Coming Out of Hibernation

The Lesson of Easter

The Way—The Good Friday over which Christ journeyed. The cross meant shame and death. Nevertheless, Jesus went that Way.

The Truth—Jesus was de-termined that there was a right and a wrong way to live, and he chose the right. He established his course in love and righteousness. Glorify, Seek, Save,—these were his watchwords.

The Life—On Golgatha it certainly seemed to his many close friends that sin had been the victor. The sun was hid, the Son forsaken. Yet, on the third day the tomb was empty. The stone had been rolled away from the door. The white robed messenger of the Father revealed that He is not here; but risen. Greater words were never spoken. They are the assurance of Eternity. It is the Easter Story.

NOISING THE NEWS

BY RUSS DEVITT

And within the last week the war news from the south Pacific has taken a different aspect. We hear of repeated attacks by Americans and Australian air forces on Japanese occupied territory. We hear of marked superiority in air battles by the Allied forces. We hear of the sinking of many Japanese ships.

And it seems as though the second phase of the Japanese war is developing. And the first phase was the Jap's surprise attacks with all the weapons of war and with all the man-power, whereby the Allies, without adequate man-power, without adequate air forces had to retreat but in the retreat cost the Japanese precious days and weeks while we were feverishly arming. And during those months of the war the futures seemed extremely dark.

And now, the second phase which seems to be developing is the beginning of air equality by the Allies, and which will eventually mean air superiority. And so, the Japanese planes and ships and supplies are now catching a little of the hell they dished out. And with this second phase of the war the Japanese will be whittled down, bomber by bomber, fighter plane by fighter plane, destroyer by destroyer, cruiser by cruiser. And for every Japanese plane destroyed, there is a difficult to replace it. And for every American bomber shot down there will be five more coming off the assembly line as replacements.

And in truth the second phase of the war means the result of our coined expression on a poster urging us to buy defense saving bonds, a picture of a grinning pilot in an airplane, with the caption, "You buy 'em, we'll fly 'em." And after the Japs are whittled down in this second phase of the war, the third phase will follow which will be crushing Allied attacks which will prove to the Japanese War-Lords that the biggest mistake they made was their surprise attack on Pearl Harbor.

DOAN'S PILLS

Ingenious New Prints Are as Refreshing as Spring Itself

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

AS GLORIOUSLY fresh as spring-time itself are the lovely print styles in frocks and costumes now being shown for wear in the Easter parade and on through the season. There is no shortage of beauty in their styling, colors or fabrics. A noticeable trend toward emphasis on good lines and restraint in trimming adds extra grace to these new offerings to winter-weary wardrobes.

According to those engaged in fashion industries we are definitely on our way toward an era of femininity in dress. Not extravagant, frivolous garb, mind you, but winsome, becoming clothes such as our men in war service want us to wear when they come home on leave, or seek diversion in recreation centers that offset the grimness of war. It is just such charm that is expressed in the pretty dresses and hats pictured in the above illustration. As ideal an Easter costume as ever ventured forth on a sun-drenched spring morning is the very good-looking jacket costume of fine rayon print crepe shown to the right, below, in the above picture. To wear this slender one-piece frock and trimly fitted jacket effectively a proper foundation garment, smooth of line through hips and midriff is imperative. Then, too, snowy white accents to give the final endearing touch of femininity must be added, just as you see them pictured here. Try to find anything more ladylike, more expressive of good taste, to wear on a fair Easter morn.

If there is one thing that is contributing more than another to the glory of the new fashions, it is the ingenuity with which designers are combining prints with plain fabrics. The current handling of cutout print designs applied on a monotone fabric is developing into a technique of high artistry and amazing originality. Print and plain are artfully combined in the stunning frock shown to the left in the above picture. Here a pretentious apple design is ingeniously applied to sooty black smooth-draping rayon crepe at one side of the softly flared skirt and on the opposite shoulder. The attractive motif is repeated on the wide patent leather belt.

Special attention is called to the matching lacy woven pyroxilin hat and bag twosome. The entry of plastics into millinery design is one of the important fashion highlights this season. Here is a very convincing demonstration of the emphasis that is being placed on fetching accessories.

An exotic south sea island pattern printed on fine textured rayon crepe makes the attractive daytime frock centered in the above group. Soft draping through the bodice front and an all-around pleated skirt combine to create an effect of ease and grace. Note the wide brim of the hat. The wide brims are going to breath-taking dimensions, according to the new millinery for spring and summer.

Contrasting with the wide-brim vogue are the pretty feminine little hats that are as capricious as perky ribbon bows and color-bright flowers and whimsical veils can make them. Such a hat is the lovely pink rose-laden one shown in the inset above. Wee sailors, not much bigger than the palm of your hand, are chic this season, their style vying for supremacy with sailors of enormous brim.

