After a man carries a handkerchief for four or five weeks it looks almost as dirty as some of the powder puffs some women go around with.

It may be your own business when you eat onions, but remember it is everybody's business when you breathe.

In real life villains don't go around hissing and snarling. They go around purring and smiling.

"NAVY TRADE TRAINING GAVE ME MY START" SAYS PRESIDENT, SPERRY CORPORATION

THOMAS A. MORGAN (pictured in insert), president of the Sperry Corporation, world's largest manufacturers of aeronautical and marine instruments, received his early technical training in the U. S. Navy, in which he enlisted as a young man. "This has proved of great value to me in later years," said ex-sailor Morgan. Pictured above are new Navy recruits receiving electrical training at one of the modernly equipped Navy Trade Schools. The Navy offers training to young men in nearly 50 different trades and vocations.

Opportunities for advancement, to learn skilled trades, for travel and adventure are identical whether a man enlists in the regular Navy or the Naval Reserve—and his pay, food, clothing, medical and dental care are the same.

"All the Traffic Would Bear"

There was a time in America when there were no set prices. Each merchant charged what he thought "the traffic would bear." Advertising came to the rescue of the consumer. It led the way to the established prices you pay when you buy anything today.

Fashion Advocates Lavish Use Of Fur in a Variety of Ways

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

FASHION is most eloquently "saying it" with furs this season. According to the signs there is going to be a most grand and glorious display of furs this winter both as trimming and as coat or cape ensembles of sumptuous fur. Almost everything in the way of matching accessories that can be made of fur is being made of fur: hats, gloves, handbags, separate neckpieces, detachable plastron fronts, and lapel gadgets of bows and boutonnières.

Milliners are giving of their best in creating fur hats matched to coats, to jackets, or to the trimming on one's gown and wrap. The favor for browns has placed extra emphasis on the importance of mink. There's exciting fashion news in the sumptuous mink coat shown above to the right in the illustration. It is topped by a hat made glorious by a wide brim (huge fur hats will be worn this winter) of matching mink.

The young woman centered above in the picture is snappishly turned out in an ensemble of gray Chinese kidskin, the fingertip-length coat fashioned along very youthful lines. The insistent call for sleek black by fashion sophisticates keeps Persian lamb and elegant broadtail in the limelight again this season. Royally luxurious is the broadtail ensemble shown in the upper left corner. Here a slim svelte princess coat demonstrates how up-to-the-minute is the styling given to furs this season. The hat is one of those new tall effects so definitely in style.

Grandma's Buttons Make Style News

Dig into grandma's button box, and you may find hidden treasures that will cause your winter gowns and coats to soar to heights of sartorial glory. Better still, trek around to the button counters and see what a splurge buttons are making in the fashion realm.

Two important trends register in the button field, one of which is the inclination toward bulkiness. Buttons are sometimes massive and knobby. Also, the new buttons tell a grand and glorious color study. You, with everyone else, are going to wear a great deal more color this year than you did last, and accordingly button originals are keeping pace with the color commotion.

Plastic buttons are available in a full range of costume colors. A button that makes an interesting accent on frock or blouse is a molded plastic done in a flower design with nailhead detail. Fresh fashion interest is also developing in filigree buttons. A gold filigree button is proving especially attractive for dress-up blouses and party frocks. In fact, metal buttons rank high in favor, whatever the type.

Woolies Defy the Chill
Breath of Jack Frost

Farmers can prognosticate and their signs are unerring. It's "ditto" with fashion. Well, from all fashion indications, we will see wool mittens; long wool socks (sheer wool for daytime hose); heads done up in wool wimples; huge fur hats and muffs as extravagantly big. All will valiantly fulfill their mission of comfort and smart appearance when winter brings on its usual quota of days with a sharp tang.

Its graceful feather trim is Kelly green for added color.

Fur capes are definitely something to talk about, for they are in the very foreground of the current fashion picture. The gorgeous cape lower right, is of lustrous black Persian lamb. The new rule for a black wrap worn with a color-bright dress is faithfully observed. The pretty, softly styled frock is in the widely sponsored new gold tone.

For daytime wear nothing exceeds leopard in chic, unless it be American opossum, which is also playing a star role. You will be perfectly tuned to the grandstand picture if you attend the game in a coat of leopard at lower left. It is a fashionable, three-quarter length style with a stand-up collar and bracelet-length sleeves—all very youthful and destined for an eye-smashing entry into any smart gathering.

A most extraordinary development in fur styling this season is the working of glittering embroidery on the lapels and collars of fur coats. The new fur capes are sometimes embroidered with a hem line bordering for evening. Brown sequins worked on mink hats, jet motifs on either black or white furs or metal thread embroidery punctuated with glistening jewels give to furs an entirely different aspect. Many of the most staid and conservative coats are bursting into glory with gleaming jeweled buttons.

