Mattie Faestel of Spokane, Wash. is visiting relatives here.

THOMAS - BENDER WEDDING

Saturday evening Nov. 8th occurred the marriage of Betty Lou Bender, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bender to Roger Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Thomas. The wedding took place at the home of the bride, Rev. Beers of North Prairie officiating, and was witnessed by immediate relatives. After the ceremony a wedding dinner was served. The bride and groom will make their home with his parents on the farm. The Quill joins their many friends in wishing them a happy married life.

EASTERN STAR CARD PARTY

Members of the W. Perry Chapter of the Eastern Star of Eagle will give a public card party to which all are invited Saturday evening, Nov. 15th in the Masonic Hall. Prizes will be given and lunch will be served.

Wm. Smith

Last Sunday morning the entire community was shocked on learning the news of the sudden death of Wm. Smith whose unexpected death occurred while he was repairing a motor at the Sam Engle farm. He had gone there with several other men and had seemed in his usual good health. A heart attack was the cause of his death. William was born at Eagle Oct. 12, 1892 and was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Smith and his entire life was spent in and around Eagle. He was a good and willing neighbor and his untimely death has cast a gloom on the entire village. The funeral services were held from the Mealy Funeral home Tuesday morning at 9 A. M. Rev. Father Eschweiler offering a prayer at the home and at the grave. Burial was in Oak Knoll Cemetery beside his mother, who died several years ago. He leaves surviving him his aged father Andrew Smith, two brothers, Albert of Whitewater, Fred of Eagle and one sister, Mrs. Clara Budisch of Milwaukee who have the sympathy of all in the loss sustained by his sudden passing.

STATE LAUNCHES CONTEST

A statewide contest to secure 500 prize-winning recipes for a new dairy cookbook for the nation's housewives will be launched by the state department of agriculture this week-end with the cooperation of nutrition specialists throughout the state and Wisconsin newspapers.

The contest opens Nov. 15 and closes Dec. 15. Its purpose is to increase the use of dairy products, especially butter, and acquaint consumers with the health value of dairy foods. All recipes will be tested by the home economics departments of the University of Wisconsin; The Stout Institute, Menomonie; Milwaukee Downer college and Mount Mary college, Milwaukee, and Central State Teachers college, Stevens Point.

One dollar will be paid for each recipe accepted for publication. In addition, $5 will be awarded contestants submitting the best recipe in each of 17 main divisions as follows:

1. Batters—Griddle cakes, waffles and fritters, cakes, muffins, cookies, puddings, dumplings, popovers.
2. Doughs—Breads, yeast breads, cookies, pastry, rolls, doughnuts and fried cakes.
3. Vegetables.
4. Casserole Combinations—Macaroni, rice, noodles, spaghetti, scalloped vegetables, fish and meat, souffles, scalloped vegetables.
5. Sauces and gravies.
6. Salad dressings.
7. Sandwiches.
8. Appetizers, canapes, and hors d'oeuvres.
9. Confections—Candies, nuts, fruits.
10. Frostings and fillings.
11. Soups.
12. Meat, fowl, fish and eggs.
13. Salads.
14. Desserts—Custards, puddings, frozen desserts, torts, gelatin desserts, fruits.
15. Beverages.
16. Left-over combinations.
17. Cheese.

Many families would insist on our service even if the costs were higher than elsewhere.

Actual comparison proves that they are not.

MOVIE STAR JOINS U.S. NAVY

Ensign Wayne Morris Seeks Wings

Wayne Morris, recent star of "I Wanted Wings," became a member of Uncle Sam's Navy in May, 1941, when he was appointed to the rank of Ensign.

When asked what he thought of the United States Navy, Morris said, "I think every man who is considering joining a military service should look into the 'chance of a lifetime' which the Navy and Naval Reserve offer to get into the big-pay field of the future—aviation. In the Navy you can attend the finest flight training schools in the world, and receive instruction from Navy pilots who introduced dive bombing, aircraft carriers and catapult take-offs to the rest of the world. Also, there are opportunities in Naval Aviation for men who don't want to fly. They can be trained as aviation machinists, metalmiths, photographers, observers, or they can receive instruction in many other trades. It's a great life in the Navy." Ensign Wayne Morris is pictured here in his line of duty as a member of the Naval Aviation Cadet Selection Board at the Long Beach Naval Reserve Air Base.

