Christmas Seals

The sale of Christmas seals will begin on November 23, according to Lorraine Noll, state seal sale manager of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association. Seals will be sold in Wisconsin under the director of local chairmen. The 1942 seal, a bright winter farm scene designed by Dale Nichols, is a reminder that no homes are safe until all homes are safe from tuberculosis, said Miss Noll.

It is seldom that we count the things that go to make up the American tradition of Christmas, but if we did, the gay little Christmas seals that brighten packages and letters during the season would take an important place on the list.

Buying and using Christmas seals is a simple, thoughtless gesture on the part of most people, but it is a magnificent gesture in the eyes of those people who devote their lives to fighting the battle of the nation's health.

The war has caused an alarming rise in the tuberculosis death rate in Europe, and since we are faced with the same circumstances, we must double our health guard to prevent the same rise here. Now, when mandates are so desperately needed in the defense of the nation, it is little less than criminal sabotage to disregard a disease that costs thirty million of man days yearly in the United States. Since 1908 when the first seals were sold by the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association, the tuberculosis death rate has been cut from 109.3 per 100,000 population to 24.4 per 100,000 population in 1941. Finding the many undiscovered cases in the state which continue to endanger the lives of others is one of the principal objectives of the sale of the penny seals at Christmas time.

Teen Age Recruits

Milwaukee, Wis.—With the recent passage of legislation making 18 and 19 year old youths eligible for Selective Service, the U. S. Navy launched a huge educational program to acquaint them with the opportunities in its branch of the armed forces.

The Main Navy Recruiting Station for the State of Wisconsin and upper Michigan, and the various substations which are located throughout this area have stepped up the pace of their activities with the prime objective being to urge the young men to get the Navy's story before they join one of the other services.

"The Navy is now, and always has been, in need of highly trained personnel," explained Lieut. Gerald C. Ellick, Officer in Charge of Navy recruiting in Wisconsin and Upper Michigan yesterday.

"More than 25,000 men are admitted to the more than 100 trade training schools operated by the Navy each month. These institutions are the finest of their kind to be found anywhere. More than 49 different trades are taught, and it is important for young men and their parents to remember that at least 90% of the trades are useful in civilian life.

"The navy is an organization which wants to see its men get ahead in pay and rank. More than 75% of the blue-jackets earn more than the minimum pay and more than 50% are petty officers.

"When a young man enlists in the Navy as an Apprentice Seaman, his first pay raise comes to him automatically. Thereafter it is up to him to decide how far he wishes to advance in pay and rank.

"The Navy offers recruits trade training worth up to $1500 during the first year of service," summarized Lt. Ellick, "and the pay enlisted men receive is practically clear profit. When a new sailor arrives at the Naval Training Station, he is immediately outfitted with $133.00 worth of snappy uniforms. His meals are free and the Navy is the best fed fighting force in the world. He is provided with a clean and dry place in which to sleep and the Navy keeps close watch on the health of its men by furnishing them excellent medical and dental service without cost."

My, How He Has Grown!

From Boys in Service

Below we publish a very interesting letter from one of our boys away in the service which I think will be of interest to all our readers.

Dear Mrs. Engebretsen:
I haven't been receiving the Quill lately so you are evidently still sending it to my old address. I miss my home paper so naturally I would like to have you send it out here.

As you know, I am not on my old ship any more. I was transferred in Pearl Harbor and then went to San Francisco. I spent a couple of weeks at the Navy's receiving station at Treasure Island and then was sent out here for shore duty at the Naval Supply Depot. The Island is the Free French. Naturally, the people out here speak French. At the present I am at a total loss as far as being able to converse with them, but in due time hope to be able to speak fluently. If you ever see some stranger in Eagle waving his hands around, please don't think it is some Jew, because it will be me as that is the only way I can make the people understand. In case you want to find this place on the map, look in the South Pacific between the Solomon and Australia and too far from the Fiji Islands and that is where I am stationed at. At the present we are not too far from the main battle zone, but imagine that situation will be cleaned up soon. I guess I had better give you my address before I run out of paper.

H. J. Skidmore, S.K. 3-c U. S. N.
Naval Supply Depot
U. S. Advanced Base
Noumeau, New Caledonia
I have come to the end so I shall have to call it quits for this time. Keep them flying and floating, as ever, Harrison Skidmore.

