

PEOPLE

Dousman, Index

Thursday

March 17, 1977 Letters

Ed

Dear Sir:

This past week my husband and I had the opportunity to see a friend's issue of the Bicentennial Edition, September 2, 1977 of the Dousman Index and thoroughly enjoyed reading through it.

There are many articles and pictures in the issue containing information of great interest to our family.

Just to mention a couple, and there are many more, Oramel Hinkley in "Eagle Early Settlers" was my husband's great-grandfather.

I was born in Eagle, as were my mother and father. My father, Jay Stead, owned the furniture store shown in the picture of the bank block of Eagle. He was also the undertaker for Mrs. Quintus and Lulu Zautner in Dousman after Mr. Quintus died.

My husband's grandfather, David Jones, was a butcher many years ago in Dousman.

We are hoping that it is still possible to buy five or six copies of this edition. I have started family histories for our grown children and we and they would feel so fortunate to each have a copy.

I have enclosed a self-addressed stamped envelope for you to reply as to the cost of the papers and handling charges.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Harold Hinkley
11735 W. Potter Rd.
Wauwatosa, WI 53226