Colors Are Matched For Busy Shoppers

The calendar has us thinking about our spring wardrobes again, but this year we Americans are putting more serious thought into this subject than we ever have before. We are thinking earnestly in terms of efficiency in planning new clothes and right here is where the new color-related fashions fit in.

The plan is one whereby you can have a complete wardrobe, everything from your dress or suit to your lipstick in beautiful basic colors which match and mix perfectly. Any of us who want or need color-combination advice, or who must be strict with our budgets, or who have only a lunch hour to shop for a complete outfit, will find everything available in the same place in the new color-related fashions now being shown in leading stores.

The Man Must Be Smart

By BARBARA ANN BENEDICT
(Associated Newspapers—WNU Service.)

A REMARKABLY pretty girl drove up to the curb across the street. Before she could get out of the car a group of admiring men appeared from nowhere and clustered about.

"That's Shirley Tucker, isn't it?" I asked Nate Randall. We were sitting on the veranda of Mercer's hotel where we had a good view of everything that went on along Main street of Old Man Tucker, president of the Farmer's National?

"That's her," Nate grinned. He looked at me sidewise. "And don't ask me what everyone else is asking: When is she going to get married? Let the girl alone, I say. She'll get married in good time. Soon's the right man comes along, or one smarter than she is."

"Smarter?" Nate nodded. "Shirley's got sense enough not to marry someone who ain't any smarter than she is. That's bad, that is, marrying someone who's got less brains than yourself. For a girl it is. Usually means unhappiness and sometimes divorce."

Nate reached for his black stub of a pipe. "Reminds me of Helen Young," he went on. "Now there was a girl for you who had chances a-plenty to get married, and to the best that Mercersburg and all the other towns hereabouts had to offer, too. But she turned 'em all down. Even Marvin Baker, the banker's son, and John Merrill, heir to old Gran Merrill's millions. Helen's friends told her she was a fool. She was getting old, they said. When a girl reached twenty-four in those for the expected announcement of Helen's engagement to Elson. And after a while it came. Or rather an announcement came. But it wasn't the announcement of Helen's engagement to Elson, it was the announcement of her marriage to George.

"Yes, sir, without saying a word to nobody, they had slipped off and got married by a justice of the peace up in Danesville. I tell you this here town fair rocked with gossip when the news got out."

Nate paused and whacked his pipe against the veranda railing. "So George proved himself smarter than all the others, eh?" I asked, looking, I presume quite skeptical. "Just how did he succeed in doing that?"

Nate snorted in disgust and shoved the black stub of a pipe into his vest pocket. "Why, you ninny, because he got her to marry him without any engagement or flurry or fuss. You see, George was smart enough to size up the situation. He analyzed the methods and characters of all Helen's previous suitors and found out their trouble. It was in the courting. It must be, because that's as far as any of 'em got. Then he analyzed Helen's character and decided she wanted to be courted differently. So he set out to achieve that end. He didn't put the thing on a commercial basis, nor he didn't speak a word of love unless he had the proper setting. Daytimes when they were together, he'd talk about his ambition and the future. And night times he'd take her out in his boat or for a walk in the moonlight—always some place where there was a romantic setting. That's what turned the trick—a proper setting. George was smart enough to let nature help him in his courting. And one night, when the moon was full and there was a soft breeze and the smell of flowers in the air, he proposed and Helen accepted. It would have seemed almost sacrilegious to refuse and spoil that beautiful moment. And before she could change her mind, George bundled her off to Danesville and got a justice to tie the knot.

"Yes, sir, George outsmarted Helen in good shape. But she didn't realize it until later. When she got back home she told her mother she hadn't intended to marry George at all, but Elson Dearborn, as everyone thought. But George had changed her plans almost before she knew what was happening, but, by jingo, she was glad of it—glad she'd married a man who'd proved himself smarter than she.

"Incidentally, it all worked out fine, because you never saw a happier couple than her and George. And I guess that accounts for Shirley Tucker's attitude today. She's just waiting for some man to outsmart her, just as her mother did. Oh, yes, Shirley is George's and Helen's daughter. George's full name, you see, is George Dow Tucker."

Government Tells How To Sericulture Cocoons

The United States government is still optimistic about domestic silk production. Farm Bulletin 165, on the subject of "Silkworm Culture," by Henrietta Aiken Kelly, states hopefully that "Commercial silk culture requires a smaller outlay of capital than almost any other industry. The net gain the first year may well pay for an outfit that will last many years. Culture for production of the greatest yield of cocoons may be carried on by anyone of ordinary intelligence." The "outfit"—in case you want to raise silkworms—consists of light movable shelves, newspapers to cover them, small trays to remove worms, knives, baskets, perforated paper for changing beds, supply of brush or shavings, and a thermometer!