Possum on Wool

American opossum is a flattering, young-looking fur when it trims swank town and country tweeds. It carries a message of style prestige wherever it goes, and this year fashion's spotlight is showing it up more conspicuously than ever. In the picture we see American opossum accentuating the straight silhouette of a hunter's green wool coat. Three bands of the fur around the bottom of the skirt, and a flattering ripple collar of this fur, add distinction to the pencil-slim coat. The ripple-brim fine felt hat is detailed with stitching.

JUST

What'll You Give
 "What are you taking for your dyspepsia?"
 "Make me an offer."

Not for Him
 Mrs. Binks went on a day trip to the country.

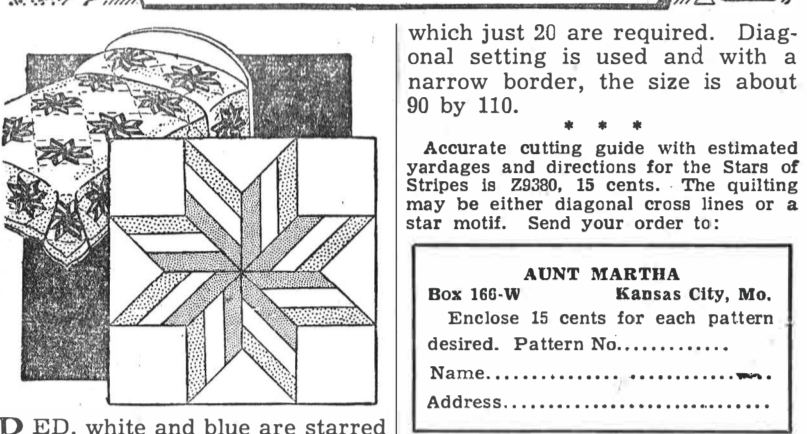

"I'm at a loss to understand your conduct when we parted," she said to her husband on her return. "I said, goodbye to you. Why didn't you say good-bye in response?"
 "I was going to," was the meek reply, "but I checked myself. I was afraid you'd accuse me of trying to have the last word."

Self-Preservation First
 She—What did you do when the ship was wrecked?
 He—I did what any sensible man would do—I swam ashore and saved my own life, and then swam back to see if I could help anyone else.

The absent-minded fellow stood in front of the mirror for two hours trying to remember where he had seen that face before.

Not to Forget
 "What's that piece of string tied round your finger for, Bill?"
 "That's a knot. Forget-me-not is a flower; with flour we make bread, and with bread we eat cheese. This is to remind me to buy some pickled onions."

Women are usually cooler than men not only because of their lighter-weight clothing but also because of their lower metabolic rate, says Collier's. A recent series of scientific experiments reveals that, on the average, women's limbs are three degrees cooler, their arms four degrees cooler and their hands and feet five degrees cooler than those of men.

DOAN'S PILLS
Today's popularity of Doan's Pills, after many years of world-wide use, surely must be accepted as evidence of satisfactory use. And favorable public opinion supports that of the able physicians who test the value of Doan's under exacting laboratory conditions. These physicians, too, approve every word of advertising you read, the objective of which is only to recommend Doan's Pills as a good diuretic treatment for disorder of the kidney function and for relief of the pain and worry it causes.
If more people were aware of how the kidneys must constantly remove waste that cannot stay in the blood without injury to health, there would be better understanding of why the whole body suffers when kidneys lag, and diuretic medication would be more often employed.
Burning, scanty or too frequent urination sometimes warn of disturbed kidney function. You may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel weak, nervous, all played out.
Use Doan's Pills. It is better to rely on a medicine that has won world-wide acclaim than on something less favorably known. Ask your neighbor!

STORY OF THE WEEK

Love and Bandits

By MEREDITH SCHOLL

(Associated Newspapers—WNU Service.)

ADELAIDE'S father heartily approved of Walt Mayo as a husband for his daughter and undertook the task of giving Adelaide some advice.

"You'd better accept his offer of marriage," he told her. "You can't go wrong. Walt will give you security."

Adelaide smiled and a faraway look came into her eyes. "I'm not so sure," she said, "that I want security. That kind, I mean."

"There's only one kind," Mr. Steers considered his daughter for a moment. "Adelaide, you're thinking of that crazy galoot, Fred Cram."

Startled, Adelaide turned upon him. "He's not a crazy galoot!" "I knew it! Ye gods, girl, won't you realize that Fred's no good? Why, he hasn't a sound idea in his head."

"He's good looking," said Adelaide dreamily. "And good natured. And he doesn't care a darn whether school keeps or not. Also, he says he'd like to marry me. Is that a sound idea?"

"Ho!" Mr. Steers laughed heartily. "Ho!" he said again. "Marry you! Why, the young whippersnapper couldn't support a bantam chick, let alone a wife."

"Perhaps if he had a wife—who loved him—she might be able to inspire him with the thing it takes to want to support her."

"Rubbish!" said Mr. Steers. He scowled, studying his one and only offspring. Ever since the girl's

"Things?" said Fred. He brought the car to a sudden stop and turned to her. "Honey, you're the only thing I could be serious about. And believe me, I am."

