FIRE ON STOCKS FARM

Last Saturday shortly after 12 o'clock noon the Eagle Fire Dept. was called to the Charles Stocks farm home where fire from unknown origin had started in the attic. It had gained such headway that the Eagle Fire Dept. and North Prairie Fire Dept., were unable to save the home which burned to the ground as also the furniture in the second story. The farm belongs to the Wisconsin Conservation Com., but Mr. and Mrs. Stocks had a life lease to live in the home as long as they wished to do so. Mr. and Mrs. Stocks are now staying with their son, Arthur Stocks and family until further plans are made.

Many of our clients greatly appreciate our licensed lady embalmer, and the duties she performs.

CLASSIFIED Hats Are the Most Intriguing We've Had for Many a Season

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

THE most significant news about millinery fashions this season is that they are utterly, prettily feminine, versatile and flattering. Designed with a purpose they arehats that patriotically serve as gloom dispellers and spirit uplifters in these times so tense with war activities and anxieties.

That is why the new hats are so purposefully gay with color, so charmingly be-flowered and beribboned, so flatteringly be-veiled and so versatile in mood. The little flower fantasies with which the spring season is starting off are simply enchanting, but no more so than the new tremendously wide brims so softly and becomingly wrought into graceful lines.

Then there are the very diminutive sailors dashing right down over the brow or perched jauntily back of the pompadour, each and every one bewitchingly veiled. There are calots "ad infinitum," and they are set back of the pompadour, too, and the color-bright and debonair wide brimmed felts paired so dramatically with the new spring suits-not a dull moment in millinery realms anywhere!

The accompanying group illustration presents a series of outstanding millinery trends. Very feminine is the glamour hat shown in the upper left corner. It is just such little flowery fantasies which, together with a sprightly whiff of veil, will give fillip to your suit or suit-dress on a sunny spring day. Dusty pink is its color theme, a color that brings out the fresh radiance of a young complexion. Candy straw is the medium and pink flowers are massed at the front.

Saucy sailors after the manner of the one pictured to the right, above, made of colorful plaid taffeta, has an upturned brim and plaid streamers. Too smart for words with your spring suit!

A hat with a flattering, feminine brim is centered in the group. This "picture" model is of navy toyo with red velvet ribbon and bunches of cherries.

In the lower left corner is a flowery confection that typifies what is and what is to be during the coming months in the way of becoming chapeaux to wear with your gay prints or your softly styled tailleur. And that brings up an important point; namely, it's fashionable to wear flowered headgear with suits nowadays. This has come about because suits are in such a vast majority. Because of the call for practical clothes, one's hat and accessories are drafted into the role of supplying the "prettifying" accents. The veil flaunted by this dainty sailor of tuscan straw is green. So is the band of felt that encircles the crown. The wealth of wild flowers that adds glory to this winsome sailor are in a pretty confusion of multi-colors.

Concluding the story of the group, the hat below to the right has one of the new dashing and debonair brims that are the "last word" in casual types to wear with everything from prints to tailored suits. It is made of powder blue ice cloth with an allover stitching covering the brim. The enhancing veil is black splashed with blue dots. The softly styled blouse is made of a vividly colorful print patterned with enormous flowers. Many of the smartest blouses this season are just like that-gay as a tropical garden in full bioom.

Longer Shorts

Spring seaboard fashions are personified by this many purpose wardrobe essential. Gray flannel and deep pockets that would delight the heart of any little boy make these longer shorts ideal for the woman who wants the comfort of shorts' without the need for wearing the more extreme versions. Popular for southern resort wear earlier this winter and spring, these will un= doubtedly be favorites for summer wear all over the country.

Dress-Up Clothes Versus Functional

There is no doubt in the mind of anyone as to the outstanding importance of functional clothes for women busy in defense work and home activities. Everyone connected with apparel industries is doing a grand job in supplying these needs.

However, as they get more and more into the subject they find that the dress-up side of the question demands more than passing attention, for the feeling is growing that it is also a patriotic duty to be one's prettiest at the right time and at the right place. The entertaining of men home on furlough, or at camp in strange and new surroundings, has resolved into a continuous program of benefit and dance parties. So have your pretty party frocks ready, girls. It's your patriotic duty.

Just now the new shorter length evening frocks made of lace or dainty sheer stand in fashion's spotlight. Quite as important are the straight-line, narrow floor-length dresses which have a dignity of their own.

Morning, Noon and Night

It's Cotton Everywhere! It is going to be a banner year for cottons of every type, from utilitarian denims and gabardines to the most ethereal sheer weaves.

For evening wear there is a tendency to wear exquisitely sheer embroidered and lace-trimmed lingerietype dresses and blouses. The sheerest of voiles and the crispest of organdies are being made up with endless ruffles in as dainty a manner as fancy can picture.

Shawls

Shawls with evening gowns and sports dresses made of self material for daytime costumes and of filmy chiffon or lace for evening will animate your appearance with a definitely new style touch.

Arrangements for A Lovely Wedding

Details Settled in Advance.

"SUCH a beautiful wedding!" They'll say that of yours if you plan it right! For, though the war forbids extravagance, it doesn't take money to have a lovely wedding. The important thing is to know what's correct!

The formal bride looks lovely in her bridal gown and veil, but you may look lovely, too, marrying informally in suit and hat.