SHORT STORY

Empty Safe

By RICHARD HILL WILKINSON
(Associated Newspapers—WNU Service.)

A YOUNG man, looking frightened and agitated, was waiting at the Robinson residence when the police car, bearing Detective Henry Baker drove up. "I'm Tom Darcy," the youth explained. "For heaven's sake, let's hurry. Every moment counts." "Why," asked Detective Baker, when they were in the police car, "didn't you phone us from your uncle's house?" "The line was dead. Whoever robbed the safe must have cut the wires. I ran over to Robinson's." "Exactly what happened?" "Uncle's away for the week-end," Darcy explained. "I was alone upstairs about half an hour ago. I thought I heard a noise and came running down. I had reached the first landing when a man dashed from the library, sprinted for the front door and was out before I could stop him. I paused only long enough to glance into the library, saw that the safe door was swinging wide, then gave chase. As I came down the front walk the thief was just making off in a small gray sedan.

"For heaven's sake, let's hurry. Every moment counts."

My roadster was out front and I leaped into it and followed, but I lost sight of the sedan in the heavy traffic.

"I see," said Baker. "Aren't you in the habit of keeping your uncle's house locked at all times? Especially when he's away?"

"Of course. And today was no exception, either. The burglar gained admission by prying open a cellar window."

They had reached the residential district and presently the detective drew up in front of a brownstone dwelling. "This is your uncle's home, isn't it?"

"Yes." Young Darcy raced up the steps, hurried through the front door and disappeared inside. A moment later Detective Baker found him examining the opened safe.

"You were certainly in an all-fired hurry to get inside, especially when you knew the thief had escaped."

Darcy sank wearily into a chair. "I wanted to make sure just how much was missing. You see, I didn't return here after losing sight of the sedan, but went directly to headquarters."

"I see," Baker nodded toward the safe. "I suppose you discovered the worst."

"Worst is certainly the word. Not only are the bonds gone, but every other scrap of paper besides. The thief must have heard me coming and realizing that haste was necessary, shoved everything into his pocket."

"Likely," Detective Baker stooped over to examine the safe. "Was there anything familiar about the figure you saw rushing from the house?"

"As a matter of fact there was." The officer whirled around. "In heaven's name why didn't you say so? Did you recognize him?"

"I didn't mention it before," Darcy said thoughtfully, "because I didn't want to cast unjust suspicion. But" Suddenly he thrust out his hand, revealing in its palm a small clasp pen knife. "That knife belongs to Jules Colby, uncle's butler. I've seen him use it a hundred times."

"And how long," asked Baker, his voice hinting of sarcasm, "have you been carrying it around with you?"

"I found it on the floor beneath the safe when I came in a moment ago. It—it substantiated my first suspicion that the man whom I had seen escape was actually Colby. He must have used it in his attempt to open the safe, and dropped it in his haste to get away."

"Where's Colby now?"

"Godness knows. He's supposed to be at home resting. Uncle dismissed all the servants while he was away. Sort of a holiday."

"I see. And you think we ought to pick up this Jules Colby and question him."

"If picking up is as easy as you make it sound, I most certainly agree. Look there." Darcy pointed at the safe. Near its outer edges were a number of scratches that had obviously been made by some sharp instrument, quite possibly a pen knife.

"I see," said Baker. "But for the moment let's concentrate on Colby. I have an idea he won't be so difficult to find as you appear to think."

"Possibly," said Darcy, his own tone betraying sarcasm, "the police department in this city is smarter than I give it credit for." "Possibly," Baker agreed, "you're right. For example, I think if we take a run over to Mr. Colby's boarding house we'll find him at home—resting."

"If you do it will mean that the man's much smarter than I think. But I doubt if it will occur to him that not trying to escape will make him less a suspicious character."

Detective Baker scratched his chin. "Kid, you seem to have a faculty of giving no one credit for brains but yourself. Let me tell you something: In about a minute you're going to discover that you're not so smart as you're trying to impress me with being."

Young Darcy got to his feet with easy assurance. "Well, well. Are you the gentleman who's going to show me?"

"I am."

"Can that be possible! Shall I prepare to cheer?"

"You'd better prepare to spend a long time in an iron-bound cage thinking things over."

"Meaning?"

"Meaning that no one would be damn fool enough to try to open a safe such as this one with a pen knife."

