Observers

Piper-Tess

St. Mary's Church in Burlington was the scene of the wedding of Miss Hazel Piper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Piper, formerly of Eagle and now of Burlington, and Roman Tess also of that city at 9:00 A. M. Thursday. Mr. Tess who works at the Waukesha Motor Co., drove with his bride thru northern Wis. and Michigan before returning to Burlington where they will reside.

The bride's dress was of white mouselline de soi, short puffed sleeves, square neck edged with lace, which matched the finger tip length veil held with seed pearls. She carried a prayer book shower bouquet of white rose buds.

Miss Elvira Tess, the maid of honor and Miss Maude Piper, bridesmaid wore pink and blue mouselline de soi dresses, styled alike with lace insertions. They carried fanned bouquets of sweet peas and blue corn flowers and wore pink and blue blouses. Floyd Tess, Burlington, brother of groom was best man and Harold Piper, brother of bride was an attendant. Roy Piper and Roger Tess ushered. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast for the 35 relatives and bridal party was served at the home of the bride's parents. Father Nigus and Father Kersting also attended. Those from here who attended were Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Piper, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Piper and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lovell.

The bride was given a recent kitchen shower and luncheon by her aunt Mrs. Wm. Hicks of Milwaukee and 20 attended.

Fly At Uncongested Airports Advises Pilot

Aviation experts have found that the vast increase in private flying among people in almost every walk of life, has complicated the student instruction problem.

"The answer is to learn to fly at uncongested airports," J. W. ("Jack") Lubbers, chief instructor for Waukesha Airways, Inc., said today. "The student learns more quickly where air-traffic is not so heavy because he can give more time and attention to perfecting his basic flying skill. If you were teaching a novice to drive a car, you wouldn't start him off in downtown Milwaukee. It's the same principle."

Rodney Williams, Manager of the Waukesha County Airport at Highways 19 and 30, pointed out that the Waukesha County Board had anticipated congestion at other fields and has provided ample facilities at the Waukesha Airport for student instruction.

"With the advice of government authorities," Mr. Williams stated. "We have added another runway and all existing runways have been improved. Obstacles at the boundaries of the field have been removed and a new maintenance hangar has been provided. The Waukesha County Airport is now one of the important links in the country's chain of modern flying fields."

Seth Pollard, President of Waukesha Airways—a government licensed and accredited training school,—disclosed that the training of persons between 18 and 26 years of age at government expense,—has actually reduced the cost of flight instruction for those not eligible for that Federal program.

Mr. Pollard explained that to be eligible for free instruction under the Federal Civilian Pilot Training Program, an applicant must not be older than 26 and must have two years of college credits. By enrolling now in the Carroll College Summer School such a person will receive sufficient Flight and Ground School instruction to qualify for a Private Pilot's license.

"For those who are over 26 or have not sufficient college credits," said Mr. Pollard. "We are able to provide the same Flight and Ground School training at greatly reduced costs,—financed on an installment payment plan. In this course we guarantee a Private Pilot's license to those who qualify." The summer Term for both flying courses starts June 15th. Those interested should communicate with Waukesha Airways, 319 W. Main Street, Waukesha.

We Can All Be EXPERT BUYERS
In bringing us buying information, as to prices that are being asked for what we intend to buy, and as to the quality we can expect, the advertising columns of this newspaper perform a worth while service which saves us many dollars a year.
It is a good habit to form, the habit of consulting the advertisements every time we make a purchase, though we have already decided just what we want and where we are going to buy it. It gives us the most priceless feeling in the world: the feeling of being adequately prepared.
When we go into a store, prepared beforehand with knowledge of what is offered and at what price, we go as an expert buyer, filled with self-confidence. It is a pleasant feeling to have, the feeling of adequacy. Most of the unhappiness in the world can be traced to a lack of this feeling. This advertising shows another of its manifold facets—shows itself as an aid toward making all our business relationships more secure and pleasant.

FILLED WITH SPICE 'N' EVERYTHING NICE . . .
(See Recipes Below)

REFRESHMENTS PLUS!
Summer nears. You think of lots of things—new, crisp, cool clothes . . . vacation trips . . . gardening . . . and yes, even parties, especially gay ones that all for a minimum of "home work."
I think I understand. You love to have people in your home. In spite of the warmth of June days, you want those of your friends who remain in town to drop by often for conversation, relaxation and refreshments. But, of course, you want what you serve to be easy to make, delicious, entirely different from anything that you've ever served before, and economical. In the last two of these points, I've found homemakers hold a unanimous opinion.
So today I'm going to give you what I think are ace-high ideas on easy entertaining. I'm sure you'll find the recipes worth trying.