Our 32-page booklet explains all the etiquette of expenses, describes every detail of correct formal and informal wedding dress for bride, groom, attendants and guests. Tells etiquette for ceremony and reception. Send your order to:

As a Gentleman

A man asked to define the essential characteristics of a gentleman—using the term in its widest sense—would presumably reply, "The will to put himself in the place of others; the horror of forcing others into positions from which he would himself recoil; the power to do what seems to him to be right, without considering what others may say or think."-John Galsworthy.

CANNIBALISM IN FLOCKS HARMFUL

Poultry Vices Will Cause Serious Chick Losses.

By L. M. BLACK

Poultrymen aiming to produce food to help win the war can't afford to tolerate cannibalism in their flocks. Such chick vices as toe-picking, tail-picking, feather-pulling, litter-eating and extreme cannibalism cause serious losses in chick population annually, yet they can be controlled by applying a few fundamental principles of management.

Overcrowding of chicks is one of the important causes of poultry vices. Straight-run chicks should not be brooded in units exceeding 300 to 350. Cockerels should be removed as soon as they can be distinguished.

When sexed pullet chicks are started, 200 to 250 chicks should be allowed per unit and provision made to divide the pullets into smaller groups by the time they reach six weeks of age. Covering the litter with newspapers or other material for the first few days will be help-ful in preventing the chicks from filling up on litter.

Distribute Light Evenly.

An attempt should be made to distribute light evenly over the floor area to cut toe-picking losses. Feed and tepid water should be supplied when the chicks are first placed under the brooder hover.

Houses should be well ventilated. A high brooder house temperature is one of the chief reasons for the appearance of feather-picking hab-The aim should be to maintain the heat beneath the brooder canopy and to regulate the house openings so that the house is fairly cool.

practiced from the start and whole had the fire under control and everyoats offered the chicks when they reach the age of three to four weeks. Grit will enable chicks to crush the oat fiber and prevent its accumulating in their gizzards.

These few rules of management, if observed by a careful operator, will go a long way towards reducing chick and adult losses. And that will contribute materially toward meeting the egg and poultry meat goals of the "Food for Freedom" program.

Feeding Shade Trees

In reviewing an excellent new book which has been recently issued concerning the maintenance of shade trees, it was not at all surprising to note the emphasis placed on feeding as a preventive of disease.

The author, a specialist in diseases of trees, reiterates throughout the book that feeding promotes health and vigor in a tree and acts as an effective preventive against disease. However, the author warns against excessive feeding.

Feeding is mentioned as being a helpful factor in the control or prevention of canker, wood decay, wilts, leaf blights, some fungus troubles that cause die-back, and twig blight, as well as in the prevention of borer infestation.

Disease is most prevalent on trees that are not making vigorous growth. Therefore trees should be fed, and given the other routine care that will maintain them in a healthy condition. Very early spring is an excellent time to feed your trees. Use a complete balanced plant food and apply as directed.

U. S. Food Exports

To Great Britain The British normally produce only 37 per cent of their own food. Their food consumption per capita was almost equal to ours before the war, but due to the high rate of sinkings, it dropped to 27 per cent below prewar levels last winter. With our help, this has come up to within 13 per cent of the pre-war level, and acted as "bartender" and "patron, due to the high food value of our Lend-Lease food exports, their pres- tap water from a small jigger. ent level of nutrition is only 5 or Margaret consumed 110 jiggersfull, 6 per cent below the pre-war level. or three quarts.

Policeman Saves 5 From Death in Apartment Fire

Climbs to Third Story and Breaks Into Flaming Room for Rescues.

CHICAGO.—A squad car from the Maxwell street police station cruised through the dark narrow streets of Chicago's congested southwest side. Three policemen in the car suddenly saw a flash from a third story window of an apartment building at 671 West 14th street. Smoke and flames belched out of the win-

A screaming woman appeared through the flames and a man was behind her. Both were frantic. The woman prepared to leap. From the squad car and into the apartment building rushed Patrolman Martin C. McCaw, 37 years old, of 5608 Emerald avenue; seven years a Chicago policeman; married, father of five children. He tried the door handle. The door was locked. His burly shoulder caught the door in the center and the hinges and lock snapped.

Climbs to Third Floor.

Up the building stairway he raced. At the second floor he pounded on an apartment door.

"The place is on fire," he shouted.

'Get everyone out!''
Mrs. Estelle Swantek, the building owner, appeared at the door. She woke other occupants of the flat and they rushed to the street.

On up into the smoke raced Mc-Caw. He entered a third floor room. There he found David Markowski asleep in bed. He roused Markowski and started him downstairs.

He then learned why the two frantic people had appeared at the window. The fire was in their room, next to Markowski's. Their rear exit was cut off and their other exit was through Markowski's room. That door was locked on both sides.

"I backed off and let the door have it," McCaw said. "When that door flew in it was just like opening a draft in a furnace. Out came the fire. The place started to burn in earnest then."

Avoid Jump Into Net.

McCaw fought through the smoke to the window and grabbed the woman. Below on the street firemen were already preparing a net to catch her. McCaw grabbed the man, too. The woman's name was Alma Davis and the man Raymond Johnson. He started them both down the stairway.

McCaw reached the staircase himself and then on second thought returned to the first room for another search. There he found a third man, George Lapit, asleep. It was necessary for him to slap Lapit into consciousness to rouse him and start him down the stairways to the