"Which gets us nowhere. The marks of the pen knife are on the safe, and proves that somebody must have been a fool."

"The man who put the marks there was—damn fool enough to think a smart detective would swallow the yarn. Also fool enough to think the same detective would believe a cock and bull story about chasing a guy in a gray sedan."

"Why, blast your hide, I did!"

"Not! Either you didn't chase him or your story is cockeyed. Because if you ran out of the house and down the walk and tore off in your car, how did you know the burglar pried open a cellar window to gain admission. There were no cellar windows open when I came up the walk. I must have been on the rear of the house, but if you went directly to headquarters—"

At which point young Mr. Darcy blurted something about showing who was smart, and reached inside his coat pocket. Whereupon Baker substantiated his own statement about the smartness of a certain detective by socking Mr. Darcy over the head with the reverse end of a pistol, which he'd had his hand on for five minutes.

2,300 Varieties of Rose Blooms in Private Garden

Fifty years ago a small boy spent his time hoeing roses and cutting off withered blossoms on his father's southern estate.

Today he has what is reputed to be the largest private collection of roses in the United States, for in the garden of Clyde R. McGinnes, a Reading, Pa., yarn merchant, there grow thousands of roses of 2,300 varieties.

Although foreign rose commerce has been stopped because of the war, the McGinnes garden is still growing rapidly with specimens he propagates himself and secures from other parts of the country.

"I add about 100 roses every year," he said. "My present garden was started in the spring of 1926 when I moved my collection from the city backyard across the Schuylkill to the hillside. Since then I have had hundreds of visitors from all sections of the United States—even tourists from California."

It takes a lot of time and effort to keep a rose garden, but, like any other enthusiastic hobbyist, McGinnes strives to make every rose a prize.

In the library of his home there are 50 volumes devoted to rose gardening. He has made an extensive study of the art and corresponds with many of the country's widely known rose fanciers.

Very often he will receive a letter from some fancier asking whether it is possible to purchase any of his plants, but none of his roses are for sale.

McGinnes derives great pleasure from showing visitors his collection. Included in his garden are 142 varieties of albas, centifolias, damasks, gallicas and moss roses, 1,179 varieties of hybrid tea roses, and 98 varieties of old tea roses.

'Largest Volume' Being Written
Dr. Raymond H. Wheeler, psychologist and guest professor at the College of the Pacific at Stockton, is compiling all the known data of human experience and is recording it in what he terms the largest book on scientific fact ever written.

When finished, the book will measure seven feet in length and 1 1/2 feet in width. It will be classified by fields of endeavor and by years, the discoveries, inventions and variations in human behavior occurring since historical time began.

The reader, Dr. Wheeler points out, may at a glance determine what was going on in any subject in any year, and he may trace the history of any certain activity through the years.

Some 650,000 items have been entered in the book during the last five years and an estimated 1,250,000 more items will be added before it is finished within the next five years

Rayon Fabric Patterns Show New Emphasis on Originality

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

NO LONGER are fine fabrics the exclusive property of the few people who can disregard cost. There's luxury for everybody these days, because of the advancement of rayon as a textile fiber during the last few years. Rayon has made possible the reproduction of all the magnificence of traditional quality cloths at prices well within the reach of modest budgets.

To the evening wear field, where luxury has always been the keynote, are contributed gorgeous fabrics worked with all the lavishness and richness the feminine heart could ask. Exquisite, for evening, is crisp rayon taffeta in enchanting colors and new effects. Such novel taffeta finishes as gleaming satin stripes, metal stripes and striking plaid effects with metal stripes and unusual color designs are seen in stunning bouffant gowns like the model pictured in the foreground of our illustration.

Beautifully adapted to the fluid molded lines of the current evening season, sleek rayon jersey brings its lovely draping quality to sophisticated dinner and evening inspirations. Jewel-toned rayon jersey falls in sleek gleaming folds for the skirt and wide bishop sleeves of the glamorous dinner gown centered in this group.

The vogue for street-length informal dinner gowns has inspired the long-torso style which combines a rich black rayon crepe skirt with a smartly contrasting shaded rayon and metal striped bodice, as shown to the right. The long sleeves and low V-neck of the bodice are excellent fashion points, as is the graceful all-round pleated skirt.

