

Palmyra-Eagle District Administrator Lance Fanshaw During The Dedication Of The Eagle Elementary School.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 21, 1988

Heart Attack Claims Life Of Lance Fanshaw

The Palmyra-Eagle community was shocked and saddened to hear of the unexpected death of popular Palmyra-Eagle School District Administrator Lance K. Fanshaw early Thursday morning, January 14.

Fanshaw was stricken with a heart attack at his home which is located along Sprague Road in Eagle. He was transported to Waukesha Memorial Hospital where he was pronounced dead at the age of 47.

He is survived by his along with son Scott and daughter Kris.

Funeral services for Lance Fanshaw were held Monday of this week at the St. John Chrysostom Episcopal Church in Delafield, with a memorial service taking place that same afternoon at Palmyra-Eagle High School.

At a specially called school board meeting on Monday evening, the full board decided to seek an interim school district administrator outside of the local district to replace Fanshaw. Presently the district administrative staff will assume the superintendent's duties until an interim district manager is hired.

Business manager Jay Clark was designated by the board of education as the district's official signee prior to the time a new superintendent is hired.

Lance began his teaching career at Eagle Elementary School in 1962. In 1966 he became principal and in 1974 was named director of District Elementary Education. On January 14, 1977, he became District Administrator.

Fanshaw earned his bachelor's and master's degrees from UW-Whitewater and his doctorate from Vanderbilt University in Nashville, Tennessee.

Lance was president of the Alice Baker Memorial Public Library in Eagle, a board member of the St. John Chrysostom Episcopal Church in Delafield and the board of the Milwaukee Capital City and Corsa Corvair Clubs. He was also a member of many state and national education associations.

A complete obituary follows on another page of this issue of the Palmyra Enterprise.

People - Lance Fanshaw

1-21-88