Illegal to Store Gas

In normal times, the quantity of gasoline kept on any one's premises has been confined largely to the standard tanks of motor vehicles. Except in rural areas few automobile owners have bothered to keep on hand a reserve supply.

Faced with "gasoline rationing", however, many may be tempted to put away an emergency supply, stored in substandard containers in or near buildings. One would hesitate to keep on hand even a small amount of dynamite, yet some folks will see no danger in a few extra gallons of gasoline. Under certain conditions even a small quantity of gasoline has more destructive explosive power than dynamite.

Promiscuous storage of gasoline in or near buildings not only endangers the property and the occupants but also seriously endangers and hinders firemen in case of fire.

The State Industrial Commission calls attention to the following existing regulations which are applicable

1.—Local Permit Required. A written permit from the local fire chief or to the storage of gasoline even on private residential and farm property; building inspector is required for the storage of gasoline as follows: (a) in excess of one gallon in any dwelling, apartment house of tenement; (b) in excess of five gallons in any other building; (c) in excess of ten gallon outside of any building.

2.—Quantity Limited. In other than the standard fuel tanks of motor vehicles, the quantity of gasoline permitted to a maximum total of five gallons. Such storage must be in approved type safety containers.

3.—Containers must be Painted Red. The so-called "Red Can Law" (Section 168.11—Wis. Statutes) provides that no dealer may sell or no person may purchase or store gasoline in other than a container painted RED and properly labelled "GASOLINE". The law specifies also that kerosene or fuel oil may not be sold, purchased or stored in a container painted RED.

"Putting away some gasoline for an emergency" may result in a disastrous fire emergency on your property. Cooperate wholeheartedly with the National Rationing Program.

Coffee Rationing

Anyone whose age is given as fifteen or more at the time of sugar registration last May for his War Ration Book One, is eligible to buy coffee. If the age shown on the book is under fourteen, the stamps are not good for the purchase of coffee and must remain in the books. A penalty has been provided where stamps have been removed from books of persons under fifteen and used for the purpose of obtaining coffee. Beginning Sunday, November 29th, an eligible consumer can purchase one pound of coffee upon presentation of stamp No. 27 of the War Ration Book One, (the sugar book). This is the allowance ration for the period of November 29th through January 3rd, 1943. The retailer will attach such stamps, removed from War Ration Book One to Form No. 247, the same form to which he attached sugar stamps, bearing in mind that coffee and sugar stamps must be attached to separate cards and must not be mixed.

Neither consumer or retailers are required to register at the present time for coffee. Dealers are required to determine their inventory as of midnight, November 21st, which simply means the amount of coffee they have on hand at that time. They will then determine their allowable inventory on the basis of one pound of coffee for every ten dollars gross sales of groceries, in the month of September. Subtract from this allowable inventory, the actual inventory as of midnight, November 21st. Retailers will then issue their own Purchase Warrants for the difference, which their jobbers will honor. These purchase warrants are required to be in the hands of your jobbers or supplier by December 5th. The above method of determining the allowable inventory applies only to single stores that sold less than 2000 pounds of coffee during September. Other methods of determining this figure apply to larger outlets, and to persons owning more than one outlet.

Persons having more than one pound of coffee on hand October 28th would retain in their War Ration Book One, one stamp for each extra pound. They will be asked their stock of coffee as of November 28th when applying for their new War Ration Book Two.

Anyone who does not have a War Ration Book one (the sugar book) may make application for one now, regardless of the amount of sugar they had on hand at time of registration. A book will be issued, but it will be good for coffee only if the holder still has an excess of sugar on hand. Anyone who has never registered must do so before December 15 to avoid penalties. Babies born after December 15th must be registered within a month after their birth.

GASOLINE

Don't overlook putting the serial number of your five dollar USE stamp on the front cover of your gasoline ration book. Also see that it is signed on the inside of the back cover. You are also required to write your license number and state on the back of each stamp in the book before using it. This applies to any type of book.

