Born in Holland about 1626. Son of Frantz Stsen Brouwer. His father came from Kataije, Netherlands. Their trade was breweries. Adam came to the New Netherlands in 1642 from Cologne. On Feb. 7, 1645 he had a patent on a lot near New Amsterdam. On May 19, 1645 he married Magdalena Verdon. They then moved to Brooklyn where Adam occupied an old mill until his death before Nov., 1692. His will was proven in 1692. They were members of the Brooklyn Dutch Church in 1677. Adam didn't approve of his first three children's marriages and so they were written out of his will for being "disobedient children".

Peter Brouwer son of Adam and Magdalena Verdon Brouwer

The Peter Brouwer Family

2 Gen* 1.

Peter Brouwer

Baptized Sept. 23, 1646. Son of Adam and Magdalena Verdon Brouwer. He was a miller at Gowanus. He married Pieternellia Klein about 1672 against his fathers wishes. His father had other plans for his son so Peter was excluded from his fathers will as a "disobedient son". He was given only three shillings. Peter retaliated by naming his first son Uldrick, for his wifes father. By Dutch tradition this son should have been named Adam, after his father. He resided in Flatlands in 1677 where he was a member of the Dutch Reform Church. He took allegiance as a native of Brooklyn in 1687. In their old age they resided in Hackensack, New Jersey. They are both buried in the churchyard beside "The Church on the Green" in Hackensack.

Pieternellia Klein Brouwer

Daughter of Uldrick and Beafje Pieters Klein. Mother of thirteen children. Was an honored matron and lived to see all her children marry into families of affluence and prominence such as DeVoe, Damarest, Manderville, Stegg and Jeralemon lines.

Uldrick Klein (Father of Pieternellia Klein Brouwer)

Uldrick Klein and Beafje Pieters were living in New Amsterdam on July 28, 1641 when they were married in the Dutch Reform Church. Uldrick came from Hessen in Germany. Beafje came from Amsterdam, Holland. Her father was Peter. The following year Mechior, a son, was born. He was baptized Nov. 25, 1642.

In 1653 Uldrick and his wife were living in Beaverwyck, where Uldrick died in 1669 at about 50 years of age. Beafje died in 1671.

All his life Uldrick was a failure. He was hounded by his debtors and although he never denied that he owed this money, he was never able to be clear of debt. Each time he thought he was gaining, another claim would be held against him. Uldrick was not a well man. He suffered from a chronic ailment (an arthritic condition no doubt). His feet were very crippled and he was unable to work. The Church came to their aid, found medical care for him, and later gave him work caring for their Church property. With the return of his old trouble and still hounded by his creditors, Uldrick gave up and died a very unhappy and heartbroken man. Following his death his widow was given work by the Church. Beafje lived only a few years longer than Uldrick, dying in 1671, before her daughter Pieternellia was married to Peter Brouwer at Gowanus.

It is assumed that the following were the children of Uldrick and Beafje

1. Mechior — Baptized Nov. 23, 1642
2. Pieternellia — Married Peter Brouwer about 1672
3. Ariaantje — Married Geritt Nicholas Van Vranken - Note that the name Ariaantje was given to one of Peter Brouwer's daughters.

Lineage of Anna Quackenbush Vedder

Quackenbush Genealogy

I.

Peter Quackenbos and his wife Martha (Martje) came to New Amsterdam from Ooestgest, Holland. When they came they brought with them a Dutch Bible claimed to have been printed in 1616-1620. Peter was a brickmaker by trade and he bought a brickyard in New Amsterdam, but he removed to Albany before 1688. Some records claim he was in Albany as early as 1654 but it is questionable because of the records showing the baptisms of his children. All but one was born in America, the dates starting in 1662. Peter was an individualist, he was often in trouble with the law. He was taken to court often on some minor charges such as being unruly in public and having disputes with his neighbors. As one reads the minutes of the court one begins to suspect that Peter may have dipped too often and too deeply into his cups. He was often charged with insolence and violence-in other words-disturbing the peace. At one such hearing he was fined 200 guilders. If someone wasn't suing him he was suing someone against whom he felt he had a grudge. All in all he was a colorful and interesting personality.

The Peter Quackenbos Family

Peter and Martha were married in Holland. Their first son was born before they sailed for the New Netherlands. Their other nine children were all born in America.

He lived at the junction of Lafayette and Liberty Streets where he owned a large section of land. He died July 28, 1839 at 88 years, 11 months and 9 days of age. His wife died May 11, 1835 in her 79th year.