Indispensable in the dinner and evening wardrobe are the rayon crepe frocks. Lovely versatile types, such as matelasse patternings, tree-bark effects and mossy finishes give pleasing variety. The exquisite grace of line expressed in the slender tiered frock to the left in the group interprets the beautiful draping qualities of mossy rayon crepe. In this instance the crepe is in a dusty rose, with the refined brilliance of cut steel at the draped neckline.

Large Patch Pockets

Extend the 'New Look'
Dresses and suits are very pocket-conscious this fall. Four seems to be the magic number for pockets and sometimes six—four on the long-torso jacket, distributed in two breast pockets and two hip pockets, with the skirt sporting two pockets on its own account.

Ingenious pocket arrangements are also expressed in connection with peplum flares. There are separate stole scarf affairs made to wear with practical daytime dresses that are finished off at each end with huge pockets. They have zip fastenings, all very practical and usable.

Tip to Toe—You'll

Be Wearing One Color

The latest turn of fashion is to carry out the costume ensemble in one color from head to foot. Very handsome indeed is an outfit that created quite a sensation in the grandstand parade at one of the important games this fall. This stunning ensemble, done in the new gold tone so smartly in fashion, included a fleece boxy topper, a perfectly matched handknit two-piece dress and a turban. Costumes all in the widely heralded "black plum" are also outstanding in the autumn-winter collections. Brown and topaz colors are also very effective developed in single tones throughout.

Bangle Bracelets

Young girls are going in for a new hobby. It is the collection of bangles for their bracelets which are for the most part in silver. You can buy cunning little trinkets galore at the jewelry counters, and a most thriving business is going on in their sale. However, it makes it far more interesting to add the personal touch of dropping a hint to dotting relatives and friends that you would rather have a bangle to add to your collection than any other gift they could make to you.

Ostrich Trim

The much-beloved little pillbox hat is taking on new glory this season. Picturesque ostrich goes trailing down one side over the hair in a glamorous "portrait of a lady" manner. The huge profile berets are also dramatically ostrich-adorned.

Be Lovelier

"Only the brave deserve the fair"—and "only the fair deserve the brave." In these times when men are so occupied with defense, women and girls can maintain national morale only if they look their best. Just as soldiers, sailors and marines are required to keep their uniforms neat, to shave every day, to keep their nails in order, and to have good haircuts, so should women be especially careful of their clothes, their complexions, their hands and hair. The selection of stylish, becoming dresses and the use of cold cream, powder, lipstick and nail polish and attention to the hair are more important than ever before. Here is a lovely New York creation that carries out the trend of "dressier dresses" and feminine elegance with its smooth, slenderizing pockets and antique filigree gilt buttons.

THANKSGIVING

This holiday is ours! As you bustle about and plan this year's Thanksgiving dinner, remember this is the day we give our thanks for the bounteous harvest of the year, for the peace and the prosperity, singularly ours. Remember, too, and cherish the foresight of the Pilgrims who had the courage to start carving out this land of ours!

Yes, this holiday is ours, so let it be filled with the spirit of the day and wholehearted thanks.

Some foods are synonymous with Thanksgiving without which the day wouldn't be complete, but don't get into a rut about having the same dinner every year, vary the trimmings a bit and fascinate the family.

Thin wisps of croutons will intrigue if you serve them in the oyster stew.

*Oyster Stew. (Serves 6 to 8)

- 1 pint oysters
- 4 tablespoons butter
- 1 quart milk
- Salt and pepper

Put cleaned oysters, oyster liquor strained, butter and seasonings in a saucepan and simmer gently until oysters curl at the edges. Heat the milk, add to the oysters and serve at once.

Has the family become a trifle weary of your old stuffing? Then try this savory new one with yummy sausage flavoring which is right at home with either turkey, goose, duck or chicken. The sausage stuffing will do a proud job with stuffed veal, pork or shoulder of lamb:

*Sausage Stuffing. (Makes 6 cups)

- 4 cups soft bread crumbs
  - 1/2 cup butter
  - 3 tablespoons chopped onion
  - 1/2 teaspoon salt
  - Pepper
  - 1/2 teaspoon sage or thyme
  - 1/2 cup chopped celery
  - 2 cups sausage in the bulk
- Melt butter, add onion and cook until it becomes yellow. Add bread crumbs mixed with seasonings. Mix in chopped celery and sausage. Cook 2 minutes, stirring constantly.

*Turkey.