Christmas Mail

The bulk of Christmas mail must be in the post office by December 1 this year if deliveries on time are to be assured, according to Smith W. Purdum, Second Assistant Postmaster General. Mr. Purdum is responsible to Postmaster General Frank C. Walker for smooth and efficient air and railway mail service.

Unprecedented wartime demands on the postal and transportation systems plus a prospective record volume of Christmas mailings, were cited by Mr. Purdum as necessitating earlier mailings than ever before. It is physically impossible for the railroads and air lines, burdened with vitally important war materials, to handle the Christmas mailings as rapidly as in normal times Mr. Purdum said. If the bulk of parcels and greetings cards are held back until the usual time—the period of about December 15 to 23—they simply cannot be distributed in time, and thousands of gifts will reach their destinations after Christmas.

Mr. Purdum called attention to the task of the Post Office Department in moving millions of pieces of mail every day to and from soldiers, sailors and marines throughout the world. This extraordinary job must be kept current, even while the holiday rush of mailings is handled. Also, he pointed out, the postal establishment is operating with many thousands of inexperienced personnel, employed to take the place of men called to the armed services. The new employees naturally cannot handle the holiday mail jam with the smoothness and speed of the postal veterans whom they replace.

In view of all these handicaps to the service, Mr. Purdum added, postal patrons should mail their gifts by December 1st if they wish to insure that their friends will not be disappointed at Christmas.

Versatile Uses of Fur Gives Variety to Winter Fashions

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

SUCH thrilling chapters as fashion is writing into the story of furs this season! It may be merely an accent of fur used as trimming, or it may be an entire garment of fur; but rest assured that when fur enters into costume design as it does so lavishly this winter, it's doing so with an artful gesture that brings high drama into the fashion picture.

Furs are especially playing a fascinating role in the trimming and accessory drama this season. Huge muffs, which fashion decrees for this winter; dramatic fur hats made to match; gloves of fur, lapel pieces and corsages of fur flowers; and big bows of fur at the throat are a few of the exciting highspots that fashion has in store for the coming months.

It is big news, too, that stole scarfs are in fashion again. Only the new styles are cunningly devised with tricky little concealed pockets and handbag adjustments and many convertible contrivances that make them practical for many-purpose wear. The handsome fur stole pictured to the lower right in the above illustration is a convertible type. It can be worn with long scarf ends or be manipulated to form a collar and muff as you see in the picture.

The stunning "date" dress shown to the lower left in the illustration gives evidence that fur accessories are bringing high drama into the fashion picture. This two-piece frock of luscious matte-finished rayon crepe is a masterpiece when it comes to delineating an exquisite, figure-flattering silhouette. The slim, graceful lines interpreted by this dress are typical of the new fashion trend. It is the slim, svelte figure that experts will tell you can be achieved only when a correct and perfectly fitted foundation garment is worn. The deep toned rayon crepes so modish this winter in their gorgeous hues are not only beautifully adaptable to the molded lines of the new streamlined dresses, but also make a perfect background for rich fur accents. In this instance a huge muff is matched with a huge pom pom of fur on the hat. Tiny gilt bows harmonize charmingly with the fashionable mink brown of the crepe. The smooth bodice, with its smartly draped hipline tops a pencil-slim street length skirt cut on the newest lines.

The smart jacket and hat ensemble illustrated above to the right shows the importance of "a hat to match." Here a silver fox fur jacket with its brilliant silver marking is topped with a hat of taupe velvet trimmed in matching silver fox. Jackets, short coats and capes of fur have a high rating in style prestige for the coming winter.

One of the biggest successes of the season is turning out to be the wool suit that is smartly trimmed with fur. Every sort of fur from smooth pelts to the long-haired types are in style. The spotted furs are topnotch fashion. The suit centered in the group illustrated above makes fetching use of ocelot (that fur so adored by the younger element) for the notched collar and the patch pockets. The tawny color of the fur contrasts effectively with the black wool of the suit. A telescopic turban of bright red and black novelty striped wool is worn, together with a matching bag.

A vogue for pure white evening furs is becoming increasingly important. The two outstanding furs are white caracul and snowy ermine. Teen-age and college girls are calling for three-quarter length all-white caracul coats.