Perhaps it is this government optimism that has led Mrs. Frank J. Lewis, of Chicago and Palm Beach, to start the most recent revival of the silk industry in this country, foreseeing a new source of industrial wealth for the whole South. The Lewis silk farm is situated on 800 acres in Palm Beach county, Florida, irrigated by a cross-state canal. Thousands of small white mulberry trees have been planted there, and as soon as her mulberry trees are large enough Mrs. Lewis expects to show the Japanese what a real country can do with silkworms.

In the meantime, nylon seems to be solving the problem of how to get along without silk! As long as the supply of coal, air and water hold out, stockings and parachutes won't be impossible. In 1938 one of the big chemical research companies announced the development of textile fibers that could be spun out at length, surpassing in strength and elasticity any previously known fibers. There are many different types of nylon, one of which makes stockings sheerer than chiffon, and much longer-lasting.

A nylon thread is a linear super-polymer made up of small molecules being joined end to end somewhat like a chain of microscopic paper clips. It is made by the reaction of a dibasic acid (derived from phenol which comes from bituminous coal) and a diamine, also made from coal with oxygen and ammonia. Since ammonia is made synthetically by causing hydrogen from water to unite with nitrogen from the air, it follows that your nylon hose are made from coal, air and water.

But it's going to take an awful lot of coal, air and water. American women last year bought 43,000,000 dozen pairs of silk hose

ESSENTIALS FOR CO-OPS GIVEN

Banker Points Out That They Can Survive Years.

By C. W. LAMB
(President, Springfield, N. Y., Bank For Co-operatives.)

The essentials for a sound agricultural co-operative program can be summed up as follows:

First, an enthusiastic group of farm people, with membership activities to include the farm women and older children. Then the willingness of members to make a substantial initial investment. Third, a hundred per cent purchase of needed supplies handled by the organization.

Other points to promote a successful co-operative are:

Personal attendance at all meetings, personal responsibilities for the election of a board of directors, capable management, budgeting at the beginning of each year of expected receipts and expenditures, an independent audit, control to remain in the hands of the farmers, a conservative credit policy, a sound pricing policy, keeping the investment in fixed assets to a minimum, no speculation in inventories, and strict adherence to recognized business principles.

Agricultural co-operatives can survive the years and grow old gracefully if their foundations and superstructures are fashioned from honest materials and the workmen do their best. Such co-operatives are like the sturdy old New England farm buildings which have survived the centuries.

AGRICULTURE IN INDUSTRY

By FLORENCE C. WEED

Cigarette Paper Flax

One of the romances of American industry is the manufacture of cigarette paper from flax fiber—an American raw material that has created a new American industry.

For years, American cigarette producers bought their cigarette paper in France. It was made from linen rags imported from Russia, Poland and the Balkan countries. American buyers had long ago realized that this was an unstable supply and they hurried to start cigarette paper making in America before the supply from abroad was cut off.

Events have shown that they acted none too soon. No paper is being imported and the existing supply in this country will soon be exhausted. South Carolina has the one American factory ready to meet the demand. Farmers in California are growing 160,000 acres of flax as a new cash crop. In Minnesota, flax center of the United States, 1,200,000 acres are planted in flax. While it grows in other states, flaxseed is marketed and the fiber is merely a by-product.

After harvest the straw is delivered to a decorticating plant which removes the fiber used in making paper. New machinery and new chemical processes had to be created to convert virgin flax into paper. At the present time, shive or the woody part of the flax straw which remains, is going to waste as no one has discovered how to use it profitably.

Cigarette paper has been called the perfect illustration of the possibilities of farm chemistry. By it, agriculture and industry join in creating a new industry.

The Palmyra Woman's Club will hold its regular meeting at the Powers Memorial Library on April 7th instead of April 6th. The topic for the evening is "Citizenship" in charge of the Dept. Chairman, Mrs. Emma Carlin.

Dr. and Mrs. Bertolaet and Fred. and Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Jones and Marilyn were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stacey and Mrs. Nina Stacey.

Palmyra is in the thick of the drive for pledging of the purchase of U. S. Saving Bonds so as to help finance the war. Simultaneously this drive is being conducted throughout the state in thousands of cities, towns, and villages.

The local committee, headed by Harry Melster intends to contact everyone in the Village. Many have already made their pledges but the committee for the present will withhold figures. When the drive is completed a report of how Palmyra stood with reference to the rest of the County will be published.

In this connection it is well to note that during the first world war, Palmyra went way over the top in the liberty loan campaign. The Palmyra quota was some $15,000 and the executive committee headed by John Goss brought in some $36,000 for the best record of going over the quota or any city or village in Jefferson County. Can we of the generation of this war maintain that fine record?

Palmyra has no definite quota, nor has any other community. It is the privilege of every Palmyra citizen to buy a share in America, in our democracy by the pledge and purchase of these bonds.

