delight your heart to visit the blouse sections and see the grand array of peasant-inspired blouses to be had.

You'll Be Proud of These Embroideries

PLEASANT dreams are assured when sheets and pillow cases are embroidered with these lovely flower motifs. The crocheted edging will be found easy, too.

Total expenditures for school purposes in rural schools in Jefferson county ranged from an average of $36 per student to $393 per student per year, it was revealed this week by Arthur Gafke of the Jefferson County.

The taxpayer association made public the figures to assist citizens in preparing for annual district meetings July 14, the taxpayer leader said.

The per capita cost figures were based upon the average daily attendance at the schools and the total disbursements, including capital outlay and debt service.

Greatest variation in costs recorded for schools in any one township was noted in the expenditure figures for the town of Watertown, Cafke said. Costs ran from $83 per pupil to $393, the economy group's tabulation, for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1940, showed.

Total disbursements for individual school districts ranged from $693 for District No. 7 in the town of Farmington, to $2693 for District No. 6 in Koshkonong, the taxpayer leader stated.

Average is $89.94

The average operating cost per student for rural schools in the county was $89.94, he announced. For the previous year this figure—which represents only actual operating cost, not capital outlay or debt payments—was $83.13. School District No. 2 in the town of Koshkonong had an average daily attendance of 30, the largest in the county, while District No. 2 in the town of Concord had 5.3 students, the smallest attendance, according to the economy group.

Following is a table of local schools showing total disbursements, average daily attendance and cost per student attending in several towns in the county:

Town	District	Attendance	Disbursements	Cost per pupil

NOSING THE NEWS

BY JUDGE DEVITT

And an old truism was re-emphasized on the war fronts. And that truism is that thieves cannot live together. And less than two years after its inception the ten year non-aggression pact between Nazi Germany and Soviet Russia comes to an end, with a declaration of war by Hitler and the beginning of another attempted "blitz" invasion.

And although relations have been strained between Germany and Russia, actual hostilities were not generally expected. And some say this furnishes conclusive proof that Hitler is after world domination. And it certainly provides the United States with more time to prepare its own defenses and to send increasing aid to Britain in preparation for the Battle of Britain which will ultimately come.

And it is doubtful whether Russia, a mass of military inefficiency, will be able to stop Hitler. And the United States at this time will do well to carefully consider all phases of what is happening abroad. And Churchill states that any foe of Hitler's is a friend of Britain. And yet, can we in the United States go quite that far? Can we unequivocally link hands with Josef Stalin and his government who have done so much to undermine and smash the cause of the common man under the guise of equality and jus-stice? Shall we join hands with the man and nation who subscribe to wholesale massacre and terrorism, a nation whom Adolf Hitler made his copy? These are indeed grave questions. And finally, if we help win a war against a monster are we then by winning that war going to participate in land and territorial distributions in favor of nations whose principles and whose way of life is as diametrically opposed to Americanism as the monstrosity we have helped smash.

And it can be truly said that the war between Nazi-ism under the white faced Hitler's fanatic leadership and Soviet Russia under the sinister visaged thick lippe'd control of Josef Stalin, is a collision between two juggernauts of evil. And perhaps, out of the welter of suffering and killing, the two evils and the monsters who created them will be destroyed.

Three Days of Racing

Three days of thrills culminating in AMA motorcycle races, will be offered speed fans at Wisconsin State Fair Park, July 4, 5, and 6. The program will start with the most unusual and sensational midget automobile racing program ever presented in America. Instead of using the regular midget car track, the event will be a 100-mile championship on the park's one-mile dirt track, generally conceded to be the fastest of its type in the country. The race will start at 3 p.m., July 4.

Among those who already have signed up to fight it out for the $2,500 purse are such midget racing sensations as Johnny Householder, national champion; Tony Willman, Paul Russo, Myron Fohr, Ted Duncan and George Robson.

For the three nights Jimmie Lynch's Death Dodgers will keep spines tinkling in front of the grandstand. Lynch has worked out numerous new and more daring stunts in the hazardous business of crashing automobiles. The Lynch thrill show will be followed by the exciting new Thearle-Duffield fireworks each night.

Some of the greatest riders in the country are already signed up for the 73 miles of motorcycle racing to be held Sunday afternoon, July 6 at 2:30 p.m. They include Johnny Spiegelhoff, Milwaukee; Ray Turky, Madison; Billy Matthews, Hamilton, Ontario, grand champion of Canada and 200-mile road champion; Tommy Hogen-

You'll like your Kitchen Better when you're not "Tied" to it!

You've probably heard the statement that electric cooking gives you more time to yourself. Have you ever wondered just how? Here's the answer: A modern electric range brings you the wonderful advantages of an automatic oven. With a timer-clock it enables you to cook a whole meal without ever being at home to watch it. You simply put whatever you want to cook, bake, or roast into your oven, set the temperature control dial and timer-clock—and forget it until the required time is up. In the meantime you can use your time as you like. An electric range requires no watching, and there's never any questions about the outcome—it's always successful.
