Having served in a variety of capacities for NARI National and the local Milwaukee chapter, including a two-year stint as president,

Herriges currently serves on the Milwaukee/NARI board of directors. He assumed the role of NARI National president-elect for the past year. His experience in NARI leadership includes having served on the NARI National Executive Committee for the past six years.

“My focus this year is three-pronged,” Herriges said. “First, NARI is committed to enhancing member value by providing innovative technologies designed to help members achieve greater business success. Next, we are expanding our industry presence and our voice in Washington through development of a research program that focuses on industry trends and the profile of NARI members. Finally, we will continue to push the NARI name and values associated with hiring NARI members to consumers.”

NARI is the only trade association dedicated solely to the remodeling industry. The association represents 7,000 member companies nationwide. The Milwaukee Chapter of NARI, the largest of the 57 local chapters across the country, with more than 800 members has been the area's leading home improvement and remodeling industry resource for more than 50 years.