Small birds are allowed 25 to 30 minutes per pound for baking, large birds, 22 to 25 minutes per pound. Your oven should be set at 325 to 350 degrees.

*Sweet Potato Puff. (Serves 10 to 12)

- 4 cups mashed sweet potato
- 2 tablespoons fat
- 1 egg

LYNN SAYS:

To clean the turkey, singe it first, then remove the pin feathers with tweezers. Scrub the outside with water. The inside should be wiped with a damp cloth. If there is any foreign odor, a half teaspoon of baking soda may be added to the water with which the turkey is scrubbed.

Allow 1 pound of turkey to each person. Allow 1 cup of stuffing to each pound of turkey. When stuffing, be sure to put some in the neck for this will give the bird a good full shape. Fasten the skin from the neck to the back. Stuff the cavity but do not pack since dressing swells.

For good roasting and easier carving truss the bird, by inserting a long needle through breast, through rib at the base of the thigh. Draw the cord through and bring the string across by pulling the cord through the openings formed by folding the wings triangularly onto the back. Tie the cords.

Insert the needle through the drumstick joints, bring the cord around the tail, through the backbone, and tie securely. Remove cord before serving.

THIS WEEK'S MENU

- *Oyster Stew Croutons
- *Roast Turkey
- *Sausage Stuffing
- *Cranberry Orange Relish
- *Sweet Potato Puff
- *Brussels Sprouts
- *Hot Rolls
- Celery Curls Pickled Beets
- *Pumpkin or Mincemeat Tarts
- Hot Coffee
- *Recipe Given

Salt and pepper
1/2 cup milk or 1/4 cup evaporated milk and 1/4 cup water.

Add the melted fat, seasonings and milk to the potatoes. Beat the egg separately, add yolk first and fold in white to the potato. Place in a buttered casserole dish, set in a pan containing hot water and bake 15 to 20 minutes at 375 degrees until light and puffy. Marshmallows may be placed on top of casserole during last 7 minutes of baking time. With all the soft food of the meal, you'll want something crispy and tart as a relish.

*Cranberry-Orange Relish. (Serves 12)

- 2 cups cranberries, cleaned, washed
- 2 oranges, whole
- 1 cup sugar

Grind all the fruit together by putting through a coarse food grinder. Mix the ground fruit with sugar and let stand about an hour before serving.

*Brussels sprouts.

Brussels sprouts lend a bright touch of green when served plain with butter or crumbled, cooked chestnuts. Pick the dead leaves off the sprouts, then soak them in cold salted water for 1/2 hour. Wash and put in boiling water and let cook until just tender, about 15 to 17 minutes. Drain, reheat, and serve after seasoning.

*Magic Yeast Rolls.

- 3 cups bread flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup butter
- 3 eggs
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1/2 cup sugar (rolled in later)
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 1 cup chopped nuts
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1/4 cup hot water
- 2 packages granular yeast

Sift flour. Add to 1 1/2 cups of flour the salt and shortening. Combine as for pie crust. Combine milk and hot water. When luke-warm, add yeast and 1 tablespoon sugar. Combine with first mixture; beat until smooth. Cover and let stand 20 minutes. Add eggs, vanilla and the rest of the flour. Stir until it becomes a smooth, sticky dough, but stiff. Tie dough into a clean cloth (wring out in cold water first). Drop in a pail of cool water. In an hour the dough will rise to the top. Remove and turn on a platter and cut into pieces the size of an egg. Roll in sugar and nut mixture. Twist into figure eights. Shape and turn onto a greased pan. Let stand 5 minutes and bake 10 minutes at 425 degrees F.

Remember how mother used to make her pumpkin pie and tarts the day before and how good they always tasted after they stood in the cool pantry overnight? Why not try it this time? It'll save you a great deal of fuss on the big day itself besides giving the tarts a chance to mellow and ripen for extra good flavor.

*Pumpkin Filling.

- (Makes 1 large pie or 10 to 12 tarts)
- 1 1/2 cups prepared pumpkin
- 3/4 cup brown sugar
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/2 teaspoon ginger
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 2 eggs
- 1 1/2 cups milk

For fresh pumpkin, steam or bake until soft and put through a sieve. Add remaining ingredients in order given. Turn into crust lined pie tin or tart pans and bake first in a very hot (450 degrees) oven, then reduce temperature to 325 degrees and bake 25 minutes.