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Side Buttoning

Here is a two-piece dress of celanese spun rayon that is of the sort young girls adore. It boasts a long-torso overblouse of plaid with a monotone natural tan weave. The new side buttoning is smartly carried out. There is an oval yoke of the plain fabric matching the skirt. This skirt is made strictly in keeping with WPB regulations.

Plaid With Plaid

Just as twin prints are being used together, designers are now working out little plaids with big plaids. The former for the dress, the latter for the topcoat. The patterning and coloring is identical, only the size of the plaid patterning differs.

Winter Cottons Include

Velveteen Wedding Gown

A theme that holds interest in all fabric displays these days is that of cottons for all year 'round wear. Outstanding items that are made of fashionable cottons to wear right now are velveteen and corduroy dresses and coats, quilted gingham and percale jackets and house coats, work clothes in denim and gabardine, and dinner dresses in cotton lace, the newest out being a thin and lovely filmy mesh black lace. The latest cotton news is the wedding gown of white velveteen.

Beads Decorate 'Date'

Or 'Furlough' Dresses

In the charming bead-embroidered dresses that are making their debut this fall in the fashion world comes a new thrill. They are all that is to be desired for dress-up occasions. You will find one of these gowns in black or dubonnet, purple, royal or fuchsia makes a perfect "date" or "furlough" dress. Beaded yokes are one way of arriving at chic and charm, and even newer is the single huge flower spray that adorns at some strategic point.

Suit Wedding

For the informal hurry-up wedding suit styles are outstanding. Brighter stronger colors share the spotlight with subtle neutrals for going away costumes and for the wedding ceremony suits in lovely colorful wools are feminized with fur trimmings also dainty marabou muffs with matching hats.

Colorful Shoes

A clever fashion trick is the costume carried out in one color from head to foot. Shoes matched to your red, green or purple dress and hat are this winter's proud boast.

Best to Train Bull When It's Still Young

Age of Two Weeks Not Too Early to Begin

Are you afraid of bulls? Prof. Raymond Albrectson of the New York State college of agriculture has the handling of a herd sire down to a science.

A bull can't talk intelligibly, but he still has sense and feelings, according to Professor Albrectson who gives the following advice about handling these masters of the cow family.

The bull is a creature of habit and early training can establish desirable traits. Teach a bull calf how to behave in public at an early age.

A two-week old bull calf is not too young to be taught good behavior.

At six or eight months bull training is almost impossible. First teach the bull to lead at your side. Do not let him trail behind four or five feet. A bull with a running start has made many trainers the undignified part of an uplift movement. Do not let him get his head down or get in front of you.

Be firm, but not harsh. Make the lessons alike so that the bull won't need to remember too many things. Make leading a habit.

At eight months old insert a light ring in the bull's nose. Let the nose heal before educating the bull to lead with the ring. Keep the halter on him in the early stages of ring training, then teach him to lead on a staff.

"Well, is this any of your business?" seems to be what Mom Cow is saying to the photographer as he took this picture of Mom and her two day old calf on the Carl Wooster farm, Union Hill, N. Y.

Teach the bull to offer his ring by rewarding him with an apple, carrot or any tidbit he likes. When handling his ring do it firmly but avoid harsh handling unless the bull is very headstrong.

Professor Albrectson's final advice is that the best way to handle a mature bull is—very little.

Special Roosts Train Chickens

It doesn't take long to get chicks started on the roost, if roosts are built on frames with cross pieces made of lath. These frames at first are placed on the floor. They are only two inches high and the chicks go on them at once. After a few nights they are suspended from the ceiling by wires and lifted a few inches off the floor. To steady the frame one edge can be placed against the side of the building. The roosts are lifted gradually until the desired height is reached.

Rural Briefs

Dried foods, called dehydrated by the highbrows—are coming to the fore. Their advantages for both storage and transportation are greatly reduced bulk and weight.

Where wheat is being held in emergency storage, floor joints should be examined to make sure they can carry the load. Wheat is 10 times heavier than an equal volume of loose hay.

Lucky Porpoises

Sailors generally believe that porpoises bring luck when they follow a ship. This is a very old story. It dates from the days when people believed in a sea-god who was constantly at war with the spirits of the winds. This sea-god was supposed to be attended always by dolphins.

