Farm Equipment.

By DR. A. K. GETMAN (Chief of Agricultural Educational Bureau, New York State College of Agriculture.)

The training of rural youth in high schools and institutes throughout the states meshes with the states' programs of farm machinery repair and adjustment. in which repair clinics, tractor tune-ups, and field adjustment meetings for adults are planned during 1942.

Since "victory in arms needs machines on farms," teachers of vocational agriculture in high schools, heads of departments of farm mechanics at technical institutes, and all school executives have been urged to co-operate with county agents and manufacturing agencies in the program under the general guidance of county agricultural defense committees.

A critical situation is ahead in maintaining and increasing American food production, and the current need is to put farm equipment in the best possible condition. It is imperative, he said, to use the present shop facilities and personnel to the utmost, and that all available public and private resources act together.

School garages, or similar buildings, it is pointed out, would make ideal places for farmers to bring their machinery for community repair clinics under engineers trained and employed by the state colleges of agriculture.

KKKKKKKKKKKKKKKKKKKKKKKKK AGRICULTURE IN INDUSTRY By Florence C. Weed

Grape Refuse Salvage Almost every state has commercial vineyards. California raises wine, raisin and table grapes or about 85 per cent of the total. Eastern grapes are grown for juice, wine and fresh market. Since imported French wines have been cut off by the war, this may increase the demand for domestic wines pressed in California, New York and Ohio.

At present, grape pomace left from winemaking is a waste material. Research is under way to find economical methods to recover crude tartrates from which come tartaric acid used in the manufacture of baking powder.

Raisin seeds were once a waste product. Now a California manufacturer is distilling raisin seed oil to use as a coating to prevent packaged raisins from sticking together. The oil offers a promising base for cosmetics since it contains better than average quantities of vitamin F. So far, it has not been economically practicable to utilize waste grape seeds from wineries in the East, because of the cost of transportation.

The thrifty French have developed new outlets for their grape crop under the stress of war time. Since the start of hostilities they have been contributing to wartime fuel which is a mixture of gasoline and grape alcohol made by distilling grape skins after the juice is pressed out.

Soap, hard to obtain because of the dearth of fats, is being made from oil crushed from grape seeds, once discarded in the wine making process. Tons of natural sugar are being retrieved when fresh sweet grapejuice is boiled down. Many of these products could not be economically produced if other products were available, but are worth doing in war time.

Girl Scout, the Finder,

Now Is Keeper of $500 NEW YORK .- A 13-year-old girl scout who observed the scout dictum that honesty is the best policy has her reward in a $500 bill, found by her and a girl friend in a department store last June 27.

The lucky child, June Millard, of Manhattan's East side, said she planned to invest it all in defense bonds and stamps "except for a little which I'll hold out to buy a complete Girl Scout outfit."

The formal presentation was made by Col. Maurice Simmons, property clerk at police headquarters, under the law that lost property not claimed within six months, becomes the possession of the finder.

PENDLETON, S. C .- In the cemetery records of St. Paul's church here is recorded the name of Timmy Torrence, and in the churchyard is the burial plot.

Timmy Torrence was a dog, registered as Fatima Timothy and owned by a Mrs. Torrence of Co-lumbia, S. C. The dog had his own bank account, calling cards and charge accounts.

If the dog spent the night at the hotel with his owner, his name was duly entered on the register. Upon his death, the dog was buried with full ceremonies in the Torrence family plot in Pendleton.

Lace Trims Dress and

Frothy white lingerie touches will make their appearance as separate collars and jabots and various frills. There is also a new movement to make snowy lace accents look as if they were actually a part of the dress. A newly arrived black crepe frock has bell sleeves with a section cut out, then filled in with lace insets that give the impression of lace undersleeves.

New, too, are the lace rosettes used like buttons. Many hats are lace-trimmed and there is promise of a tie-up between lingerie hats and lingerie neckwear.

Calico Skirts Printed In Gay Colored Squares

Girls are going to have lots of fun wearing the new skirts made of quaint calico printed to look like big squares of different colors and designs. A yellow calico skirt can be worn with a bright red blouse. Or, try a green skirt with an inset of yellow to match the yellow in a tricolor blouse. For a dainty effect, wear a blouse of sheerest white lingerie with your calico skirt.

Drawstring

Very new and smart are straight coats, jackets, and even sweaters, that are brought snug into the waist line with a drawstring. It is a technique that is being applied to cloth and to suitings as well as to rayon wash materials.