Dessert bridge parties will do wonders to round up the "Mrs." crowd who feel free, after feeding hubby and the children, to don dress-up frocks and skip out for dessert and an afternoon of fun. If your friends don't play bridge, substitute another hobby, but the serving of dessert upon the arrival of guests can nevertheless be carried out.
Serving dessert when guests arrive gives the hostess lots of leeway. She doesn't have to keep in mind that her friends will be going home to dinner soon, as she does with later-on refreshments. And, she can provide a really filling dessert.

Pictured at the top of the column is a dessert which I'm sure will answer your desires. It's Tropical Gingerbread.
2 eggs
3/4 cup brown sugar
3/4 cup pure molasses
3/4 cup melted shortening
2 1/2 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 cup boiling water
2 teaspoons ginger
1 1/2 teaspoons cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon cloves
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 teaspoon salt

Add beaten eggs to the sugar, molasses, and melted shortening; then add the dry ingredients which have been mixed and sifted, and lastly the hot water. Bake in small individual pans, or in a greased pan, in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 30 to 40 minutes. Top with whipped cream and sprinkle with shredded coconut.
With this dessert, you'll want to serve a beverage . . . coffee, tea or perhaps an iced drink of fresh fruit mixture.

Vanilla mousse is the basis for a number of appetizing desserts, and is a good party refreshment in itself. Among the many variations are peanut brittle and chocolate fudge mousses.
To make the vanilla mousse, fold one cup of confectioners' sugar and two teaspoons of vanilla into one quart of heavy cream that has been whipped. Fold in four egg whites which are stiffly beaten.
Spread the mousse into two large refrigerator ice trays and place in the freezing compartment of your refrigerator, or, freeze in your ice

LYNN SAYS:
In thinking of party foods, I remembered these few suggestions my mother passed on to me. Maybe you'll find them helpful.
To remove pecan meats whole, cover the shells with boiling water and let them stand until cold before cracking them.
Chocolate cakes usually call for unsweetened chocolate. This blends with the cake mixture much better if it is cut in small pieces and melted, rather than grated.
Rhubarb juice is a good substitute for iced tea as a basis for iced fruit drinks.

cream freezer. Allow three hours for the freezing. This recipe will yield two quarts of mousse.
For a crunchy surprise frozen dessert for your guests, serve peanut brittle mousse. To make it, crush 1/2 pound of peanut brittle with a rolling pin and fold into the vanilla mousse before it becomes solid (about 1 1/2 hours).

If it's an extra-special party you're planning, I've included a special dessert-bridge menu in today's column. You'll spend more hours in the kitchen preparing these particular foods, but they're so-o-o good that your guests' ohs and ahs will amply reward you for your efforts.
Cream Sponge Cake.
1 cup sifted cake flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup cold water
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
2 egg yolks, unbeaten
3/4 cup granulated sugar
2 egg whites, unbeaten
1 teaspoon lemon juice
2 tablespoons granulated sugar

Sift flour, baking powder, and salt together three times. Add water and lemon rind to egg yolks, and beat with rotary egg beater until light colored and at least tripled in volume. Add 3/4 cup of granulated sugar, 2 tablespoons at a time, beating well with rotary beater after each addition; then add sifted dry ingredients, a small amount at a time, beating slowly and gently with rotary beater only enough to blend. Beat egg whites until they form rounded mounds when beater is raised; then add lemon juice and 2 tablespoons sugar, and continue beating until stiff enough to hold up in moist peaks. Fold into flour mixture. Pour into two ungreased 8-inch layer cake pans, stirring lightly while pouring. Bake in moderate oven of 350 degrees F. for 30 minutes. Remove from oven, and invert on rack until cakes are cold. Fill with Orange Chiffon Cake Filling according to directions below.