Now porpoises are very similar to dolphins, so if a sailor sees porpoises gambling about his ship he knows the sea-god is for the time victorious over storms and gales, and therefore the voyage will be prosperous.

If you smoke, you know how welcome it is to receive a Christmas Carton of Camels or a pound of rich-tasting Prince Albert Smoking Tobacco for your pipe. That works both ways. For those smokers on your list, send them the favorites. You'll have your choice of Camels in the gift-wrapped Christmas Carton or the gay "Holiday House" containing four boxes of "fat fifties." Either way you give 200 mild, flavorful Camels. Prince Albert Smoking Tobacco is richly packaged in the pound canister. None of these packages requires any other wrapping. And don't forget the men in the service. Cigarettes are their favorite gift—Camel their favorite cigarette. Your local dealer is featuring them now.—Adv.

FAMOUS ALL-BRAN MUFFINS. EASY TO MAKE. DELICIOUS!

They really are the most delicious muffins that ever melted a pat of butter! Made with crisp, toasted shreds of KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN, they have a texture and flavor that have made them famous all over America.

KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN MUFFINS
2 tablespoons shortening 1/4 cup milk
1/2 cup sugar 1/2 cup flour
1 egg 1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup All-Bran 2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
Cream shortening and sugar; add egg and beat well. Stir in All-Bran and milk; let soak until most of moisture is taken up. Sift flour with salt and baking powder; add to first mixture and stir only until flour disappears. Fill greased muffin pans two-thirds full and bake in moderately hot oven (400° F.) about 30 minutes. Yield: 8 large muffins, 3 inches in diameter, or 12 small muffins, 2 1/4 inches in diameter.

When Your Back Hurts - And Your Strength and Energy Is Below Par

It may be caused by disorder of kidney function that permits poisonous waste to accumulate. For truly many people feel tired, weak and miserable when the kidneys fail to remove excess acids and other waste matter from the blood. You may suffer nagging backache, rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling. Sometimes frequent and scanty urination with smarting and burning is another sign that something is wrong with the kidneys or bladder. There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. It is better to rely on a medicine that has won countrywide approval than on something less favorably known. Doan's have been tried and tested many years. Are at all drug stores. Get Doan's today.

ON THE HOME FRONT

with RUTH WYETH SPEARS

A BATTERED side chair, a scrap of plywood, part of a can of flat paint, and a can of delphinium blue enamel; a piece of blue and white ticking and a strip of coarse white material that was raveled out to make narrow fringe. Combined, these odds and ends made an attractive chair.

The old chipped white enamel was rubbed with coarse and then fine sandpaper until smooth. The new seat came next; then flat paint which was allowed to dry 24 hours before applying enamel. Next, the cover was made with a straight two-inch fringe trimmed band and ties around the uprights of the back.

NOTE: We may all gain new confidence these days by learning to do things that we have never done before. Book 5 of the series offered with these articles, shows how to remodel other old chairs. Book 6 gives directions for repairing and making over various pieces of furniture. Copies are 10 cents each postpaid. Order direct from:

SNAPPY FACTS ABOUT RUBBER

In the modern automobile there are 32.5 pounds of rubber in addition to that used in tires and tubes.

Last summer's national scrap rubber drive brought out 6.87 pounds per capita. Even this gratifying amount represented only a scraping of the surface of the scrap littering the backyards, cellars and attics of the country.

There are some 3,065,000 miles of roads in the United States of which 40% are of the surfaced highway type. More improved roads than any other country in the world.

There are more than 10 motor vehicles for each mile of highway in the United States. Pre-gas rationing Sundays made this ratio seem like 10 cars to each 100 feet of road.

In 1940 it was estimated that the market value of passenger cars in the U.S. was $7,209,000,000; trucks had a value of $1,165,000,000.

Traveler (buying ticket at railroad station)—I want a ticket to New York.
Agent—Would you care to go by Buffalo?
Traveler—No, I want to go by train.

Few men would mind if their wives lost their tempers—provided they never found them again.

Safe Enough
A bright little girl, aged four, and her brother, aged six, were spending the night with their aunt. When bedtime came, the aunt asked how they said their prayers. The little girl answered: "Sometimes I say them at Mummy's knees and sometimes at the side of the bed."
"And how about you, Bobby?"
"Oh, I don't need to pray. I sleep with Daddy."

