

Town of Eagle woman gets alumni award

TOWN OF EAGLE – Audrey Longrie Casey has received a Distinguished Alumni Award from Rufus King High School.

She graduated from the school Jan. 31, 1950, and first attempted oil painting at age 47. She has been at it ever since, having received several awards at shows throughout the Midwest.

She is a member of the League of Milwaukee Artists and a former instructor of oil painting at Waukesha County Technical College. She has work available at the Almont Gallery in Waukesha. She said she was especially proud of receiving the award, being a self-taught artist.

Each year, Rufus King High School recognizes graduates who have made notable achievements in academic, humanitarian, athletic, artistic, cultural, business, public service, science and medical pursuits after graduating.

– Freeman staff

7-26-13