Orange Chiffon Cake.
2 8-inch Cream Sponge Cake Layers
1 envelope plain, unflavored gelatin
1/4 cup cold water
4 eggs separated
3/4 cup granulated sugar
1/2 cup orange juice
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
Make and bake the Cream Sponge Cake Layers, following the recipe. Meanwhile, soak gelatin in cold water 5 minutes. Place beaten egg yolks, 6 tablespoons sugar, orange and lemon juices, and salt in double boiler. Cook while stirring until like custard. Add gelatin, and stir until dissolved. Remove from heat, stir in orange rind, and chill. When mixture begins to thicken, fold in meringue made by beating egg whites until frothy, but not dry, and folding in 6 tablespoons sugar gradually, while continuing to beat until stiff. Prepare cake layers for the filling by placing one layer on a cake plate; make collar of double waxed paper about 3 inches high to fit tightly around edge of cake; secure with pins or paper clips. Pour orange filling over the top of this layer; top with second cake layer; then place in refrigerator to chill until set. Before serving, remove waxed-paper collar from cake. To add finishing touch to top of cake, place lace-paper doily over top layer, sift confectioners' sugar over it, and remove doily carefully to preserve design.

HOG PARASITES REDUCE THRIFT

Dipping Is Effective Against Lice and Mange.

By CLIFFORD J. FAWCETT
(Extension Animal Husbandman, Massachusetts State College.)

Probably hogs are more affected by parasites, particularly the external type, than any other class of livestock. Infestation with either internal or external parasites results in lack of thrift, and the poor development of young pigs. Moreover, feed is too costly to give to parasites.

Hog lice and mange are the two principal external parasites affecting hogs.

Hogs suffering from lice or mange, or both, can be suspected by their persistent and vigorous rubbing against any convenient object. They may even rub off some of the hair and make the skin raw. Lice can be detected with the naked eye, but one needs a magnifying glass to see the common mange mite.

The common methods of eradication for both lice and mange are: 1—dipping, 2—spraying, 3—wallows, 4—oilers, and 5—hand applications. Dipping is the most effective method and should be used whenever possible.

When a dipping vat is not available, careful hand application of the chosen remedy may be practiced. Application may be made with a sprayer, brush, mop, or a piece of cloth. Many good pork producers have secured excellent results with oilers. Special care should be taken in distributing the remedy in a thin coat over the body surface; be sure to include the inside of the ears, the flanks, and between the thighs. The following remedies, when applied by hand, are effective for lice and mange control: 1—undiluted crude petroleum oil; 2—waste crankcase oil; 3—kerosene and lard mixed in the proportion of one-half pint of kerosene to one pound of lard.

Hogs that have been oiled should not be exposed to extreme cold or to bright sunshine too soon after treatment.

Summer Range Shelters Improve Poultry Flock

Summer range shelters will pay as much on the investment as any other expenditure the poultryman can make, according to T. T. Brown, extension poultryman of North Carolina State college.
Where more than 100 birds are kept, the shelter results in feed economy and healthier, more thrifty pullets. This assures the producer of a more economical egg production and a lower pullet mortality.

The shelter should be placed on clean land where ample tender green feed and shade are available. The shelter that Extension Service poultrymen have found to be the most economical and satisfactory is A-shaped with the eaves about two feet from the ground and the peak of the roof about 5 feet 10 inches. The shelter is 9 by 10 feet in size and will accommodate 100 pullets.
"The use of the summer range shelter helps to eliminate disease and intestinal parasites, puts vigor into the pullets, and makes for better egg size and production by properly developing the birds," Brown said.

Livestock Endangered By Poisonous Plants

Part of the annual loss of livestock from poisonous plants can be prevented by avoiding overgrazing and by furnishing plenty of supplemental feed during periods of scarce pasture, according to L. V. Sherwood, assistant chief of crop production at the University of Illinois college of agriculture.
These poisonous plants are in fence corners, in pastures and in the hay fields, often unrecognized until after they have poisoned the animals. Human beings, as well as animals, may die from the effect of the plants.

Other poisonous plants are bull nettle, buttercup, wild cherry, cocklebur, corn cockle, tall crow-foot, Dutchman's breeches, water hemlock, common horsetail, Indian turnip, Jack-in-the-pulpit, jimson weed, Johnson grass, dwarf larkspur, black locust, whorled milkweed, black nightshade, oak, poke berry and staggerweed.

Vast Phosphate Supply

The United States has phosphate supplies sufficient to last 5,000 or 6,000 years, practically unlimited sources of nitrogen and potash reserves ample for generations to come. "Yet," says a statement of the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee, "this country uses only a fraction as much fertilizer for improving the soil of its farms and promoting crop production as do the nations of Europe—and they have far more limited supplies."

Hope Is Mainspring

Is it an offense, is it a mistake, is it a crime to take a hopeful view of the prospects of your own country? Why should it be? Why should patriotism and pessimism be identical? Hope is the mainspring of patriotism. — David Lloyd George.
