

Freeman

People - Burton, Frank 9-21-1882

Another case of severe sickness is that of Frank Burton, son of John T. Burton, who has been confined to his bed for the last six months. It was at first a case of diphtheria, from which he had nearly recovered but by some slight exposure he took cold settling into and paralyzing his lower limbs. But little hopes are entertained of his recovery.