

Dies in Jap Prison Camp, Father Told

Pvt. Joseph Hass, 20, has died in a prison camp in Japan, the war department has notified his father,

Pvt. Joseph Hass
Vincent Hass, 827 S. 112th st., town of Wauwatosa. This information was obtained from the Japanese government through the International Red Cross, the war department said. Pvt. Hass, stationed with a coast artillery unit on Corregidor when it fell, previously had been reported a Japanese prisoner of war. He joined the army when he was 18. Before entering the service, he attended the Boys' Technical high school here.