MILWAUKEE COUNTY

politics he is a Republican, and has twice represented his party in the county convention. He belongs to the Milwaukee County and Wisconsin State Bar associations, and is also a member of the fraternal order, Knights of Columbus, and of the social organizations, the Blue Mound Club and the Calumet Club, being president of the latter. On Feb. 15, 1906, he was united in marriage to Miss Genevieve Hickey, of Milwaukee, and to the union one daughter, Mary, has been born.

Samuel Frederick Peacock, of the firm of S. F. Peacock & Son, Milwaukee, is a native of England, having been born in Leeds, Yorkshire, April 27, 1847. He is the son of Francis and Annie Stead Peacock, the former of whom came to the United States in 1843 and then went back and returned with his family in 1848, being engaged in the mercantile lumber business. In August, 1861, he enlisted as a private in Company B, Twenty-fourth Wisconsin infantry, and was wounded in the left shoulder in the first battle of that regiment, and was sent home on sick furlough, dying four months later, Dec. 11, 1863, in Milwaukee. He is buried in Calvary Cemetery. The mother died on July 9, 1889. Samuel F. was reared and educated in Milwaukee and opened his present business on Jan. 1, 1877, and has been for many years one of the leading undertakers in the city, having at the present time charge of more burials than any other firm in Milwaukee. Politically he is allied with the Democratic party and in religion he is a member of the Catholic church. He belongs to a number of fraternal organizations, among which are the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, of which he is Past Exalted Ruler; Junior Council of National Union, Catholic Foresters, Catholic Knights, Sons of Veterans, of which he is Past Commander; and he was the organizer of the Wisconsin State Funeral Directors, concerning his association with which the Western Undertaker of November, 1907, says: "No more appropriate sentence could be uttered than these Latin words: 'Palman Qui Meruit Ferat'—Let him who has won bear the palm. Few undertakers can boast of having served their associations for a quarter of a century. The fact that Wisconsin has had one of their members continuously in office for twenty-five years is a test of ability as well as geniality. When a member is accorded such a privilege it is because of his popularity among the members of the association. Samuel F. Peacock, of Milwaukee, has had this pleasure and his services have been 'communi consensu,' his fellow members having kept him in office all this time. To serve man means the serving of the Lord, hence Mr. Peacock has done good, having been an energetic and tireless member to the close of the twenty-sixth annual meeting. In his last report he spoke as follows: 'I thank you for the honors you have conferred upon me in the last twenty-six years. I have been most of the time an officer of your association. I appreciate your kindness, and I must say this will be the last report you will receive from Samuel F. Peacock, for I step aside now. I want to thank you before I do it, because I want to help make room for the younger and growing members you are getting in this asso-