PLAN BOX SILO ON LEVEL LAND

Is Good Substitute for the Trench Silo.

By E. R. EUDALY
(Dairyman, Texas A & M College Extension Service.)

Built above ground, a "box" silo is a substitute for a trench silo in regions where the land is more or less level and where keeping water out of a trench is a problem.

To construct such a feed container, build two parallel levees of dirt any height and width desired, then fill between the levees with silage and cover with earth. This sometimes is called a trench silo upside down. Two—in places where lumber is cheap it might be advisable to build the upside down trench out of lumber and tar paper. This is called a "box" silo.

It is not advisable to build a "box" of smaller dimensions than four feet between walls, six feet high and 20 feet long. Lesser space between walls would be hazardous since a little spoilage at the edges would be too high a percentage of waste. A minimum height of six feet is suggested because of settling and the possibility of some spoilage on top. If the silage settles a whole lot there might be a high percentage of spoilage.

Width and height may be as much as desired beyond the minimum footage as far as keeping of the contents of the silo is concerned. But the width should be regulated according to the number of livestock to be fed, the specialists advise. At least five cows are necessary to obtain the most success from a "box" silo.

The posts should be three feet apart in the row if one-inch lumber is used, but may be as much as 4 1/2 feet apart if using two-inch lumber. Shiplap lumber is best for siding, but rough sawed lumber may be used provided it is laid so that the inside of the wall will not be so rough as to break the lining paper. Tar, or asphalt, paper is recommended for covering the inside of the wall, and No. 9 galvanized steel wire, or the equivalent in strength, to tie the posts together at the top.

The silage at the open end of the box should slope from the ground to the top of the wall so that the end can be covered with earth. Only two or three inches of dirt may be used provided oats or barley is planted in it, and the earth kept moist until the grain makes enough growth to form a good root system and hold the dirt together to prevent cracking.

Seed Winter Oats for Successful Winter Crop

Many farmers have had excellent success in seeding winter oats in the fall as a cover crop, according to J. C. Hackleman, crops extension specialist of the University of Illinois college of agriculture, Urbana, Ill. The only trouble with using winter oats in the fall, he said, is that the crop is more apt to winter-kill than barley or rye. Oats also does not make as good a nurse crop as the other two crops because it makes a more leafy and dense growth and consequently shades the legumes more and probably consumes more moisture and plant food than would be used by a rye or barley crop.

When used as a winter cover crop, winter oats, barley or rye should be seeded a week or 10 days before the average date for seeding wheat, Hackleman said.

Although more apt to encourage chinch bug increases the following growing season, barley makes the best pasture of the three crops. If nurse crops of oats, rye or barley, instead of being harvested as grain, are pastured next spring, the land can be classified as soil-conserving under the AAA farm program.

Farm Notes

Spraying of certain chemicals has been found to hasten the maturity of potatoes on experimental plots at an Idaho research station.

Root rot fungus spreads by slow growth along roots from plant to plant, even when they are dormant, at the rate of a foot or so a month.

The annual output of United States fruit canning plants amounts to about 50,000,000 cases. Peaches lead with over 12,000,000 cases.

More commercial fertilizer was used by American farmers in 1940 than in any previous year.

One hundred per cent water-inflation of farm tires will be possible and economically practical as the result of developments by a large rubber company.

Only by the use of pressure is it possible to get the high temperature needed to kill organisms in nonacid vegetables which, if not destroyed, will likely cause spoilage.

Ocean Their Mail Box

Because St. Kilda, an island off Scotland, was inaccessible most of the year, its citizens, before their evacuation about a decade ago, used to "post" their letters in sheepskin bags and toss them into the ocean. Some were picked up by ships, others were carried by a current 500 miles across the North sea to the coast of Norway, where they were found and their contents mailed.

When the shopping list is long, and the purse none too full, cigarettes and smoking tobacco come to the front as ideal gifts for the holiday season. The welcome they get from any smoker is all out of proportion to their modest cost. That's why Camel—America's favorite cigarette, and Prince Albert Smoking Tobacco—the National Joy Smoke—rank as leading gifts on the Christmas shopping lists. Dealers are featuring the Camel carton—ten packs of "20's"—and a novel Camel package of four "flat fifties," also Prince Albert in the pound tin and the pound glass humidor—all special gift packages.—Adv.