Uncle Phil Says:

Adding to His Greatness
Every great scientist has a right to be conceited, but he never is. The difference between perseverance and obstinacy is one is a strong will and the other a strong won't. It is a good plan to tell no more of your own troubles than you want to hear about other people's. Give many your hand but few your head.

And So We're Overloaded
We are so busy asking to be given more than we have that we haven't time to ask to be able to appreciate the things we have. To say nothing of your enemies implies what you think of them. Say what you will about blunt people, but they usually come to the point. Housecleaning to a woman is a good deal like cleaning up his desk is to a man.

Taking No Risks
A youth came to a farmer to borrow a lantern. At first he refused to say why he wanted it, but eventually confessed that he wanted it to go courting. The farmer was scornful. "I did my courting without a lantern."
"Yes," replied the youth, "and look at your missus."

Fewer Still
Teacher—Tommy, how many make a few?
Tommy—Three or four.
"How many make a dozen?"
"Twelve."
"How many make a million?"
"Very few."

Easier Way
"I'm musical. I'm always breaking into song."
"If you sang in key you wouldn't have to break in."

Ain't It So?
Teacher—I have went out. Why is that wrong?
Pupil—Because you ain't went out yet.

A man never grows when he gets the lion's share.

Proof Positive
Mrs. Jones was very proud of her son, who showed promise as an athlete. "Yes, he must be a very fast runner," she explained proudly to a neighbor. "Look at this newspaper report of the sports yesterday. It says he fairly burned up the track."
"And it's quite true," she added confidentially. "I went to see the track this morning, and it's nothing but cinders."

"ACCIDENTS HELP THE AXIS" Use WEED CHAINS

Usually winter doubles driving accidents. But this is no ordinary winter—it is a war winter when Americans must conserve every car and truck and tire until after victory is won. So there is a new appreciation of Weed Tire Chains which prevent skid accidents and help get through snow without delays. Examine your Weeds—if there are broken links have them replaced. Take chains off when no longer needed, and clean them after using; it pays. If your used chains are worn out get new Weed American Bar-Reinforced—for double mileage. Or Weed Regular, standard of value for 39 years. Look for the name "Weed."

Armistice Day

Another Armistice Day has come and gone, but there is no Armistice in our fight against the forces of evil. These are truly great days for America—the mainstay of the world—for the cause of world liberation. With our boys on every war front of the world, we are called upon today to dedicate all that we are and all that we have to back up the Republic and these boys of ours.
Right now there seems to be a turn in the war, and we are called upon to add to our effort. This is no time for relaxing or sitting back and congratulating ourselves on the present situation. We have yet to win through to victory.
Selective Timber Cutting Necessary
It is high time that the indiscriminate logging of the nation's forests be changed to a selective cutting of timber. Our forest resources are fast becoming as critical as steel or copper. We cannot continue an indiscriminate cutting of this timber. Foresight now on the homefront is needed, and needed badly. A selective cutting would insure a maximum of material vital to the war effort with the expenditure of a minimum amount of labor.
Farm Manpower and Machinery
The farm production on the homefront is in serious danger. We hope it will not be routed by further governmental misplanning and lack of realism.
Every agricultural state of this nation, through its county agents, could quickly find out the farm requirements—manpower needs and machinery needs. In other words, we need a census of the farm manpower requirements and also a census of the farm machinery needs. Up to date we have no over-all picture. Neither Mr. Wickard nor General Hershey can tell you how many farmers this nation needs to meet its food requirements. That is an appalling lack of planning.
We need to know how many farmers we must have to meet food requirements and then we must know, state by state, how many farmers we must retain in that state. Then we can check the number of farmers which we require in that state with the number of men now engaged in farming, and that for the first time can serve as the basis for an intelligent selective service deferment policy in connection with the nation's farms.
Therefore action—decisive action—should be taken to meet these needs—the needs for farm manpower and the needs for farm machinery. Everyone knows that until about two years ago a great segment of the farms of this country was operating at a loss and that this condition had prevailed for a number of years with the result that farms were depleted of farm machinery. Now we need food production. The world needs food production, and the farmers need machinery to carry on.
No one in the War Production Board can tell you how much farm machinery there is in this country today and no one in the War Production Board can tell you how much farm machinery we will need to keep the food plants going so that we can win the war. How can the War Production Board adopt an intelligent limitation order without these two basic and elementary facts which it hasn't secured?
No farmer will lift his hand to restrain his boy or employee from entering the armed services of the country regardless of the difficulty that it will create for the farmer and his wife in the production of their crops and the handling of their livestock. But what is apparent to anyone who knows the facts is that throughout the whole agricultural area, immediate action must be taken to see that the farmer gets immediate labor and machinery help on his farm.
The people in Europe are starving and when this war is over there must be stock piles of foods, dairy cows, etc., to supply Europe so they can reasonably take care of themselves. Unquestionably the peoples of Europe would more quickly join in helping the formation of a second front if they knew that immediately upon the close of the war plentiful supplies of food would be available for immediate shipment to Europe. This very thing will make a workable peace more possible.