Lineage of Albert Vedder **

Harman Albertse Vedder, the ancestor of all the Vedders in the country, settled at Schenectady in 1663. His farm covered what is now the homestead of Colonel D. D. Campbell of Rotterdam. His village lot on the north side of Union Street was the same as that occupied by the late Doctor Alexander G. Fonda and is now the site of the Clerk's and Surrogate's offices, etc. He purchased it from the heirs of Rinier, son of Dominie Schaets of Albany, after Rinier was massacred in 1690. In 1673 Harman Albertse was appointed one of three magistrates of Schenectady and in 1674 was Schout, or Sheriff of the village. He died in 1717 leaving the following children:

Harmanus the oldest son who was first married Dec. 10, 1691 to Margaret, daughter of Jacquest Cornelisse Van Slyck, widow of Andries Arentse Bradt, and second, Dec. 31, 1733 to Ariaantje, daughter of Claus Laurense Vander-Volgen, the widow of Arnold DeGraff. He was an Indian trader and left a numerous family of children.

Arent second son of Harman Albertse married Sara, daughter of Symon Groot. He settled upon land on the south side of the Mohawk River, opposite Hoffman's Ferry which was long known as Vedder's Ferry. He died in 1746 leaving several sons and daughters.

Albert the third son of Harman Albertse. Born May 10, 1671. Married Maria, daughter of John Alexander Glen of Scotia, Dec. 17, 1699. He was carried captive to Canada Feb. 9, 1690. He lived upon and owned the farm subsequently known as the "Warmsley Farm" on the north side of the Mohawk River about a mile below the city, where a ferry was long maintained. By his Will made Feb. 8, 1752, he gave this farm to his son Harmanus who lived and died there at a very advanced age. Albert, the father, died Aug. 1, 1753 age 82 years, 2 months and 21 days. His wife, Maria Glen, died Mar. 13, 1753 age 74 years leaving four sons and two daughters. Our esteemed fellow-citizens Alexander M. Vedder, M. D., Jacob Vedder Esq. late sheriff of Schenectady County, and Daniel Vedder Esq. one of our leading merchants, are direct lineal descendants of these historically old people.

Johannes the fourth son of Harman Albertse. Married first July 8, 1705 to Maria, daughter of Johannes Forte. Married second Nov. 25, 1732 to Engeltje, daughter of Gerrit Syminse Veeder. He too was carried captive to Canada on Feb. 9, 1690. He died Aug. 14, 1748 leaving many descendants.

Corset (Seth) fifth son of Harman Albertse married first Margaritta Barrith (Barhydt) Mar. 3, 1709. Married second Neeltje, daughter of Christian Christianse Mar. 11, 1711. He lived at Schachticoke. In 1721 he sold his farm and moved to Niskayuna. He died in 1754 leaving several descendants

Anna daughter of Harman Albertse. Born July 28, 1700, married Abraham Mabie, and died Dec. 22, 1750 without issue.

(THIS LAST ONE HAS TO BE WRONG -- THERE IS FAR TOO MANY YEARS MISSING HERE)

John Forrest Biship copied this from the Early History of Schenectady and It's First Settlers by John Sanders 1879

(It is believed that Albert, the third son, is the one that our Albert Vedder descends from. It appears that he would have been the Grandfather of the Albert Vedder that married Anna Quackenbush).

The following pages give the Ohio Branch. It is, of course not, complete as I didn't think you were interested other than to know how our two lines were connected. I guess it figures out that the two families are about 6th cousins. That is pulling it pretty fine seeking relationship. The blood line is there.

Please note also that Ryckert was the older.

Ryckert Bovie son of Nicholas and Cornelia Brouwer Bovee

The Ryckert Bovie Family

2 AG 4.

Ryckert Bovie

Baptized Jan. 11, 1721. One of the first settlers on the Hoosick Patent. His home farm was located on Lot 19 this being one of the eight (8) lots drawn by Hendrick Van Ness in the division of lots drawn by the Original Grantees of the Hoosick Patent. The owners of this Patent sold their lands only on lease, so there is no record or deed showing that Ryckert owned or leased these lands. On the survey map made in 1754 by Bleeker, Ryckert's house is clearly marked. He married Marytie Huyck Sept. 5, 1743. It was at this time that Ryckert took up residence in Hoosac. He was one of the founders and defenders of the Fort of Hoosac. These sturdy people fought Indians, French and British to hold onto their way of life. Date of his decease is unknown as is his burial plot.

The Cornelius Bovee Family

From Pg. 54 #8.

Cornelius Bovee

Born July 11, 1765 in Rensselaer County, New York. Married Leaucretia Bailey about 1786/7. Came to Ohio from Rensselaer County, New York in 1824. In 1832 he and his son John purchased a farm from Simon Perkins, agent, for one member of the original investors in the Connecticut Western Reserve. The farm is located on what was first Blodgett's Turnpike, later known as the Turnpike. Today it is known as the Stanhope-Kellogsville Road. This road was at one time the main stage and freight route from Lake Erie at Salem (Conneaut) to the Ohio River. Today it is a lovely country road across Ashtabula County. The farm is still owned by a descendant of Cornelius Bovee. He died Mar. 15, 1847 and is buried at the Monroe Township Cemetery at Kelloggsville, Ohio.