If the committee has not yet contacted you about a pledge they will do so in the very near future. Those on the committee are: Mr. Marshall Powell, Mr. Ed Snider, Mr. Clifford Thayer, Mr. Harold Stacey, Mrs. D. R. Jones, Mr. Jack Freeman, Mr. Geo. Sullivan, Mr. Alva Jaquith, Mr. Wm. R. Norris, Mr. Kenneth Elwood and Mr. Harry Melster.

Sunday evening Mr. and Mrs. Earl Higbie of Slabtown were surprised on their 37th wedding anniversary by Mr. and Mrs. George Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Wilard Deberneier, Mr. and Mrs. Rollie Stickles and Mr. and Mrs. Edw. Holberg. Three tables of 500 were played. Prizes were won by; high, Mrs. Jack Higbie and Willard Deberneier; low, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Higbie and traveling, Jack Higbie. A potluck lunch was enjoyed. All wished Mr. and Mrs. Higbie many more such pleasant occasions.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Leicht spent Sunday at Mundt's cottage.

Mrs. G. C. Nitardy, Mrs. A. X. Cummings and Miss Doris Thayer were Tuesday shoppers in Milwaukee.

The Palmyra Woman's club has been very fortunate in securing Miss Adah Rowland of Edgerton as a speaker for the excellent program in store for the local public on Sunday afternoon, April 12, at the local gym.

Miss Rowland, who incidentally is a grand-niece of the late Mrs. Jerome Trewyn, was an exchange teacher in Greece at the time of the Nazi invasion. She will talk of her interesting experiences at that time.

In addition to the talk by Miss Rowland, there will be several musical numbers and the entire program will be followed by a tea. Complete details will be published in next week's issue of this paper. Be sure to attend this splendid program put on by the Palmyra Woman's club on April 12. Admission is 25c including tax.

Approximately 75 per cent of all the paper used in Wisconsin is burned or discarded, and today we cannot afford that waste, Art Muesel, chairman of the Salvage section of the Jefferson County Council of Defense, warned a few days ago.

Ever since the organization of the county Council of Defense, Muesel and his eight district salvage chairmen, have requested and urged all residents of Jefferson county to save all waste paper, old rags, scrap metal and old rubber. All can be returned to production. The waste will be collected from your home by local groups working under the supervision of the local salvage chairman.

The spring election this year promises to produce more fireworks than usual, both in the Villages and Towns of Eagle and Palmyra, with various offices in the communities being hotly contested. Here in Palmyra, four men, Bernard Breidenbach, Edward Jordan, Virgil McGill, and Forrest Yeo, are running for the three trustee positions. After the votes are counted, one of the four is going to be left out in the cold. Charles Lewis and Harry Melster are contesting the post of Assessor vacated by Charles Grove. Louis F. Agen is racing Frank Evans for Village Supervisor.

The Town of Palmyra has only two offices at stake, that of Town Assessor for which William Harnden and Frank Hayes are running, and that of Supervisor, with Frank Steele pitted against John Zimmerman.

A Three Hour Good Friday Service will be held at the Palmyra Methodist Church from twelve noon to three. The guest speakers are to be: 12:00 - 1:00—Rev. F. Fouke, Hebron 1:00 - 2:00—Rev. Mrs. A. Raby, La Grange Prairie 2:00 - 3:00—Rev. S. Beers, North Liturgical Service— Rev. Amos Tucker

There is to be special music at each of the hour services. The public is invited to share in them.

Many new names were added to the enrollment list at the second meeting of the Standard Red Cross First Aid Class. A review of Lesson 1 was covered and instruction then proceeded on new types of bandages. Mr. Frudenberg's ready encouragement and unflinching good humor helped would-be first aiders over many a "knotty" situation, and a good deal of enthusiasm was displayed by class members when the time came to demonstrate their dexterity in applying bandages studied thus far. The increased attendance and the many questions raised as to proper methods of administering first aid indicate a genuine interest in this type of training.

At next week's meeting Miss Verrall Moe, one of Mr. Frudenberg's students at Fort Atkinson, will address the class on treatment of wounds and shock. This meeting will be held in the library.

On April 13th, class members are looking forward to a first aid demonstration to be given by a group of Ft. Atkinson Boy Scouts. This class will meet in the high school gymnasium.

Latest figures indicate 71% of all the automobiles in the world are in the United States.

A Little Bit of DRIFTWOOD

THE MISSES THING
The Misses Thing lived side my side
In houses that were small.
They never had been married
Or anything at all.

Miss Bessie Thing was short and plump;
Miss Ellen, dark and tall.
They never drank or smoke or swore
Or anything at all.

And since there were no Messrs.
Thing
Or any Thingsters small.
They hadn't any worries
Or anything at all.

The Misses Thing both thought that spring
Was just the same as fall.
There is no moral to this tale
Or anything at all.