The sale of Christmas seals has begun. Mary Maddison leads the sales so far.
This week's kitchen committee is Angelina Szychalla and Darlene Janney.

Junk Collection

Jefferson county highway trucks, manned by county highway employes, will tour the rural areas of Jefferson county on Monday, Nov. 30 and collect scrap metal piled on farm lawns.
The highway trucks have been put into the salvage drive picture in an effort to get every available ounce of scrap from every farm in the county before winter weather sets in and the snow and ice make it difficult to find and handle the metal.
Art Mussehl, county salvage chairman points out that there is still a considerable amount of scrap metal lying idle on the farms of Jefferson county despite the fact that county-wide salvage drives in the past four months produced thousands of tons of much needed scrap. Some farmers have been too busy to gather up their useless metal and deliver it to a nearby junk dealer. Others have been waiting for junk dealers to pick up the scrap.
November 30 will afford farm folks an opportunity to add to these towering peaks of old metal. The collection to be made on this day is expected to produce enough scrap to help Jefferson county meet and surpass its quota for the month of November. Contribute any metal articles you have, big or small. There is a vital need for the scrap. Remember: As long as the war continues, more and more scrap will be needed for the very simple reason that more shells, more bombs, more tanks, more cannons, more guns and more of every kind of war equipment will be needed.

Vocational Training

The Agriculture Department of the Palmyra High School is offering free vocational training to all young men not enrolled in high school Agriculture, adult farmers and in fact, anyone wishing to take advantage of this training and instruction. It is the aim of the faculty—and their hope that everyone can gain a great deal of useful information and actual improved practices from these meetings, and also actual shop experience, which it is felt, will be of real help to everyone attending these classes.
The courses are under the auspices of the State Board of Agricultural Vocational Education and are closely related to the Government Approval to increase production, improve farm practices, repair machinery and help you as farmers and folks interested in Agriculture in any way we possibly can.
A meeting will be held at 8:00 p. m. Monday evening, November 30 at the high school Agricultural shop to see what your interests are and see what

Racketeers

Every opportunity is taken by unscrupulous gentry, who live by their wits to get your confidence first and then your money. The war opened a veritable bonanza for these racketeers. Palmyra has had a case, and it will, no doubt, have many more.
On Saturday, a local farm home was visited by one of these muscle boys and solicited for funds for men in service, and upon being questioned he became abusive and finally got in his car and headed west.
As far as can be learned there are no organized campaigns afoot to raise funds for soldiers at this time. If there were, we would like to help it along. But do not give money to strangers for any cause unless he can identify himself. Call the sheriff if the cause is an authorized one he will know of it.
At this time the Christmas season is approaching and everyone thinking in terms of giving, the small towns are a mecca for the slickers. Do not order from strangers, when money is demanded in advance, and be careful of signing papers. Be careful also of letting strangers into your homes.

BOMBERS TODAY

BUNGALOWS TOMORROW

Invest $3,000 TODAY and get that $4,000 bungalow TOMORROW. Sounds fantastic but it's the truth. For every $3 you invest in WAR BONDS you will receive $4 in return. $3 invested to buy bombers TODAY will bring back $4 to help buy that bungalow TOMORROW.