Adelaide shook her head. "I'm afraid you're wasting your time. I—I couldn't risk it, Fred. A woman wants security."

Fred stared at her for so long without speaking that Adelaide thought he actually was getting serious, and she became alarmed. "Fred," she said, "I—I'd like to make you a proposition. Suppose, just to show me that you could provide security, you save up a thousand dollars. I'll marry you when you get a thousand." She swallowed. It hadn't sounded as convincing or grand as she had expected.

"Done!" said Fred unexpectedly. And at that moment two men stepped out of the bushes and leveled guns at them. At sight of the men Adelaide uttered a little suppressed scream of terror.

"Hist 'em!" said the biggest of the pair, "an' keep 'em histed."

Fred turned casually. "Hello, boys," he grinned. "Nice evening." "Oho! A wise guy?" The big man leered and winked at his companion. "Well, I guess we know how to handle wise guys, eh, Tony? I wonder if this jigger hides his dough under the seat, too?"

"Honey," said Fred, grinning at Adelaide, "you'd better climb out. These boys want to look under the seat."

Adelaide thought she caught a significant inflection in his tone. She climbed out, on the opposite side of the car from the bandits. Fred opened the door on his side and then things began to happen. She heard Fred yell: "Duck, Adelaide!" And she ducked. While ducked, she heard a gun go off, and a shower of broken glass sprayed over her. The windshield. Of all the nerve! Why, that windshield was the only good part of the car!

Fred was still yelling. There were sounds of a scuffle. A couple of thuds. Another shot. Promiscuous grunting. Then Fred came around the car.

"O.K., honey. The boys have had enough."

Adelaide stood up. She saw the men lying on the road and she began to tremble. "Oh, Fred, are you all right?"

"Well, yes. Mostly. Couple o' bruises. I wish I'd been smart though. Like Walt. Walt would have saved himself all this trouble by some clever tricks." He paused suddenly and began to grin. "Heck I just thought. There's a reward for these birds. Five hundred! smacks each. Add 'em together, girlie, and we have the required amount."

Adelaide began to cry. "Fred—oh, you didn't need a thousand. You didn't need anything. And—and I'll bet Walt Mayo would have let them steal my money, too. He would have said it was smart, because he saved most of his."

Fred interrupted her babbling by picking her up and setting her back inside the car. "Are you by any chance trying to get across the idea that you accept my marriage proposal?"

"You crazy galoot!" said Adelaide, shamelessly stealing her father's stuff. "Of course I will!"

"Well, well," said Fred. And he took her in his arms and kissed her very, very seriously.

Prep School for Pups

Michael von Motzeck of Chicago is headmaster of a prep school for pups. His pupils are disobedient dogs whose masters enroll them to learn the ABCs of canine etiquette. In his $40,000 halls of learning he has graduated in the last 10 years almost 3,000 Ph.D. pooches owned by movie stars, tycoons and society folks. As reward for passing final tests every dog gets a beauty treatment, with trimming and plucking, in the dog beauty parlor run by Mrs. Von Motzeck.

Courses last from a month to a year. Month's course of seven first-grade lessons, includes learning to obey commands to "heel," "sit," "lie down," "come" when called, and to "fetch." A two months' course includes seven more advanced lessons, and so on up. Von Motzeck once trained a dog to answer 150 commands perfectly.

After the first two weeks' training, masters must attend the school three times to be put through the paces with their pets. Most advanced-pup scholars learn to pose in the show ring, jump high walls, guard objects and people, and do parlor tricks. A few Von Motzeck tips for training your dog: Best reward for a lesson is a pat on the head; train your pup before meals; never strike him; don't prolong a lesson more than 15 minutes.

Sponge Cake From Oven
As soon as you take a sponge cake from the oven, invert the pan on a cake rack until the cake is cool. This lets air circulate under the cake, helping to prevent gathering of moisture in the pan. When cake is cool, loosen the sides with a spatula and slip the cake out.

Lincoln's Beard Result
Of Little Girl's Suggestion

A little girl from Westfield, N. Y., once wrote Abraham Lincoln a letter as follows:

"I am a little girl, eleven years old . . . have you any little girls about as large as I am . . . If you will let your whiskers grow, you would look a great deal better for your face is so thin . . . I must not write any more answer this right off. Good bye. Grace Bedell."

A few months later, Lincoln let his beard grow. On one of his trips he passed through Westfield and immediately sent for Grace. He thrilled her by pointing to his beard and saying: "You see—I let those whiskers grow for you, Grace."

Stubborn?

Try kindness! First of all you can't expect them to act unless you give them a chance. Most people make sure to get 3 meals a day. But they never think of giving their bowels a regular time (daily) for evacuation.

If you've neglected YOUR bowels until they finally become stubborn and unwilling to act, ask your druggist for ADLERIKIA. It is an effective blend of 5 carminatives and 3 laxatives giving DOUBLE action. Gas is expelled and bowel action follows surprisingly fast.
